DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 2nd October 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period

Light to moderately heavy showers have been received in Burma during the week, but the Arabian Sea branch of the monsoon current has apparently finally retreated from the North of the Arabian Sea, and the only rain of importance received in India was that given by the storm from the Bay, which crossed the Coast into South West Bengal at the close of the previous week. Instead of continuing to advance in a north-westerly direction the storm recurved to the north and passing through Chota Nagpur and Bihar broke up in the East Nepal and Sikkim Himalayas on the 27th September.

The storm gave moderate to very heavy rain in Chota Nagpur, Bihar, North Bengal and Assam. The rainfall at Darjeeling amounted to 4.96 inches during the twenty-four hours ending at 8 A.M. on the 26th September and 12.2 inches during the next twenty-four hours; the total amount received at that station in those forty-eight hours thus being 17 inches. Heavy rain was also received at Darbhanga, Patna, Jalpaiguri and Dhubri during the same period.

A few local showers have fallen in the Peninsula, the most important being 2.75 inches at Madura on the 26th September, 1.33 inches at Hanamkonda, 1.27 inches at Malegaon and 1.05 inches at Salem on the 30th September, and 2.05 inches at Amraoti on the 1st October.

Conditions have been suspicious in the Bay throughout the week and by the 1st October a cyclonic storm would appear to have formed which commenced advancing in a north-north-westerly or north-westerly direction, and on the morning of the 2nd was apparently central about 300 miles to the east of Gopalpur.

The rainfall of the week has generally speaking been normal or in excess in Burma and North-East India and in defect elsewhere. The only exceptions are the subdivisions of Calcutta and Burdwan in North-East India, where rainfall has been in defect, and the subdivision of Madura in the Peninsula, where it has been practically normal.

The total monsoon rainfall up to the 2nd October has been normal or in slight excess over the greater part of the Indian region. It has been in defect in Baluchistan, the West Satpuras, the East Coast (South) and the subdivisions of Mysore, Hyderabad, Indore, Jaipur, Jubbulpore, Raipur and Burdwan. In most of these divisions and subdivisions, however, the deficiency has been small, being less than 25 per cent. of the normal rainfall.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 27th September, 1902.

Madras—There has been good rain in the Circars, parts of the Carnatic, Trichinopoly and Tanjore light to fair showers elsewhere. Water for irrigation is sufficient, except in parts of Kurnool, Anantapur, the Carnatic, Salem and Madurai. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting are in progress in parts. The condition of the standing crops is generally fair. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices are easier or stationary.

Bombay—Moderate rain fell during the week in parts of Kolaba, Ratnagiri and Kanara. There was a slight fall in parts of Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Poona and the Carnatic and a very slight fall in parts of other districts of Gujarat, the Deccan, the Konkan and Wadhwan. More rain is needed in parts of the Deccan and the Carnatic. The sowing of the autumn crops is completed in Sukkur, Larkana, Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, Kaira and Wadhwan. Transplantation is completed in Sukkur and Poona and continues in parts of Ahmedabad. Weeding is completed in Nasik, is almost over in Thana and Colaba and continues in parts of Broach, Surat, Kanara, Rajkot and Baroda. Standing crops have been slightly damaged by locusts in parts of Sukkur, by rats in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad and Nasik and by insects in parts of Sukkur, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Belgaum, and are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Sukkur, Larkana, Belgaum and Dharwar, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops has commenced in parts of Sindh, Kaira, Surat and the Deccan. The cotton crop is in good condition in Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar, Broach, Surat, Khairpur, Nasik, Satara and Sholapur and sowing is in progress in parts of the Carnatic and Rajkot. The preparation of lands for spring cultivation is in progress in parts of Sindh, Broach, Surat, the Deccan and Baroda and sowing has commenced in parts of Nasik, Satara, Sholapur, Bijapur and Belgaum. The fodder supply is generally sufficient, except in parts of Larkana and Thar and Parkar. Agricultural stock is in good condition and is sufficient except in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in parts of Dharwar. Prices have fallen in eleven districts, have risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The price of rice is slightly below normal in Gujarat and the Carnatic, about normal in the Deccan and slightly over normal in the Konkan and compared with 1901 slightly higher in the Konkan and generally easier elsewhere. The price of bajra is over normal in Gujarat and considerably over normal in the Deccan, the Konkan and the Carnatic and compared with 1901 easier in the Deccan, the Konkan and the Carnatic, but slightly higher in Gujarat. The price of guar is generally over normal but compared with 1901 is considerably easier in the Deccan and the Carnatic about the same in the Konkan and higher in Gujarat. The price of wheat is slightly over normal in Gujarat and considerably over normal in the Deccan, the Konkan and the Carnatic and compared with 1901 slightly higher in the Konkan and generally easier elsewhere. The prices of the cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were—Ahmedabad, 35, Kaira, 27, Panch Mahals, 40, Surat, 30, Sholapur, 37, Ahmednagar, 3, Poona 27½, Nasik, 33, Bijapur, 33½, Belgaum, 42, Kathiawar, 28½, Falanpur, 24, Rewarkantha, 29, Mahikantha, 29½, Jamkhandi, 27½, Mudhol, 28.

The following were the daily average numbers on relief—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On test-works, 2,741, on relief works, 46,122 dependants, 11,018 total on works, 59,881. In poor-houses, 4,849, on village relief, 125,045, total on gratuitous relief, 129,894. The figures for Nasik and Thar and Parkar are incomplete. Total, 189,775. NATIVE STATES—On relief works, 18,270 dependants, 519 total on works, 18,789. In poor-houses 3,135, on village relief, 689, total on gratuitous relief 3,824. The figures for Palanpur, Mahikantha and Miraj Junior are incomplete. Total, 22,613. Grand total, 212,388.

Bengal—The rainfall during the week was general and heavy. At places in parts of North Bengal the fall was excessive. More rain is required in Burdwan and parts of Midnapore and the 24 Parganas. The crops in one outpost of the Begusarai subdivision of the Monghyr district are reported to be somewhat damaged by flood. Sugarcane is doing well. The harvesting of the bhadol crops is approaching completion. The transplantation of winter rice is almost over, and weeding has commenced at places. Prospects are fair. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in five districts, has fallen in eleven and is stationary in the remaining thirty-one.

United Provinces—Light rain has fallen all over the provinces. The districts of Muttra, Agra, Unao, Ballia, Mirzapur and Gorakhpur have received from 2 to 3 inches. More rain is said to be needed in Benares for rice. On uplands the harvesting of autumn crops is in progress and ploughing and sowing for the spring crops are being actively carried on. A hailstorm is reported from Dehra Dun, but the injury has not yet been ascertained Early rice is said to have suffered in Kheri and sugarcane has been slightly injured by grass-hoppers in Benares Prospects are favourable and prices are falling

Punjab—Good rain has fallen in Gurgaon, Rohtak and Delhi. Umballa has received slight showers The harvesting of autumn crops continues in Gurgaon and Delhi and has commenced in Karnal, Gujrat and Rawalpindi Cotton is being picked in parts of Gurgaon and Sialkot Sowings of the spring crops are going on The condition and prospects of the standing crops on irrigated lands are good and on unirrigated lands fair, except in parts of Hissar and Rohtak, where they are very bad Insects have damaged the juar, sessamum and cotton crops in Mooltan Cattle are generally in good condition Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Rohtak, Mooltan and Amritsar The price of wheat has risen in Jullundur and Rawalpindi, has fallen in Hissar and Amritsar and has been stationary elsewhere The price of gram has risen in Hissar, has fallen in Gurgaon, Karnal, Amritsar, Gujarat and Rawalpindi and remain unchanged elsewhere The prices of other food grains are unsettled The prices of the cheapest food-grains in Hissar, Rohtak and Gurgaon are as follows Hissar, bi, ar (mixed barley and gram), 2½ seers, Rohtak, barley and great millet, 20 seers Gurgaon, bulrush millet, 20 to 28 seers The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar was 1,230

North West Frontier Province—There has been no rain The monsoon has ceased The autumn crops are in good condition Harvesting has commenced Lands are being prepared for spring cultivation and sowings of gram, peas and turnips have begun Cattle are in good condition The fodder supply is sufficient, but not abundant In Peshawar the canals carry a fair supply of water, while in Dera Ismail Khan there has been no increase in Kalapani Prices show a slight fall, both in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan

Burma—LOWER BURMA—Transplanting is completed in Myaungmya and Thaton and is approaching completion in the remaining districts, in which operations are yet in progress The standing crops generally promise well, except in parts of the Pantanaw township of Myingmya, where they are damaged, and of the township of Kvaukpyu, where young plants have been washed away by heavy rain, but where it is hoped to resow shortly Prospects have improved in Prome with recent rainfall, but more rain is still wanted there UPPER BURMA—Transplanting of wet weather paddy is finished in Bhamo and Myitkyna and in parts of Thayetmyo and Pakokku and continues elsewhere, but is delayed by floods in portions of Upper Chindwin The gathering of early sessamum and maize is progressing The sowing of late sessamum has commenced in several townships of Shwebo and completed in the Sagaing subdivision of the Sagaing district and continues in other districts The plucking of cotton has begun and early crops are being reaped in Myingyan in the Yamethin district Heavy rain fell during the week in the Pyawbwe township and breached the embankment of the Mindan tank, but has done no great damage More rain is required for cultivation in high lying lands in Sagaing, owing to the high rise of the Irrawaddy and Mu rivers Portions of paddy cultivation have been destroyed in the Myingmu subdivision, but will be replanted when rivers fall Scarcity of water is felt in the Kvaukyit township in Bhamo Some crops in the Sikaw and Kaying townships have been damaged by insects The condition of the paddy crop is on the whole fair and of sessamum and cotton good The price of paddy has fallen slightly in Rangoon and Yamethin In four other districts the changes are inconsiderable

Central Provinces—Light rain has fallen in Saugor, Damoh, Mandla, Seoni, Nimar and Sambalpur Heavier rain measuring 2½ inches fell in the Mul tahsil of Chanda The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally excellent, but more rain is required in the rice districts for late transplanted rice, for winter sowings on unirrigated land and for second crop sowings A considerable proportion of the rice sown for transplantation in Bhandara and Balaghat is still in nurseries and cannot now be transplanted The harvesting of early millets continues The tilling of land for winter sowings is progressing The sowings of some of the winter crops have begun in Jubbulpore, Wardha, Betul and Balaghat Slight damage by insects is reported from Chhindwara and Bhandara and by grass-hoppers from Chhattisgarh Prices are generally steady The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 17, gram, 20, rice, 15, and juar, 23½, the highest prices are—wheat, 10, gram, 12½, rice, 9, and juar 14½ In Raipur the numbers in receipt of gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) were adults, 114, children 81, total, 195

Assam—The weather is seasonable The transplanting of late and the harvesting of early rice and jute are nearly finished The outturn of jute is poor and of early rice in Lower Assam and Sylhet moderate The plucking and manufacture of tea and sowing of pulse are in progress The prospects of winter rice, sugarcane and tea are fair to good Fodder is scarce in places Prices—Common rice—Silchar, 13 Gauhati, 11 Sylhet and Dibrugarh, 10½ Tezpur and Sibsagar, 10, Dhubri 8½, and Nowgong, 8 seers per rupee

Mysore—One inch and 60 cents of rain fell in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, but there has been good rain throughout the province More rain however is wanted in Hassan and parts of Bangalore, Mysore, Chitaldroog, Shimoga and Kadur General prospects are good Prices are slightly fluctuating Cattle are healthy, except in parts of Shimoga Water and fodder are sufficient, except in parts of Chitaldroog and Hassan

Coorg—The rainfall was 21 cents Picking of cardamom and the reaping of ragi continue Prices of food-grains are stationary Water and fodder are sufficient

Berar—The average rainfall during the week was 16 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. Crops are in excellent condition. Land is being prepared for winter crops. Weeding continues. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of guar is falling.

Hyderabad—The rainfall during the week was 1 inch and 1 cent. The autumn crop is in good condition and is being harvested in parts. Early rice sowings are nearly completed and are in fair condition, except in parts, where more rain is wanted. Spring sowings continue. Prices—wheat, 6½, rice, 8, and guar, 18 seers per hali rupee.

Rajputana—There has been fair rain in most parts, the maximum of 3 inches and 28 cents being reported from Marwar and the minimum of 9 cents from Jaisalmer. Agricultural operations are on the whole satisfactory. The standing crops are generally in fair to good condition in some parts. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are rising in Shahpura and are generally falling elsewhere. The cheapest price was—Bhurtpur, 24½ seers the highest Kherwara, 10½ seers. The following were the numbers on relief—Native States—on relief works, 262, gratuitous relief, 3,121. Reports from Dungarpur and Partabgarh have not been received. Total 3,383. In Ajmer Merwara—Merwara works, 9,347, gratuitous relief, Ajmer, 154, Merwara, 1,876, total 2,030. Grand Total, 14,760.

Central India—Slight rain fell in all Agencies, except Bundelkhand and Malwa. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The standing crops are fair. Agricultural stock and pasturage are generally good. Prices are steady. In Gwalior and Bundelkhand they are high, in Bhopal and Baghelkhand, average, and low in Malwa. Average prices were—13-5 to 22-2 in Gwalior, 14-6 in Bhopal, 18½ to 25 in Bundelkhand, 15½ in Malwa, 13 to 19 in Bhopawar, and 9½ to 21 in Indore. The number gratuitously relieved in Malwa was 552.

Baroda—The rainfall during the week measured 3 inches and 83 cents. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder and water are sufficient. The prices of food-grains have slightly fallen, except in the Naosari Division, where they are steady. The number on relief works was as follows—Works, 10,946, gratuitous relief, 10,625, total, 21,571.

Kashmir—The weather is bright and cheerful. Prices are above normal. Rice is selling at 16 seers the rupee. JAMMU—There was no rain. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Prices are generally stationary. Wheat sells from 13 to 22 and maize from 18 to 32 seers the rupee. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal—The rainfall was 2.80 inches. The weather has been showery. Upland rice is still being harvested. Lowland rice is progressing well. The price of rice is 9½ seers the rupee.

AFFILIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA TO THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

In a Convocation of the Oxford University held on June 3rd, 1902, the following Revised Statute on Colonial and Indian Universities (Stat Tit II, Sect VIII) was approved:—

Whereas it is expedient (1) to provide for the making of Regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of the Statute on Colonial and Indian Universities (2) to enable Candidates from these Universities under certain conditions to offer themselves for examination in any Honour School of the Second Public Examination, and to supplicate for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts without having passed either Responsions or the First Public Examination, and (3) to confine the requirement of a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language to Candidates from Colonial Universities, and to determine the conditions under which Candidates shall be permitted to satisfy that requirement by passing approved examinations of such Universities, the University enacts as follows —

- 1 Any University situated in any part of the British Dominions other than the United Kingdom may apply to this University to be admitted to the privileges of this section of the Statutes
- 2 The application shall be addressed to the Vice Chancellor, who shall report the same to the Hebdomadal Council
- 3 The Hebdomadal Council, after considering such application and after making such inquiry as it shall deem necessary, shall, if it think fit, propose to Convocation that the University so applying shall be admitted to the privileges of this section of the Statutes. A University admitted to the privileges conferred by this section of the Statutes may at any time renounce such privileges, and this University may at any time by a vote of Convocation withdraw the same from any University
- 4 Any member of a University so admitted, who shall have pursued a course of study prescribed by it and extending over two years, and who shall have passed all the examinations incident to the course, may be admitted to the status and privileges of a Junior Colonial or Indian Student
- 5 Any member of a University so admitted, who shall have pursued a course of study prescribed by it and extending over three full years, and who shall have taken Honours in the final examination incident to the course, may be admitted to the status and privileges of a Senior Colonial or Indian Student
- 6 It shall be the duty of the Hebdomadal Council to draw up and submit to Convocation a statement of the conditions under which a member of a University so admitted shall be deemed to have taken Honours as aforesaid. Every such statement, if approved by Convocation, shall have the force of regulations made by Statute
- 7 The status and privileges of a Junior Student shall be as follows —
  - (a) The term in which he is matriculated shall be reckoned, for the purposes of any provisions respecting the standing of members of the University, as the fifth Term from his matriculation
  - (b) A Junior Student shall not be required to pass Responsions, or to pass in an Additional Subject at Responsions
  - (c) A Junior Student who has passed the Second Public Examination, and has obtained Honours either in the First or in the Second Public Examination, shall be entitled to supplicate for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts so soon as he shall have kept statutable residence for eight Terms. Provided that, if he is a Colonial Student, he has shown a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language
  - (d) A Junior Student who has passed the Second Public Examination, but has not obtained Honours either in the First or in the Second Public Examination, shall be entitled to supplicate for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts so soon as he shall have kept statutable residence for twelve Terms. Provided that, if he is a Colonial Student, he has shown a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language
- 8 The status and privileges of a Senior Student shall be as follows —
  - (a) The Term in which he is matriculated shall be reckoned, for the purposes of any provisions respecting the standing of members of the University, as the fifth Term from his matriculation
  - (b) A Senior Student shall not be required to pass any part of Responsions or of the First Public Examination or any Preliminary Examination of the Second Public Examination

- (c) A Senior Student who has obtained Honours in the Second Public Examination shall be entitled to supplicate for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts as soon as he shall have kept statutable residence for eight Terms. Provided that if he is a Colonial Student, he has shown a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language

9 Every person who, having been matriculated, desires to claim the status of a Junior or Senior Student shall make his application through an officer of a College or Hall or of the Non-Collegiate Body, to the Secretary to the Boards of Faculties, and shall at the same time pay to the University Chest through the Secretary, the sum of one pound or of two pounds, according as he is admitted as a Junior or a Senior Student. If he makes his application later than a week from matriculation, he shall pay an additional fee of one pound

10 Any person qualified to become a Junior Student on matriculation may be admitted to any part of Responsions, any part of the First Public Examination, and any Preliminary Examination in the Second Public Examination

11 Every person who, being qualified to become a Junior or Senior Student on matriculation desires to have his name entered for an examination before he has been matriculated shall make his application to the Secretary through an officer of a College or Hall or of the Non-Collegiate Body, who shall send the name to the Secretary seven clear days before the day fixed for entering names for the examination in question, together with—

(a) The statutable fee and in addition thereto the sum of one pound or of two pounds according as the Candidate claims to be qualified to become a Junior or a Senior Student,

(b) A declaration that the Candidate in his opinion bond fide desires admission to his College or Hall or as a Non-Collegiate Student as the case may be, and

(c) Evidence showing that the Candidate is qualified as aforesaid

Any Candidate whose name has been entered for an examination as aforesaid shall, so soon as he has been matriculated, become a Junior or Senior Student, as the case may be 12 A Colonial Student shall be deemed to have shown a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language if he has passed—either (a) one of the examinations enumerated below in the Schedule, or (b) such examination or examinations of his University as shall satisfy the conditions laid down under the provisions of the next following clause. Provided that evidence of his having satisfied these conditions shall have been produced to the Secretary within one week from his matriculation, and that a registration fee of five shillings shall have been paid through the Secretary to the University Chest

13 It shall be the duty of the Hebdomadal Council to draw up a statement of the conditions under which a member of a University which has been admitted to the privileges of this Statute shall be deemed to have shown a sufficient knowledge of the Greek language in the examinations of his University. Every such statement shall be submitted to Convocation, and, if approved, shall have the force of regulations made by Statute

14 The Secretary shall have power to make and vary from time to time regulations for the admission of qualified persons to the status of a Junior or Senior Student, and for enabling Junior or Senior Students, or persons qualified to become Junior or Senior Students, to offer themselves for examination under the provisions of this section, provided that all such regulations and any variation in them shall be submitted to the Vice Chancellor and Proctors for approval

15 It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a sufficient record of the members of the University who have the status and privileges of a Junior or Senior student respectively, and of the persons not yet matriculated whose names have been entered for an examination under the provisions of this section, and to see that no candidate is admitted to examination or to any of the privileges of a Junior or Senior Student who has not satisfied the conditions of this section

SCHEDULE

NOTIFICATION

Simla the 7th October, 1902

No 20—Whereas by a Resolution passed by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the 10th day of September, 1884, the provisions of section 1 of the Government of India Act, 1870 (35 Vict, c 3), were declared applicable to the Island of Perim

And whereas by a Resolution passed by the said Secretary of State for India in Council on the 30th day of September, 1885, the provisions of the said section were declared applicable to Aden,

And whereas by a Resolution passed by the said Secretary of State for India in Council on the 9th day of November, 1886 the provisions of the said section were declared applicable to the Settlement of Aden and its dependencies for the time being inclusive of the villages of Shaikh Othman, Imad, and Hiswa, the Island of Perim, and Little Aden,

And whereas the places to which the provisions of the said section were declared applicable by the said Resolutions were and are part of the territories under the administration of the Governor of Bombay in Council,

And whereas the said Governor of Bombay in Council has proposed to the Governor General in Council a draft of the following Regulation, together with the reasons for proposing the same,

And whereas the Governor General in Council has taken the draft and reasons into consideration, and has approved of the draft and the same has received the assent of the Governor General on the 3rd day of October, 1902,

In pursuance of the direction contained in the said section, the said Regulation is now published in the Gazette of India

Regulation No III of 1902

A Regulation to restrict the sea-traffic in arms and ammunition between Aden and places in the Gulf of Aden

Whereas it is expedient to restrict the sea-traffic in arms and ammunition between Aden and places in the Gulf of Aden, It is hereby enacted as follows

Short title

1 This Regulation may be called the Aden Sea traffic in Arms Regulation, 1902

2 In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) ' Resident ' means the Political Resident at Aden

(b) " prescribed port " means such port within His Majesty's Somaliland Protectorate as, subject to the control of the Governor of Bombay in Council, the Resident may, by general or special order, prescribe for the purposes of section 3, sub section (2), and section 4, clauses (2) and (3), respectively and

XI of 1878

(c) all words and expressions defined in the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and used in this Regulation shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively assigned to them by that Act

3 (1) No vessel shall depart or proceed from Aden on a voyage to any place in the Gulf of Aden without obtaining a port clearance from such officer as the Resident may appoint in this behalf

Restrictions on port clearance in certain cases

(2) In the case of a vessel departing or proceeding from Aden on a voyage to any place on the African Coast of the Gulf of Aden within His Majesty's Somaliland Protectorate to the east of Berbera, the officer whose duty it is to grant a port clearance shall not grant the clearance unless and until the master, owner or agent for the vessel and two sureties resident in Aden have executed in favour of the Secretary of State for India in Council a joint and several bond for the sum of two thousand rupees, or such smaller sum as, subject to the control of the Governor of Bombay in Council, the Resident may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf, conditioned that the vessel, after leaving Aden, shall first touch at the prescribed port within such time as may be stipulated in the bond and shall not leave that port until she obtains from the proper authority permission in writing so to leave

(3) In the case of any vessel departing or proceeding from Aden on a voyage to any place on the Arabian Coast of the Gulf of Aden the officer whose duty it is to grant a port clearance shall not grant the clearance unless and until the master owner or agent of the vessel and two sureties resident in Aden have executed in favour of the Secretary of State for India in Council a joint and several bond for the sum of two thousand rupees, or such smaller sum as, subject to the control of the Governor of Bombay in Council, the Resident may, by general or special order, appoint in this behalf, conditioned that the vessel, after leaving Aden, shall proceed direct to the place declared to such officer as her destination and shall not during the period of the bond be employed in carrying any arms, ammunition, military stores or explosives between any places on the Arabian and African Coasts of the Gulf of Aden

(4) In lieu of the surety bond required by sub section (2) or (3) the master, owner or agent of the vessel may with the permission of the Resident, execute a bond without sureties similarly conditioned and furnish other sufficient security for the performance of the conditions of the bond

Penalties

4 The master and the owner—

(1) of any vessel departing or proceeding from Aden on a voyage to any place in the Gulf of Aden, who has not obtained a port clearance from the officer whose duty it is to grant such port-clearance, or

(2) of any vessel arriving in Aden from any place on the African Coast of the Gulf of Aden within His Majesty's Somaliland Protectorate to the east of Berbera, who does not produce in Aden a written permission from the proper authority at the prescribed port to depart or proceed from that port to Aden direct, or

(3) of any vessel arriving in Aden which, after leaving the prescribed port, has touched at any other place otherwise than by reason of the perils of the sea or other unavoidable accident, or

(4) of any vessel arriving in Aden from any place on the Arabian Coast of the Gulf of Aden, which, before leaving the said place for Aden, has—

(a) within a period of one year, or

(b, where port clearance has been granted under section 3, sub-section (1), within the period referred to in clause (a), then since the grant of such port clearance, carried arms, ammunition, military stores or explosives between any places on the Arabian and African Coasts of the Gulf of Aden, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with both

5 (1) Where the owner or master of a vessel is charged with any offence punishable under section 4, the Resident may, by order in writing, direct such vessel to be detained and, where such owner or master is sentenced to pay a fine for any such offence and the fine is not paid at the time and in the manner prescribed by the order of payment, the Court may, in addition to any other means prescribed by law for enforcing payment, direct the amount remaining unpaid to be levied by distress and sale of such vessel, and the tackle, apparel and furniture thereof, or so much thereof as may be necessary

(2) Where the owner or master is convicted of any offence punishable under sub-section (4) of section 4, the Resident may further, by order in writing, direct that the vessel be confiscated

6 The Resident, with the previous sanction of the Governor of Bombay in Council, may on or near such public or private wharves or other landing places as he may deem expedient, establish searching posts at which all boxes, bales and packages landed or in transit may be detained and searched for arms, ammunition and military stores by any officer appointed by the Resident in this behalf

7 All proceedings taken, orders issued, sentences passed, penalties imposed, detentions enforced, sums levied, distresses or confiscations made, sales held and other acts done before the commencement of this Regulation are, in so far as the same might have been taken, issued, passed, imposed, enforced, levied, made, held or done if this Regulation had been in force, hereby confirmed and made valid and all officers of the Government and all persons acting under their authority are hereby indemnified and discharged from liability in respect of such proceedings, orders, sentences, penalties, detentions, sums, distresses, confiscations, sales and acts to the extent aforesaid

8 Subject to the control of the Governor of Bombay in Council, the Resident may declare that all or any of the provisions of this Regulation shall not apply in the case of any vessel or class of vessels, and may from time to time alter or vary any such declaration

2 Preamble and Clause 2—As the Bill though amending and adding provisions to the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, deals with a subject which is not "emigration" within the meaning of that Act we have thought it desirable to amend the preamble of the Bill, and to add words to the preamble of the Act in order to indicate the additional scope which it will have

3 Clause 3—Instead of substituting the words "to render unskilled labour" for the words "to labour" in the definition of "emigrant" in clause (1) of section 6 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, as was proposed in clause 2 of the Bill as introduced, we have by this clause inserted a new definition of "labour" in that Act, not only giving the term the meaning of "unskilled labour" wherever it occurs in the Act, but further expressly declaring that it does not include any work or occupation specified in the new Chapter XIV

4. Clause 5.—The repeal of clause (a) of the proviso to section 105 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, appears to us to be necessary with reference to the exclusion of domestic service from the definition of 'labour'.

5. Clause 6.—We have made a number of changes in the new Chapter XIV, which this clause proposes to add to the Indian Emigration Act, 1883.

- (1) First, we have extended the scope of the new section 107 so as to cover cases in which persons engage Natives of India to depart by sea out of India for the purposes of domestic service. We consider that Natives of India who are engaged to go abroad for this class of service are as much in need of protection as those who are engaged as artisans or for the other purposes specified in the Bill as introduced. At the same time, we do not think it necessary to regulate the engagement of domestic servants who actually accompany their masters out of India or who leave India to enter the personal service of a specific master out of India for whose service they have been expressly engaged by an agent in India. We have accordingly by the addition of a new sub section (2) excepted these two cases from the operation of the new provisions.

Then, as it is not desired to give the new Chapter a wider local application than the existing provisions of the Act, we have inserted words in the same section limiting its provisions to cases in which the departure is to places out of India other than the Island of Ceylon and the Straits Settlements.

Further, as we consider that it will be sufficient protection for the classes of persons concerned as well as administratively more convenient if all matters connected with their engagement are regulated at the port of embarkation we have provided that the Local Government to which applications are to be made for permission to engage persons under the Chapter shall be the Government having jurisdiction at the port of departure, which must be one of the ports from which emigration is lawful.

Lastly, for the convenience of persons desiring to engage a party of Natives of India, we have, in sub clause (2) of the same section, made it sufficient for the application to state the number of the persons whom it is desired to engage, while, in order to prevent the possibility of doubt on the point, we have provided in clause (vi) that the security to be furnished shall be security 'in British India'.

- (2) The object of the new section 109 which we have inserted in the Chapter is to enable the Protector of Emigrants to see that the terms and conditions of the permission which the new law requires have been complied with in each case, and to register the names of, and such other particulars concerning, the engaged persons who are leaving the country as may be found useful for the purpose of subsequent identification. This latter seems to be a necessary provision now that the application is merely to state the number of the persons to be engaged as above proposed.
- (3) Our Honourable Colleague, Mr Justice Rampini, would have liked to insert more specific provisions than are at present contained in the proposed section 110 as to the powers of the Local Government in regard to the forfeiture or other disposal of the security to be furnished by persons engaging Natives of India under the Chapter, but, as we found it impossible to give effect to his wishes without imposing qualifications which might give rise to difficult questions as to the extent of the powers, we have decided to leave the section unaltered.
- (4) We have made four alterations in the proposed section 111. First, we have thought it desirable, having regard to the gravity of the offence and the great temptation which will always exist to an evasion of the new law, to raise the penalty for unlawfully engaging persons to leave India for the purposes specified to two hundred and fifty rupees for each person in respect of whom the offence is committed. Secondly, in order to enforce our new provision in section 107 that the port of departure for persons engaged under the Chapter shall be a port from which emigration is lawful, we have made it penal to cause any Native of India so engaged to depart from any other port. Thirdly, in order to give effect to our new section 109 we have further extended the penalty prescribed by this section to persons causing duly engaged persons to depart out of India before their names have been registered by the Protector of Emigrants. Fourthly, we have restricted prosecutions under the section to those instituted by the Protector of Emigrants or the Local Government through a specially appointed officer.
- (5) Lastly, in order to facilitate the working of the special provisions contained in the Chapter, we have inserted a new section 112, conferring power on the Local Government to delegate its power to receive or dispose of applications under the Chapter to a Protector of Emigrants, subject to an appeal to itself from any order passed by the Protector under such delegated powers.

1 Bill to further to amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1883

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, and to make better provision for the departure by sea out of India of Natives of India engaged for certain purposes, It is hereby enacted as follows—

1 (1) This Act may be called the Indian Emigration (Amendment) Act, 1902, and

(2) It extends to the whole of British India

2 To the preamble to the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, the words "and to regulate their departure by sea out of India in certain cases" shall be added

3 In section 6 of the said Act, after the Addition of new word "context" the following clause shall be inserted, namely—

"(1) 'labour' means 'unskilled labour' and does not include any work or other occupation of the nature hereinafter referred to in Chapter XIV"

and the existing clauses (1) to (9) shall be renumbered clauses (2) to (10), respectively

4 For the proviso to clause (2), as renumbered, of the same section, the following proviso shall be substituted, namely—

"Provided that, in case of any doubt or dispute as to whether any person should be deemed so to emigrate, the question shall be referred to the Local Government, whose decision shall be final"

Repeal of clause (a) of proviso to section 105 Act XXI of 1883

5 In the proviso to section 105 of the said Act, clause (a) is hereby repealed

6 After Chapter XIII of the said Act the following Chapter shall be added, namely —

Addition of Chapter after Chapter XIII Act XXI 1883.

CHAPTER XIV

"NATIVES OF INDIA ENGAGED AS ARTISANS OR FOR EXHIBITIONS, ENTERTAINMENTS OR SERVICE IN PLACES OF PUBLIC RESORT OR DOMESTIC SERVICE ABROAD

"107 (1) Whoever desires to engage any Native of India to depart by sea out of India for the purpose—

Application for permission to engage Natives of India to depart abroad for certain purposes

- (a) of working as an artisan, or
- (b) of any exhibition or entertainment, or
- (c) of service in any restaurant, tea house or other place of public resort, or,
- (d) save as provided in sub-section (2), of domestic service,

in any place beyond the limits of India other than the Island of Ceylon or the Straits Settlements, shall apply for the permission of the Local Government having jurisdiction at the port from which such person is to depart (which shall be a port from which emigration is lawful) and shall state in his application—

- (i) the number of the persons whom he proposes so to engage,
- (ii) the place or places beyond the limits of India to which such persons and their dependents are to proceed,
- (iii) the accommodation to be provided for such persons and their dependents until their departure out of India and during the voyage,
- (iv) the provision to be made for the health and well being of such persons and their dependents during the period of the proposed engagement, and for their repatriation at the end of such period,
- (v) the terms of the agreements under which such persons are to be engaged, and
- (vi) the security in British India which he proposes to furnish for the due observance of such agreements and for the proper treatment of the persons to be engaged and their dependents

(2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to apply to any person who in good faith—

- (a) engages a Native of India to accompany him out of India as his personal domestic servant, or
- (b) engages in compliance with the request of some other person, not being in India, a Native of India to depart out of India for the purpose of becoming the personal domestic servant of such other person

Explanation—For the purposes of this Chapter, the words "emigrant" and "emigrate" in the definition of "dependent" in section 6, clause (4) shall be read as referring to the departure by sea out of India of a person whom it is desired to engage under this Chapter

"108 On receiving an application under section 107, the Local Government may, after such inquiry as may be necessary grant the permission applied for on such terms and conditions (if any) as it thinks fit, or withhold such permission, and the decision of the Local Government shall be final

109 (1) Before any Native of India departs from India in accordance with permission granted under section 108, the person by whom he has been engaged shall appear before the Protector of Emigrants at the port of embarkation with such Native of India, and with any persons intending to accompany him as his dependents

[Cf Act XXI 1883, sections 30 and 31]

Appearance of engaged persons before and registration of names by Protector of Emigrants

(2) If it appears to the Protector of Emigrants that permission to engage such Native of India has been duly obtained and that the terms of the agreement under which such Native of India has been engaged are in accordance with the terms of the permission granted, and that the conditions on which such permission was granted have been complied with, he shall register in a book to be kept for the purpose such particulars concerning such Native of India and his dependents (if any) and concerning the person engaging him in such form as the Governor General in Council by rules made under this Chapter prescribes

"110 Where such security as is referred to in section 107, sub-section (vi), has been furnished, the Local Government may after such inquiry as may be necessary, pass orders in regard to the forfeiture of the security and the application of the same or of any part thereof, or may order the return of the security or of any part thereof to the person by whom it was furnished, or to his representative

"111 (1) Whoever,—

- (a) without having first obtained the permission of the Local Government referred to in section 107, sub-section (1), enters or attempts to enter into an agreement purporting to bind any Native of India to depart by sea out of India for any of the purposes specified in the said sub-section, or
- (b) causes any Native of India engaged by him for any such purpose as aforesaid to depart from any port which is not a port from which emigration is lawful, or
- (c) causes any Native of India engaged by him after grant of the permission referred to in section 108, to depart by sea out of India without registration of the particulars required by section 109, sub-section (2), shall, on conviction by a Magistrate of the first class, be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred and fifty rupees for each Native of India in respect of whom the offence is committed

(2) Prosecutions under this section shall not be instituted except by the Protector of Emigrants or by an officer appointed for the purpose by any Local Government

112 The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, authorize a Protector of Emigrants to receive or dispose of applications made under this Chapter

Provided that an appeal shall lie to the Local Government from every order passed by a Protector of Emigrants in exercise of the authority so conferred.

"113 (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter

(2) All rules under this section shall be made subject to the condition of previous publication"

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to make further provision for sanitation in villages in the Central Provinces was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th October, 1902.

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to make further provision for Sanitation in Villages in the Central Provinces was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin and have now the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto

Memorandum by the Hon'ble Rai Bahadur B. K. Bose C.I.E., dated 8th September 1902 [Paper No 2]

2 Clause 2—To meet the objection taken by the Commissioner, Nagpur Division, and supported by the Chief Commissioner, we have recast this clause so as to provide for cases in which one or more of the villages, which together contain more than five hundred inhabited houses, may separately contain less than that number of such houses. We have also endeavoured to define more exactly the relative position of the villages which may be combined in one local area for the purposes of the proposed law by requiring them to have "inhabited sites adjacent to one another"

3 Clause 5—We have made all the taxes and charges leviable under this clause subject to the sanction of the Commissioner, and in accordance with a suggestion made by the Hon'ble Mr Bose, we have turned the second proviso, which regulates the fees which licensed weighmen and measurers will be permitted to charge, into a separate clause, which we have numbered 6

We have also adopted certain minor amendments of the clause suggested by the same gentleman, and substituted the more comprehensive term "goods" for "produce" and omitted the qualifying words "wholesale" and "retail" in sub clauses (c) and (d) and the last proviso

We have considered the question of specially excluding from the tax upon carts, animals and porters bringing goods for sale, all agricultural produce intended for delivery by an agriculturist to his money lender but we are of opinion that the matter is one that does not fall within the purview of clause 5, and that, in any case, the exemption can be provided for, if necessary, by the rules to be made under sub-clause (2) (c) of clause 7 (formerly clause 6), in which we have proposed the necessary addition

4 Clause 9 [formerly clause 6, sub clause (5)]—We have amended this clause so as to meet an objection taken by the Hon'ble Mr Bose that clause 5 confers no power to license persons to register cattle sales under sub clause (e) of that clause

5 Clause 10 is new and follows a suggestion made by the Hon'ble Mr Bose that the proposed law should contain a provision similar to section 139 of the Central Provinces Municipal Act, 1889, regulating the initiation of prosecutions

A Bill to make further provision for sanitation in villages in the Central Provinces

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further provision for sanitation in villages in the Central Provinces, It is hereby enacted as follows —

1 (1) This Act may be called the Central Provinces Village sanitation Act, 1902

(2) It extends to the territories for the time being administered by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces

Extension of Act to insanitary villages 2 (1) Where the sanitary condition—

(a) of a village, or

(b) of two or more villages having inhabited sites adjacent to one another, containing not less than five hundred inhabited houses and not being wholly or partly within the limits of a municipality, is, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the village or villages is or are situate, such as to be injurious to the health of the inhabitants, the Deputy Commissioner may, by notice in writing, published in such manner as the Local Government may, by rule, prescribe, declare that the local area concerned is in an insanitary state

(2) After the publication of a notice under sub section (1) the Local Government may,—

(a) on the application of a mukaddam and ten or more other inhabitants of the local area, or,

(b) where no such application is made within three months after the date of the publication of the notice, on the application of the Deputy Commissioner,

by notification in the local official Gazette, extend to the local area the provisions of this Act with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification

3 In every local area to which this Act is extended by notification under section 2 a panchayat shall be formed, consisting of the mukaddam of each village and such number, not being less than four, of representatives of the village community or village-communities in the local area, as the Local Government may by rule prescribe who shall be chosen by election from among the inhabitants of the local area

4 Subject to the approval of the Deputy Commissioner, the panchayat shall determine—

- (a) the sum which is annually required for the conservancy of the local area and
- (b) the sum which may from time to time be required for the improvement of the water-supply or of the village roads or for any other work of public utility in the local area

Provided that, where arrangements can be made for the maintenance of a staff of scavengers by the direct payment to them of fees by the inhabitants of, or persons trading in a bazar in, the local area, the cost of such staff shall be omitted from consideration in determining the sum annually required for the conservancy of the local area

5 Subject to the previous sanction of the Local Government, the sums determined in accordance with the provisions of section 4 to be required for the purposes indicated therein may be raised by one or more of the following measures, namely —

- (a) an assessment on the houses and lands within the local area with reference to the circumstances of, and property possessed by, the owners or occupiers of such houses or lands,
- (b) the levy of license fees on professional weighmen or measurers weighing or measuring for hire goods brought for sale into the local area,
- (c) the levy of tolls on carts, pack-animals and porters bringing goods for sale into the local area, and on animals brought for sale and actually sold therein,
- (d) the levy of rents, not exceeding three rupees and four annas per annum in each case, from dealers temporarily occupying open ground in the local area, or
- (e) the levy of fees, not exceeding two per centum of the sale-price on the voluntary registration of cattle sales effected in the local area

Provided, first that no tax or charge imposed under this section shall be valid until it has been sanctioned by the Commissioner and that no assessment under clause (a) shall exceed the sum determined under section 4 to be required in respect of the year for which the assessment is to be levied and

Provided, secondly, that the tolls levied under clause (c) may vary according to the class of the goods brought for sale or of the animals brought for sale and actually sold, but shall in no case exceed four annas per cart load of goods or one per centum of the sale-price of animals, as the case may be

6 The rates chargeable by weighmen or measurers licensed under clause (b) of section 5 shall not exceed three quarters per centum of the sale-price of the goods weighed or measured

7 (1) The Local Government may make rules to carry out the purposes and objects of this Act

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

- (a) define the limits of local areas for the purposes of this Act,
- (b) regulate the mode of election and the proceedings of pancháyats, the term of office of the members of a panchayat and the circumstances in which, and the authority by whom, such members may be removed,
- (c) regulate the rates and amounts of any taxes or charges imposed under section 5, their assessment and collection, the exemptions (if any) to be granted, the safe custody and application of the proceeds, and the auditing of the accounts thereof, and

- (d) regulate conservancy and define and prohibit public nuisances

(3) In making any rules under this section, the Local Government may direct that the breach of any provision thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to ten rupees

8 Arrears of taxes and charges imposed under this Act, and arrears of any fees made directly payable to scavengers under such an arrangement as is contemplated by the proviso to section 4, may, subject to the rules (if any) made under section 7, be realized by the Deputy Commissioner as arrears of land-revenue

9 Where a panchayat has licensed persons to measure or weigh for hire goods with reference to clause (b), or has appointed persons to register cattle-sales with reference to clause (e), of section 5, any person who has not been so licensed or appointed and who charges any fees for measuring or weighing goods or for registering cattle sales, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees, and in the case of a continuing offence with fine which, in addition to such fine as aforesaid, may extend to ten rupees for every day after the first during which such offence continues

10 A Court shall not take cognizance of an offence punishable under this Act or a rule thereunder except on the complaint of the Deputy Commissioner or of the panchayat or of some person authorised specially by the Deputy Commissioner or the panchayat in each case

11 The Local Government may direct that the provisions of this Act shall cease to have operation in any local area from a date to be fixed by the Local Government, and may make over any moneys in the hands of the panchayat to the District Council or Local Board having authority under the Central Provinces Local Self government Act, 1883

12 While the provisions of this Act are in force in any local area, the authority of the District Council or Local Board under section 9 of the Central Provinces Local Self government Act, 1883, shall be suspended in respect of all matters made over to the management of the panchayat.

13 The Central Provinces Village sanitation Act, 1889, is hereby repealed

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 9th October 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports
of the period

The cyclonic storm which formed in the Bay at the close of the previous week advanced northwards into North East Bengal and filled up in that area. It gave light to moderately heavy rain in Assam and Bengal, the heaviest amounts received in twenty-four hours being 3.1 inches at Bogra and 2.84 inches at Berhampore on the 3rd, and 2.65 inches at Chittagong and 2.58 inches at Silchar on the 4th.

After the storm entered Bengal dry northerly winds set in on the Arakan and Lower Burma Coasts and very little rain was in consequence received in Burma during the week. The most important falls reported were 2.39 inches at Bhamo on the 8th, and 1.8 inches at Mandalay on the 9th.

The week has been practically rainless in North West and Central India. Showers have been received in the Deccan and weather has been showery during the greater part of the week in the south of the Peninsula and Ceylon. Colombo received 4.6 inches on the 4th, 2.92 inches on the 8th and 2.13 inches on the 9th, Wellington 3.54 inches on the 7th and Chitaldroog 2.33 inches on the 8th.

The most important feature in the pressure conditions has been a persistent excess of pressure more or less marked over the whole Indian region. Towards the close of the week pressure commenced to give way and on the 9th was normal or in slight defect in Sind and normal off the Malabar Coast.

The rainfall of the week has been in general defect except in the interior districts of Burma where it was normal and in the south of the Peninsula, the Delta of Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley and the sub-divisions of Dinajpur and Burdwan where it was in excess. The largest excess was shown in the Delta of Bengal and the East Coast (South).

The total rainfall of the whole monsoon period from the 2nd May to the 9th October has been practically normal or in slight excess in all parts of the Indian region, except Baluchistan, the West Satpuras and the sub-divisions of Burdwan, Raipur, Jubbulpore, Jaipur, Indore, Bellary and Hyderabad (Deccan). The deficiency has been moderate to considerable in the sub-divisions of Raipur, Jubbulpore and Indore, and, expressed as a percentage, large, in Baluchistan.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 4th October, 1902

Madras—The rainfall has been good in Trichinopoly and light to fair elsewhere. Water for irrigation is sufficient, except in parts of Karnool, Anantapur, the Carnatic, Salem and Madurai. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The condition of the standing crops is generally fair. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices are easier or stationary.

Bombay—Moderate rain fell during the week in parts of Belgaum. There was a slight fall in parts of Khundesh, Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara, Dhurwar and Bijapur and very slight fall in parts of Surat, Thana, Ratnagiri, Nasik, Sholapur and Kanara. More rain is needed in parts of Surat, Kolaba, Ratnagiri, Nasik, Poona, Satara, Sholapur, the Carnatic and Baroda. The transplantation of rice still continues in parts of Ahmednagar and Baroda. Weeding is completed in Surat and Thana and is almost over in Colaba and continues in parts of Kathiwar and Kanara. Standing crops have been slightly damaged by locusts in parts of Thar and Pukar, by rats in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad and Nasik and by insects in parts of Sullur, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Belgaum and are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Sullur, Larkana, Belgaum and Dhurwar but are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops continues in parts of Sindh, Gujarat, Thana, Ratnagiri, Khundesh, Nasik, Poona and Kanara. The preparation of land for spring cultivation continues in parts of Sindh, Ahmednagar, Surat and the Deccan and sowing has commenced in parts of Karachi, Broach, Poona, Ahmednagar, Nasik, Sholapur, Belgaum and Poona. The cotton crop is in good condition in Hyderabad, Thar and Larkana Frontier, Surat, Khundesh, Nasik, Sholapur and Bijapur and sowing continues in parts of Dhurwar and Kalyan and is almost over in Bijapur. The fodder supply is sufficient, except in parts of Surat and Larkana. Agricultural stock is generally in good condition and is sufficient except in parts of Dhurwar and Dhurwar. The water supply is sufficient in parts of Sukkur, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Satara and Dhurwar. Prices have fallen in most districts and are stationary elsewhere. The prices of the cheapest food grain in round prices at headquarters were as follows—Ahmedabad 35, Kara 32, Panch Mahals 43, Surat 3, Sholapur, 37, Ahmednagar 6, Poona, 27, Nasik 33, Bijapur, 31, Belgaum 42, Kathiwar, 30, Larkana, 25½, Rewkantha and Mulvantha, 30, Jamulbahi, 29, Mudhol 28.

The following were the daily average numbers on relief—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On test work 2,401 on relief works 30,500, dependent 75, total on works 40,814. In poor houses 4,050 on village relief, 114,578 total on village relief, 118,628. The figures for Ahmednagar and Thana and Larkana are incomplete. Total, 1,159,787. NATIVE STATES—On relief works 1,312 dependants 330 total on work, 1,702. In poor-house 5,537 on village relief, 6,077 total on village relief, 6,144. Figures for Larkana, Malikantha, Miraj Junior and Mudhol are incomplete. Total, 18,546. Grand total, 175,633.

Bengal—The rainfall during the week was fairly general but for the most part light. The districts of Midnapore, Guwa, Barasore and Angul and parts of the 2<sup>d</sup> Parganas are in need of more rain. Some damage has been done to winter rice by floods in Lalburi, Da bhanga and parts of Thagbour. Damage to cattle has also been caused by flood in the Nilphamari subdivision of the Rangpur district. Considerable damage to property has been done in Buckerunge by the cyclone of the third. The harvesting of the baudou crops still continues. At places the outturn is estimated at 90 per cent for the province. Sugarcane is doing well. The prospects of winter rice continue fair. The preparation of lands for the spring crops has commenced at places. Fodder is reported to be scarce in parts of Mymensingh, elsewhere it is sufficient. There is no want of water. The price of common rice has risen in five districts, has fallen in twelve, and is stationary in the remaining thirty.

United Provinces—Light and scattered showers of rain are reported from thirty one districts. Rain is still wanted for late rice in Benares. The harvesting of early autumn crops has been completed in places, and the preparation of fields for spring crops continues. Gram, peas and linseed are being sown. Supplies and fodder are sufficient and prices continue to fall.

Punjab—Slight showers fell in parts of Hissar, Amballa, Sialkot, Gujarat, Rawalpindi and Shahpur. The harvesting of the autumn crops is in progress. Cotton is being picked in parts of Hissar, Gurgaon and Sialkot. The sowing of spring crops is going on. The condition and prospects of the standing crops on irrigated land are good and on unirrigated land fair, except in parts of Hissar where they are bad. The outturn of the autumn crops is expected to be average in Rohtak, Karnal, Mianwali and Sialkot. Insects have damaged the great millet, the sessamum and cotton crops in Mooltan. Field rats have injured crops in parts of Amritsar. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Hissar, Rohtak, and Mooltan. Prices have generally remained unchanged or have slightly fallen. The prices of the cheapest food-grains at Hissar, Rohtak and Gurgaon are as follows—Hissar, bijhar (mixed barley and gram), 20 seers, Rohtak barley 20 seers. Gurgaon, barley 20 to 28 seers. The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar was 880.

North West Frontier Province—There has been no rain. The reaping of the autumn crops has commenced. Land is being ploughed for the cultivation of the spring crops in Peshawar but spring sowings are in progress in Dera Ismail Khan. The prospects of crops are generally average but maize crops in parts of the Peshawar tahsil have been injured by small worms. The stocks of food grains are sufficient. Fodder is procurable in Dera Ismail Khan. There is sufficient water in canals but water in rivers is diminishing in Peshawar. There is no increase in Kalapani in Dera Ismail Khan. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Peshawar but is falling in Dera Ismail Khan.

Burma—LOWER BURMA—Transplanting is almost completed. The general condition of crops is good. UPPER BURMA—Threshing and winnowing of early wet weather paddy are finished in Kyaukse, and the reaping of hill-side paddy has commenced in parts of Thayetmyo. The transplanting of late wet weather paddy continues in most places and approaches completion in several districts. The replanting of paddy on lands destroyed by flood in the Yinnabin subdivision of the Lower Chindwin has commenced. The gathering of early sessamum and ploughing for late sessamum are in progress. Beans are being sown and cotton plucked in Myingyan and in Minbu. Damage to Min Canal is reported owing to floods and in the Katha township of the Katha district, a portion of the areas under crops have been flooded by the rise of the river. Some more rain is needed for the cultivation of uplands in Yamethin. The standing crops are fairly good except in parts of the Kyaukse township of the Kyaukse district where they are backward owing to poor irrigation and also in parts of the Yinnabin subdivision of the Lower Chindwin district where late sessamum plants were destroyed by heavy showers of rain. The price of paddy has fallen considerably in Prome and Myaungmya and slight variations occur in four other districts. Elsewhere it is stationary.

Central Provinces—The week has been practically rainless. In the Northern districts, the Narbada Valley and the plateau districts, the autumn crops are generally in good condition but rain is needed both for them and for spring sowings. Similar conditions prevail in the cotton and juar tracts of the Nagpur country. The prolonged break is causing much damage in the rice districts where rain is very urgently needed. Early rice is withering everywhere whilst it is reported to be practically ruined in Raipur. Late rice is also commencing to wither whilst the tanks are generally too low to afford much irrigation. The prospects are very unfavourable in Chanda, Bhandara, Balaghat and Raipur but are much better in Bilaspur and Sambalpur. The prolonged break is causing much anxiety in Raipur where employers have commenced to dismiss labourers and to stop advances. Rain is everywhere urgently needed. The preparation of land for winter sowings is generally in progress and sowings have commenced in places but in Raipur there is not sufficient moisture in soil to start sowings. The harvesting of early millets continues. The harvesting of coarse rice has commenced in Sambalpur and Mandla. Some damage to standing crops by insects is reported from Nagpur, Bhandara and Balaghat and by grasshoppers from Nimar and Chhattisgarh. Prices have fluctuated slightly. The price of rice has risen in the three districts of Nagpur, Bhandara and Balaghat. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—Wheat, 16, gram, 20½, rice, 15 and juar, 22½. The highest prices are—wheat 10, gram, 12½, rice, 9 and juar, 16. In Raipur the numbers in receipt of gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) were adults, 114, children, 81, total, 195.

Assam—The weather is seasonable. The transplanting of late and the harvesting of early rice and jute are nearly finished. The outturn of jute is poor and of early rice poor in lower Assam and moderate elsewhere. The plucking and manufacture of tea and the sowing of pulse are in progress. The prospects of tea are fair and of winter rice and sugarcane poor in Kamrup and Nowgong. Elsewhere they are fair to good. Fodder is scarce in places. Prices—Common rice, Silchar, 13½, Sylhet and Gauhati, 11 and Dibrugarh 10½, Tezpur and Sibsagar, 10, Dhubri and Nowgong, 8½ seers per rupee.

Mysore—There has been good rain throughout the province but more is wanted in several parts. General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Cattle are healthy except in parts of Shimoga. Water and fodder are sufficient, except in parts of Chitaldroog and Hassan.

Coorg—The rainfall amounted to 65 cents. The picking of cardamom and the reaping of ragi continue. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The average rainfall during the week was 40 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. Standing crops are in good condition. Sowing of cold weather crops has begun in the Basim, Buldana and Wun districts. The preparation of land for the ensuing crops and weeding operations continue. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of juar is falling.

Hyderabad—The rainfall during the week was 35 cents. The spring crops are in good condition. Early rice sowings are completed but the area is limited and in parts the crop requires rain. Spring sowing continues generally. Prices—Wheat, 6½, rice, 8½, and juar, 18½ seers per halla rupee.

Rajputana—There has been practically no rain. Reaping has commenced in some places. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are rising in three States, are falling in 11 States and in Ajmer, and are steady elsewhere. The cheapest prices are—Tonk 26½ seers, the highest, Kherwara, 10½ seers. The following were the numbers on relief—Native States—on relief works, 240, on gratuitous relief, 1,913, total, 2,153. In Merwara works, 2,476, gratuitous, Ajmer, 16. Merwara, 1,524, total, 4,016. Grand total, 6,169. It is expected that relief in Ajmer-Merwara will be discontinued at the end of the week.

Central India—There has been no rain except in Gwalior, Malwa, Bhopawar and Indore. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The standing crops are in a good condition. Agricultural stock and pasturage are generally good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, are falling in Bhopal, are average in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. Average prices are 14-2 to 2-12 in Gwalior, 14-14 in Bhopal, 19 to 25 in Bundelkhand, 17½ in Malwa, 21 to 25½ in Bhopawar, and 16 to 25 in Indore. The number gratuitously relieved in Malwa was 395.

Baroda—The rainfall during the week amounted to 66 cents. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder and water are sufficient. The prices of food grains are slightly falling, except in the Nisari district where they are steady. The numbers on relief are—Works, 9,003, on gratuitous relief, 9,876, total, 18,879.

Kashmir—The weather is bright. Prices are above normal. The price of rice is 16 seers the rupee. JAMMU—There has been no rain. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat is selling from 12 to 22 and maize from 15 to 34 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal—The rainfall was 0.27. The weather has been dull and cloudy. Morning mists have begun. Upland rice has been harvested. The outturn is good. Lowland rice is in good condition. Price of rice is 9 seers for the rupee.

The number of persons in receipt of relief during the preceding and present weeks in each province is shown in the following table.

Return of the number of persons in receipt of relief in districts affected by scarcity

NOTE—The figures are compiled from returns obtained from Local Governments and Political Officers and give the corrected District details of the Provincial totals published weekly in the Crop and Weather Summary of the Gazette of India.

Non-labouring children and other dependants of relief workers are classed as relief works when distinguished in the local returns from persons gratuitously relieved in poor houses or at their homes. Weavers relieved in their own trade are shown under Gratuitous Relief.

EMIGRATION

Simla, the 13th October, 1902

No 2210—73-4.—The following draft of a Notification which it is proposed to issue in exercise of the powers conferred by section 80 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1883 (XXI of 1883), is published, as required by section 81 of the said Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Governor General in Council on or after the 19th December 1902

2 Any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to this draft before the date fixed as aforesaid will be considered by the Governor General in Council

Draft Notification

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 80 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1883 (XXI of 1883), the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following amendments be made in the rules published with the Notification of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, No 94-E, dated the 18th March 1886, as subsequently amended, namely

1 For rule 113 the following rule shall be substituted, namely

"113 (1) In every emigrant vessel there shall be at least two independently constructed main tanks, of not less than two thousand gallons capacity each, for the storage of the drinking-water for the emigrants and ship's crew. With the approval of the Marine Surveyor, such water may, in addition, be carried in the after-peak compartments, main ballast tanks and double bottom compartments, other than those under the engines and boilers of steamships

(2) The maximum capacity allowed for any one main tank or after peak compartment shall not exceed three thousand gallons, and that for any one main ballast tank or double-bottom compartment shall not exceed two fifths of the total drinking water required

(3) Every main tank, after peak compartment, main ballast tank, and double-bottom compartment shall be—

(a) so arranged that it can be properly examined by the Marine Surveyor,

(b) certified to be water-tight,

(c) fitted with a sounding pipe, and

(d) provided not only with a separate communication either by cock, valve or pipe so as to connect with the fresh water pump, but also with a separate air pipe to admit of pumping out without the cover being opened, the air-pipe being turned down at the top or otherwise so made as to prevent dirt or sea-water getting through it to such tank or compartment

(4) No cock, valve or other connection having communication with the sea, holds or decks, other than those above specified as necessary for sounding, emptying or airing such tanks or compartments, shall be fitted inside such tanks or compartments, and the pump used for pumping the drinking water out of them shall not be used for any other purpose"

2 In Schedule A of the Appendix, for the entry relating to water-tanks, the following entry shall be substituted, namely

"Water-tanks—The soundness, purity and capacity of main tanks or other fixed receptacles for drinking water shall be examined and certified by the Marine Surveyor. Receptacles for water that form part of the hull of any emigrant vessel other than approved after-peak compartments, main ballast tanks and double bottom compartments shall not contain drinking-water for either emigrants or ship's crew"

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 16th October 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period

Rain has fallen on most days of the week in the west and south of the Peninsula, more especially in the division of South India, where moderate to heavy showers have been received. Mysore reported 4.39 inches, Chitaldroog 2.69 inches and Trivandrum 2.67 inches on the 10th, Karwar 2.42 inches and Colombo 2.07 inches on the 11th, Chitaldroog 3.59 inches and Colombo 2.59 inches on the 14th, and Calicut 2.79 inches on the 16th.

Local showers have occurred in the Deccan, Gujarat, the central parts of the country, North-East India and Burma, but the only rain of importance was that received in the south and west of the Peninsula.

The chief features in the pressure distribution have been a persistent excess of pressure over the whole Indian region and relatively low pressure conditions over the Arabian Sea and Bay of Bengal. Winds on the East Coast have in consequence of the abnormally high pressure conditions over the Peninsula been more northerly than usual and practically no rain has fallen in the East Coast (North).

The only areas in which the rainfall of the week has been in excess of the normal are South India, the West Coast, Gujarat and the subdivisions of Bijapur and Indore. The most important deficiency occurs on the East Coast.

The seasonal rainfall from the 2nd May to date has been normal or in slight excess in all parts of the country, except in Baluchistan, the West Satpuras and the subdivisions of Burdwan, Waltair, Raipur, Jubbulpore, Jaipur, Indore, Bellary and Hyderabad (Deccan).

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 11th
October, 1902.

Madras.—The rainfall has been heavy in parts of the Central and Southern districts and the Nilgiris, light to fair in the Circars and in Kurnool, and good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam, Kurnool, Anantapur, Chingleput, South Arcot, Salem and Madura. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. The harvest of early crops is in progress in parts with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices are generally easier.

Bombay—There was good rain during the week in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar, the fall was moderate in parts of Thana, Ratnagiri, Poona, Satara and Kanara, slight in parts of Kolaba, Ahmednagar, Sholapur and Belgaum, and very slight in parts of Sukkur, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik and Rajkot. More rain is needed in parts of the Panch Mahals, Surat, the Deccan and Carnatic. The standing crops have been damaged by rats in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar, the Panch Mahals and Baroda, by insects in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad and Upper Sindh Frontier, and by locusts in parts of Thar and Parkar. They are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, Upper Sindh Frontier, Belgaum and Dharwar, and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting has commenced in almost all districts. Preparation of lands for rab, cultivation is in progress in parts of Sindh, Ahmednagar, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik and Rajkot, and sowing continues in parts of Karachi, the Panch Mahals, Kaira, Broach, the Deccan, Carnatic and Baroda. The cotton crop is in good condition in parts of Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, Satara and Bijapur, and sowing is nearly over in Dharwar. The fodder supply and agricultural stock are generally sufficient. Cattle are in good condition. The water supply is deficient in parts of Sukkur, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Dharwar. Prices have fallen in five districts, risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to normal and prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows—Ahmedabad, 38, Kaira and Mahikantha, 32, Panch Mahals, 46, Surat, 36, Sholapur, 40½, Ahmednagar, 39½, Poona, 30½, Nasik, 28½, Bijapur, 34, Belgaum, 42, Kathiawar, 31½, Rewakantha, 36½, Jamkhandi, 29.

The following were the daily average numbers on relief—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On test-works, 2,108, on relief works, 23,084, dependants, 5,660, total on works, 30,852. In poor-houses, 3,353, on village relief, 73,748, total on gratuitous relief, 77,101. Figures for Ahmedabad and Thar and Parkar are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—On relief works, 8,394, dependants, 240, total on works, 8,634. In poor-houses, 4,020, on village relief, 675, total on gratuitous relief, 4,695. Figures for Palanpur, Mahikantha, and Miraj Junior are incomplete. Grand total, 121,282.

Bengal—There was rain during the week in Bihar and most of the districts of Bengal Proper, but the fall was light except in Jessore, Malda, and in parts of North and East Bengal where it was moderately heavy. The Burdwan, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions generally require more rain. Steeping of jute continues at places. The weeding of winter rice and sowing of spring crops have commenced. Prospects are fair. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of Mymensingh and Lappea, where it is said to be scarce. There is no want of water. The price of common rice is dearer in five districts, cheaper in twelve, and is unchanged in the remaining thirty.

United Provinces—A sprinkling of rain is reported from thirteen districts. Rain is said to be needed in parts of Basti and Benares for late rice. Gram, wheat and barley are being sown and the harvesting of the autumn crops continues. Rice has been injured by hail in Dehra Dun and by drought in parts of Banda, and juar has been damaged by insects in Cawnpore. The standing crops are otherwise doing well and prospects continue good. Prices are stationary or falling.

Punjab—Rain has fallen in parts of Karnal and a slight fall is also reported from parts of Hissar, Gurgaon, Delhi, Rohtak and Rawalpindi. The harvesting of autumn crops is in progress. Cotton is being picked. The sowings of spring crops continue. Ploughings for wheat, etc., are going on in some districts. The condition of the standing crops on irrigated lands is good, on unirrigated lands it is bad in parts of Hissar, Rohtak and Lahore. The crops on unirrigated lands are suffering for want of moisture in Amritsar and Shahpur. The yield of autumn crops is expected to be average on irrigated and below average on unirrigated lands. Great millet and cotton crops have been attacked by insects in Mooltan. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Hissar, Rohtak, Mooltan and Amritsar. The prices of food grains are generally unchanged. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Jullundur and falling in Rohtak, Karnal, and Amritsar. The prices of the cheapest food-grains at Hissar, Rohtak and Gurgaon, are as follows—Hissar, Bijhar (mixed barley and gram), 21 seers, Rohtak, barley, 20 seers, Gurgaon, bulrush millet, 21½ to 30 seers. The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar was 976.

North-West Frontier Province—The rainfall amounted to 29 cents in the Swabi and 13 in the Charsada tahsils of Peshawar. There was no rain in Dera Ismail Khan. Lands are being ploughed for the spring crops in Peshawar, and sowing is in progress in Dera Ismail Khan. The prospects of the crops are generally average. The stock of food grains is sufficient. Fodder is procurable. There is sufficient water in canals but rivers are running low in Peshawar. There is no increase in Kalapani in Dera Ismail Khan. Prices are falling except that of baria which has risen.

Burma—LOWER BURMA—The transplanting of wet weather paddy is practically completed. Reaping of hill-side paddy has commenced in Akyab. More rain is wanted in Prome. Crops generally promise well. UPPER BURMA—The sowing or transplanting of wet weather paddy are completed in Minbu, Magwe, Katha, the Ruby Mines district, and Myingyan and in the Pyumana sub-division of Yamethin. Elsewhere operations are approaching completion. Ploughing for wheat has commenced in the Sagaing sub-division of Sagaing. The reaping of hill side paddy has begun in the Kyidaunggan township of Yamethin and continues in Thayetmyo. Ploughing for island crops has commenced in the Yesagyo township of Pakokku. The gathering of early sessamum has been finished in Minbu and has begun in the Yindaw township of Yamethin. The sowing of late sessamum is progressing. The picking of cotton has commenced in the Ava sub division of Sagaing, and continues in Myingyan. More rain is required in unirrigated areas of the Yamethin sub division of Yamethin. In the Thabeitkyin township of the Ruby Mines district one sixth of the hill side crops have failed from drought. The condition of the standing crops is on the whole fair. The price of paddy has risen considerably in Rangoon and slightly in Bassein and Magwe, in four districts it has fallen inappreciably, elsewhere prices are unchanged.

Central Provinces—The weather has been generally cloudy and unsettled but the rainfall has been insignificant and local. Good local showers are reported from the rice tracts of Seoni, Mandla and Drug, Raipur registered nearly half an inch, elsewhere the rainfall has been light to nil. The early autumn crops in parts of Raipur and rice in Seoni have been slightly benefitted by the rain, but the prolonged break is however causing some damage everywhere and great damage in the rice district. Rain is most urgently needed everywhere for the rice crop and to a somewhat less extent for other autumn crops. The situation is now extremely critical in Bhandara, Balaghat, Chanda, Raipur and Bilaspur, where the rice crop is fast withering. Juar has commenced in some districts to suffer from drought. Other autumn crops are in fair to good condition, but immature crops need early rain. The harvesting of the early crops continues. Land is generally under preparation for spring sowings which have generally commenced, but are in parts already retarded for lack of moisture. Unless more rain is received the spring sowings will be short in the eastern and southern districts. Damage by grasshoppers and other insects is reported from Chhattisgarh, Wardha, Nagpur, and Bhandara. Prices have fluctuated slightly. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—Wheat, 16, gram, 20½, rice 15, and juar, 23½. The highest prices are—wheat, 10, gram, 12, rice, 9, and juar, 16. In Raipur the number in receipt of gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) were—adults 114, children 81, total 195.

Assam—The weather is seasonable. The transplanting of late rice has been finished in all districts except Sylhet. The harvesting of early rice still continues in Cachar, Darrang and Nowgong. The outturn is poor in Lower Assam and moderate elsewhere. Cutting of jute has been finished in Sylhet and Goalpara. The outturn is poor. Plucking and manufacture of tea and sowing of pulse are in progress. The prospects of tea are good in the Surma Valley and Tezpur and fair elsewhere, those of winter rice and sugar cane are poor in Goalpara, Kamrup and Nowgong, elsewhere they are fair to good. Fodder is scarce in places. Prices—Common rice, Silchar, 13½, Tezpur and Sibsagar, 12, Sylhet, 11, Gauhati and Dibrugarh, 10, Dhubri, 9½, and Nowgong, 8½ seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rainfall—2 inches 78 cents in the Civil and Military station and good rain throughout province, but more is wanted in Mysore and Kadur. The general prospects are good. Prices are fluctuating slightly. Cattle are healthy, except in parts of Shimoga and Kadur. The water and fodder supply is sufficient.

Coorg—Rainfall of the week 3 inches 42 cents. The picking of cardamom and reaping of ragi continue. The prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The rainfall of the week was—Amraoti, 11 cents, Pusad, 34 cents, and Yeotmal, 30 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. The standing crops are in good condition. Spring sowings are in progress in all districts. The preparation of land and weeding operations are well advanced. The fodder and water-supply is ample. The price of juar has risen in the Basim taluq, elsewhere it is stationary.

Hyderabad—The rainfall during the week was 5 cents. The autumn harvest continues. The standing crops in parts need rain. The early rice sowings are generally fair and spring sowings continue. Prices—Wheat, 6½, rice, 6½, and juar, 19½ seers per halla rupee.

Rajputana—There has been practically no rain. The autumn crops are being harvested. The condition of cattle is good, and fodder is sufficient. Prices are generally falling. The cheapest price was—Bundi, 33½ seers, the highest Kherwara, 14½ seers. The following were the numbers on relief—Native States—on relief works, 115, on gratuitous relief, 1,836 total, 1,951. In Merwara—on works, 1,192, Ajmer, nil gratuitous—Merwara, 1,477, Ajmer, 42, total, 2,711. Grand total, 4,662. Relief has been discontinued in Merwara.

Central India—Slight rainfall in Indore and in parts of Gwalior only. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The standing crops are in good condition. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; falling in Bhopal, average in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. Average prices 14-9 to 23-5 in Gwalior, 16-1 in Bhopal, 19½ to 26½ in Bundelkhand, 18½ in Malwa, 21 to 32½ in Bhopawar, and 9½ to 26 in Indore. The number gratuitously relieved in Malwa was 53.

Baroda—Numbers on relief have decreased The condition of cattle is good Fodder and water are sufficient The import of grain is adequate Prices of food grains are falling slightly, except in the Navsari district, where they are steady The numbers on relief were —On works, Baroda, 6,846, on gratuitous relief, 8,618, total, 15,464 There was no rain during the week

Kashmir—The weather is bright and is becoming cooler Rain fell twice during the week The rice crop is being reaped Prices are getting more above normal Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee JAMMU—There has been no rain Prices are fluctuating Wheat is selling from 12 to 22 seers and maize 15 to 34 seers per rupee The condition of the standing crops is fair Fodder is sufficient

Nepal—There has been no rain The weather is bright and warm The rice crop is doing well Price of rice is 9 seers for the rupee

Return of the number of persons in receipt of relief in districts affected by scarcity

NOTE.—The figures are compiled from returns obtained from Local Governments and Political Officers, and give the corrected District details of the Provincial totals published weekly in the Crop and Weather Summary of the Gazette of India.

Non-labouring children and other dependants of relief workers are classed as on relief works when distinguished in the local returns from persons gratuitously relieved in poor houses or at their homes. Weavers relieved in their own trade are shown under 'Gratuitous Relief'.

IMMIGRATION

Simla, the 13th October, 1902

RESOLUTION

In Resolution No 13—38-1, dated the 9th May 1902, the Government of India published extracts from an Act passed by the Commonwealth of Australia, entitled "The Immigration Restriction Act, 1901," which had for its object the restriction of the immigration of aliens into Australia. In section 6 of that Act it is provided that a prohibited immigrant within the meaning of section 3 (a) of the Act, vis, a person who cannot write in an European language at dictation, may be allowed to enter the Commonwealth if he deposits the sum of one hundred pounds. In section 6 (b) it is enacted that he must within thirty days after depositing such sum obtain from the Minister a certificate of exemption in a specified form. The Act does not, however, indicate the principles on which these certificates of exemption are to be granted. The Governor-General in Council therefore addressed an enquiry to the Australian Government on the subject and has received the following reply, which is published for the information of Natives of India who may wish to visit Australia

2 It will be observed from the explanation furnished by the Government of the Commonwealth that the exemptions allowed are of a purely temporary character

From the Secretary, Department of External Affairs, Commonwealth of Australia, No A 02 126, dated the 18th August 1902

I have the honour to inform you that your letter of the 16th July 1902 has been referred by the Secretary, Department of Home Affairs to me, as the Immigration Restriction Act, 1901, is administered by this Department

In reply to your query I have to inform you that section 6 of the Act is intended to apply to cases of persons arriving in the Commonwealth and proposing to remain for a limited period only within its borders. These persons, such as merchants, servants of officers, etc., may have omitted to provide themselves beforehand with a certificate of exemption from this Government

Those certificates are granted to persons of the classes mentioned on the Government being satisfied of their bond fides. They are strictly limited as to time, and on their expiry the holder must either obtain an extension (which can only be granted under special circumstances, and for a short period) or leave the Commonwealth

As it would probably cause considerable inconvenience were the persons who have so omitted to obtain certificates refused a landing, section 6 was inserted in the Act to give them the opportunity of applying to the Government for a certificate. The deposit mentioned in section 6 is necessary in such cases to satisfy the Government as to the bond fides of the applicant

Review of Irrigation in India in 1900-01

Read—

Note by R N Burn, Esq, Accountant General, Public Works Department, upon the accounts of Revenue and Expenditure of Irrigation Works in India for 1900-01
Provincial Revenue and Administration Reports of Irrigation Works for 1900-01

Irrigation Works are divided into two main classes—Major and Minor Works,—the former being sub divided into (I) Productive and (II) Protective Works Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept for all Major Works, and the revenue due to them, whether directly in the form of water-rates and miscellaneous receipts, or, indirectly on account of enhancements of land revenue due to irrigation, is shown in the Annual Finance Accounts

A—MAJOR WORKS

I—Productive Works

2 The most important irrigation works in India are those classed as Productive Works, or works the capital cost of which has been wholly or mainly provided from loan funds in the expectation that they would prove directly remunerative, and that the net revenue derived from them would fully cover all charges for interest within a reasonable time after their completion This expectation is never likely to be realized in respect of any of the four works constructed in Bengal, of the seven in Bombay (Deccan and Gujarat) and of the Kurnool Canal and Barur Tank in Madras The capital outlay recorded against the thirteen works first named to the end of the year under review amounted to Rs 974,50,186 on which the net revenue realized during the year yielded a return of 0.75 per cent compared with 0.79 during 1899-1900 and 0.71 during 1898-99 The interest charges to the end of the year exceeded the net revenue by Rs 8,66,59,796, the excess for the year being Rs 30,19,185 The area irrigated by these works during the year was 810,460 acres

3 These unfavourable financial results are, however, more than balanced by those attained on the 22 remaining productive works now in operation the net revenue on which during the year was equivalent to a return of 10.11 per cent on the capital outlay The general financial results of all of this class of works are shown separately by provinces in the following statement The totals are brought into comparison with those of the two previous years

The area irrigated has been exceeded only once in 1899-1900 and the percentage return only once in 1897-98, when it was 7.50. The net revenue is the largest on record.

4 Compared with the year 1899-1900 Punjab shows an increase of 455,599 acres, Madras, 145,843 acres, and Sind, 153,293 acres. The areas irrigated in these provinces are the largest on record. On the other hand, the United Provinces show a decrease of 762,041 acres, Bengal, 10,755 acres, and the Punjab Native States, 205,477 acres, while the area in Bombay was practically stationary.

The total value of the crops irrigated from productive works during the year is estimated at Rs 34,32,51,061, which is slightly less than the total capital cost of the works.

5 In the Punjab compared with the year 1899-1900 increases occurred on the Bari Doab of 99,228 acres, Lower Sohag and Para, 33,418 acres, Chenab, 477,469 acres, and Sidhna, 143,515 acres. The areas irrigated on the first three of these canals were the largest on record and the area on the Sidhna is only 15,929 acres less than that of the record year 1897-98. The extremely rapid increase on the Chenab has been continued. Decreases occurred on the Western Jumna of 90,700 acres and on the Sirhind of 207,326 acres, the falling off on this latter canal was practically all due to the decrease on the Native State branches. On both these canals the decreases were due to favourable rains during the rabi which affected the demand for canal water.

6 In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh compared with the year 1899-1900 there were decreases in the irrigated area on all the canals, viz, Ganges, 487,497 acres, Lower Ganges, 125,03 acres, Agra, 74,250 acres, Eastern Jumna, 71,768 acres, and Fatehpur Branch, 3493 acres. These unfavourable results were due to well distributed rainfall in the khari and to frequent rain in the winter months which brought the rabi crops to maturity without the aid of canal water.

7 In Madras compared with 1899-1900 there were increases in the irrigated area on the following works: Godavari, 75,907 acres; Kistna, 10,648 acres; Penner, 17,053 acres; Cauvery, 39,466 acres; Srivaikuntham, 4,625 acres; and Periyar, 13,637 acres. The areas irrigated during 1900 or on these works are the largest on record with the exception of the Cauvery which was exceeded by only 529 acres in 1898-99. There were decreases on Kurnool of 15,051 acres and Barur of 436 acres. On the whole, the area irrigated was the largest on record and is due to the favourable season and natural extension.

The Kurnool Canal still continues the most unremunerative work, but the return from it is gradually increasing. The heavy capital expenditure on it will, however, prevent it from ever becoming remunerative. The prospects of the Periyar Project are steadily improving, and there is hope that when the distributing works are completed, it will become remunerative. The decrease in the return from the Cauvery is due partly to increased capital outlay incurred (chiefly on remodelling the Upper Coleroon Anicut) and partly to increased maintenance charges.

8 In Sind compared with 1899-1900 there were increases in the irrigated area on the Desert Canal of 26,275 acres, Unharwah, 9,337 acres, Begari, 26,025 acres, and Jamrao, 164,187 acres. There was a decrease on the Eastern Nara of 72,531 acres, the area in the previous year was by far the largest on record and was due to a large increase of rabi irrigation which received a great stimulus by the high prices resulting from famine in other parts of India. The areas irrigated by the other canals were the largest on record, on the whole, compared with the previous year, there was an increase of 153,293 acres and the year was a record one. This is due to the Jamrao Canal on which irrigation on a large scale was first started during the year under review. On the whole of the works there was an increased return of 0.36 per cent.

9 In Bombay (Deccan and Gujarat) compared with 1899-1900 there was a decrease in area of 57 acres and on the return on the capital expenditure of 1.22 per cent due to smaller assessment and collection of revenue. The works are small compared with those of other provinces. The extent of the area irrigated by them continues steady.

10 In Bengal compared with 1899-1900 there were increases in the irrigated area on the Orissa Project of 2,712 acres and on the Midnapore Canal of 8,213 acres and a decrease on the Sone Project of 21,680. On the whole, there was a decrease of 10,755 acres but the irrigated area was an average one.

The Hiji Canal, which is a purely navigation canal, paid 0.58 per cent on the capital cost compared with 0.31 per cent during the previous year. The navigation receipts on the Bengal Canals have suffered from the competition of the Bengal Nagpur Railway.

11 In addition to the 35 productive works now in operation, seven new works were under construction during the year, viz, the Mandalay and Shwebo Canals in Upper Burma, the Jhelum Canal in the Punjab, and the Dad, Naulakhi, Nasrat and Mahiwah Canals in Sind. The total outlay on these works to the end of the year (excluding interest charges) amounted to Rs 1,27,67,200, of which Rs 55,52,759 were expended during the year. In addition Rs 136,27,408 were spent on works now in operation, principally on extensions or improvements which are likely to prove remunerative and to increase the efficiency of these works. The total capital expenditure on irrigation works during the year therefore amounted to Rs 91,80,167 against Rs 93,47,371 in the previous year. No new works were opened during the year.

There was not any capital expenditure during the year on navigation works.

II.—PROTECTIVE WORKS.

12 Protective irrigation works are those which have been sanctioned in consideration of their value as famine protective works, but without any expectation of their becoming directly remunerative. The cost of their construction has been met from the famine grant. There are at present five of these works in operation, particulars of which are shown in the statement below

The Swat River Canal, although sanctioned as a protective work, has proved a highly remunerative work from which the return continues to increase. The Betwa Canal has seldom paid even its working expenses, but improvements to it are under contemplation, which, it is hoped, will render it more remunerative. The Nira Canal has proved of great utility and the area irrigated by it increased from 27,200 acres in 1899-1900 to 51,728 acres during the year under review and was the largest on record. The other two works are not likely to prove remunerative.

13 The particulars given in the following statement relate to all major works (Productive and Protective) taken together

Compared with the year 1899-1900 the general results are almost identically the same, but there are considerable variations in some of the provinces, the largest of which are noted below

In respect of the average value of the crops Punjab Imperial has decreased from Rs 37 6 and Punjab Native States from Rs 35 6 per acre which is due to decreases in the area under, and value of, wheat and barley Madras has increased from Rs. 19 4 per acre owing to the higher prices obtained for rice and Bombay from Rs 58 7 per acre owing to the higher prices obtained for sugar

Only in Bombay has there been any large variation in the average assessment, which in this case has decreased from Rs 6 6 per acre owing to a large decrease in the area under sugarcane and gardens and orchards

Working expenses have risen in the Punjab Native States and United Provinces from Rs 1 1 per acre In both cases there has been an increase in the charges for repairs and establishment and a considerable decrease in the irrigated area In Bombay they have fallen from Rs 3 5 per acre owing to an increase in area accompanied by a diminution in the cost of maintenance and repairs

These variations account for the variations in the percentage of working expenses on gross revenue

The total area irrigated has decreased by 201,136 acres and the estimated value of crops by Rs 55 89,302

B—MINOR WORKS

III—Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept

14 All expenditure incurred in the construction and development of minor irrigation works is met from revenue These works are treated as Provincial in all Provinces except Sind, Bombay, Baluchistan Rajputana and the Punjab, in which all but a few works are Imperial Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept for 79 of the larger and more important minor works, and the financial results attained during the year under review are shown in the following statement

Financial results of Minor Works in operation for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept

15 The capital outlay during the year on Irrigation Works amounted to Rs 10,34,075. The expenditure in Rajputana was Rs 1,23,863, in the Punjab, Rs 3,19,537, in Madras, Rs 2,52,507, and in Bombay, Rs 2,73,171; and was incurred chiefly on Famine Relief Works.

16 Compared with 1899-1900, when the revenue was very small, there have been increases of revenue of Rs 6,55,318 and of 338,497 acres in the irrigated area. Both the total revenue and irrigated area are larger than they were last year (which was a very unfavourable one), despite the transfer of the Lower Sutlej and Chenab Inundation Canals from this class of works. But for this transfer the area and revenue would have been the largest on record. There are increases of the irrigated area in Rajputana of 21,371 acres, Baluchistan, 2,141 acres, Punjab, 254,537 acres, Sind, 118,639 acres, and Bombay, 1,320 acres. These increases are generally due to a better supply of water. There are small decreases in the United Provinces of 3,658 acres and in Madras of 6,073 acres.

The working expenses exceeded the gross revenue in Rajputana by Rs 3,268 and in Bombay by Rs 1,20,495. In this latter province the maintenance charges are always high owing to the small areas irrigated by the works and in a great measure to the expenditure necessary to maintain their storage reservoirs. In all other provinces the working expenses were much less than the gross revenue.

The area shown in Burma is not under irrigation, but represents the area of cultivation on lands reclaimed by river flood embankments, the revenue of which is credited to the capital account of the works. This area in 1900-01 exceeded that in 1899-1900 by 10,220 acres.

IV — Works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept

17 There are numerous Minor Works for which separate Capital Accounts are not kept, either because the works are too small, or because they have not been constructed by the British Government which has simply undertaken their improvement and maintenance. For such works only Revenue Accounts are maintained, they are credited with a share of the land revenue depending on their maintenance and are debited with all expenditure incurred on construction, extension, improvements and maintenance. Particulars for the year 1900-01 are shown by the provinces in the statement below.

Financial Results of Minor Works for which only Revenue Accounts are kept

Province	Area irrigated	Revenue receipts	Charges	Net revenue

„ 1898-99	1,925,661	48,70,462	23 46,203	25,24,259

The large increases under all heads are due to the transfer to this class of works of the Lower Sutlej and Chenab Inundation Canals in the Punjab which were formerly classed under "Works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept." They were transferred this year to this class, because the capital outlay incurred on them has been little more than nominal. In the year under review the area irrigated by them was 391,074 acres and the gross revenue Rs 6,18,629.

V — Works for which neither Capital nor Revenue Accounts are kept

18 There is a third important class of Minor Works in the Madras Presidency for which neither Capital nor Revenue Accounts are kept. These include over 28,000 tanks and 6,000 irrigation channels, the improvements and repairs of which are executed by the Public Works Department, or, in the case of the smaller works, by civil officers. The expenditure during 1900-01 amounted to Rs 22,82,627, of which about one quarter was spent by civil officers. The areas charged as irrigated by these small works in 1900-01 aggregated 3,173,250 acres, or more than all the major works in the Presidency taken together, and the revenue derived therefrom amounted to Rs 79,85,620, the corresponding figures for the previous year being 2,827,938 acres and Rs 72,07,545.

19. The following table summarizes the results of irrigation for all India during 1900-01 and compares them with those of the two previous years

Productive Works

3 There are 42 works so classed, one of which, the Hugli Tidal Canal in Bengal is a purely navigation work, the rest being irrigation canals Of these 42 canals seven were not open by the end of 1900 01, and thirteen, amongst which are all the canals in Bengal and in the Deccan and Gujarat, have failed to fulfil the productive conditions

4. By the end of 1900-01, the State had spent Rs 34,53,51,630 on these productive works, and received during that year a net revenue of Rs. 2,44,91,821 or 7.09 per cent on the capital invested, or, if open works alone be considered, a return of 7.36 per cent on Rs 33,25,84,430, the capital cost of the works open. Further these open canals, after paying each year's working expenses and interest charges, have brought in an accumulated surplus profit of Rs. 9,13,12,994, equal to 27.46 per cent. of the capital invested in them.

5. At the end of 1900-01 there were 34,403 miles of open productive canals, an increase of 1,091 over the mileage open at end of the previous year. This increase is due to the opening of the Jamrao Canal in Sind, and to additions to open works. The acreage irrigated during 1900-01, amounted to 10,583,115 acres, a decrease of 18,118 over that of the previous year, the result of a large decrease of 762,041 acres in the United Provinces, compensated by increases of 455,599, 145,843 and 153,236 in the area irrigated in the Punjab, Madras and Bombay, due to development of irrigation from the Chenab and Jamrao Canals and the Periyar project.

6. During 1900-01 the canals in the Punjab showed collectively a better result	than the canals in any other province, though
  Madras 1 Cauvery Delta System 2 Godavari Delta System 3 Krishna Delta System Sind 4 Unharwah project 5 Begari Canal United Provinces 6 Eastern Jumna Canal   there were six canals* with better results than any canal in the Punjab could show. One of these six canals, the Cauvery Delta System, gave a net return of 30.81 per cent on the capital invested.

7. Statements I and II show in detail the financial results of individual productive works and the gross revenue, the irrigated area and the mileage open.

Protective Works

8. As the term implies, canals so classed are constructed on a consideration of the protection they give against famine, without any expectation of a return sufficient to pay interest and working expenses. There are eleven canals so classed, five of which are still under construction, and of the eleven six are located in the Deccan and Gujarat.

The capital expenditure on these eleven canals to the end of 1900-01 amounted to Rs 2,24,53,655, or to Rs 2,11,82,415 if the expenditure on unopened works and on the Gokak Canal is deducted. These opened canals gave a net revenue of Rs 4,98,465 of which the Swat River Canal in the Punjab accounted for all but Rs 67,900, that canal having repaid the maintenance and interest charges of the year and returned a net profit of Rs. 2,71,088, equal to 6.55 per cent. on the capital invested in it.

9. At the end of the year there were 1,247 miles of open protective canals, or 29 miles more than what were in operation at the end of the previous year. The area irrigated during the year amounted to 339,415 acres, 166,031 of which were irrigated by the Swat River Canal. The acreage irrigated during the year was in excess of that irrigated in 1899-1900 by 22,036 acres. With the exception of the Betwa Canal in the United Provinces and the Mhasvad Tank in the Deccan and Gujarat, all projects showed slight increases, but the only large increase was in the area irrigated by the Nira Canal which irrigated 90 per cent more than what it irrigated in the previous year, though the open mileage increased by but 11 miles.

10. Statements III and IV show in detail the financial results of individual protective works, and the gross revenue, the irrigated area and the mileage open of each.

Minor Works

WORKS FOR WHICH CAPITAL AND REVENUE ACCOUNTS ARE KEPT

11. There are 81 works so classed, 24 of which are in Bombay and 28 in Madras. Of these 81 works six are for navigation, four in Madras and two in Bengal.

12 On the Irrigation Works alone the capital outlay to end of 1900-01 amounted to Rs 3,53,74,147, and the net revenue during that year to Rs 25,50,056 or a return of 749 per cent on the capital invested. The canals in Sind were the most lucrative, the collective return from them amounting to 2618 per cent, the Ghar Canal alone returning 10507 per cent.

13 During 1900-01, these Minor Irrigation Works irrigated 2,505,694 acres, an increase of 332,510 or 1530 per cent over the area irrigated during the previous year.

14. The capital outlay to end of 1900-01, on the six navigation canals amounted to Rs 2,04,32,376 and the net return during the year to Rs 1,29,791. The whole of this was brought in by the Calcutta and Eastern canals, which gave a return of 241 per cent on the capital invested in them. All the other navigation canals worked at a loss.

15 Statements V and VI show the financial result, the gross revenue, the irrigated area and the open mileage of individual minor works.

WORKS FOR WHICH CAPITAL ACCOUNTS ARE NOT KEPT.

16 Works so classed are all small works, many of which were constructed at the time of the native rule in India. No detailed accounts of these works are kept, and the enhanced land revenue due to them is assessed and collected along with the ordinary land revenue and accounted for in the Civil accounts.

17 The following statement shows the receipts and expenditure on these works, and compares the transactions of the year 1900-01 with those of the previous four years.

18 The falling off of Rs 99,149 in the receipts during 1900-01 occurred chiefly in Burma, and was due to refunds of double assessment of water-rates recovered from landholders on canals in the Minbu District. The increase in the expenditure was due partly to the transfer to this head of the Lower Sutlej Inundation Canals from the class of works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept, partly to a larger programme of expenditure in Madras, and partly to heavier adjustments of normal cost of famine relief works in Bombay.

GENERAL.

19 The general result of irrigation works for which Capital and Revenue Accounts are kept, is brought out in Statement VII. At the end of 1900-01 the State had spent on Capital outlay Rs 40,05,64,192, and during the year received a net revenue of

Rs. 2,76,25,070 equivalent to 6.90 per cent on the capital invested. The area irrigated and protected amounted to 13,547,986 acres, or 21,169 square miles.

20. The revenue realised and the cost of maintenance per acre are compared in the following table

Province	Revenue realised per acre irrigated	Cost of maintenance per acre irrigated
	Rs	Rs
Bengal	2.45	1.75
Bombay	1.90	.62
Madras	2.63	.68
United Provinces	4.98	1.72
Punjab	3.14	.99
Burma	2.28	.60
Rajputana	2.62	2.71
Baluchistan	6.73	4.17

Taking the first five provinces where irrigation is extensive, the receipts per acre irrigated are highest in the United Provinces, due to extensive irrigation during the rabi season of 1899-1900, the collections on account of which were made during 1900 or 1901. The lowest rate is in Bombay, due to a low assessment rate in Sind. The cost of maintenance per acre irrigated is highest in Bengal and the United Provinces, and lowest in Bombay.

CHIEF COMMISSIONER IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN

NOTIFICATION

Quetta, the 7th October, 1902

No. 6827 —In exercise of the powers conferred by section 20A of the Stage Carriages Act (XVI of 1861) as extended to British Baluchistan by the Chief Commissioner's Notification No 6397, dated the 21st June, 1901, the Chief Commissioner of British Baluchistan is pleased to issue the following rules for the regulation and control of stage carriages on the Harnai Loralai road and on the Kach-Ziarat and other roads mentioned in the rules —

- 1 Each carriage shall be numbered and the number displayed on the boot
- 2 The driver shall wear a brass badge on his left arm with the number of his carriage engraved on it
- 3 Inspection of the ponies, harness, or rolling stock must be permitted at any time, and by any person or persons acting under the orders of the District Magistrate
- 4 If tongas run at night, they must carry lighted lamps
- 5 Tongas will not be permitted to run at night on the Harnai Loralai road except under the written permission of the District Magistrate
- 6 The maximum weight of luggage to be carried by any tonga is as follows —

If 3 passengers besides driver	30 seers
If 2 passengers besides driver	2 maunds 10 seers
If 1 passenger besides driver	3 maunds 30 seers
If no passenger	5 maunds

Under no circumstances are more than three passengers besides driver to be carried. Two children under 12 but more than three years of age shall be reckoned as one adult person

7 A driver's license should not be granted to any person who the District Magistrate has reason to think is not qualified to drive

8 On no road passable for a tonga or tum tum may a greater stage than 30 miles be done with only one horse or pony in one day

9 The following stages have been fixed, and they should not be exceeded by any tum-tum or tonga unless the horse or pony is replaced by a fresh one —

(a) Between Harnai and Loralai and vice versa—

Any stages, provided the journey occupies not less than two days, and also provided that if the stage to be done is over 25 miles, a rest of at least two hours on the down journey and on the upward journey from Harnai to Loralai of at least 4 hours be given to the horse or pony at the first Dāk Bangalow or Rest House passed en route

(b) Between Kach and Ziarat or vice versa—

Any stages, provided the journey occupies not less than two days if only one horse or pony is used, and also provided that, if the stage to be done is over 25 miles, a rest of at least two hours be given to the horse or pony at the first Dāk Bungalow or Rest House passed en route

10 In the absence of any private arrangement between the proprietor, agent, or driver of a stage carriage and hirer, the following rates of hire shall be paid —

(a) Harnai to Loralai or vice versa single journey	R 12
(b) Kach to Ziarat or vice versa , single journey	12
(c) Ditto, return journey	12

and for intermediate places, etc —

	Single journey	Return journey
	R	R
Loralai to Lahor	4	6
Loralai to Marratangi	10	15
Loralai to Zirrah	15	22½
Loralai to Murgha	20	30
Loralai to Lakaband	30	45
Loralai to Sinjawi	6	8

Harnai to Razghai	8	12
Harnai to Sinjawi	10	15
Harnai to Duki	12	18
Kach to Kahan	7	10½
Ziarat to Kahan	5	7½

Two rupees per diem to be paid for a halt at any place

N.B.—“Single journey” fares above allow for the man's returning empty to a head quarter station or proceeding to an out-station empty in the first instance to take a fare anywhere.

If taken by the hour in any Cantonments or Municipal limits, As 8 for the first hour and As 6 for every additional hour afterwards. If taken outside Municipal or Cantonments limits, As 8 per mile of the distance travelled.

If taken by the day —

(a) for any distance within a radius of 10 miles from Cantonment Rs 5

(b) for any distance beyond the 10 miles radius As 8 extra per mile. Thus if taken by the day at Loralai and taken to Sirki Jungle, which is 16 miles from Loralai, the fare would be Rs 5 plus Rs 3 for the extra 6 miles outside the 10 miles radius.

11. All fares will be paid before starting. If for any special reasons a fare has not been prepaid and is not paid or offered within a week of its becoming due, 25 per cent extra will be charged in addition to the fare.

12. Applications for licenses should be made to the Magistrate of the District, who will issue the necessary licenses on payment of fees of Rs 8 for every license. Every such license shall be in force for one year from the date thereof.

13. A license is liable to be cancelled if it should appear to the District Magistrate or any person or persons appointed by him in this behalf that the carriage or any horse or pony or harness used therewith is unsafe or unserviceable or otherwise unfit for public use.

14. No horse or pony with galled shoulders or other open wound or that goes lame or that is weak, broken winded, or otherwise in bad condition, nor any horse or pony not thoroughly broken into harness or manageable and under control, or that in the preceding 24 hours has been driven for more than 25 miles without a rest of two hours, will be considered serviceable and fit for public use, and the employment of any such horse will expose the licensee of the carriage in which it shall be employed to cancellation of his license.

15. Any proprietor, agent, or driver of a carriage who knowingly permits more passengers or luggage to be carried than is provided for in his license shall be liable, on first conviction, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, and the proprietor, agent, or driver of any such carriage in respect of which any such offence is committed shall be held to have knowingly permitted such offence, unless he can be shown to have taken every reasonable precaution and to have made reasonable provision to prevent its commission.

16. Any person who shall cruelly beat, ill treat, over drive, misuse, or cause or procure to be cruelly beaten, ill treated, over driven, or misused, any horse or "pony" in a stage carriage, or who otherwise shall break any of these rules, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

NOTE — Drivers, proprietors, or agents who drive or cause to be driven in a licensed carriage any horse or pony for more than 25 miles within the space of 24 hours without a rest of two hours will be considered to have cruelly ill treated, over driven, and misused such horse or pony within the meaning of this rule.

17. A complaint book shall be kept by each tonga-driver, which will be open to inspection by the District Magistrate or any person or persons appointed by him in this behalf at any time, and the repetition of complaints will entail the cancellation of all licenses granted to the offending proprietors.

This license for a stage carriage is hereby granted under the authority of Act XVI of 1861, section 3-4, to be in force for the period of one year from the date hereof, according to the particulars set forth below and on reverse

(a) for any distance within a radius of 10 miles from Cantonment, *R*5

(b) for any distance beyond the 10 miles radius As 8 extra per mile. Thus if taken by the day at Loralai and taken to Sirki Jungle, which is 16 miles from Loralai, the fare would be *R*5 plus, *R*3 for the extra 6 miles outside the 10 miles radius

11 All fares will be paid before starting. If for any special reasons a fare has not been prepaid and is not paid or offered within a week of its becoming due, 25 per cent extra will be charged in addition to the fare

12 Applications for licenses should be made to the Magistrate of the District, who will issue the necessary licenses on payment of fees of *R*2 8 for every license. Every such license shall be in force for one year from the date thereof

13 A license is liable to be cancelled if it should appear to the District Magistrate or any person or persons appointed by him in this behalf that the carriage or any horse or pony or harness used therewith is unsafe or unserviceable or otherwise unfit for public use

14 No horse or pony with galled shoulders or other open wound or that goes lame or that is weak, broken, winded or otherwise in bad condition, nor any horse or pony not thoroughly broken into harness or manageable and under control, or that in the preceding 24 hours has been driven for more than 25 miles without a rest of two hours, will be considered serviceable and fit for public use, and the employment of any such horse will expose the licensee of the carriage in which it shall be employed to cancellation of his license

15 Any proprietor, agent, or driver of a carriage who knowingly permits more passengers or luggage to be carried than is provided for in his license shall be liable, on first conviction, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, and the proprietor, agent, or driver of any such carriage in respect of which any such offence is committed shall be held to have knowingly permitted such offence, unless he can be shown to have taken every reasonable precaution and to have made reasonable provision to prevent its commission

16 Any person who shall cruelly beat, ill treat, over drive, misuse, or cause or procure to be cruelly beaten, ill treated, over driven or misused any horse or “pony” in a stage carriage, or who otherwise shall break any of these rules, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees

NOTE—Drivers, proprietors, or agents who drive or cause to be driven in a licensed carriage any horse or pony for more than 25 miles within the space of 24 hours without a rest of two hours will be considered to have cruelly ill treated, over-driven, and misused such horse or pony within the meaning of this rule

17 A complaint book shall be kept by each tonga driver, which will be open to inspection by the District Magistrate or any person or persons appointed by him in this behalf at any time, and the repetition of complaints will entail the cancellation of all licenses granted to the offending proprietors

This license for a stage carriage is hereby granted under the authority of Act XVI of 1861, section 3-4, to be in force for the period of one year from the date hereof, according to the particulars set forth below and on reverse

PART VI.

Proceedings of the Council of the Governor General of India, assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE INDIAN COUNCILS ACTS, 1861 AND 1892
(24 & 25 VICT, C 67, AND 55 & 56 VICT, C 14)

The Council met at the Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Friday, the 10th October,

PRESENT

His Excellency Baron Curzon, P C, G M S, I, G M I E, Viceroy and Governor General of India, presiding

His Excellency General Sir Arthur Power Palmer, G C I E, K C B, Commander-in-Chief in India

The Hon'ble Mr T Raleigh, C S I

The Hon'ble Sir E F G Law, K C M G

The Hon'ble Major-General Sir E R Elles, K C B

The Hon'ble Mr. A T Arundel, C S I

The Hon'ble Mr Denzil Ibbetson, C S I

The Hon'ble Mr L P Pugh

The Hon'ble Mr C L. Tupper, C S I

The Hon'ble Mr R F. Rampini

INDIAN EMIGRATION BILL

The Hon'ble MR IBBETSON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1883. He said —“ We have made a number of minor alterations, which are, almost without exception, based upon suggestions received from Local Governments. And we have made one substantive alteration of some importance, by including domestic service, subject to certain limitations, among the occupations to be protected by the new Chapter XIV. We do not propose to interfere with the bond fide engagement of a domestic servant by his intending employer. But, after the Bill had been introduced in Council, a case was reported from Bombay, in which a speculator from South Africa proposed to take back with him a number of natives of India, with the view of placing them out in Africa as domestic servants. It seemed that, in such a case, those for whom the speculator might fail to find service would very probably fare badly, and that protection was as much needed as in the other cases already provided for under the chapter.

"I propose, at our next meeting, to ask the Council to take the Report into consideration and to pass the Bill into law."

CENTRAL PROVINCES VILLAGE-SANITATION BILL

The Hon'ble MR IBBETSON presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to make further provision for sanitation in villages in the Central Provinces. He said — "The amendments which we have proposed are almost entirely formal, and are for the most part based upon suggestions made by the Hon'ble Mr Bose, who represents the Central Provinces in this Council. I have also had the advantage of discussing them with the Hon'ble Mr Fraser, the Chief Commissioner of the province, who accepts them all as improvements."

"I propose, at our next meeting, to ask the Council to take the Report into consideration, and to pass the Bill into law."

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 24th October, 1902

AT the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 11th day of August, 1902

PRESENT

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council .

WHEREAS the territories of Africa situate within the limits of this Order are under the protection of His Majesty the King, and are known as the East Africa Protectorate,

And whereas by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, His Majesty has power and jurisdiction within the said territories *

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers on this behalf by the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890 or otherwise in His Majesty vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows

Preliminary

1 This Order may be cited as "The East Africa Order in Council, 1902"

The limits of this Order are the territories comprised in East Africa Protectorate, which includes the territories bounded on the east and north east by the Indian Ocean, the Juba River, the south western boundary of the Italian sphere, on the north by the Abyssinian frontier, on the west by the Uganda Protectorate, and on the south by the German sphere, and includes all adjacent islands between the mouths of the Rivers Juba and Uмба

The said territories are in this Order referred to as "East Africa" and "the Protectorate"

If His Majesty is pleased to direct that any other territories, for the time being under the protection of His Majesty, shall form part of the East Africa Protectorate, those territories shall, from and after a date to be fixed by an order of the Secretary of State, be deemed to be within the limits of this Order. In like manner, if His Majesty is pleased to direct that any territories for the time being forming part of the East Africa Protectorate shall cease to form part thereof, those territories shall, from and after a date to be fixed by an order of the Secretary of State, cease to be within the limits of this Order

2 In this Order—

"Secretary of State" means one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State,

"Crown lands" means all public lands in East Africa which are subject to the control of His Majesty by virtue of any Treaty, Convention, or Agreement, or of His Majesty's Protectorate, and all lands which shall have been acquired by His Majesty for the public service or otherwise howsoever,

"Gazette" means the Gazette of the East Africa Protectorate,

"Person" includes Corporation,

Words importing the plural or the singular may be construed as referring to one person or thing, or to more than one person or thing, and words importing the masculine as referring to females (as the case may require)

3 (1) Where this Order or any Ordinance confers a power or imposes a duty, then, unless a contrary intention appears, the power may be exercised and the duty shall be performed from time to time as occasion requires

(2) Where this Order or any Ordinance confers a power or imposes a duty on the holder of an office, then, unless a contrary intention appears, the power may be exercised and the duty shall be performed by the holder of the office for the time being, or by a person duly appointed to act for him

(3) Where this Order or any Ordinance confers a power to make rules, regulations, or orders, then, unless a contrary intention appears the power shall be construed as including a power, exercisable in the like manner and subject to the like approval and conditions (if any) to rescind, revoke, amend, or vary the rules, regulations, or orders

(4) Expressions defined in this Order shall have the same respective meanings in any Ordinances, rules, or regulations made under this Order, unless a contrary intention appears

Administration

4 (1) His Majesty may by Commission under His Sign Manual and Signet appoint a fit person to administer the Government of East Africa under the designation of Commissioner or such other designation as His Majesty thinks fit, and the person so appointed is hereinafter referred to as the Commissioner

(2) In the event of the death, incapacity, removal or absence from East Africa of the Commissioner for the time being, all and every of the powers and authorities by this Order granted to him shall, until His Majesty's further pleasure is signified through the Secretary of State, be vested in the Deputy Commissioner or other principal officer of the Protectorate Government for the time being in East Africa

(3) The Commissioner shall administer the Government of East Africa in the name and on behalf of His Majesty, and shall do and execute in due manner all things that shall belong to his said command and to the trust thereby reposed in him, according to the several powers and authorities granted or appointed to him by virtue of this Order and of his Commission and according to such instructions as may from time to time be given to him under His Majesty's Sign Manual and Signet, or by order of His Majesty in Council, or by His Majesty through a Secretary of State, and according to such laws as are or shall hereafter be in force in the Protectorate

5 The Commissioner shall have an official seal, bearing the style of his office, and such device as a Secretary of State from time to time approves, and such seal shall be deemed the public seal of East Africa, and may be kept and used by the Commissioner for the sealing of all things whatsoever that shall pass the public seal. And, until a public seal shall be provided, the seal of the Commissioner may be used as the public seal.

6 (1) The Commissioner may, with the approval of the Secretary of State, by Proclamation, define any boundaries of the territories for the time being within the limits of this Order, and divide those territories into provinces or districts in such manner and with such sub-divisions as may be convenient for purposes of administration, describing the boundaries thereof and assigning names thereto.

(2) If a question arises whether any place is or is not within the Protectorate, or within any province, and such question does not appear to be determined by any such Proclamation or other evidence, it shall be referred to the Commissioner, and a certificate under his hand and seal shall be conclusive on the question, and judicial notice shall be taken thereof.

7 (1) All rights of His Majesty in or in relation to any Crown lands shall vest in and may be exercised by the Commissioner for the time being in trust for His Majesty, or if the Secretary of State at any time with respect to all or any such lands by order under his hand so directs, in such other trustee or trustees for His Majesty as the Secretary of State may appoint.

(2) The Secretary of State may, when he thinks fit, by a like order remove any trustee so appointed, and may appoint any new or additional trustee or trustees.

(3) The Commissioner, or such other trustee or trustees, may make grants or leases of any Crown lands, or may permit them to be temporarily occupied, on such terms and conditions as he or they may think fit, subject to the provisions of any Ordinance.

(4) All mines and minerals being in, under, or upon any lands in the occupation of any native tribe, or any members thereof or of any person not possessed of the right to work such mines and minerals, shall vest in the Commissioner, or such trustee or trustees, in like manner as the mines and minerals being in, under, or upon any Crown lands.

8 The Commissioner may, as he shall see occasion, in His Majesty's name and on His behalf, grant to any offender convicted of any offence in any Court in East Africa, a free and unconditional pardon, or a pardon subject to such conditions as may be lawfully thereunto annexed, or remit or commute any sentence in whole or in part.

9 The Commissioner may, as he shall see occasion, in His Majesty's name and on His behalf, remit any fines, penalties, or forfeitures which may accrue or become payable to His Majesty.

10 (1) A Secretary of State, or the Commissioner, subject to the directions of a Secretary of State, may, on behalf of His Majesty, appoint, or authorize the appointment of such public officers for the administration of East Africa, under such designations as he may think fit, and may prescribe their duties.

(2) The Commissioner may, upon sufficient cause to him appearing, suspend from the exercise of his office in East Africa any such public officer, which suspension shall continue and have effect only until His Majesty's pleasure therein shall be made known and signified to the Commissioner.

(3) Subject to the provisions of any Ordinance, the Commissioner may appoint, or authorize Heads of Departments to appoint, such clerks and other subordinate officers as may be required, and unless other provision is made, all subordinate officers shall be removable by the respective officers by whom they were appointed.

11 All Ordinances, Proclamations, Regulations, Rules or other public notifications shall be published in the Gazette, and also in such other manner, if any, as the Commissioner may direct in the case of any particular notification.

Legislation

12 (1) The Commissioner may make Ordinances for the administration of justice, the raising of revenue, and generally for the peace, order, and good government of all persons in East Africa.

(2) The Commissioner shall observe any general or special instructions of the Secretary of State with respect to the previous submission to the Secretary of State of draft Ordinances, to the making of Ordinances for particular purposes, to the amendment of Ordinances or draft Ordinances, and to other matters in relation thereto, but nothing in this provision shall affect the validity of any Ordinance.

(3) In making Ordinances, the Commissioner shall respect existing native laws and customs except so far as the same may be opposed to justice or morality.

(4) The Commissioner shall sign every Ordinance made by him and shall at the first available opportunity transmit an authenticated copy thereof to the Secretary of State.

(5) The Secretary of State may disallow any Ordinance, wholly or in part, and upon such disallowance being publicly notified in the Gazette, the provisions so disallowed shall thereupon cease to have effect, but without prejudice to anything lawfully done or suffered thereunder

(6) The Ordinances of each year shall be numbered consecutively, and each may be cited by its number and year, or by its short title, if any.

(7) Where a date for the commencement of an Ordinance is not fixed in the Ordinance, it shall come into force on the day on which it is promulgated by the Commissioner

(8) An Ordinance may apply to East Africa any Act or law of the United Kingdom or of any legislature of India or of any Colony, subject to any exceptions and modifications

(9) The Commissioner shall, at the first available opportunity after any rules or regulations are made under any Ordinance by any person or body authorized, transmit an authenticated copy thereof to the Secretary of State

(10) An Ordinance shall not be repealable by any rules or regulations made under an Ordinance

(11) An Ordinance varying or affecting any Order in Council relating to the Protectorate, which is not repealed by this Order, shall not come into force unless it has been previously approved by the Secretary of State, and such approval shall be recited therein

Application of Law

13 The enactments described in the First Schedule to the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890, shall apply to East Africa as if it were a British Colony or possession, but subject to the provisions of this Order and to the exceptions, adaptations, and modifications following, that is to say

- (i) The Commissioner is hereby substituted for the Governor of a Colony or British possession, and the High Court is hereby substituted for a Superior Court or Supreme Court, and for a Magistrate or Justice of the Peace of a Colony or British possession
- (ii) For the portions of the Merchant Shipping Acts, 1854 and 1867, referred to in the said Schedule shall be substituted Part XIII of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894
- (iii) In section 51 of the Conveyancing (Scotland) Act, 1874, and any enactment for the time being in force amending the same, the High Court is substituted for a Court of Probate in a Colony
- (iv) With respect to the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881—
  - (a) So much of the 4th and 5th sections of the said Act as relates to sending a report of the issue of a warrant together with the information, or a copy thereof, or to the sending of a certificate of committal and report of a case, or to the information to be given by a Magistrate to a fugitive, shall be excepted, and in lieu of such information the person acting as the Magistrate shall inform the fugitive that in the British possession or Protectorate to which he may be conveyed he has the right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus or other like process
  - (b) So much of the 6th section of the said Act as requires the expiration of fifteen days before issue of warrant, shall be excepted
  - (c) The Commissioner shall not be bound to return a fugitive offender to a British possession unless satisfied that the proceedings to obtain his return are taken with the consent of the Governor of that possession
  - (d) For the purposes of Part II of the said Act, Uganda Zanzibar, the East Africa Protectorate, and all British possessions and Protectorates in Africa south of the Equator shall be deemed to be one group of British possessions

14 Where under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, or any amending Act, anything is authorized to be done by, to or before a British Consular officer, such thing may be done in any place in the Protectorate at which there is no Consular officer, by such officer of the Protectorate Government as the Commissioner may appoint

Courts of Justice

15 (1) There shall be a Court of Record styled "His Majesty's High Court of East Africa" (in this Order referred to as the High Court) with full jurisdiction, civil and criminal, over all persons and over all matters in East Africa

(2) Such civil and criminal jurisdiction shall, so far as circumstances admit, be exercised in conformity with the Civil Procedure, Criminal Procedure and Penal Codes of India, and the other Indian Acts which are in force in East Africa at the commencement of this Order, except so far as may be otherwise provided by law

(3) The High Court shall sit at such place or places as the Commissioner may appoint

(4) The High Court shall have a seal bearing the style of the Court and a device approved by the Secretary of State, but until such a seal is provided, a stamp bearing the words " High Court of East Africa " may be used instead thereof

16 (1) The High Court shall be a Court of Admiralty, and shall exercise Admiralty jurisdiction in all matters arising on the high seas or elsewhere or upon any lake or other navigable inland waters or otherwise relating to ships and shipping

(2) The following enactments of the Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890, that is to say, section 2, sub sections (2) to (4), sections 5 and 6, section 16, sub section (3), shall apply to the High Court as if in the said sections the said Court were mentioned in lieu of a Colonial Court of Admiralty and the Protectorate were referred to in lieu of a British possession

(3) Admiralty jurisdiction may be conferred by Ordinance on any Court subordinate to the High Court

(4) Any Ordinance varying or affecting the Admiralty jurisdiction of any Court or conferring Admiralty jurisdiction on any Court shall not come into force unless it has been previously approved by the Secretary of State, and such approval shall be recited therein

17 (1) There shall be as many Judges of the High Court as may from time to time be required

(2) Every Judge shall be appointed by His Majesty, and shall hold office during pleasure

(3) When there are more Judges than one, the principal Judge shall have such distinguishing title as the Secretary of State may approve

(4) In any case of death, illness or absence, or in any other emergency the Commissioner may appoint an acting Judge

18 (1) Courts subordinate to the High Court and Courts of special jurisdiction, may be constituted by or under the provisions of any Ordinance as occasion requires

(2) Provision may be made by Ordinance for the hearing and determining of appeals from any such Court by the High Court or otherwise

19 Article 10 of this Order shall apply to the appointment of all Judges and Magistrates (other than Judges of the High Court) and to Registrars and other principal officers of the High Court in like manner as it applies to public officers, and the provisions of that Article relating to clerks and other subordinate officers shall apply to all Courts

20 In all cases, civil and criminal, to which natives are parties, every Court (a) shall be guided by native law so far as it is applicable and is not repugnant to justice and morality or inconsistent with any Order in Council or Ordinance, or any regulation or rule made under any Order in Council or Ordinance, and (b) shall decide all such cases according to substantial justice without undue regard to technicalities of procedure and without undue delay

21 If any sentence of death is pronounced by the High Court a copy of the evidence shall be transmitted to the Commissioner, and the sentence shall not be carried into effect until confirmed by him

22 Subject to the provisions of any Ordinance, the High Court may, with the approval of the Commissioner, make rules for regulating the practice and procedure of the High Court and of all other Courts which may be established in East Africa

The power to make rules under this Article shall include (a) a power to fix fees and scales of remuneration, and (b) a power to regulate the conditions on which persons may be admitted to practise as advocates or solicitors in the Courts of East Africa

At the first available opportunity after any such rules are made, the Commissioner shall transmit an authenticated copy thereof to the Secretary of State

23 (1) A Court under this Order shall not exercise any jurisdiction in any proceeding whatsoever over the Commissioner or his official or other residences, or his official or other property

(2) This Article shall not operate in bar of any proceeding against the Commissioner in his official capacity, where it is sought to establish any liability of the Government of the Protectorate

Removal and Deportation

24 Where an offender convicted before any Court is sentenced to imprisonment, and the Commissioner, proceeding under section 7 of The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890, authority in that behalf being hereby given to him, considers it expedient that the sentence should be carried into effect outside of the Protectorate the place shall be a place in some part of His Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom, the Government whereof consents that offenders may be sent thither under this Article

25 (1) Where it is shown by evidence on oath, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, that any person is conducting himself so as to be dangerous to peace and good order in East Africa, or is endeavouring to excite enmity between the people of East Africa and His Majesty, or is intriguing against His Majesty's power and authority in East Africa the Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, by order under his hand and official seal order that person to be deported from the Protectorate to such place as the Commissioner may direct

(2) The place shall be a place in some part (if any) of His Majesty's dominions to which the person belongs, or the Government of which consents to the reception of persons deported under this Order, or to some place under the protection of His Majesty

(3) An appeal shall not lie against an order of deportation made under this Article

(4) If any person deported under this Order returns to the Protectorate without the permission in writing of the Secretary of State (which permission the Secretary of State may give) he shall be deemed guilty of an offence, and liable, on conviction, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding three months, with or without a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees and he shall also be liable to be forthwith again deported

(5) The Commissioner, by order under his hand and official seal, may vary or rescind any order of deportation under this Article

(6) The Commissioner shall forthwith report to the Secretary of State every order made by him under this Article, and the grounds thereof, and the proceedings thereunder

26 (1) Where under this Order a person is to be removed or deported from the Protectorate he shall, by warrant of the Commissioner under his hand and seal, be detained, if necessary, in custody or in prison, until a fit opportunity for his removal or deportation occurs, and then, if he is to be deported beyond sea, be put on board one of His Majesty's vessels of war, or, if none is available, then on board some other British or other-fit vessel

(2) The warrant of the Commissioner shall be sufficient authority to the person to whom it is directed or delivered for execution and to the Commander or master of the vessel to receive and detain the person therein named, in the manner therein prescribed, and to remove and carry him to the place therein named, according to the warrant

(3) In case of removal for any purpose other than deportation, the warrant of the Commissioner shall be issued in duplicate, and the person executing it shall, as soon as practicable after his arrival at the place therein named, deliver, according to the warrant, with one of the duplicates of the warrant, to a constable or proper officer of police or keeper of a prison, or other proper authority or person there, the person named in the warrant, to be produced on the order of the proper Court or authority there, or to be otherwise dealt with according to law

27 Subject to the other provisions of this Order, all expenses of removal of prisoners and others, and the expenses of deportation, and of the sending of any person to Zanzibar, or to any part of His Majesty's dominions or Protectorates, including expenses of maintenance, shall be defrayed in such manner as the Secretary of State directs

Supplementary

28 On the commencement of this Order, the following Orders in Council shall be repealed, that is to say

The East Africa Order in Council, 1897

The Africa (Acquisition of Lands) Order in Council, 1898

The Africa Protectorate (Capital Sentences) Order in Council, 1898

The East Africa Order in Council, 1899

The East Africa (Lands) Order in Council, 1901

Provided as follows

- (1) Where other provision is not made by Ordinance, any law practice or procedure established by or under the said repealed Orders and all Acts of any legislature in India now in force in East Africa, shall remain in force until such other provision is made
- (2) Every appointment of a Judge or other officer and every Court established and existing at the commencement of this Order shall, until other provision is made, continue to be as if this Order had not been passed
- (3) All legal proceedings begun under the said repealed Orders and pending at the commencement of this Order shall be continued as if this Order had not been passed

- (4) All regulations and rules made under the said repealed Orders shall remain in force until otherwise provided by Ordinance.

29 This Order shall commence and have effect as follows

- (1) As to the making of any warrant or appointment, the framing of Ordinances and Rules of Procedure, the issue of instructions, and as to any other provisions necessary for bringing this Order into effect, immediately from and after the date of this Order
- (2) As to all other matters and provisions comprised and contained in this Order, immediately after this Order is first published in the Gazette, and the time of such publication shall be deemed to be the time of the commencement of this Order

And the Most Honourable the Marquess of Landsdowne, K G one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein

No 2169 E—The following Order of His Majesty the King in Council is republished from the London Gazette of the 15th August, 1902, for general information

PRESENT

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council

WHERFAS by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means His Majesty has power and jurisdiction within the territories of Africa known as the East Africa Uganda, and British Central Africa Protectorates (in this Order referred to as "the said Protectorates"),

And whereas it is expedient that a Court should be established for the hearing and determining of appeals from His Majesty's Courts in the said Protectorates,

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by "The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890," or otherwise in His Majesty vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows

1 This Order may be cited as "Eastern African Protectorates (Court of Appeal), Order in Council, 1902"

2 A Court shall be constituted, called His Britannic Majesty's Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa (in this Order referred to as "the Court of Appeal") which shall exercise such appellate jurisdiction and such other powers in relation to the High Courts and other Courts in the said Protectorates as may from time to time be conferred by Ordinances passed under the provisions of the Orders in Council relating to the said Protectorates respectively

3 The members of the Court of Appeal shall be the Judge or Judges for the time being of His Majesty's Court for Zanzibar, and the Judge or Judges for the time being of the High Courts of the said Protectorates respectively, and such other competent person or persons, if any, each being a member of the Bar of England, Scotland, or Ireland, of not less than five years' standing, as the Secretary of State may from time to time appoint

4 The precedence of the Judges of the Court of Appeal shall be determined according to instructions to be given from time to time by the Secretary of State

5 For the hearing and determining of appeals, three Judges of the Court of Appeal shall sit together, but provision may be made by Rules of Court for the hearing of any specified classes of cases by less than three Judges

6 The Court of Appeal may sit at such places in Zanzibar, or in any of the said Protectorates as may be fixed by Rules of Court

7 The Secretary of State may appoint a Registrar and such other officers of the Court of Appeal as may be necessary

8—(1) The Court of appeal may make Rules of Court with respect to all matters of procedure relating to the exercise of its jurisdiction

(2) Rules of Court when allowed by the Secretary of State shall have effect as if contained in this Order. Provided that in case of urgency declared in the Rules, the same shall take effect before such allowance, and shall continue to have effect unless and until they are modified or altered by the Secretary of State, and are published by the Court of Appeal as so modified or altered

9 (1) When a final judgment or order of the Court of Appeal made in a civil action involves the amount or value of 10,000 rupees or upwards any party aggrieved thereby may, within such time as may be prescribed by Rules of Court or, if no time is prescribed, within three months after the same is made or given, apply by petition to the Court of Appeal for leave to appeal to His Majesty the King in Council

(2) The applicant shall give security to the satisfaction of the Court of Appeal to an amount not exceeding the amount or value of 5,000 rupees for prosecution of the appeal, and for such costs in the event of the dismissal of the appeal for want of prosecution as the Court of Appeal may award and for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any respondent by His Majesty in Council, or by the Lords of the Judicial Committee of His Majesty's Privy Council

(3) He shall also pay into the Court of Appeal a sum estimated by that Court to be the amount of the expense of the making up and transmission to England of the transcript of the record

(4) If security and payment are so given and made within such time as may be prescribed by Rules of Court then, and not otherwise the Court of Appeal shall give leave to appeal, and the appellant shall be at liberty to prefer and prosecute his appeal to His Majesty in Council according to the Rules for the time being in force respecting appeals to His Majesty in Council from his Colonies, or such other Rules as His Majesty in Council from time to time thinks fit to make concerning appeals from the Court of Appeal

(5) In any case the Court of Appeal if it considers it just or expedient to do so, may give leave to appeal on the terms and in the manner aforesaid

10 (1) Where leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council is applied for by a person ordered to pay money or do any other act, the Court of Appeal shall direct either that the order appealed from be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended pending the appeal as the Court thinks just

(2) If the Court of Appeal directs the order to be carried into execution the person in whose favour it is made shall, before the execution of it, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such Order as His Majesty in Council may think fit to make

(3) If the Court of Appeal directs the execution of the order to be suspended, the party against whom it is given shall, before an order for suspension is made give security to the satisfaction of the Court for performance of such Order as His Majesty in Council may think fit to make

11 This Order shall not affect the right of His Majesty at any time, on the humble petition of any person aggrieved by a decision of the Court of Appeal, to admit his appeal on such terms and in such manner as His Majesty in Council may think fit, and to deal with the decision appealed from in such manner as may be just

And the most Honourable the Marquess of Lansdowne, K G one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department

I—WORKING OF THE MINTS AT CALCUTTA AND BOMBAY DURING THE YEAR 1901-02

1 Receipts of Gold—The tenders of gold at the Mints, though considerably less than those of the preceding twelve months, exceeded four crores of rupees in value. The fall in the value of bullion tendered by the public is remarkable. The statement below compares the value and composition of the tenders with those of past years.

YEAR	CALCUTTA				BOMBAY				TOTAL
	Value of sovereigns and half sovereigns of current weight	Value of light and ultra light sovereigns and half sovereigns	Value of bullion	Total	Value of sovereigns at half sovereigns of current weight	Value of light and ultra light sovereigns and half sovereigns	Value of bullion	Total	Total value of gold tendered.
	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs
1899-00	1,72,83,586	13,184	39,07,467	2,12,03,239	2,03,62,105	3,32,000	4,41,31,650	6,53,25,755	8,65,28,994
1900-01	3,06,88,860	6,021	81,20,071	3,88,34,952	1,90,74,375	10,050	2,21,43,788	4,12,28,211	8,01,63,165
1901-02	2,04,09,405	15,435	8,426	2,04,33,266	1,97,12,640	20,789	15,02,096	2,12,95,525	4,17,28,791

The gold bullion received in the year under review consisted of—

	Calcutta Rs	Bombay Rs
Gold of the Indian mines		17,176
Bazaar gold and miscellaneous	8,426	15,44,920
Total	8,426	15,62,096

In May 1901 orders were issued reducing from 60 to 30 days the period for the payment of certificates for the amount of rupees to be given in exchange for coin or bullion. The result of these orders was the immediate resumption of tenders of gold bullion at Bombay, but tenders were not resumed at Calcutta.

2 Coinage of Gold and Silver—No gold was coined at either of the Mints. The silver coinage, exclusive of British dollars, was as follows:

	CALCUTTA	BOMBAY	TOTAL
	Value in rupees	Value in rupees	Value in rupees
Rupees	1,59,73,591	3,35,45,869	4,95,20,460
Quarter rupees	5,01,021		5,01,021
One-eighth rupees	11,13,016	2,13,235	13,26,251
Total	1,75,87,628	3,37,60,104	5,13,47,732

The greater number of rupees coined during the year were from the balance of bullion purchased to meet the demand for rupees in 1901. No silver was purchased during the year, and by June 1901 it was evident that the demand had been fully satisfied.

Orders were then issued for the recoinage of the first issue of 1840 rupees and in January 1902 it was decided to withdraw and recoin the second issue also. The two issues comprise all the rupees issued in the years 1840 to 1852 and their recoinage will occupy the Mints for the next few years. Some coinage was also undertaken on behalf of Native States desirous of converting their currencies and coined silver of an aggregate value of 52½ lakhs of rupees was received from the States of Kotah, Jhalawar and Camby for recoinage into British Indian rupees.

3 Dollar Coinage—The coinage of dollars during each of the last five years is stated in the following table.

Year	Silver coined into dollars (rupee standard)	Number of dollars coined
1897-98	45,300,826	21,256,427
1898-99	48,855,833	21,545,564
1899-1900	69,750,045	30,743,159
1900-01	21,488,248	9,609,991
1901-02	61,716,220	27,198,656

The number of these coins struck at the Calcutta Mint during the year was 1,513,685 only, the rest of the dollar coinage was done at the Bombay Mint.

4 Copper Coinage—Copper was coined at the Calcutta Mint only, and the coinage consisted of pie, half pie, pie pieces, Straits Settlement cents and quarter cents and Ceylon cents of the aggregate value of Rs. 13,61,416.

5 Operative Losses—

Silver—The loss on the rupee coinage of the Calcutta Mint in February and March 1901 was adjusted during the year under report including this the total net loss gave a rate of Rs. 427 per lakh laminated. In the Bombay Mint after making the necessary adjustments there was a net gain of Rs. 1371 on Government coinage and a loss of Rs. 2203 on dollar coinage. The gain on the former was due to the credit of recoveries from losses which had not been worked up in the previous year.

Copper—In the Calcutta Mint the operative loss on copper coinage was 277 per cent in 1901-02 as against 401 per cent in the previous year.

6 Premelting—The practice of placing bar silver direct into alloyation, which was introduced in April 1900 to enable the Mints to cope with the heavy demand for rupees, was discontinued in May 1901. The Government of India do not consider it desirable to dispense with premelting on ordinary occasions.

7 Revenue and Expenditure—The revenue and expenditure of the two Mints for the last five years are shown in the following table.

Year	REVENUE			EXPENDITURE
	Calcutta	Bombay	Total	Calcutta	Bombay	Total
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1897-98	2,37,890	11,67,871	14,05,760	5,26,558	7,95,629	16,22,187
1898-99	8,625	7,60,543	8,41,168	7,72,255	8,88,216	16,60,471
1899-00	33,423	9,36,637	42,78,060	8,34,045	8,55,931	16,89,976
1900-01	1,48,10,320	3,27,79,064	4,75,89,384	10,44,801	12,81,725	23,26,526
1901-02	28,11,434	51,33,193	79,44,627	10,36,550	9,95,289	20,31,839

The receipts include Rs. 70,61,450 on account of the gross gain on silver coinage on Government account, including profit on rupees made over to Native States. There was a gain of Rs. 6,70,397 on account of seigniorage on dollar coinage. The net profit on the rupee coinage of the year, though taken as Mint revenue in the first instance, was subsequently transferred to the credit of the Gold Reserve Fund.

The expenditure on salaries and establishments of the two Mints for the year under review compares as follows with the expenditure of 1900-01

	CALCUTTA MINT			BOMBAY MINT			BOTH MINTS
	1900-01	1901-02	Increase or decrease in 1901-02	1900-01	1901-02	Increase or decrease in 1901-02	1900-01	1901-02	Increase or decrease in 1901-02
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Fixed Establishment	1,62,753	1,63,612	+ 859	1,63,442	1,83,677	+ 20,235	3,26,035	3,47,289	+ 21,254
Temporary establishment and overtime work	90,760	88,013	- 2,747	1,58,527	85,674	- 72,853	2,49,287	1,73,687	- 75,600
Total	57,553	2,51,625	- 1,942	3,01,969	69,351	- 2,32,618	5,553	5,20,976	- 34,377

The decrease of charges for temporary establishment and overtime work was due to the smaller coinage of the year.

8 Miscellaneous Work—The amount of miscellaneous work done in the two Mints is shown in the table below

	CALCUTTA MINT			BOMBAY MINT			BOTH MINTS
	Cost of work done	Amount paid	Profit	Cost of work done	Amount paid	Profit	Cost of work done	Amount paid	Profit
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1900-01	39,255	46,055	6,800	6,950	7,215	265	46,205	53,270	7,065
1901-02	43,353	57,667	14,314	5,732	5,970	238	49,085	63,637	14,552

Medals and decorations for the Military Department and for various public institutions, and seals and other miscellaneous work for Government Departments and the public are the chief items which constitute this class of work. The profit from this source in 1901-02 was much larger than in the preceding year.

9 Offences connected with coinage—The following figures show the number of offences against the coinage during the last four years

	Number of cases brought to trial	Number of persons tried	Number of persons convicted
1898	795	995	582
1899	953	1,155	680
1900	1,370	1,704	1,056
1901	1,006	1,224	677

Although fewer cases were brought to trial during 1901 than in the preceding year, the number of counterfeit coins cut at treasuries was much larger. The subject of counterfeiting continues to receive the close attention of Government.

II—WORKING OF THE ASSAY OFFICES AT CALCUTTA AND BOMBAY DURING THE YEAR 1901-02

10 Number of assays made—Apart from a number of miscellaneous assays, the gold and silver assays made during the years 1900-01 and 1901-02 were as follows

YEAR	CALCUTTA ASSAY OFFICE		BOMBAY ASSAY OFFICE
	Gold	Silver	Gold	Silver
1900-01	1,094	8,641	6,141	58,233
1901-02	849	14,319	4,586	37,063

11 Meltings for standard coinage—The average fineness per mille of silver meltings for coinage during the year was as follows

	Calcutta	Bombay
Rupees	916 041	915 989
Quarter rupees	915 903
One-eighth rupees ...	915 669	915 573
British dollars	899 016	898 998

12 Parting assays of silver coins—The average proportion of gold found in the silver pyx coins of the Calcutta mintage was 529 per mille for rupees, 653 for quarter rupees, 1 112 for one eighth rupees and 278 for dollars. Eliminating dollars from the calculation, the silver coinage of the Calcutta Mint is computed to have contained 3,758 Troy ounces of gold of the value of £15,934 approximately. In the Bombay Mint the proportion was 310 per mille for rupees, 384 for one-eighth rupees, and 124 for British dollars.

13 Pyx trials of silver coins—The results of the pyx trials in the Calcutta and Bombay Assay Offices are summarised in a tabular form as follows

	TRIALS FOR WEIGHT			Number of trials made	TRIALS FOR FINENESS
	Number of trials made	Total number of coins weighed	Average weight in grains		TOTAL NUMBER OF COINS ASSAYED		AVERAGE FINENESS PER MILE OF COINS ASSAYED
					Singly	In groups of five	Singly	In groups of five
CALCUTTA
Rupees	193	1930	1870.4	197	1970	1840	916.480	916.842
Quarter rupees	16	16	45.017	10	167	1700	916.665	916.316
One eighth rupees	59	590	22.513	59	590	11800	915.710	915.901
Dollars	38	760	416.014	8	190	570	899.677	900.210
BOMBAY
Rupees	343	6860	179.997	343	1715	8575	916.912	916.815
One eighth rupees				8		1600		916.813
British dollars	200	5240	415.987	200	1300	3500	899.852	899.925

In Calcutta one rupee only was found beyond the legal remedy for weight, but in five different trials single coins were found outside the legal remedy for fineness. In each case the result of a second pyx proved favourable and the coins were passed. In Bombay no rupee was found in any trial to be beyond the legal remedy for weight, but in one trial a rupee was found to be beyond the legal remedy for fineness. A fresh trial in this case however, gave a satisfactory result and the coins were passed.

14 Pyx trials in England for 1900 01 and 1901 02—The result of the pyx trials made in England for both these years showed that the average weight and fineness of the British Indian coins from the Calcutta and Bombay Mints and of British dollars from the Bombay Mint were closely in accordance with the standards laid down for the two classes of coins.

Ordered that this Resolution, together with the Reports* from the Mint and Assay Masters, Calcutta and Bombay, be published in

PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES

The 15th October, 1902

No 5480 P—The following papers relating to the operations of the Postal Life Insurance, Endowment Assurance, and Monthly Allowance Schemes during the year 1901-02, are published for general information

No 119 L S dated Simla the 24th September 1902

From—A U TANSHAW Esq. C S I Director General of the Post Office of India

To—The Secretary to the Government of India Finance and Commerce Department

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the administration of the Postal Insurance Fund for the year 1901-02

2 During the year 893 new policies were granted of the aggregate value of Rs 14,08,400 as compared with 87 issued in the previous year, for sums amounting in all to Rs 14,85,400. Of these 893 policies 156 of the aggregate value of Rs 2,31,500 were Life Insurance policies, while 737 of the aggregate value of Rs 11,76,900 were policies of Endowment Assurance. As in the three previous years the number of Endowment Assurance policies issued in the year 1901-02 largely exceeds the number of Life Insurance policies

3 The distribution among the different departments of Government of the 893 policies issued during the year is shown in Appendix I A. Of the 893 persons holding these policies, 810 were public Assistants by race. During the year under report a policy was issued in favour of a woman employed under Government, this being the second instance only of the kind since the creation of the Postal Insurance Fund

4 Two applications for Life Insurance and nine for Endowment Assurance were refused on account of unfavourable medical reports on the lives of the applicants

5 The total sum realised on account of premium on both old and new policies amounted during the year to Rs 4,05,086 as compared with Rs 3,52,292 in the previous year. Claims to the extent of Rs 1,21,086 were discharged as compared with payments amounting to Rs 1,22,742 during the preceding year, and 19 Life Insurance policies representing a gross assurance of Rs 25,400 together with 26 Endowment Assurance policies representing Rs 45,700 as compared with 33 Life Insurance policies representing Rs 5,200 and 20 Endowment Assurance policies representing Rs 28,800 in 1901-02, either lapsed or were surrendered or cancelled. The general results of the past two years are summarised below

Life Insurance and Endowment Assurance		Up to 31st March 1901	Up to 31st March 1902
Number of lives insured		6,221	7,114
Amount received in premium		17,47,147	21,52,733
Amount of insurance		97,50,350	1,11,67,750
Amount of claims met		5,41,059	6,62,145

6 The active policies existing on 31st March 1902 were 6,177 in number representing an aggregate insurance of R 98 60,350 as detailed below

	R
1 Life Insurance policy for	3 000	effected by single payment of premium
761 Life Insurance policies for the aggregate sum of	11 51 850	effected by payment of monthly premium up to the age of 50.
1,071 Life Insurance policies for the aggregate sum of	15 07,350	effected by payment of monthly premium up to the age of 55
1 080 Life Insurance policies for the aggregate sum of	16 25 600	effected by payment of monthly premium for life
3 264 Endowment Assurance policies for the aggregate sum of	55 72 550	effected by payment of monthly premium up to ages varying from 45 to 55
6 177	98 60 350

7 Of the 893 policies issued during the year 811 policies representing a total insurance of R 12,85,000 are subject to the payment of premium during a fixed period, while 82 policies representing a total insurance of R 1,23,400 are subject to the payment of premium during life

8 Twelve new contracts for monthly allowances were entered into during the year under report, as compared with 17 in the previous year. There were at the end of the year 70 contracts for monthly allowances in existence, the total of the monthly allowances contracted for being R 678-7-9

9 The financial results of the administration of the Postal Insurance Fund to the end of the year under report are exhibited in Appendix VII

10 The statement in Appendix VIII gives the ages at which policies were surrendered or lapsed or were discharged by payment on death of the person insured, and that in Appendix IX shows the number of contracts relating to monthly allowances surrendered or lapsed or discharged by payment up to the close of the year under report. The first statement has been prepared in its present form with special reference to the request of the Actuary of the India Office in his memorandum, dated the 20th July, 1892, and the second statement contains information of a similar character relating to monthly allowance contracts

11 The percentage of the surplus of assets over liabilities of the Fund, according to the valuations prepared by the Actuary of the India Office, had risen from 3.6 in 1887-88 to rather over 9 per cent in 1897-98, but owing to the introduction in February 1898 of the new system of Endowment Assurances, the percentage was reduced in 1898-99 to about 6.3 per cent, in 1899-1900 to about 6 per cent, and in 1900-01 still further to about 5.8 per cent. For the year under report the percentage has been found, on a calculation made in my office, to be 6.9

12 During the year under review, 11 Life Annuities of the total value of R 97-10-8 were purchased under Article 867 of the Civil Service Regulations, of these, seven of the total value of R 68-9-10 were purchased with the sanction of the Punjab Government, and three of the total value of R 29-0-10 with the sanction of the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces and Berar

13 The appendices attached are in the same form as those which accompanied last year's report

PART IV

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 24th October, 1902, and is hereby promulgated for general information

ACT NO X OF 1902

An Act further to amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1883

XXI of 1883 WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, and to make better provision for the departure by sea out of India of Natives of India engaged for certain purposes, It is hereby enacted as follows

1 (1) This Act may be called the Indian Emigration (Amendment) Act, 1902, and

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

XXI of 1883 2 To the preamble to the Indian Emigration Act, 1883, the words "and to regulate their departure by sea out of India in certain cases" shall be added

3 In section 6 of the said Act, after the word "context" the following clause shall be inserted, namely

"(1) 'labour' means 'unskilled labour' and does not include any work or other occupation of the nature hereinafter referred to in Chapter XIV"

and the existing clauses (1) to (9) shall be renumbered clauses (2) to (10), respectively

4 For the proviso to clause (2), as renumbered, of the same section, the following proviso shall be substituted, namely

"Provided that, in case of any doubt or dispute as to whether any person should be deemed so to emigrate, the question shall be referred to the Local Government, whose decision shall be final"

5 In the proviso to section 105 of the said Act, clause (a) is hereby repealed

6 After Chapter XIII of the said Act the following Chapter shall be added, namely

"CHAPTER XIV

"NATIVES OF INDIA ENGAGED AS ARTISANS OR FOR EXHIBITIONS, ENTERTAINMENTS OR SERVICE IN PLACES OF PUBLIC RESORT OR DOMESTIC SERVICE ABROAD

"107 (1) Whoever desires to engage any Native of India to depart by sea out of India for the purpose—

- (a) of working as an artisan, or
- (b) of any exhibition or entertainment, or
- (c) of service in any restaurant, tea-house or other place of public resort, or
- (d) save as provided in sub section (2), of domestic service, in any place beyond the limits of India other than the Island of Ceylon or the Straits Settlements, shall apply for the permission of the Local Government having jurisdiction at the port from which such person is to depart (which shall be a port from which emigration is lawful) and shall state in his application—

- (i) the number of the persons whom he proposes so to engage,
  - (ii) the place or places beyond the limits of India to which such persons and their dependents are to proceed,
  - (iii) the accommodation to be provided for such persons and their dependents until their departure out of India and during the voyage,
  - (iv) the provision to be made for the health and well being of such persons and their dependents during the period of the proposed engagement, and for their repatriation at the end of such period,
  - (v) the terms of the agreements under which such persons are to be engaged, and
  - (vi) the security in British India which he proposes to furnish for the due observance of such agreements and for the proper treatment of the persons to be engaged and their dependents
- (2) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to apply to any person who in good faith—
- (a) engages a Native of India to accompany him out of India as his personal domestic servant, or
  - (b) engages in compliance with the request of some other person, not being in India, a Native of India to depart out of India for the purpose of becoming the personal domestic servant of such other person

Explanation—For the purposes of this Chapter, the words “emigrant” and “emigrate” in the definition of “dependent” in section 6, clause (4), shall be read as referring to the departure by sea out of India of a person whom it is desired to engage under this Chapter

“108 On receiving an application under section 107, the Local Government may, after such inquiry as may be necessary, grant the permission applied for on such terms and conditions (if any) as it thinks fit, or withhold such permission, and the decision of the Local Government shall be final

“109 (1) Before any Native of India departs from India in accordance with permission granted under section 108, the person by whom he has been engaged shall appear before the Protector of Emigrants at the port of embarkation with such Native of India, and with any persons intending to accompany him as his dependents

(2) If it appears to the Protector of Emigrants that permission to engage such Native of India has been duly obtained and that the terms of the agreement under which such Native of India has been engaged are in accordance with the terms of the permission granted, and that the conditions on which such permission was granted have been complied with, he shall register in a book to be kept for the purpose such particulars concerning such Native of India and his dependents (if any) and concerning the person engaging him in such form as the Governor General in Council by rules made under this Chapter prescribes

“110 Where such security as is referred to in section 107, sub-section (1), sub-clause (vi), has been furnished, the Local Government may, after such inquiry as may be necessary, pass orders in regard to the forfeiture of the security and the application of the same or of any part thereof, or may order the return of the security or of any part thereof to the person by whom it was furnished, or to his representative

“111 (1) Whoever,—

- (a) without having first obtained the permission of the Local Government referred to in section 107, sub-section (1), enters or attempts to enter into an agreement purporting to bind any Native of India to depart by sea out of India for any of the purposes specified in the said sub-section, or
- (b) causes any Native of India engaged by him for any such purpose as aforesaid to depart from any port which is not a port from which emigration is lawful, or
- (c) causes any Native of India engaged by him after grant of the permission referred to in section 108, to depart by sea out of India without registration of the particulars required by section 109, sub-section (2),

shall, on conviction by a Magistrate of the first class, be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred and fifty rupees for each Native of India in respect of whom the offence is committed

(2) Prosecutions under this section shall not be instituted except by the Protector of Emigrants or by an officer appointed for the purpose by any Local Government

“112 The Local Government may by notification in the local official Gazette, authorize a Protector of Emigrants to receive or dispose of applications made under this Chapter

Provided that an appeal shall lie to the Local Government from every order passed by a Protector of Emigrants in exercise of the authority so conferred

“113 (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter

(2) All rules under this section shall be made subject to the condition of previous publication”

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 24th October, 1902, and is hereby promulgated for general information

Act No XI OF 1902

An Act to make further provision for sanitation in villages in the Central Provinces

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further provision for sanitation in villages in the Central Provinces, It is hereby enacted as follows

1 (1) This Act may be called the Central Provinces Village sanitation Act, 1902

(2) It extends to the territories for the time being administered by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces

Extension of Act to insanitary villages 2 (1) Where the sanitary condition—

(a) of a village, or

(b) of two or more villages having inhabited sites adjacent to one another,

containing not less than five hundred inhabited houses and not being wholly or partly within the limits of a municipality, is, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the village or villages is or are situate, such as to be injurious to the health of the inhabitants, the Deputy Commissioner may, by notice in writing, published in such manner as the Local Government may, by rule, prescribe, declare that the local area concerned is in an insanitary state

(2) After the publication of a notice under sub section (1) the Local Government may,—

(a) on the application of a mukaddam and ten or more other inhabitants of the local area, or,

(b) where no such application is made within three months after the date of the publication of the notice, on the application of the Deputy Commissioner,

by notification in the local official Gazette, extend to the local area the provisions of this Act with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification

3 In every local area to which this Act is extended by notification under section 2 a panchayat shall be formed, consisting of the mukaddam of each village and such number not being less than four, of representatives of the village community or village-communities in the local area, as the Local Government may by rule prescribe who shall be chosen by election from among the inhabitants of the local area

(a) the sum which is annually required for the conservancy of the local area and

(b) the sum which may from time to time be required for the improvement of the water-supply or of the village roads or for any other work of public utility in the local area

Provided that, where arrangements can be made for the maintenance of a staff of scavengers by the direct payment to them of fees by the inhabitants of, or persons trading in a bazar in, the local area, the cost of such staff shall be omitted from consideration in determining the sum annually required for the conservancy of the local area

5 Subject to the previous sanction of the Local Government, the sums determined in accordance with the provisions of section 4 to be required for the purposes indicated therein may be raised by one or more of the following measures, namely

- (a) an assessment on the houses and lands within the local area with reference to the circumstances of, and property possessed by, the owners or occupiers of such houses or lands,
- (b) the levy of license fees on professional weighmen or measurers weighing or measuring for hire goods brought for sale into the local area,
- (c) the levy of tolls on carts, pack animals and porters bringing goods for sale into the local area, and on animals brought for sale and actually sold therein,
- (d) the levy of rents, not exceeding three rupees and four annas per annum in each case, from dealers temporarily occupying open ground in the local area, or
- (e) the levy of fees, not exceeding two per centum of the sale-price on the voluntary registration of cattle sales effected in the local area

Provided, first that no tax or charge imposed under this section shall be valid until it has been sanctioned by the Commissioner and that no assessment under clause (a) shall exceed the sum determined under section 4 to be required in respect of the year for which the assessment is to be levied and

Provided, secondly, that the tolls levied under clause (c) may vary according to the class of the goods brought for sale or of the animals brought for sale and actually sold, but shall in no case exceed four annas per cart load of goods or one per centum of the sale-price of animals, as the case may be

6 The rates chargeable by weighmen or measurers licensed under clause (b) of section 5 shall not exceed three quarters per centum of the sale-price of the goods weighed or measured

7 (1) The Local Government may make rules to carry out the purposes and objects of this Act

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

- (a) define the limits of local areas for the purposes of this Act
- (b) regulate the mode of election and the proceedings of panchayats, the term of office of the members of a panchayat and the circumstances in which, and the authority by whom, such members may be removed,
- (c) regulate the rates and amounts of any taxes or charges imposed under section 5, their assessment and collection, the exemptions

(if any) to be granted, the safe custody and application of the proceeds and the auditing of the accounts thereof, and

- (d) regulate conservancy and define and prohibit public nuisances

(3) In making any rules under this section, the Local Government may direct that the breach of any provision thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to ten rupees

8 Arrears of taxes and charges imposed under this Act, and arrears of Recovery of taxes and charges and scavengers fees any fees made directly payable to scavengers under such an arrangement as is contemplated by the proviso to section 4, may, subject to the rules (if any) made under section 7, be realized by the Deputy Commissioner as arrears of land-revenue.

9 Where a panchayat has licensed persons to measure or weigh for hire goods with reference to clause (b), or has appointed persons to register cattle-sales with reference to clause (c), of section 5, any person who has not been so licensed or appointed and who charges any fees for measuring or weighing goods or for registering cattle sales, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to twenty rupees, and in the case of a continuing offence with fine which, in addition to such fine as aforesaid, may extend to ten rupees for every day after the first during which such offence continues

10 A Court shall not take cognizance of an offence punishable under this Act or a rule thereunder except on the complaint of the Deputy Commissioner or of the panchayat or of some person authorised specially by the Deputy Commissioner or the panchayat in each case

11 The Local Government may direct that the provisions of this Act shall cease to have operation in any local area from a date to be fixed by the Local Government, and may make over any moneys in the hands of the panchayat to the District Council or Local Board having authority under the Central Provinces Local Self government Act, 1883

12 While the provisions of this Act are in force in any local area, the authority of the District Council or Local Board under section 9 of the Central Provinces Local Self government Act, 1883, shall be suspended in respect of all matters made over to the management of the panchayat.

13 The Central Provinces Village-sanitation Act, 1889, is hereby repealed

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th October, 1902

NO 11 OF 1902

A Bill further to amend the Indian Ports Act, 1889

X of 1889. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Ports Act, 1889, It is hereby enacted as follows

1 This Act may be called the Indian Ports (Amendment) Act, 1902
Short title.

X of 1889. 2 In section 47 of the Indian Ports Act 1889, the proviso shall be omitted, and for section 48 of the said Act the following section shall be substituted, namely Amendment of section 47 and substitution of new section for section 48, Act X, 1889.

Port dues not to be chargeable in certain cases

“ 48 No port due shall be chargeable in respect of—

(a) any pleasure-yacht, nor

(b) any vessel which, having left any port, is compelled to re enter it by stress of weather or in consequence of having sustained any damage, nor

(c) any vessel which, having entered any port within the territories administered by the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, leaves it within forty eight hours without discharging or taking in any passengers or cargo ”

3 For the first entry in the fourth column of Part I of the First Schedule to the said Act, the following entry shall be substituted, namely

Substitution of new entry for entry in column 4 Part I First Schedule Act X 1889

“ Whenever the vessel enters the port except in the case of mail steamers and coasting-vessels, which shall not be chargeable more than once in sixty days ”

4 To Explanation I of Part II of the said Schedule to the said Act, the following proviso shall be added, namely

Addition of proviso to explanation I Part II First Schedule Act X 1889

“ Provided that, for the purpose of the levy of port-dues, a vessel shall not be deemed, during one and the same voyage, to be both a coasting ship or steamer and a foreign ship or steamer, but port dues shall, in respect of such voyage, be leviable on such vessel either as a coasting or as a foreign ship or steamer, whichever rate is the higher ”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE present Bill aims at correcting three defects of a formal character which have been brought to notice in the working of the Indian Ports Act, 1889 (X of 1889)

(1) The exemption allowed by the proviso to section 47 might, in spite of the generality of the term "vessel," be regarded as not including vessels "in ballast," which are dealt with separately in section 46. As there is no reason for excluding vessels in ballast from the exemption, it is considered safer to re-enact the proviso as part of an independent section

(2) The first entry in the fourth column of Part I of the First Schedule opposite the port of Calcutta requires revision in order to bring it into accordance with actual practice under which port-dues are levied on coasting-vessels entering that port only once in sixty days. The existing exception of "dhonies and country vessels" is not adapted to modern conditions. The new entry proposed by the Bill will substitute a more liberal provision on the lines of the corresponding entry against Chittagong under which both mail-steamers and coasting-vessels will only have to pay port-dues once in sixty days

(3) The necessity for the addition of a proviso to Explanation I to Part II of the same Schedule, under which it is possible for a vessel to be classified as "foreign" and also as "coasting" during one and the same voyage, was suggested by an opinion of the Advocate General of Madras, in pursuance of which it is sought to render it clear that such a vessel is liable to the levy of port dues on either scale, whichever is the higher, but not on both scales cumulatively

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 23rd. October 1922, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

A shallow depression apparently entered India from the west on the 18th and gave light to moderate rain in the Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas on the 19th and 20th. Amounts ranging from one to one and a half inches were received at Umballa, Chakrata, Mussooree, Meerut and Bareilly. Scattered showers have been received during the week in Burma and North East India, the most important being 2.97 inches at Gorakhpur on the 19th and 1.35 inches at Yanmetchin on the 20th.

Rainfall in the Peninsula has been restricted almost entirely to the south and during the greater part of the week was very light even in that area. It increased in South India on the 23rd, due to the approach of a cyclonic storm from the Bay of Cocanada and Cuddalore both reported 2½ inches, Tinnevely 2 inches and Madras 1½ inches.

Weather was disturbed in Baluchistan, at the end of the week, and half an inch of rain was reported on the 23rd from both Chaman and Quetta.

The rainfall of the week has been equal to or in excess of the normal in Burma (Dry), the Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas (West), the Indo Gangetic Plain (West), the North-West Dry Area, Baluchistan, the East Coast (South), and the subdivisions of Madura, Calicut, Jaipur, Burdwan, Bahraich and Darbhanga. The deficiency in the remaining divisions was largest in the East Coast (North).

The past week's rainfall has considerably reduced the percentage of deficiency in the seasonal rainfall in Baluchistan, but over the remainder of the country there has been no important change. The rainfall of the season continues normal or in slight excess except in the West Satpuras and the subdivisions of Burdwan, Waltair, Raipur, Jabulpore, Jaipur, Indore, Bellary and Hyderabad (Deccan).

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 18th October, 1902

Madras—Rainfall nil in the Circars, light in Kurnool and Cuddapah and fair to good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam, Kurnool, the Carnatic, Salem and Madura. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair, but require more rain in Ganjam Vizianagaram, Kurnool, Cuddapah and North Arcot. The early crops are being harvested with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices are generally easier.

Bombay—There was good rain during the week in parts of Dharwar, moderate falls in parts of Colaba, Ratnagiri, Satara, Belgaum and Kinara, slight in parts of Thana, Poona and Baroda, and very slight in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Sholapur and Bijapur. More rain is needed in parts of the Panch Mahals. Surat, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Satara, Bijapur, Belgaum and Beroza. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Larkana and Jhar and Parkar, by rats in parts of Hyderabad and Panch Mahals, and by insects in parts of Sukkur, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Belgaum. They are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Karachi, elsewhere they are generally in good condition. The harvesting of autumn crops generally continues in all districts. Preparation of lands for spring cultivation continues in parts of Sindh, Ahmedabad, Surat and Nasik, and sowing continues in parts of Karachi, Larkana, the Panch Mahals, Broach, Surat, the Deccan, the Carnatic, Rajkot and Baroda, and is almost over in Sholapur. The cotton crop is in good condition in Hyderabad, Jhar and Parkar, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, Satara and Bijapur, and sowing is almost completed in Dharwar. The fodder supply is generally sufficient, except in parts of Larkana and the Upper Sindh Frontier. Agricultural stock is in good condition and generally sufficient, except in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in parts of Sukkur and Dharwar. Prices have fallen in nine districts and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of the principal staples to normal remained substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows—Ahmedabad, 38, Kaira, 32, Panch Mahals, 47½, Surat, 35, Sholapur, 39½, Ahmednagar, 39½, Poona, 32, Bijapur, 35½, Belgaum, 42, Kithiawar, 31½, Palanpur, 29, Rewakantha, 40½, Mahikantha, 37½, Jamkhandi, 30, Mudhol, 29.

The following were the daily average numbers on relief—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On test-works, 1,204, on relief works, 16,908, dependants, 4,645, total on works 22,757. In poor-houses, 2,796, on village relief, 72,242, total on gratuitous relief 75,038. Figures for Ahmedabad, Belgaum and Jhar and Parkar are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—On relief works 4,894, dependants, 165, total on works, 5,059. In poor-houses, 2,746, on village relief, 254, total on gratuitous relief 3,010. Figures for Palanpur, Mahikantha and Miraj Junior are incomplete. Grand total, 105,864.

Bengal—The rainfall during the week was light and scattered. No rain fell in Orissa and the fall in Chota Nagpur was scanty. The districts of the Burdwan, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions and also the districts of the 24-Parganas, Siran and Sonthal Parganas require more rain. Sowing of spring crops is progressing. Winter rice is doing well and the outturn is expected to be average if the rest of the season be favourable. The outturn of indigo for which the season was not favourable is estimated at 50 per cent. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, fallen in fifteen, and is stationary in the remaining twenty-five.

United Provinces—Fifteen districts report light rain. Gorakhpur, Sitapur and parts of Kheri have received over half an inch and in the two latter districts the rain has caused slight injury to the crops. More rain is said to be needed for late rice in Benares and Ballia, and in Mirzapur and Banda for crops on uplands. Hail is reported from Kheri, Basti and Gorakhpur. Juar has been injured by insects in certain tahsils of Cawnpore. The sowing of gram, barley and linseed is in progress and preparation of fields for sugarcane and poppy has commenced in places. Fodder and supplies are ample and prices are stationary or falling.

Punjab—Good rain has fallen in parts of Jullundur and slight falls are reported from some other districts. The autumn crops are being reaped. Cotton pickings are in progress.

in some districts. Sowings of spring crops continue, but very little sowing has been done in Hissar for want of rain. The condition of the standing crops on irrigated lands is good. The crops on unirrigated lands have mostly failed in Hissar and are suffering for want of rain in Amritsar. The outturn on irrigated lands is expected to be average and that on unirrigated below average. Cotton and great millet have been attacked by insects in Mooltan, and the crops on riverain lands have been injured by field rats in parts of Amritsar. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Hissar, Rohtak and Mooltan. Prices of wheat are rising in Gurgaon, Karnal and Jullundur, falling in Shahpur, and are unchanged elsewhere. The prices of the cheapest food grains at Hissar, Rohtak and Gurgaon are as follows—Hissar, bijhar (mixed barley and gram), 21 seers, Rohtak, barley, 21 seers, Gurgaon, bulra (bulrush, millet), 21 to 26 seers. The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar was 968.

North West Frontier Province—The rainfall averaged  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch in all districts, but Dera Ismail Khan. The autumn crop is being reaped and spring sowings are in progress. The autumn outturn on irrigated lands is generally good, on dry lands average or below. Fodder is procurable, but not abundant. The water-supply in canals, except the Bara is sufficient, but the rivers are running low in Peshawar. Snow has fallen unusually early in the northern hills. The price of wheat in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan was 15½ and 12½ seers per rupee, respectively.

Burma—LOWER BURMA—Reaping of early wet weather paddy has commenced in Sandoway. More rain is wanted in the Loungoo subdivision of Toungoo. Prospects continue generally favourable. Upper Burma—The transplanting of wet-weather paddy is still in progress in some districts. Sowing of early wet-weather paddy has been completed in the Upper Chindwin. Cultivation of paddy on alluvial lands continues and plucking of cotton has commenced in the Yinmabin subdivision of Lower Chindwin and continues in districts previously reported. The gathering of sessamum and sowing of beans are progressing. More rain is required in parts of the Yeu subdivision of Shwebo to mature crops. Crop prospects are fair. The price of paddy has fallen considerably in Myaungmya, elsewhere it is practically stationary.

Central Provinces—The weather has been warm and occasionally cloudy. The rainfall has been quite insignificant or nil everywhere, except in Damoh and the Arki tahsil of Wardha, where local showers approximating to half an inch have benefited the standing crops. Immediate rain, of which there seems little prospect, is needed for the rice crop and to a less extent for juar and for light soil crops not yet matured. In the rice districts of Bilaspur, Chanda, Bhandara and Balaghat the condition of the crop is now almost hopeless and the prospects of other autumn crops are generally not good, elsewhere crops are generally in fair condition, but require early rain. The harvesting of early autumn crops continues. Land is generally under preparation for winter sowings which have commenced in many places, but are retarded for lack of moisture. An insufficiency of water for cattle is reported from the Warora tahsil of Chanda and from parts of Bhandara. Damage by grasshoppers and other insects is reported from Chhattisgarh, Nimar, Wardha, Nagpur, Bhandara and Balaghat. The prices of wheat and gram show a tendency to fall, while rice has slightly risen in Seoni and Chanda. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—Wheat, 16, gram, 21, rice, 15½, and juar, 22½. The highest prices are—Wheat, 10, gram, 12½, rice, 9, and juar, 16. In Raipur the numbers in receipt of gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) are—adults, 114, children, 81, total 195.

Assam—The weather is seasonable. The harvesting of early rice still continues in Kamrup and Darrang. The outturn is poor in Lower Assam and fair elsewhere. Plucking and manufacture of tea, sowing of pulse, and ploughing for mustard are in progress, though floods have retarded operations in Barpeta. The prospects of tea are good in the Surma Valley and Tezpur and fair in other districts, those of winter rice and sugarcane are poor in Nowgong, moderate in Kamrup and elsewhere fair to good. Fodder is scarce in places. Common rice, Silchar, 13½, Tezpur and Sibsagar, 12, Sylhet, 11½, Gauhati, 11, Dibrugarh, 10, Nowgong, 9, and Dhubri, 8½ seers per rupee.

Mysore—There was a fall of 1 inch and 1 cent in the Civil and Military station and good rain fell throughout the province, but more is wanted in parts of Mysore and Tumkur. General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Cattle are healthy, except in parts of Shimoga. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg—Rainfall of the week 42 cents. The picking of cardamom and reaping of rags continue. Coffee berries are ripening. Prices of food-grains are stationary. The water and fodder supply are sufficient.

Berar—The average rainfall of the week was 13 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. The standing crops are in good condition, but more rain is required. Sowings for winter crops continue. Preparation of land and weeding operations are in progress. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of juar has risen in parts of four districts.

Hyderabad—The rainfall of the week was 7 cents. The autumn harvest and spring sowings continue. The early rice sowings are limited. The tank water supply is fair, but rain is required in parts for all kinds of crops and its absence is causing anxiety Prices — Wheat,  $6\frac{1}{2}$ , rice,  $8\frac{1}{2}$ , and juar,  $19\frac{1}{2}$  seers per halla rupee

Rajputana—There was slight rain in places during the week The autumn crops are being harvested Ploughing and sowing for spring crops are in progress The condition of cattle is good fodder is sufficient Prices are rising in three States, falling in seven, and are steady elsewhere The cheapest price was—Bundi, 32 seers, highest, Kherwara,  $14\frac{1}{2}$  seers The following were the numbers on relief —Native States—on relief works, 112, on gratuitous relief, 1,603, total, 1,715

Central India—Slight rain fell during the week in Bundelkhand, Bhopawar and Indore Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere Rice and other crops have been slightly damaged by the early cessation of rains in Baghelkhand, and juar by insects in parts of Dhar Agricultural stock and pasturage are generally good Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa Average prices—15-4 to 25-11 in Gwalior,  $19\frac{1}{2}$  to  $26\frac{1}{2}$  in Bundelkhand, 17-10 in Bhopal, 21 in Malwa,  $16\frac{1}{2}$  to 33 in Bhopawar, and  $11\frac{1}{2}$  to 23 in Indore

Baroda—The numbers on relief have decreased The condition of cattle is good Fodder and water are sufficient The import of grain is adequate Prices of food-grains are falling slightly, except in the Navsari division, where they are steady The numbers on relief were —On works, 4,545, on gratuitous relief, 7,193, total, 11,738

Kashmir—The weather is bright and is becoming cooler The rice crop is being reaped Prices are getting more above normal Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee JAMMU—Nora in during the week Prices are normal Wheat is selling from 12 to 22, maize 15 to 34 seers per rupee The condition of the standing crops is fair Fodder is sufficient

Nepal—Rainfall 0.11 cents The weather has been changeable and cold The standing crops are in good condition Price of rice is  $9\frac{1}{2}$  seers for the rupee

CIRCULAR LETTER DEALING WITH CERTAIN POINTS IN THE REPORT OF THE INDIAN UNIVERSITIES COMMISSION

EDUCATION

The following letter is published for general information

H H RISLEY,
Offg Secretary to the Government of India

Nos 854—863 dated Simla, the 24th October 1902

From—H H RISLEY, ESQ, C I L, Offg Secretary to the Government of India,

To—Local Governments and Administrations

In continuation of the letter from the Government of India, Nos 664—673, dated the 2nd August 1902, forwarding copies of the Report of the Indian Universities Commission, I am directed to communicate the following observations of the Governor General in Council on certain points dealt with in the Report and to state that His Excellency in Council will be glad to be furnished at an early date with <sup>the views of the Council</sup> <sub>your views</sub> on the recommendations of the Commission

2 During the last three years the attention of the Government of India has been specially directed to the problems connected with University education in this country. A consensus of opinion has pronounced that the system adopted experimentally in India nearly half a century ago, while it has been responsible for great strides in higher education, has also developed anomalies and even abuses, arising in the main from too close an adherence to lines of working, which are not altogether suited to the conditions of the present day, and from which the best educational thought of the time has shown an increasing tendency to separate itself. In order to carry the examination of this problem to a practical issue, a Commission was appointed by a Resolution of the Government of India, dated the 27th January 1902, to inquire into the condition and prospects of the Universities established in British India, to consider and report upon any proposals which have been, or may be, made for improving their constitution and working, and to recommend to the Governor General in Council such measures as may tend to elevate the standard of University teaching, and to promote the advancement of learning

3 The Commission travelled and held sittings between the 18th February and the 18th April 1902, and within that period 156 witnesses were examined and many colleges and institutions affiliated to the Universities were visited. The Report of the Commission, which has already been published has been read by the Governor General in Council with much interest and advantage. In the opinion of His Excellency in Council it covers with accuracy and fulness (but with sufficient condensation) the entire ground which they were invited to traverse

It exposes faithfully, but without undue severity, the defects of the present system of University education, it outlines a comprehensive scheme of administrative and legislative reform, and it testifies to a laborious and minute investigation of the subject by the President and his colleagues which His Excellency in Council has much pleasure in acknowledging. The position occupied by the Hon'ble Mr Justice Banerjee and his high authority in educational matters lend great weight, not only to his Note of Dissent, but also to the many recommendations of the Commission in which he agrees.

4 In the present communication the Governor General in Council considers it desirable in the first instance to disclaim emphatically any intention of receding from the policy set forth in the Educational Despatch of 1854, and affirmed by the Education Commission of 1882, that it is important to encourage private enterprise in the matter of education, both because to do so shifts a larger proportion of the cost on to the shoulders of those who should properly bear it, and because private enterprise is peculiarly competent to adapt education to the varying needs and conditions of different places and different times. This policy was deliberately accepted at the time by the Government of India, and their adherence to it remains unshaken.

5 But the sole condition upon which private enterprise can be encouraged is, that the education which it offers is reasonably efficient, by which is meant, not that it follows any prescribed set of rules or courses of study, but that discipline is enforced, good morals inculcated, and adequate provision made for instruction. Inferior education at cheap rates is in all countries a snare to parents, and a danger to their children, and it is especially so in India, where Western education is of such recent origin. It is the bounden duty of Government, with regard to schools, and of the Universities (which derive their authority from Government) with regard to colleges, to do all that lies in their power to discourage methods of tuition that sacrifice efficiency to popularity, and that lower, instead of progressively elevating, the educational ideals of the nation.

6 In the existing circumstances of education in India, the standard of efficiency which it is proper and possible to enforce is admittedly not so high as that which is attained in more advanced countries. But it should be the constant endeavour of Government to raise it, not so as to deprive the children of the country of the means of education, but to protect them, so far as may be, against wasting the only years of their lives during which education is possible. The most dangerous enemy to legitimate private enterprise in matters educational is the school or college which reduces expenditure to a point at which efficiency is impossible, and thus tempts parents to take their boys from soundly conducted institutions, and to send them where the training they receive is both inferior and cheap. To discourage such institutions is the most practically effectual method of encouraging all such private enterprise as is deserving of encouragement, and it is to this end that many of the most important changes now proposed are directed.

7 The Government of India confidently anticipate that the majority of the changes recommended by the Commission will have the effect of improving the quality and enlarging the scope of all forms of higher education in India, that they will open to the youth of the country lines of activity and prospects of employment for which their present training fails to equip them, that they will directly promote the intellectual advancement of the upper classes, and will both directly and indirectly lead to the development of the resources and industries of India.

8 In recommending to the Secretary of State and in ordering, with his approval, the publication of the Report as soon as possible after its submission, the intention of the Government of India was to evoke the fullest and freest expression of opinion, not only from

Full criticism invited

Governments and officials, but also from individuals, representative bodies, and the public press, so that before arriving at a final decision they might be in possession of the views of all persons interested in the future of education in India. Of the criticisms which have so far come before them, the most numerous and the most vigorous are directed against the proposal to fix a minimum rate of fees to be levied in affiliated colleges, and the proposals in respect of the institutions known as second grade colleges. I am accordingly, in the first place, to direct attention to these subjects.

9 The proposals of the Commission in respect of fees are contained in paragraphs 71 and 75 of their Report and

are examined by the Hon'ble Mr Justice Banerjee in paragraphs 13 to 15 of his Note of Dissent. The Government of India are disposed to think that there has been some misapprehension as to the views of the Commission. It seems to have been imagined that one of the objects of their proposals was to exclude poor students as such from the benefits of higher education. But in paragraph 71 of the Report they observe that no poor but really able student should be excluded by reason of his poverty from the advantages of the highest education, and in paragraph 73 they lay stress on the necessity, when fixing a minimum rate of fee of taking into account not only the local circumstances and the demand for higher education, but also the ability of the students to pay adequate fees for the higher forms of instruction. The question is not free from difficulty and will require careful consideration. In the opinion of the Government General in Council the main argument in favour of fixing a minimum scale of fees is to be sought in the facts set forth in paragraph 73 of the Report. At some of the unaided colleges it was found that the Professors and teachers were inadequately paid, that the buildings and class rooms were unsuitable, that the educational appliances for general teaching were inadequate, and that the apparatus and laboratories for science and other special teaching were of the most primitive description, and not even suited to the requirements of an ordinary board or primary school in England, or in Europe generally. In the case of Government and aided schools, the avowed policy of Government is gradually to raise the fee until the student pays a reasonable proportion of the cost of an education which has a high commercial value, due provision being made by means of scholarships for the case of poor but clever students. The minimum scale of fees is fixed somewhat lower in aided than in Government institutions so as to prevent the latter from competing unfairly with the former. Now it will not be contended that aided colleges (a very substantial proportion of the expenditure on which is borne by Government) have in all cases reached an extravagant standard of efficiency. And if this be so, it follows that in colleges which are unaided and undowered, which enjoy no Government grant, and which have a lower scale of fees, the efficiency must be still lower. Nor can it be admitted for a moment that unaided colleges as such are entitled to claim unqualified freedom of action in a matter of this kind. By granting them affiliation, and by admitting their students to examinations leading up to degrees, the Universities confer upon such colleges the most valuable of academic privileges, and thus establish their right to impose such restrictions as may be necessary to prevent the competitive underselling of educational advantages. That such underselling exists, in a greater or less degree, in several parts of India is beyond dispute, and it is hard to see how it can be prevented without placing some restriction on the undue lowering of fees. It may indeed be argued that efficiency can be insisted on by the threat of disaffiliation. But efficiency is difficult to measure, its estimation is open to dispute, and the principle that, with a fee scale below a certain limit, efficiency in a college without considerable endowments or subscriptions is impossible, and may, therefore, be presumed not to be attained, is one for which there is much to be said. In inviting the opinion of the Government of India or of the Commission than to initiate a policy which would tend to make education the monopoly of the rich. It is obvious that all education cannot be equally good some colleges and schools will always be better than others. But there is a certain minimum standard of efficiency with which all institutions ought to conform. The maintenance of that standard involves expenditure which cannot be reduced beyond a certain point and which entails the charging of fees which some of the would be students may find difficulty in paying. The needs of this class may be met in two ways (i) by the provision of scholarships for the more able boys, (ii) by means of endowed schools and colleges which will cheapen education for all poor students irrespective of their ability. Of the latter form of aid there are numerous examples in Europe, and the Governor General in Council trusts that one result of the Commission will be to promote the foundation of similar beneficent institutions in this country. India as a country is not rich, but there are many rich men in India, and they can devote their wealth to no more excellent purpose than the provision of some measure of higher education for the poorer students who, from whatever cause, are left behind in the race for scholarships.

10 In paragraph 77 of their Report the Commission explain that the so-called second grade colleges are for the most part only high schools which have added to their course two college classes teaching up to the standard of the F A Examination but no further. With the object of marking more clearly the dividing line between school and college life, and securing the generally desirable object that University students should receive their education in colleges properly so called, and that school boys and college students should not receive instruction in the same building and under the same set of rules the Commission recommend that no new second grade colleges should be affiliated, and that those existing colleges which cannot hope to rise to the first grade by adding classes teaching up to the B A degree should revert to the position of high schools. They do not however, suggest that the latter change should be made at once. They would leave it to each University to determine a reasonable time within which it can be effected, and they suggest that due regard should be paid to existing interests. In fact they contemplate their policy being carried out very gradually, and after careful consultation with the local authorities.

11 However gradual the process may be, and however cautiously it may be undertaken, the Government of India cannot but recognise that the change proposed will be a large one and that many interests will be affected. No doubt some reform is required. There is abundant evidence that under present conditions great mischief is wrought, especially in Bengal, by rivalry between schools, with the result that in many places the true interests of education suffer and the prospects of students are impaired by the maintenance of several small college departments where there ought to be one good college. But there is something to be said on the other side. The Government of India are not at present convinced that the practice by which a flourishing school extends the scope of its efforts so as to include the F A, of itself deserves condemnation, provided always that the teaching and equipment of the college classes is thoroughly efficient up to the limits of the course which they teach. Under the peculiar conditions which prevail in India such classes may indeed serve a useful purpose in several ways. Not only do they cheapen a particular stage of education which many students are unable to pursue further, they also in many cases defer the separation of a student from his family, a point to which Indian parents rightly attach much importance. It must be borne in mind that the student enters upon his college course at a younger age in India than in England, in the absence of proper hostels no effective supervision is provided for him in strange and trying surroundings, and the anxiety of his parents to postpone the day of his departure for a large town at a distance is therefore reasonable in itself and deserves sympathetic consideration on the part of Government. To enforce with strictness the recommendations of the Commission might in many cases lead to the substitution of an inferior first grade for a good second grade college. And a second grade college is often only an intermediate and necessary step towards the formation of a first grade college. The fact which lies at the root of the matter is, that owing to the special conditions of India, the two years of the First Arts Course, which are in other countries the last two years of school life, have been here included in the college course. In time it should be possible to remedy this defect. Meanwhile, the Government of India incline to the opinion that, so long as efficiency is strictly insisted upon, second grade colleges occupy a definite place in the educational machinery of the country, and fulfil a useful function.

13 The question of the retention of second grade colleges really forms part of the larger question of the affiliation and disaffiliation of colleges generally. The proposals of the Commission on this important subject may conveniently be brought together here. They recommend that before affiliation is granted, a college should be required to conform to the following tests

- (a) Desirability of the institution to be certified by the Director of Public Instruction
- (b) Assurance to be given as to its financial stability
- (c) Creation of a properly constituted governing body
- (d) Provision of an adequate teaching staff with a common room for their meetings
- (e) Provision of suitable and healthy buildings
- (f) Where possible (though of course this cannot be made a condition of affiliation) residence of the Principals and Professors in close proximity to the college
- (g) Adequate provision for the residence of students in college lodgings or in hostels, and for their supervision by a resident Superintendent
- (h) Satisfactory guarantees as to the subjects and courses of study
- (i) Introduction of a scale of minimum fees, free studentships being as a general rule debarred, and State and private scholarships encouraged
- (j) Existence and enforcement of proper transfer rules
- (k) No new second grade college to be affiliated.

14 On all of these points except one—the introduction of a scale of minimum fees—the recommendations of the Commission are unanimous, and their unanimity carries immense weight. They have laid down in clear and unequivocal terms the standard of efficiency which all Indian colleges may reasonably be expected to maintain. How is conformity with that standard to be secured (a) in the case of new institutions, (b) in the case of existing colleges? The former case presents no difficulty. The Commission agree that the question of admitting new institutions to affiliation is, in the first instance, one for the Syndicate, who will make the necessary enquiries and will procure an independent report from the Director of Public Instruction or some other competent authority. They will then submit the application to Government with their recommendation and the grounds for it, and Government will pass final orders. The Government of India regard the suggestion that affiliation should in future be granted in specified courses or subjects, as especially valuable. As regards colleges on which the privilege of affiliation has already been conferred, the Commission are unanimous in recommending that no such institution should be allowed to fall below the standard of efficiency required, and they refer to cases brought before them of colleges which obtained affiliation on statements showing an adequate staff which was afterwards allowed to deteriorate. When once the standard of efficiency has been clearly defined, the question must arise how far existing institutions comply with it in respect of each of the various courses which they teach. The determination of this important question will be an undertaking of some magnitude, and it does not follow that it can be approached in the same manner everywhere. It is possible that in some of the Universities it may most conveniently be dealt with by the Syndicate on the basis of information furnished by the Director of Public Instruction and supplemented by their own inspections and inquiries. This mode of procedure has the advantage of being in accordance with the recommendations of the Commission, and with the position which they propose to assign to the Syndicate in future. But it seems probable that the task of examining into the circumstances of all existing institutions will prove too heavy for the Syndicate to accomplish unaided within any reasonable time. In that case it seems to the Governor General in Council that the best plan will be for the Chancellor of each University to appoint a strong and representative Committee of the Senate to consider and report direct to him what institutions, whether of the first or second grade, are qualified to retain their privilege of affiliation in respect of all or some of the courses which they teach, and to make such recommendations as they consider to be called for in each case as to the improvements which are necessary and the period within which they should be introduced. The mere appointment of such a Committee would of itself exercise great influence and would probably induce most of the institutions which now fall short of the standard to comply with its requirements of their own motion. The remaining cases would be dealt with by the Committee on the merits, and their recommendations would be considered by the Chancellor, and eventually by Government, the fullest allowance being made for the circumstances of each institution, and for the fact that a new departure is now being taken and a more exacting standard of efficiency prescribed. The Government of India are above all things anxious that the reforms now proposed should be introduced with the utmost circumspection, and that all reasonable concessions should be made in order to avoid dealing harshly with institutions which have in the past made bonâ fide attempts to work up to the standards that have hitherto obtained.

15 The ground having been thus cleared by the enquiries and recommendations of the Syndicate or proposed Committee, and the action taken upon them by the Chancellor, it may be hoped that the question of withdrawing the privilege of affiliation will seldom arise in the future, and that if the Syndicate make wise use of their power of inspection, a warning from them will be sufficient to induce a college to carry out the improvements required. Should it, in an exceptional case, be necessary to resort to extreme measures, the Government of India are disposed to think that the case, with the recommendation of the Syndicate upon it, should be brought before the Senate, and that their opinion should be submitted to Government by the Syndicate, with such further comments and explanations as the latter body may consider to be necessary in order to present a complete view of the case. The Governor General in Council will be glad to be favoured with the opinion of <sup>the Chancellor in Council</sup> His High the Lieutenant Governor on the points discussed above

16 In paragraph 78 of the Report the Commission recommend that, in admitting schools to the privilege of sending up their boys for the Entrance Examination, the Universities should be guided by the Education Department and should recognize only those schools which have obtained the recognition of the Department under the rules for the time being in force. Exception has been taken to this proposal in the case of unaided private schools, on the ground that it would amount to an undue interference with their freedom of action and would tend to reduce the school education of each Province to a dead level of uniformity. It is at the same time admitted that before recognizing such schools the University must satisfy itself as to their conduct, efficiency and discipline, and the Hon'ble Mr Justice Banerjee observes with much force that "the University has no adequate machinery for ascertaining these matters, and even if it were to determine the question of recognition of a school for itself, it must depend upon the Director of Public Instruction for information." This being so, it appears to the Governor General in Council that the objects which the Commission have in view will be sufficiently attained if it is laid down that no school shall be recognized unless the local Education Department can certify that it conforms, not with the departmental rules, which may not be in all respects applicable, but with rules framed by the Syndicate for this purpose. Under this arrangement the recognition or non recognition of a school will be the act of the University, and the functions of the Education Department will be limited to placing before the University the information requisite to enable it to exercise its controlling authority. I am to ask whether this suggestion commends itself to the Governor in Council

you

17 The recommendations of the Commission for the better and more scientific teaching of law are set forth in paragraphs 118—122 of their Report and are examined in paragraphs 27—30 of the Hon'ble Mr Justice Banerjee's Note of Dissent. They have attracted a good deal of criticism which has not always rested upon a full understanding of the Commission's proposals. It seems to be supposed that the Commission wish to confine the teaching of law to Central

The teaching of law

Colleges established in the University towns, and that they recommend the abolition of all independent institutions, and more especially of the various law classes and law departments attached to Arts Colleges. This is an entire misapprehension. No such centralization, and no such monopoly were contemplated by the Commission, nor would so sweeping a change commend itself to the Government of India. That some reform is called for in the interest of a branch of education which is of peculiar importance in India will, the Governor General in Council believes, be generally admitted. No one will attempt to justify a system under which it is possible for the legal education of students to be entrusted to a single teacher who is supposed to deliver formal lectures on all the subjects required for the degree of Bachelor of Law, while no library is provided for the students to consult, and no attempt is made to ascertain by means of essays or exercises how far they have assimilated the modicum of information that the Lecturer is capable of imparting. That teaching of this kind is not teaching at all is, indeed, admitted in substance by those who argue in defence of the present system that the students do not go to law lectures to learn law, but in order to obtain the certificate required by the University of having attended so many lectures, and that they can master all their subjects in six months' private reading.

18 The Government of India are disposed to think that the principles which have been suggested in the case of second grade colleges may be found to be equally applicable to the case of the law classes and departments. Efficiency should be strictly insisted on up to the point to which they teach, and, that once secured, their teaching should be accepted as part of the course which the candidates must undergo. Institutions which comply with this essential condition will be entitled to be treated as "bona fide legal teaching" and will be able to obtain affiliation to the University in law. As an illustration of what is meant by bona fide legal teaching, the Commission refer to the case of the Aligarh College where it is recognized that one teacher cannot do justice to all the subjects comprised in the law course, and the Professor is assisted by a small staff of local practitioners, old students of the college. Local teaching of this kind, provided always that it comes up to an approved standard, reduces the cost of a legal education to the students of the locality, and need not be condemned because it necessarily falls short of the higher ideal aimed at in a Central College which is intended to serve as a model to all similar institutions in the Province. The same principle applies in the main to the colleges affiliated in law which are situated in University towns. Some of these, notably the Calcutta colleges, command the services of teachers who are well qualified in point of learning. The question for them will be whether they will co-operate in the creation of a Central College, or will elect to retain their independence and to maintain a bona fide centre of legal teaching within their own walls. At the same time, the Government of India are inclined to agree that, as in the case of Arts, a Central Law College, with fees pitched at a rate commensurate with the commercial value of the education imparted, should be established at each University centre, and, if necessary, by Government. But its object should be to serve as a model, and it should possess no monopoly other than its own merits may secure to it.

20 In paragraphs 33—43 of the Report the Commission refer to the defects in the Senates of the Universities as now constituted and propose a variety of reforms. <sup>Reform of the Senates</sup> Their proposals under this head are criticised by the Hon'ble Mr Justice Banerjee (paragraphs 2—8 of his Note) who expresses entire agreement in the opinion entertained almost unanimously by the witnesses who were examined by the Commission that the present Senates have become unwieldy bodies by reason of their consisting of unduly large numbers of Fellows, all of whom are not qualified or not inclined to take part in the work of a University. But while admitting that the Senates must be reduced to more reasonable dimensions with only qualified members, Mr Banerjee is unable to accept the method of reduction recommended by his colleagues and puts forward an alternative scheme which is explained at length in his note.

21 It will be seen from paragraph 33 of the Report that academic opinion is practically at one in holding that the existing Senates are too large, and that steps must be taken to reduce the number of Fellows, to raise the standard of qualification, and to secure more regular attention to University business. The Government of India agree in accepting the principles affirmed by the consensus of so many competent authorities. But in giving effect to these principles they have no desire to enforce compliance with a rigidly uniform plan. His Excellency in Council fully recognizes that the Indian Universities have developed on independent lines, and have formed traditions of their own, and that the differences which have thus arisen may properly be taken into consideration in settling the details of their constitution within the limit of the broad principles already accepted. I am accordingly to ask for an expression of <sup>the opinion of</sup> <sup>the Governor in Council</sup> <sup>His Honour the Lieutenant Governor</sup> (i) as to the adequacy of the number of Fellows

as to the proportion of Fellows to be elected in the newly constituted Senate, (iii) as to the persons by whom the privilege of election should be exercised, (iv) as to the period for which a Fellowship should in future be tenable, with special reference to the apprehension, which the Government of India do not share, that a five years' tenure will not be favourable to independence, (v) as to the best method of securing the regular attendance of Fellows at meetings of the Senate. In this last matter it has been suggested that the precedent of the Indian Museum Act might be followed, and that any Fellow who failed to attend for a year should be liable at the discretion of the Chancellor to be removed from the Senate. All the above are questions upon which the Government of India have no desire or intention to surrender their final responsibility, but upon which they desire fully to consult local opinion before exerting it.

22 The Government of India desire to add some further observations on the important question of the election of Fellows. In 1891 the privilege of election on a limited scale was conceded by Lord Lansdowne to the graduates of the Calcutta University. This was admittedly an experiment, and that phrase was applied to it by Lord Lansdowne both in official letters and in public speech. No pledge of continuance was given, and the exercise of the privilege was subject to the approval of the Governor General in Council to whom the names of the Fellows elected are submitted for final sanction. The same privilege was extended somewhat later under similar conditions to the Universities of Madras and Bombay. In the Universities of Allahabad and Lahore the Act of Incorporation provides for the election of Fellows by the Senate, subject to the approval of the Chancellor. The Commission propose that the privilege experimentally conferred upon the older Universities should be retained, and that power should further be taken to introduce election by the Senates in Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, and election by graduates at Allahabad and Lahore. The Government of India are prepared to accept the proposals of the Commission, but it must be borne in mind that these involve a very liberal concession and a substantial advance in the direction of popular representation. In the case of the older Universities a privilege hitherto conditional and tentative will now receive statutory recognition, while in the others the constituent authority will be empowered to place the existing practice on a wider and more popular basis.

23 Where the graduates are to elect, the composition of the electorate will require careful consideration. In paragraph 40 of their Report the Commission propose that the electors should be graduates of five years' standing. In making this recommendation the Commission seem to have been influenced by the precedent of the English Universities, and the Government of India entertain some doubts whether their proposal would not result in the creation of an electorate of unwieldy dimensions, scattered over a vast area of country, devoid of any common ground of action or opportunities for consultation, and therefore peculiarly liable to be led astray by the arts of the canvasser and the wire-puller. It is doubtless possible that the rule as to registration on payment of an annual fee, suggested in paragraph 55 of the Report, would tend to restrict the number of graduates qualified to vote, and that the rules for election might be so framed as to operate in the same direction, while it may also be urged that as election will take place by Faculties, the Faculty of Arts is the only one in which an unduly large electorate need be apprehended. But after giving their full weight to these considerations, His Excellency in Council is still disposed to think that the Commission's proposals go too far, and that the better plan would be to adopt the Bombay system and to restrict the right of voting to the following three classes:

- (a) Graduates, of whatever standing, who have obtained the highest existing degree in any faculty,
- (b) graduates of whatever standing, who have obtained two degrees, one of which must be in the Faculty of Arts,
- (c) graduates, of not less than ten years' standing, who have obtained only one degree.

24 The Government of India approve of the suggestion that a register of graduates should be kept up in each University, that an annual fee should be paid by those whose names and addresses are entered in it, and that persons whose names are not on the register should not be allowed to vote. The amount of the fee might, it is suggested, be fixed at Rs 2. The Commission make no mention of the method of voting, but it is understood that they are in favour of continuing the existing system of voting papers. This no doubt has grave disadvantages in the opening which it gives for canvassing and organized pressure, but, having regard to the scattered character of the electorate, His Excellency in Council is disposed to think that these disadvantages are on the whole outweighed by the greater evils which would ensue if the right of election became the virtual monopoly of the residents in the capital towns. I am to invite expression of the opinion of <sup>the Governor or in Council</sup> His Honour the Lieutenant Governor on the suggestions detailed above

25 I am next to draw attention to the courses in Arts and Science which are outlined in paragraph 117 of the Report. Here it may be explained that in these and their other proposals relating to teaching, the Commission must not be understood to recommend that the courses of studies in all Universities should be arranged on a uniform plan. They have rather endeavoured to state the principles by which University authorities should be guided in such matters, to draw attention to the defects which they have observed in methods of teaching, and to indicate the steps which should be taken to simplify and complete the programme of instruction. In pursuance of this view of the matter, which has the cordial assent of the Government of India, it has been suggested that, owing to the metaphysical and introspective bent of the Indian mind, the intellectual discipline which is the object of all University teaching can perhaps be better imparted by substituting History for deductive Logic and elementary Psychology in the intermediate course, and Geography for Political Economy in the B A course. There seems to be positive advantage in a suggestion which will tend to attract the Indian mind to the study of the concrete phenomena of society, politics and the natural world rather than to abstract thought or philosophical investigation. On similar grounds, while recognising the difficulties which at present attend instruction in Science, and the unsatisfactory nature of much of the school teaching in the subject, the Government of India are of opinion that it is of the greatest value, as bringing the student into contact with the practical facts which surround him. Moreover, as industrial development by means of native capital advances in India, the demand for scientific training among natives of the country will inevitably increase, and the Government of India would regret any changes which might tend to discourage them from turning their attention to these branches of study, I am to ask for <sup>the opinion of</sup> <sup>the Governor in Council</sup> <sup>His Honour the Lieutenant Governor</sup> <sup>your opinion</sup> on the subject

26 In paragraph 51 (b) of their Report the Commission propose that the Director of Public Instruction should be ex officio a member and Vice Chairman of the Syndicate. I am to enquire whether <sup>they</sup><sub>he</sub> concur (s) in this proposal, or whether <sup>they</sup><sub>he</sub> desire(s) to suggest some alternative arrangement, such as that the Vice Chairman of the Syndicate should be elected for the year, or should be appointed for the same period by the Chancellor or Vice Chancellor.

27 In paragraphs 163 and 164 of their Report the Commission discuss the question of the age limit for matriculation and arrive at the conclusion that on the whole it will be sufficient to fix the minimum limit of age at 15 as has recently been recommended by a Committee of the Senate at Calcutta. They consider that this limit should be adopted at all Universities. Their recommendation in favour of a minimum limit of 15 seems to rest to some extent on the ground that if 16 were adopted, a medical student, whose course of study is necessarily a prolonged one, would not be able to obtain his degree or diploma until he was 23.

28 The Government of India are unable to admit that the convenience of the comparatively small class of medical students should be permitted to override the educational interests of the students at large. And it appears to them that the natural precocity of the Indian youth, the deplorable physical and mental consequences of over pressure upon young boys, and the dangers attending their premature entry upon collegiate life furnish weighty arguments in favour of fixing the minimum age at which a candidate may present himself for examination at 16 rather than 15. The Commission have shown that if a continuous record of a boy's age is maintained from the time when he first goes to school, there will be little difficulty in guarding against the evasion of the rule. It may be added that the inducement to overstate age with the object of matriculating earlier would be greatly reduced if it were made an absolute rule that any declaration of age for public purposes, express or implied, should, in the case of Government servants, be deemed conclusive, and that no revision of such a declaration should be allowed to be made at a later period for any such purpose as avoiding compulsory retirement from the service. I am to ask for <sup>the opinion of</sup> <sup>the Governor in Council</sup> <sup>His Honour the Lieutenant Governor</sup> <sup>your opinion</sup> on the general question on the minimum age to be adopted and as to the desirability of prohibiting any alteration in the recorded ages of Government servants.

29 In paragraph 78 of the Report the Commission point out that their proposals as to the affiliation of colleges and the recognition of schools will involve a revision of the rules in regard to the admission of private students to University Examinations In paragraphs 166—68 they examine this question more fully As regards candidates for matriculation, they suggest the general adoption of the rule in force at Calcutta which requires every private student to produce a certificate from the Educational Inspector of the circle in which he lives to the effect that it is reasonably probable that he will pass the University Examination In the case of the Intermediate Examination and the examination for the degree of B. A. or B. Sc., the Commission recommend that private students should be admitted only by an order of the Senate, to be justified by reasons recorded in each case at the time of making the order The Government of India think it clearly desirable that, so far as the Entrance Examination is concerned, some provision should be made for the admission of private students. But they doubt whether it is advisable or convenient to impose on Government Inspectors the duty of testing such students, and they are disposed to think that a certificate from the head master of a recognized school of suitable status might be accepted as sufficient After matriculation students should as far as possible, receive their training in the colleges of the Universities, and the Government of India agree in thinking that exemptions from this rule should very rarely be allowed It seems to them, however, that the proposal to, refer all such cases to the Senate is somewhat out of proportion to their importance, and is inconsistent with the position which it is proposed to assign to the Syndicate I am to invite an expression of the opinion of the Governor in Council on these points

30 The question of introducing or continuing a separate Honours' Course is one of some difficulty. The Commission discuss it in paragraph 173 and recommend with some hesitation that there should be no separate course for Honours but that the examination for the degree of M A should be regarded as the Honours' Examination. In arriving at this conclusion they seem to have been mainly influenced by the fact that the introduction of Honours' courses at Calcutta has depreciated the pass degree of B A. The Commission were, it is understood, of opinion that the Indian Colleges do not at present possess the staff and resources requisite to enable them to make adequate arrangements for both Honours men and pass men. They feared that if the Calcutta system were extended generally, the best teachers in a college would concentrate their efforts on the Honours' men, and that the general standard might be lowered in consequence. The advocates of Honours' courses are found for the most part among those who favour the early specialization of studies, while the Commission consider that an Indian student is not fit to take up a special subject until he has finished his B A course. On the other side it may be said that it is possible to attach too much weight to the alleged depreciation of the pass degree. The more that degree declines in value, the more will men resort to the Honours' course, and the greater will be the distinction between the ambitious and the inert or indifferent student which it is the object of all education to accentuate. The suggestion, that the M A Examination should be regarded as the Honours' course, meets the case only of the small minority who go on to that degree, and the Governor General in Council sees no reason why the great body of students who do not proceed beyond the B A degree should all be included in one and the same category if some of their number desire the opportunity of showing that they have attained a somewhat higher standard. It has been suggested that this legitimate ambition might be satisfied by dividing the B A Examination into three classes, the standard of marks demanded for inclusion in the first and second classes being high enough to constitute a real distinction, while the third class would comprise the large number of students who merely qualify for a pass. The highest rank of Honours would still be reserved for the M A Examination. I am to ask for the views of the Governor in Council on these questions.

31 The question of the effect of the Commission's proposals on the financial resources of the Universities and colleges is examined in paragraphs 189—194 of the Report. The Government of India agree in thinking that the changes proposed by the Commission, if carried out in anything approaching entirety, will impose upon the Universities fresh burdens, while at the same time they will probably reduce one of their chief sources of revenue by diminishing the number of students who will pay fees for permission to appear at the Entrance Examination. Unless, therefore, the financial position of the Universities can be materially strengthened by raising the fees for examinations, by contributions from colleges towards the cost of advanced teaching, and by assistance from private benefactors or from Government, the prospect of thorough reforms being effected must be indefinitely postponed. I am accordingly to ask for a full expression of the opinion of <sup>the Governor in Council</sup> His Honour the Lieutenant Governor (1) as to the possibility of raising the fees for examination, (ii) as to the likelihood of substantial contributions towards the advancement of higher education being forthcoming from private sources, (iii) as to the extent to which aid can properly be given by Government, the form which it should take, whether that of a direct subsidy, of lending the services of Professors, or of providing equipment, and as to the measure of control which Government should exercise in each of these cases

2 In the foregoing paragraphs only those recommendations of the Commission have been discussed which the Government of India feel some hesitation about accepting in their entirety, or which, either from their intrinsic importance, or because of the special attention which they have attracted, it seemed undesirable to pass over in silence. Of those that have not been noticed, while some are definite proposals for reform, many are counsels which will no doubt carry that weight with the Universities to which the distinguished qualifications of their authors, and the special attention which they have given to the subject, entitle them. It is enough to say here that they have the general approval and support of the Government of India. There are certain points special to particular Provinces with which it has not been thought desirable to encumber this letter, and on these the Local Governments concerned will be separately addressed.

3 I am now to invite <sup>the opinion of</sup> <sup>the Governor in Council</sup> His Honour the Lieutenant Governor upon the various points that have been raised in the present letter, as well as upon the general recommendations of the Commission, in so far as these appear to <sup>His Excellency in Council</sup> His Honour the Lieutenant Governor to call for separate or special notice

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA MINT

No 1459, dated Calcutta, the 2nd July 1902

From—Lieutenant-Colonel G M PORTER, R E, Officiating Master of the Mint,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Dept

I have the honour to report on the operations of this Mint for the year 1901-1902 and to submit the usual statements

No I — Account of the total Revenue and Expenditure of the Calcutta Mint during the year 1901-1902

No II — Statement of the Mint coinage for the year 1901-1902

No III — Statement showing the cost of Miscellaneous work done in the Mint during the year 1901-1902

Lieutenant Colonel G M Porter, R E, held charge of the Mint throughout the year during Colonel Scott's absence on furlough

GOLD

2 A singular feature of the year was the absence of tenders of gold bullion by the public. One tender of country bars, with an assay value of ₹8,426, represents the only receipt of gold for the year. In the previous year the receipts from the public amounted to ₹81,20,071. The reason for no gold bullion being tendered by the public is in a measure due to the increased length of the period after which payment of certificates is now due at the Reserve Treasury. In 1893 gold bullion certificates were paid on presentation, but since the period of payment was fixed at sixty days sight, no gold bullion has been tendered notwithstanding that the Comptroller General in June 1901 reduced this latter period to thirty days.

Sovereigns were as usual received during the year from the public on account of the Currency Department, the total value of the receipts amounted to ₹2,04,24,840 and was less by ₹1,02,88,620 than the receipts in the previous year.

The receipts comprised the following classes —

	Sovereigns ₹	½ sovereigns ₹
Current weight	2,04,09,405
Short weight or not more than 3 grs less than the current weight	15,435
Reduced or more than 3 grs less than the current weight	Nil
	<hr/> 2,04,24,840	<hr/>

The current weight coins were remitted to the Currency Department, and at the close of the year there remained a balance of light coins only at the Mint.

The total value of gold coins and bullion received from the public amounted to ₹2,04,33,266 against ₹3,88,33,531 received in the previous year.

The receipts of the sovereigns and half sovereigns from Government Treasuries amounted during the year to ₹11,164 and were composed of the following —

	Sovereigns ₹	½ sovereigns ₹
Short weight or not more than 3 grs less than the current weight, nominal value	9,360	1,485
Reduced weight or more than 3 grs less than the current weight, bullion value	298	21
	<hr/> 9,658	<hr/> 1,506

Under orders of Government, two remittances of gold bullion and coin were shipped to London by this Mint, the first remittance consisting of gold bars from Japanese yens melted, valued at ₹75,33,364 in April 1901, the other remittance made up of the balance of Currency gold bullion in the Mint, sovereigns received from the Currency Department and short weight and reduced sovereigns in the Mint gold bullion balance, valued at ₹75,00,980 in July 1901.

No gold was coined during the year at the Mint

SILVER

3 No silver was purchased for the coinage during the year, but the balance of the bullion that had already been purchased by the Secretary of State in 1900-1901 and awaiting shipment was despatched to India. The quantity sent out to this Mint was standard tolas 80,01,855

No Native State coins were received during the year for re-coinage into British Indian rupees

The Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China tendered again this year a quantity of bullion for British Dollar coinage, the silver consisted of London bars and amounted to standard tolas 29,29,559, being tolas 15,57,000 more than the amount tendered by them in the previous year

Re-coinage of '1840' rupees.—During the year the re-coinage of these was undertaken under orders of Government. There are two kinds of '1840' rupees. The first issue consisting for the most part of large diameter coins with the legend "Victoria Queen" on the upper half of the circumference above the Queen's head, which were coined between 1840-1849, and the second issue of the usual size with the words "Victoria" and "Queen" opposite one another and to the front and at the back of the effigy respectively. These latter were struck between 1850-1862. In June 1901 orders were issued for the re-coinage of the first issue, and Treasury Officers were instructed by the Comptroller General to remit this description of coin to the Mint along with their balance of uncurrent coins withdrawn from circulation, but as there appeared to have existed some difficulty in distinguishing the first from the second issue at Treasuries, impression of the engravings of the obverse of the two issues were furnished to Treasury Officers for the purpose of identification. In January 1902 orders were issued for the withdrawal and re-coinage of the second issue '1840' coins. The total receipts of all descriptions of coins from Treasuries during the year amounted to Rs 86,27,166 and are classified under the following heads. In the previous year Rs 26,36,597 of uncurrent coins were received from Treasuries—

Defaced coins were as usual remitted by Railway Companies to the Mint under the existing order, the value of these coins is given after melting at the market price of bullion, the total receipts amounted to Rs 37,236, being more than last year by Rs 8,023

4 Coinage—The coinage comprised rupees, quarter rupees, and eighth rupees for the Government of India and British Dollars for the Chartered Bank. The total number of rupees struck amounted to 15,973,591 pieces, being less than that of the preceding year by 44,012,210 pieces, in the case of quarters and eighths there was, however, an increase of 398,266 and 7,199,535 pieces, respectively. The heavy coinage of rupees in the previous year was an exceptional one and was required partly to replace the old coins of Native States which had adopted the British currency. The total silver coinage of the year amounted to 28,395,491 pieces valued at Rs 2,10,22,327 against 63,696,757 pieces valued at Rs 6,14,62,025 coined in the preceding year. The whole of the British Dollars coined, viz., 1,513,685, were shipped to the Straits Settlements.

Statement No. II gives details of the coinage

5 Meltings, Percentages of good Coin—The quantity of metal melted into bars and worked up and the percentages on the outturn of good coin were—

	Worked tolas	Percentages of good coin
Rupees	242.9 lakhs	65.74
Quarter rupees	7.5 "	65.73
Eighth rupees	20.86 "	64.63

These rates compare well with the averages of recent years

The practice of placing bar silver direct into alligation introduced in April 1900, to enable the Mint to cope with the heavy demand for rupees then experienced, was discontinued in May 1901 on receipt of Government orders that the practice of premelting should be followed on ordinary occasions

The weight and fineness of the coins were as usual maintained at the proper standard, as will be seen from the annexed report of the Assay Master on the working of the Assay Office

6 Loss—The silver operative losses written off in the accounts during the year including melting and coining amounted to tolas 33,163, but after eliminating fictitious gains and losses, this amount is reduced to tolas 23,878, which gives a rate of 42.7 per lakh on the quantity laminated. The rate of loss is somewhat high and is due to excess melting loss in February and March 1901 (not adjusted in last year's account), and moreover the loss formerly shown as a premelting one has been, owing to the introduction of bar silver direct into alligation, in force at that time, shown as a standard melting loss

COPPER

7 Coinage—The Government copper coins struck during the year were pice, half-pice and pies

8 Two orders from the Straits Government for cents and quarter cents were executed during the year

The total number of Government copper coins struck was in excess of the previous year by 47,606,744 pieces and in value by Rs. 5,52,319. Details of the copper coinage are included in Statement II

9 The quantity of Australian copper purchased for the coinage was maunds 15,537 at an average rate of Rs. 39.27 per maund, there has been a decline in the price of copper, as the average rate of the previous year was Rs. 47.09 per maund

10 The operative losses on the copper coinage amounted to maunds 267 seers 14 tolas 75, giving a rate of 1.557 per cent against 1.731 per cent in the previous year, excluding bye products, the rates were 401 per cent in 1900-1901 and 277 per cent in 1901-1902

During the year copper scissel was as usual supplied to the Cossipore Foundry to the extent of its requirements, an exchange of scissel for slabs supplied by the Cossipore Factory was also made, about 900 maunds of scissel was thus supplied to Cossipore. Copper scissel weighing about 1,900 maunds was also exchanged for slabs supplied by the Bombay Mint, as the Mint Master, Bombay, only required copper for alligation purposes for which scissel was more convenient than slabs

MISCELLANEOUS

11 The usual description of Miscellaneous work was executed, viz —

- (1) War medals, and fittings for Military Department
- (2) Scales and weights for Government
- (3) Medals for public institutions and the preparation of dies for new medals
- (4) Miscellaneous work for Government and the public

The demand for war medals was not large. There were some large orders for scales and weights from the Opium Department. Several scales had to be repaired and new ones supplied, and brass weights of various denominations from one maund downwards were manufactured and adjusted. Besides these, new sets of minimum weights for testing light weight sovereigns were also supplied to different Treasuries under the orders of the Comptroller General

12 Mint Standard Weights—The verification of the Mint working standard weights, avoirdupois and tola sets were completed during the year by the Assay Office

13 Balances sunk in the Mint—The silver balance at the beginning of the year stood at Rs. 34,15,324, and at the close at Rs. 17,90,161. The maximum balance for any one day was Rs. 40,91,652 on the 11th April 1901, the minimum Rs. 6,77,959 on the 8th October 1901, while the average daily balance was Rs. 18,15,727

14 Treasure Trove coins—There was no receipt during the year

15 Designs for Edward VII coinage—One of the designs prepared in the Calcutta Mint for the reverse of the new rupees received the approval of His Majesty the King and the matrix for this is in progress in this Mint. The matrix for the obverse of the new coinage is being prepared in England. Coins bearing the effigy of the late Queen and the date 1901 continued to be struck throughout the financial year 1901-1902

Analysis of Revenue and Expenditure

16 Revenue—As stated before, there was no gold bullion tendered by importers, hence no receipt on account of seignorage on gold appears in the accounts of this year, in the case of silver, the seignorage of 1 per cent on the bullion tendered for the coinage of British dollars amounted to Rs. 29,295 and was in excess of the receipts of the previous year by Rs. 15,570 owing to a larger coinage during the year under review, the gain on the coinage of silver on Government account amounted to Rs. 27,09,789. There is an item of Rs. 2,201 under the head of gain on the re-coinage of Native States coins, it represents silver recovered from drosses of the Melting Department of Babashahi Rupees which were received in the previous year and had been melted up. The re-coining of these coins were completed in 1900-1901, and the account closed.

The silver operative gains amounted during the year to Rs. 8,873, in the previous year the gains amounted to Rs. 32,216, the decrease is due to a smaller amount of silver coinage.

17 Cash and Transfer Receipts—There is an increase of Rs. 31,028 in the total receipts under these heads as compared with the previous year. The manufacture of scales, weights, and miscellaneous articles for Government Departments and the public has contributed Rs. 18,040 towards a part of this increase, the difference is mainly due to the larger receipts on account of the coining charges of cents during the year.

18 Pro forma Receipts—The total amount of these receipts was about the same as last year. Under this head are included the usual items for manufacturing Honors for the Royal Army Temperance Association and minimum weights for Government Treasury Officers.

19 Expenditure—Loss on the Coinage—Owing to the re-coining of '1840' rupees, the loss on withdrawal of Government coin amounting to Rs. 1,37,691 was much larger this year, the amount shown in the previous year was Rs. 43,172.

20 Establishment—Although there was a large reduction in the amount of the rupee coinage, the charges for Establishment during the year show but a slight decrease, amounting to Rs. 1,928 only as shown below. In the Mechanical Establishment there was an increase of an Engineer. There were also increases in the Assay Office, as the Deputy Assay Master's post was filled almost throughout the year, while a probationer was attached to the Assay Office for a longer period than in the previous year, moreover, in view of the contemplated retirement of the Head Assistant, a paid apprentice was engaged for the Assay Office.

	Expenditure in 1900-1901	Expenditure in 1901-1902	Increase+ Decrease—
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Fixed Establishment	1,62,793	1,63,612	+ 819
Temporary Establishment and overtime work	90,760	88,013	— 2,747
TOTAL	2,53,553	2,51,625	— 1,928

21 Copper for alloy—Owing to the reduced rupee coinage during the year, the expenditure of copper for alloy was much less and amounted to Rs. 11,129, the expenditure in 1900-1901 being Rs. 32,755, the copper used for contingent purposes during the year was mainly for the manufacture of weights for the Opium Department and for minimum weights for Government Treasuries.

22 Local and English Stores—The total expenditure of both English and local stores amounted to Rs. 1,08,293 during the year. In the previous year the amount was Rs. 1,11,127. Although the number of rupees coined was smaller than that of last year, there was a very large increase in the other denominations of the coinage of the year. The number of small silver coins was over three times that of those struck in 1900-1901, similarly with the British Dollars for the Chartered Bank, while in the case of the copper coinage the number struck was more than double that of the previous year.

Contingent Charges—Transfer Charges—Compared with the previous year, there were slight increases under both heads this year of Rs. 3,676 and Rs. 799, respectively, in the case of the former, the increase was due principally to a large purchase of scales for Opium Department and to freight on Europe Stores.

23 Miscellaneous Charges external to Mint—There is an item of Rs. 8,322 under this head on account of charges incurred by the Gwalior Durbar in connection with the remittances of Gwalior silver to this Mint and adjusted in the Audit Office as a Mint charge. The slight increases over last year in the charges for printing and stationery were owing to forms and books of accounts required for the heavy uncurrent coin remittance work.

24 Pro forma Charges—There is a decrease of Rs. 97,941 during this year on interest owing to the smaller balances both of silver and copper. The charges for the year amounted to Rs. 3,89,564 against Rs. 4,87,505 in 1900-1901.

25 Capital Account—Two sets of moulds obtained from the Bombay Mint as well as two sets procured from England were added to the plant of the Melting Department, as during the heavy coinage of 1900-1901 it was found that the number of moulds in this department was insufficient to cope with the work. Two double automatic weighing machines out of the number brought out from England were erected in the Weighing

Department to increase the daily outturn of adjusted blanks Iron rolls rendered unserviceable from long usage had to be replaced by new ones in the Rolling Department and their value written off The total cost of these additions and adjustments amounted during the year to Rs 11,337 and Rs 2,886, respectively, the balance at debit at the end of the year stood at Rs 77,26,898

26 Resumé — Taking the ordinary revenue and expenditure into account, the year's work showed a result in favour of the Mint of Rs 21,86,622, inclusive of the pro forma receipts and charges, the net balance amounted to Rs 17,74,873

COUNTERFEIT COINS AND STATEMENT OF OFFENCES AGAINST THE COINAGE

27 Counterfeit Coins — A good many counterfeit coins were found in Government remittances received at the Mint, the counterfeits were all castings of ordinary execution, and the majority of them should have been detected at the remitting treasuries, this matter has been reported elsewhere

The counterfeit coins sent to the Mint under Article 581, Civil Account Code, were mostly palpable castings, the number sent was larger than last year

Several doubtful coins were also sent during the year by Treasuries and Railways for examination by the Mint, and among these were discovered one hundred counterfeit rupees which were ordinary castings not deserving special notice

Under a recent order of Government, Railway Companies were prohibited from sending all their counterfeit coins to the Mint, and it was ruled that exceptionally good specimens only should be sent by them through the Inspector General of Police The number received on account of Railways has therefore been fewer this year than last Most of these coins were found to be good castings invariably with slight defects in the milling There were a few castings of exceptionally good finish, that is good enough to deceive an expert

The silver fineness per mille of counterfeit castings according to Assay Office reports varied from 215 3 to 928 5 Many contained no silver whatever

The moulds and implements used for counterfeitings which were sent to the Mint were of a very rough nature, they appeared to be in every case of local manufacture

28 Offences against the Coinage — From a comparison of the figures of the last two years it appears there were fewer cases in 1901 1902 of offences against the coinage, this may perhaps be due to the greater precautions being taken by coiners to evade the vigilance of the Police owing to the severer sentences that have recently been passed for such offences, but it is noticeable that there was a large increase over the previous year in the number of counterfeit coins cut at Treasuries

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF HIS MAJESTY'S ASSAY OFFICE.

No 67, dated 19th May 1902

From—Lieut Col F F MACCARTHE, M B, I M S, Assay Master,

To—The Secretary to the Govt of India, Finance and Commerce Dept

I have the honour to submit report on the working of the Assay Department Calcutta, for the official year 1901-1902

2 Number and Description of Assays—The number of assays made during the year was 16,598 as compared with 36,062 in the previous year, and a yearly average of 17 515 for the 8 years previous to the closing of the Mints, i e, from 1885 to 1893 The details are shown in the following table —

3 Gold Assays—The total number of gold assays during the year was 849 against 1,094 in the previous year Of these assays 170 were for Government

4 Meltings for Silver Standard Coinage—Silver meltings for coinage were assayed in every month of the year under report The average fineness of the silver meltings was—

For R	916 041	per mille
„ Quarter R	915 903	„
„ One eighth R	915 669	„
„ British Dollars	899 016	„

as shown in detail in the following table —

Average for the year		916 041	915 903	915 669	899 016

5 Gold in Silver Coinage—The average proportion of gold found by monthly parting Assays in the silver pyx coins for the year was 0.29 per mille for rupees, 0.653 for quarter rupees, 1.112 for one eighth rupees, and 0.278 for dollars. Eliminating the dollars from calculation, the coinage of the year is computed to contain 3,758 troy ounces of gold of the approximate value of £15,934.

6 Pyx Trials, Rupees—The trials of these coins for weight amounted to 193, the total number weighed having been 1,930. In only one trial was a coin found beyond the legal remedy for weight, but a fresh pyx having been called for, all coins were found within remedy. The average weight was 180.034 grains, the heaviest and lightest coins found having weighed 180.89 and 179.03 respectively, and 1,057 of the total number were of the exact standard of 180 grains. The trials for fineness were 197 in number, 1,970 coins having been assayed singly and 3,840 in groups of 20 after melting. Of the coins assayed singly the extreme variations in fineness ranged from 913.7 to 918.7 per mille, whilst the average fineness per piece was 916.480 and the average fineness of the melted coins 916.882 per mille. In five different trials single coins were found outside the remedy for fineness, but in each case the second pyx called for disclosed no coin outside remedy. Hence all coinage during the year passed for issue.

MONTHS	Average weight of Pyx Rupees (grains)	AVERAGE FINENESS OF PYX RUPEES (PER MILLE)		Gold per mille
		Single	Melted
April 1901	180.022	916.573	916.922	0.141
May „	180.025	916.444	916.954	0.042

December „	180.042	916.469	916.900	1.188
January 1902	180.045	916.386	916.762	1.533
February „	180.005	916.315	916.625	1.448

7 Quarter Rupees—Pyx trials of these were made only in July and August. There were 16 trials for weight and the same number for fineness. The percentage of coins of the exact standard of weight, 16.45 grains, was 18.75. The average fineness of the coins assayed singly was 916.665, and of the melted coins assayed in groups of 100, 916.906.

8 Eighths of a Rupee—Pyx trials of two-anna pieces were made in May, August, September 1901 and in February and March 1902. There were 59 trials for weight and fineness respectively. The percentage of coins of the exact standard of weight was 23.73. The average fineness of the coins assayed singly was 916.710 and of the melted coins assayed in groups of 200, 916.901.

9 British Dollars—Pyx trials for dollars were made in April, May, June, October, and November. The trials for weight were 38, the total number weighed having been 760. The average weight per piece was 416.014 grains and the heaviest and lightest coins weighed 417.84 and 414.04 grains respectively. Trials for fineness were also 38 in number, 190 coins having been assayed singly and 570 in groups of 15 after melting. Of the single coins the extreme variation in fineness ranged from 898.1 to 901.8 per mille, and the average fineness per piece was 899.677, of the melted coins, the average fineness was 900.210.

10 Summary of Pyx Trials—The results detailed in paragraphs 6, 7, 8, and 9 are summarized in the following table —

DENOMINATION	Number of coins weighed singly	Number of coins assayed singly	Number of coins assayed after melting	Average weight (grains)	Average fineness of coins assayed singly (per mille)	Average fineness of coins assayed after melting (per mille)	Proportion of gold in pyx coins (per mille)
Rupees	1,630	1,970	3,840	180.034	916.480	916.882	0.529
Quarter Rupees	160	160	1,700	45.037	916.665	916.906	0.653
One eighth Rupees	590	590	11,800	22.513	916.710	916.901	1.112
Dollars	760	190	570	416.014	899.677	900.210	0.278

11 Miscellaneous Assays—Of the 1,354 assays under the head "Assays on various metals and pres" shown in paragraph 2 of this report, 1,314 were assays made for the Mint, Treasury Officers and Police on coins counterfeit or suspected to be counterfeit, or on suspected material for the manufacture of counterfeit coins. This number is very much below that of the previous year when the total was 6,208. But it cannot be concluded from this year's reduced number that counterfeit coining has materially lessened or that the police are less active in their search for counterfeiters. The number of the previous year was altogether abnormal and its high total was chiefly due to the Mint sending for examination practically all the suspected coins it received from the Railways. As the majority of these "Railway" coins are palpable counterfeits, the Mint during the year under report only sent such coins as required an assay to prove their nature. Hence the large reduction in the number of assays under this head.

12 Verification of Weights—The Mint working standard avoirdupois and troy sets of weight pieces were verified during the year by comparison with the Assay Office standards.

13 The appointment of Assay Master was held during the year by Lieutenant-Colonel F. F. MacCartie, I.M.S., and that of Deputy Assay Master by Captain A. McCormick, R.E., from 1st June. Captain Bidie, I.M.S., was attached to this office as probationer from 4th January 1902, but had not completed his course at the end of the financial year. Mr. J. R. L. Durham, after a long and honourable association with this office extending over nearly 38 years, retired on pension from his post of 1st Assistant on the 31st October 1901, Mr. J. L. Dighton, 2nd Assistant, being promoted in his place and Mr. G. O. L. Durham (Jr.) being made 2nd Assistant on probation.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE BOMBAY MINT

No 790, dated Bombay, the 17th July 1902

From—Major G DAVIDSON, Mint Master, Bombay,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department Simla

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the operations of the Bombay Mint for 1901 1902, together with the prescribed statements

GOLD

2 Receipts and Coinage—(a) The receipts of gold bullion and coin tendered by the public in exchange for rupees during the year under review amounted to Rs 2,12,95,525 in value and were less by Rs 1,99,32,688 than those for the preceding twelve months. The effect of the orders issued in June 1901 by the Comptroller General for the payment of certificates at thirty days' sight was the immediate resumption of tenders of gold bullion after a complete cessation for several months.

The following table gives the description of gold tendered during the year —

DESCRIPTION	Value in rupees 1901 1902	REMARKS
Sovereigns of current weight	1,97,12,640
Half-sovereigns of current weight
Sovereigns of short weight or not more than 3 grains less than the current weight	18,147
Half-sovereigns of short weight or not more than 3 grains less than the current weight	1,002
Sovereigns of reduced weight or more than 3 grains less than the current weight	1,018
Half sovereigns of reduced weight or more than 3 grains less than the current weight	206
Defaced, soldered and sweated sovereigns	387
Ditto           ditto       half sovereigns	29
Fine gold
Japanese gold yens
Other foreign gold coins
Gold from Indian mines	17,176
Imported bar gold
Bazaar gold and miscellaneous	15,44,920
	2,12,95 525

Two consignments of gold belonging to the Currency Department were packed and shipped to the Secretary of State for India during the year. The gold, which was valued at Rs 1,49,99,927, consisted of current weight sovereigns, light weight sovereigns and half sovereigns, imported bar gold, mines gold and bazaar gold and miscellaneous.

With the exception of gold valued at Rs 389, the entire receipts of the year were transferred to the Currency Gold Bullion Account, leaving a balance of Rs 15,49,095 in the custody of the Mint on the 31st March 1902 held on behalf of that Department.

(b) There was no coinage of gold during the year.

SILVER

3 Receipts and Coinage—(a) Uncurrent coin, details of which are given below, of the aggregate value of Rs 44,97,533 was received for re-coinage during the year, the large excess over the receipts for 1900 1901 being due to the withdrawal of the coinages of 1840 —

(b) The re coinage into British Indian Government rupees, of the silver currencies of the Native States of Kotah, Jhalawar and Cambay was carried out during the year under similar arrangements to those previously adopted in the case of other Native States. The value of the remittances received for conversion from each State was as shown in the following table —

DESCRIPTION	Value in rupees	REMARKS
Kotah coins from Kotah State	29,84,318	Includes rupees 30,898 Bundi coins from Jhalawar State
Jhalawar coins from Kotah and Jhalawar States	8,70,715
Cambay coins	14,19,977

(c) Tenders of silver bullion received from the Exchange Bank for coinage into British Dollars, and brought to account during the year, calculated at one rupee per standard tola, amounted to Rs. 6,41,09,530 as against Rs. 2,01,52,404 for the preceding twelve months

The description and weight of the silver tendered is as detailed below —

Description of silver tendered in 1901 1902		Amount in lakhs of tolas
Bar silver from London		30 57
Ditto America		588 02
Ditto Australia		7 76
Ditto Genoa		39
TOTAL		626 74

(d) The British Indian Government coinage carried out during the year bore the inscription Victoria Empress and the date 1901 and consisted of rupees and one-eighth rupees as given in statement II The amount paid was distributed as follows —

Reserve Treasury	{ Rupees	1,65,47,492
	{ One-eighth rupees	2,13,234
Paper Currency Department	Rupees	1,29,43,855
Kotah State	Ditto	33 13,737
Jhalawar State	Ditto	5 41,296
Cambay State	Ditto	14,19,977

25,684,971 British Dollars of the nominal value of Rs. 5,82,81,530 were also manufactured, and 25,450,715 British Dollars valued at Rs. 5,78,40,746 were issued to the Exchange Banks for export during the year. Of these 7,093,572 were shipped to Singapore, 17,759,482 to Penang, and 537,661 to Hongkong, leaving a balance of 195,201 Dollars in the Mint ready for issue at the close of the year.

4 Meltings — It may be of interest to note that rupees of 1835 and 1840 as well as uncurrent coin of modern issues withdrawn from circulation, were used during the year in the Standard Melting Department in direct alligation with satisfactory results, thus saving the delay and expense incidental to premelting. I may add that direct alligation had been tentatively introduced with success at the commencement of the year in connection with consignments of silver bullion received from the Secretary of State about the time the instructions of the Government of India on the subject were received.

5 Percentages of good Coin — For the year under review the percentages of good

Description of coin	Weight of ingots laminated 10 lbs	Percentage of good coin 1901 1902	coin calculated on the weight of ingots laminated were as shown on the margin. These results indicate an improvement in the case of both rupees and Dollars, while that for eighth rupees is rather less favourable than for the preceding year.
B I G Rupees	4 67 86 698	68 84
Do one eighth rupees	3 21,022	66 56
British Dollars	8 52,63 198	67 75

6 Silver Operative Losses — The combined operative losses of the Melting and Coining Departments amounted, in the case of British Indian Government coinage, to Rs. 14,609 but after making the necessary corrections on account of fictitious gains and losses, and crediting silver from drosses, there is a net gain of Rs. 6,457 equal to Rs. 13 71 per lakh laminated. Owing to the abnormally heavy work in 1900-1901, it was not found possible to work up all the drosses of the Melting Department, and in consequence the recoveries in the shape of refined silver for that year were brought to account during the year under report and resulted in gain. In the case of Dollars the combined losses amounted to Rs. 56,213, but, after making similar corrections this figure is reduced to Rs. 20,000 which gives an operative loss of Rs. 22 93 per lakh laminated.

COPPER

7 There was no coinage of copper carried out during the year.

MISCELLANEOUS

8 Miscellaneous Work — This consisted as usual of the recurring supply of medals to various public institutions and rifle associations, the manufacture and adjustment of scales and weights, and miscellaneous supplies and repairs undertaken for Government and the public. The profit on the above was Rs. 236 as per Statement III.

9 Mint Working Standards — These were verified by the Assay Master in January 1902 and the weights in all the Departments were periodically compared with the standards and any differences found carefully adjusted.

10 Treasure Trove Coins — During the year under report 128 silver and 86 copper Treasure Trove coins found in the Ahmedabad and Ratnagiri Districts were forwarded to the Mint by the Bombay Branch, Royal Asiatic Society, for disposal.

ANALYSIS OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE

11 Revenue —

- Charges levied Mint Seignorage* — The seignorage of one per cent on silver tendered for Dollar coinage, and for which Outturn Certificates were issued during the year under review, amounted to Rs. 6,41,102, and exceeded that for the year previous by Rs. 4,39,581 due to the larger coinage of British Dollars.
- Gain on Silver Coinage on Government Account* — The purchases of silver bullion by the Secretary of State for India for coinage into rupees yielded a profit of Rs. 35,90,222 as against Rs. 2,84,40,719 in 1900-1901.
- Gain on Coinage Operations* — The gain under this head was more by Rs. 2,903 than that for the preceding twelve months.

The re-coinages carried out during the year under report on behalf of Native States resulted in a total gain to Government of Rs 7,59,237 as under —

	Rs
Kotah State	4,88,367
Jhalawar State	1,91,543
Cambay State	79,327
	Inclusive of Rs 13,820 on Bundi coins

12 Balances sunk in the Mint — The balance of silver bullion valued at one rupee per tola of standard fineness stood at the beginning of the year at Rs 1,58,42,194 and at its close at Rs 25,75,351. The average daily silver balance, exclusive of silver belonging to tenderers, was Rs 44,25,659. The minimum balance held on any day during the year was Rs 15,34,226 on 7th March 1902, and the maximum was Rs 1,52,42,271 on 1st April 1901.

13 Expenditure —

(a) Loss on Re-coinage Operations — The difference between the par and weight value of uncurrent silver coin received from Government Treasuries amounted to Rs 61,547, and exceeded that for 1900-1901 by Rs 49,224 owing to the larger receipts which included withdrawals of 1840 coins during the year.

(b) Cost of Establishment — The expenditure on salaries and establishment for

	1901-1902 Rs	1900-1901 Rs
Fixed Establishment	1 83 677	1 63 242
Extra Establishment and Overtime Work	85 674	1 38 527
TOTAL	2 69,351	3 01 769

the year under review as compared with that of the previous year is shown in the marginal statement. The increase under fixed establishment was chiefly in the salaries of the Deputy Assay Master and Probationer the decrease under extra establishment and overtime work being on account of the smaller coinage.

(c) Local and English Stores — The total expenditure amounted to Rs 72,164 and was less by Rs 44,190 than for the preceding twelve months when the coinage was abnormally heavy. Nitric Acid and porcelain vessels of the value of Rs 33,654 were, in addition to the above, obtained from Messrs John J. Griffin and Sons (Ltd), London, being in completion of the order placed with that firm in connection with the silver (acid) Refinery referred to in the report for 1900-1901.

(d) Copper used for Alloy — The expenditure under this head was more by Rs 27,856 than that of the year previous. This was due mainly to the smaller quantity of low touch silver that was available for the alligations of Standard Meltings.

(e) Contingent Charges—Miscellaneous — These were less by only Rs 1,243 than those of the preceding year, notwithstanding the reduced coinage. A sum of Rs 5,639 on account of one-fifth freight paid by the Accountant General on Europe Stores, as compared with Rs 1,618 only paid in 1900-1901, will account for the rise in expenditure.

(f) Transfer Charges — These amounted to Rs 12,112 and were practically the same as the figure for the preceding year.

(g) Pro forma Charges — The charges during the year amounted to Rs 3,57,792 against Rs 5,40,935 in 1900-1901, which is principally due to the average silver balance locked up in the Mint being just about half that for the previous year.

14 Resume of Revenue and Expenditure — The year closed with a balance in favour of the Mint of Rs 44,95,687 exclusive of pro forma charges, or Rs 41,37,895 inclusive of those charges.

15 Capital Account — A sum of Rs 28,243 which comprises the cost of a steel boiler, six automatic weighing machines and a combined governor-stop valve, was added to the head of Plant, while Rs 120 on account of two steel joists were added to that of Buildings during the year under review. The balance at debit of this account at the end of the year stood at Rs 38,18,147.

OFFENCES AGAINST THE COINAGE.

16 Return of Counterfeit Coins — The usual return of counterfeit coins is appended to this report.

In the Bombay Mint 1,250 counterfeit coins (1,118 Rupees, 42 Half rupees, 25 Quarters and 65 One eighths) were received for examination during the year, as against 367 in 1900-1901.

(1) Of these, 95 coins (54 castings and 41 struck) received from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India and Rajputana-Malwa Railways under Government of India, Financial Department, No 1004 A, dated 21st February

1901, were "exceptionally well executed," and the fineness of the metal in those coins was in several instances above rupee standard, the highest being 953 7

- (2) Two hundred and sixty-two coins (223 castings and 39 struck) were good enough to deceive the public, both as to execution and colour of metal, although some of these on being assayed were found to be of base metal, while two coins from Ratnagiri proved to be made of high touch silver
- (3) The remaining 893 coins (820 castings and 73 struck) were in the majority of cases inferior specimens of low touch silver or base metal, and almost all easily detectable

The second and third classes include coins which were returned to the Railways, as they did not fulfil the standard of excellence required by Government

Amongst the coins received from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India and Rajputana Malwa Railways, there were three rupees struck from wrong dies, one of 1862 being marked "Victoria Impress," and two of 1885 "Victoria Queen" The execution of one of the latter was of so exceptional a quality that were it not for the mistake in the date—a point that might escape notice—it could hardly be distinguished from a genuine product of the Bombay Mint

A matter worth noting is the rapid increase there has been in the number of coins cut at Treasuries which report to Bombay during the past three years, as shown below —

Year	Total coins cut at Treasuries
1899 1900	7,020
1900 1901	10,055

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF HIS MAJESTY'S ASSAY OFFICE

No 108, dated Bombay, the 17th July 1902

From—Lieutenant-Colonel A MILNE, I M S, Assay Master, Bombay,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department

I have the honour to submit the following report on the operations of the Assay Department Bombay, for the official year 1901 1902

2 Number and Description of Assays—The number of assays during the year amounted to 41,016 as against 64,670 in the previous financial year

DESCRIPTION	Number	TOTAL
GOLD
Assays on gold from all sources	4 372
Check assays on fine Gold	214
		4,586
SILVER
Assays on silver received for coinage	7,382
Ditto alligat for silver standard coinage	21,508
Ditto pyx coins	4,491
Ditto Miscellaneous	2,682
		36,063
MISCELLANEOUS
Parting assays	42
Assays on various metals and ores	247
Ditto on Mint drosses	78
TOTAL FOR THE YEAR		41,016

3 Gold and Silver Assays—The total number of gold assays from all sources during the year amounted to 4,586 as against 6,141 in the previous year, of these 239 assays were done for the Mint. The total number of silver assays from all sources was 36,063 as against 58,233 in the previous year, of these 33,503 were done for the Mint

4 Meltings for Silver Standard Coinage—Silver meltings for Rupees were assayed during nine months, for one-eighth Rupees during one month, and for British Dollars during eleven months

The average fineness of the silver meltings was —

For Rupees	915 989 per mille
„ One eighth	915 573 „
„ British Dollars	898 998 „

as shown in the following table —

Average for the year		915 989	915 573	898 998

5 Gold in Silver Coinage—The average proportion of gold found by monthly "Parting Assays" in the Silver Pyx Coins for the year was 310 per mille for Rupees, 384 for one eighth Rupees, and 124 for British Dollars

6 Pyx Trials Rupees—The trials of these coins for weight amounted to 343, the total number weighed being 6,860. None of these was found beyond remedy. The average weight of all was 179 997 grains, the lightest and heaviest coins weighed were respectively 179 10 and 180 90 grains.

The trials for fineness were also 343, 1,715 coins having been assayed singly and 8,575 in groups of 25 coins after melting. In one trial one coin having been found beyond the legal remedy, a fresh Pyx was called for, and the trial repeated on this gave a satisfactory result. Of the coins assayed singly the extreme variations in fineness ranged from 914 6 to 918 6 and the average fineness over 1,715 coins was 916 912 per mille. The 8,575 coins assayed in groups of 25 after melting gave an average fineness of 916 815, the lowest and highest figures obtained for any melting of coins being 916 3 and 917 5.

MONTHS		Average weight of Pyx Rupees (grains)	AVERAGE FINENESS OF PYX RUPEES (PER MILLE)		Gold per mille
			Single	Melted
April	1901	180 001	916 842	916 802	216

7 Eighths of a Rupee—There were eight trials of two anna pieces during the month of May 1901, the number of coins assayed after melting in groups of 200 being 1,600. The average fineness of the melted coins was 916 813 and the average gold per mille 384.

8 British Dollars—The trials of these coins for weight amounted to 260, the total number weighed being 5,240. Two trials disclosed one coin in each above the legal remedy. In each case 20 fresh coins were weighed and found to be within remedy. The average weight of all was 415 987 grains, the lightest and heaviest coins weighed were respectively 414 10 and 417 90 grains.

The trials for fineness were also 260 in number, 1,300 coins having been assayed singly and 3,900 in groups of 15 coins after melting. Of the coins assayed singly the extreme variations in fineness ranged from 898.0 to 901.6 and the average fineness of the 1,300 coins was 899.852 per mille. The 3,900 coins assayed in groups of 15 after melting gave an average fineness of 899.925, the lowest and highest figures obtained for any melting of coins being 899.4 and 900.8 per mille.

MONTHS	Average weight of Pyx British Dollars (grains)	AVERAGE FINENESS OF PYX BRITISH DOLLARS (PER MILLE)		Gold per mille

9 Summary of Pyx Trial—The results detailed in paragraphs 6, 7 and 8 are summarized in the following table —

DENOMINATION	Number of coins weighed singly	Number of coins assayed singly	Number of coins assayed after melting	Average weight (grains)	Average fineness of coins assayed singly (per mille)	Average fineness of coins assayed after melting (per mille)	Proportion of Gold in Pyx coins (per mille)
Rupees	6,860	1,715	8,575	179.997	916.912	916.815	310
One-eighth Rupees			1,600			916.813	384
British Dollars	5,240	1,300	3,900	415.987	899.852	899.925	124

10 Miscellaneous Assays—Of the 247 assays under the head "Assays on various metals and ores" in paragraph 2 of this report, 245 were assays on counterfeit coins received from the Mint Master, Magistrates, Treasury Officers etc.

11 Verification of weight pieces—The Mint and Assay Office working standard sets of tola, avoirdupois, grain and grammic weight pieces were, as required by Government Resolution, verified during the months of January, February and March 1902. The values of these weight-pieces were all deduced from that of the Iridio platinum Primary Standard of 30 tolas.

12 The post of Deputy Assay Master was held by Major C. T. Hudson, I.M.S., from 1st April to 4th May 1901, and by Major John Lloyd Thomas Jones, I.M.S., from the latter date to the end of the financial year. Captain J. J. Bourke, I.M.S., was attached to this office as probationer from 6th July 1901 to 6th January 1902 and was placed on special duty from the latter date to the end of the financial year.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR IBBITSON moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN PORTS (AMENDMENT) BILL

The Hon'ble SIR EDWARD LAW moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Indian Ports Act, 1889. He said — "The present Bill aims at correcting three defects of a formal character which have been brought to notice in the working of the Indian Ports Act, 1889.

(1) The exemption allowed by the proviso to section 47 might, in spite of the generality of the term 'vessel' be regarded as not including vessels 'in ballast,' which are dealt with separately in section 46. As there is no reason for excluding vessels in ballast from the exemption, it is considered safer to re-enact the proviso as part of an independent section.

(2) The first entry in the fourth column of Part I of the First Schedule, opposite the port of Calcutta requires revision in order to bring it into accordance with actual practice under which port dues are levied on coasting-vessels entering that port only once in sixty days. The existing exception of 'dhomes and country vessels' is not adapted to modern conditions. The new entry proposed by the Bill will substitute a more liberal provision on the lines of the corresponding entry against Chittagong under which both mail steamers and coasting vessels will only have to pay port dues once in sixty days.

(3) The necessity for the addition of a proviso to Explanation I to Part II of the same Schedule, under which it is possible for a vessel to be classified as 'foreign' and also as 'coasting' during one and the same voyage, was suggested by an opinion of the Advocate General of Madras, in pursuance of which it is sought to render it clear that such a vessel is liable to the levy of port dues on either scale, whichever is the higher, but not on both scales cumulatively."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble SIR EDWARD LAW introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble SIR EDWARD LAW moved that the Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Port St. George Gazette, the Bombay Government Gazette, the Calcutta Gazette and the Burma Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Maritime Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned sine die.

SANITARY

PLAGUE

The 25th October, 1902

No 2278 —In the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No 2073, dated the 14th November 1901, it was ordered, under the powers conferred by section 2, sub-section (1), of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), that the pilgrimage to the Hedjiz during the season of 1902 might be permitted except in the case of persons residing in the Presidency of Bombay (excluding the whole of Sind except the Karachi District) in the Salem and Bellary Districts of the Madras Presidency, in Coorg, in the Sialkot, Jullundur, Gurdaspur, Ludhiana and Hoshiarpur Districts of the Punjab, in the Benares Division and the Allahabad District of the United Provinces, in Calcutta the Burdwan and Patna Divisions and the Hazaribagh District of the Chota Nagpur Division in Bengal and in the Native States of Mysore, Baroda, Kashmir and Patiala, subject to certain precautions and restrictions, and that no person should be allowed to embark with the object of making a pilgrimage to Mecca, except at the ports of Porbandar in the Presidency of Bombay and of Chittagong in Bengal

2 The foregoing regulations were made in pursuance of the policy to which the Government of India have adhered for the past four pilgrim seasons, of prohibiting the departure to the Hedjiz of any person resident within an area infected with plague. This policy was at no time agreeable to the Government of India. They regretted the restrictions thus imposed upon the liberty of His Majesty's Muhammadan subjects in the discharge of a religious duty, and they acquiesced reluctantly in the imposition of such restrictions, only because of the necessity of deferring to the apprehensions of certain European Powers that plague might be conveyed to Europe through the medium of Indian pilgrims

3 The Governor General in Council has therefore much pleasure in announcing that His Majesty's Government has, on the representation of the Government of India, consented to the removal, during the ensuing season, of the restrictions heretofore imposed on the departure of pilgrims from plague infected areas. The Haj will accordingly be open during the season of 1902-03 to any resident of India, subject to the regulations hereinafter laid down

4 The orders contained in the Home Department Notification No 2073, dated the 14th November 1901, are hereby cancelled

5 The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct—

- (1) That no person shall be permitted to embark with the object of making a pilgrimage to Mecca except at the ports of Bombay and Karachi in the Presidency of Bombay, of Chittagong in the Province of Bengal and such port, if any, in the Presidency of Madras, as may be notified by the Government of Madras in this behalf

- (2) That no person shall be permitted to embark for such purpose at such port unless he has been kept under observation in a place appointed for the purpose until such time as the Medical Officer in charge shall be satisfied that all risk of such person conveying the infection of plague has completely abated, and unless such person is conveyed from the place of observation to the place of embarkation under the charge of an officer appointed for the purpose
- (3) That no passage tickets for the Hedjaz shall be sold except at the places appointed for the detention of intending pilgrims under observation

6 Although they have decided that, subject to the foregoing precautions, the pilgrimage to the Hedjaz may be permitted, the Government of India think it necessary to repeat the warning given last year, that intending pilgrims will be well advised in deferring the fulfilment of their purpose until another season, in view especially of the stringent quarantine rules imposed by the Turkish Government and of the inconvenience and harassment to which it is likely that they will be subjected on arriving in Arabia

• The 28th October, 1902

No 2301—Whereas the Governor General in Council is satisfied that there is a danger of an outbreak of dangerous epidemic disease at Mandhata in the Nimar District of the Central Provinces, if pilgrims or other persons from the Bombay Presidency (including Sind) are permitted to assemble at that place on the occasion of the ensuing fair

In exercise of the power conferred by section 2, sub section (1), of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897) the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that no tickets to travel by railway to the stations of Sanawad, Mortakka and Barwaha on the Rajputana Malwa Railway shall be sold from the 1st to the 25th November 1902 (both days inclusive) within the Bombay Presidency (including Sind) to any pilgrim or other person intending or believed to be intending to proceed on pilgrimage to the fair at Mandhata

No 402—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 7 of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 (XIII of 1885) the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following alterations shall be made in the rules under the said Act published with the notification of the Government of India in the Public Works Department (Telegraphs) No 245 dated the 25th of June 1897, as subsequently amended, namely

Rule 176 in Section III shall read as follows

176 United Kingdom—Telegrams containing news or intelligence for publication in Newspapers are transmitted via telegraph or via Suva from the United Kingdom to India and Burma, and from Government Telegraph Offices in India and Burma to the United Kingdom at reduced rates subject to the following conditions namely

- I The Newspapers, their Correspondents or Agents shall address their telegrams to a registered Newspaper, which shall be prohibited from selling, distributing or communicating such telegrams to Clubs, Exchanges or News-rooms, or disposing of them for any purpose whatsoever, directly or indirectly, other than for publication in registered Newspapers

- II Telegrams at the reduced rate shall not be allowed to interfere with the transmission of telegrams at full rates, and, in order to ensure this, the transmission of such News telegrams may be deferred, suspended, or interrupted until any State or Private telegram, or any Press telegram at full rates, which may be on hand, shall have been transmitted and completed. On the lines of the Indian Telegraph Department such telegrams shall take precedence with Ordinary Inland telegrams.
- III No telegrams shall be transmitted at the reduced rate except for publication in a Newspaper, and they shall be written in plain English, French or German or in the plain language in which is published the Newspaper to which they are addressed, so as to be intelligible to the transmitting offices. Telegrams containing news or information not for publication, or containing Code words or groups of figures or ciphers, or words of concealed meaning, shall be paid for at the full rates in force for Private telegrams. Telegraph offices may accept in the text of a Press telegram groups of figures of plain meaning, but no message at the reduced rate shall be accepted, if the text is composed only of figures.
- IV Telegrams shall be accepted only from the authorised correspondent of a Newspaper, and the News sent in such telegrams shall be duly published in the Newspapers, or satisfactory reasons be given for non-publication, in the absence of which full rates will be chargeable.
- V All Press telegrams at the reduced rate shall be prepaid except under special arrangements made by an authorised Newspaper for a specially nominated correspondent.
- VI The reduced rate for Press telegrams shall apply only when all the above conditions have been satisfied, and any subsequent claim made for the difference between the reduced and full rates shall be satisfied immediately on demand.

In Rule 179, Section III, clause (e), the words "(Telegrams to French Newspapers must be in French)" shall be cancelled.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a m on Thursday, the 30th October 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

With the exception of a few scattered showers, no rain has been received during the week in Northern India and the only rain of importance has been that given in the south of the Peninsula by the cyclonic storm which formed in the Bay during the previous week. It approached the Coromandel Coast extremely slowly and did not actually cross the coast till the 28th, though it had been in existence in the Bay as a more or less well-defined depression since the 17th. Rain due to the storm commenced in South India on the 23rd and continued daily in that area till the storm crossed the coast and advanced northwards into the South Deccan. The rainfall has been heaviest on the Madras Coast. Cuddalore received 5.62 inches on the 24th, Madras 9.16 inches on the 28th, Masulipatam 9.5 inches, Cocanada 5.06 inches and Vizagapatam 3.93 inches on the 29th, and Cocanada 6.4 inches and Masulipatam 5 inches on the 30th. As the storm advanced northwards, it gave rain in the East Deccan, where Cuddapah received 2.89 inches on the 29th.

Conditions were very feebly unsettled in Baluchistan and North West India on two occasions during the week, and Chaman reported .27 inch of rain on the 30th.

The rainfall of the week was equal to or in excess of the normal in the East Coast, South India, the Deccan, the West Satpuras, the West Coast, the North-West Dry Area, Baluchistan and the subdivisions of Indore, Lahore and Calcutta. The excess was actually largest in the East Coast districts.

The seasonal rainfall from the 2nd May to the 30th October was practically normal or in slight excess everywhere, except in Baluchistan, the West Satpuras and the subdivisions of Burdwan, Raipur, Jabulpore, Jaipur, Indore and Hyderabad (Deccan). The most important changes introduced during the past week in the seasonal distribution of rainfall are reductions in the deficiency shown last week in the subdivisions of Waltair, Bellary and Hyderabad (Deccan).

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 25th October, 1902.

Madras.—The rainfall was heavy in parts of the Carnatic, in the Central and Southern districts, nil in Ganjam and Vizagapatam, light in parts of the Deccan, and fair to good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam, Kurnool, Anantapur, the Carnatic, Salem and Madura. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting are in progress in parts. The standing crops are generally fair, but require more rain in parts of Ganjam, Vizagapatam and Kurnool. The early crops are being harvested with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices are easier or stationary.

Bombay.—There was moderate rain during the week in parts of Ratnagiri, Khandesh, Kanara, Colaba, Poona, Sholapur, Satara and the Carnatic, and very slight falls in parts of Surat, Thana, Nasik and Ahmednagar. More rain is needed in parts of Kaira, Surat, the Deccan, the Carnatic, Wadhwan and Baroda. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Thar and Parkar, by rats in parts of Karachi and Hyderabad, and by insects in parts of Sukkur and the Upper Sindh Frontier. Elsewhere they are generally in good condition. The harvesting of the autumn crops continues in almost all districts. Preparation of lands for spring cultivation continues in parts of Sindh, Ahmedabad and Surat. Sowing is almost over in Sholapur and Bijapur and continues in parts of other districts of the Deccan, and in parts of Karachi, Larkana, the Panch Mahals, Kaira, Broach, Belgaum, Kathiawar and Baroda. The cotton crop is in good condition in Hyderabad, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, Satara, Bijapur and Dharwar. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Agricultural stock is in good condition and sufficient except in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in the Upper Sindh Frontier and in parts of Satara. Prices have fallen in five districts, risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to normal and prices of 1901 remained substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows:—Ahmedabad, 38, Kaira, Surat and Jamkhindi, 36, Panch Mahals, 53½, Sholapur, 40½, Ahmednagar, 39½, Poona, 32½, Bijapur, 39½, Belgaum, 42, Kathiawar, 32½, Palanpur, 29, Rewakantha, 45, Mahikantha, 34½, and Mudhol, 32.

The following were the daily average numbers on relief.—BRITISH DISTRICTS.—On test-works, 800, on relief works, 10,643, dependants, 3,211, total on works, 14,654. In poor-houses, 2,713, on village relief, 61,689, total on gratuitous relief, 64,402. Figures for Thar and Parkar are incomplete. NATIVE STATES.—On relief works, 3,787, dependants, 37, total on works, 3,824. In poor-houses, 2,241, on village relief, 342, total on gratuitous relief, 2,583. Figures for Palanpur, Mahikantha and Muz Junior are incomplete. Grand total, 85,463.

Bengal.—The rainfall during the week was scattered and for the most part light. Rain is needed for the winter rice crop in the districts of Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore, Hooghly, the 24-Parganas, Gaya, Saran, the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, Puri, Hazaribagh, Palamau and Manbhum. Prospects are on the whole fair. Fodder is said to be scarce in the Kishorganj subdivision of the Wymensingh district, elsewhere it is sufficient. There is no want of water, except in Angul. The price of common rice is dearer in five districts, cheaper in twelve, and unchanged in the remainder.

United Provinces.—Rain has been general in the provinces during the week. Falls in excess of one inch are reported from a few districts and showers from others. In some places there have been hailstorms causing slight injury to crops. The harvesting of the autumn crops continues. Sowings for the spring crops are being actively pushed on and germination is said to be good. Prospects are favourable. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Prices are generally stationary.

Punjab.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Delhi and Lahore. A slight fall is also reported from Jullundur, Mianwali and Sialkot. The reaping of autumn crops and picking of cotton are going on. Sowings of spring crops continue. The condition and prospects of the standing irrigated crops are generally good to average, but those of unirrigated crops are reported to be bad in parts for want of sufficient rainfall. The outturn of irrigated land is expected to be average and that of unirrigated below average. Hail has damaged the standing crops in parts of Karnal. Great millet and cotton have been attacked by insects in Mooltan, and field rats are damaging the crops in parts of Amritsar. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is said to be sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Hissar, Rohtak, Mooltan and Amritsar. The prices of food-grains are generally unchanged. The price of wheat is rising slightly in Jullundur and Amritsar. The prices of the cheapest food-grain at Hissar, Rohtak and Gurgaon are as follows—Hissar, bijhar (mixed barley and gram), 21 seers, Rohtak (great millet and bulrush millet), 20 seers, Gurgaon (bulrush millet), 21 to 26 seers. The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar is 954.

North West Frontier Province—Slight rain has fallen in all districts. There has been a heavy local fall in Dera Ismail Khan accompanied with hail which damaged the crops in some villages. Reaping of the autumn crops and sowing of the spring crops are in progress. Locusts have appeared in one village of Kulachi tahsil in Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder is procurable, but is not abundant. The water-supply in canals, except the Bara, is sufficient but the rivers are running low in Peshawar. Prices are high and rising in Dera Ismail Khan and falling in Peshawar. Wheat is selling at 15½ and 12 seers per rupee in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma—LOWER BURMA—The reaping of hill side paddy has commenced in Tavoy and is approaching completion in Akyab. The standing crops are on the whole doing well, but more rain is wanted in Prome and in Toungoo for cultivation on uplands. UPPER BURMA—The transplanting of wet weather paddy is completed in Lower Chindwin. Reaping of hill side paddy has commenced in Katha and sowing of wheat in Sagaing. Ploughing for gram has begun in the Lower Chindwin. Picking of cotton has commenced in Meiktila and progresses in Sagaing, the Lower Chindwin and in Myingyan. Gathering of early sessamum is finished in the Lower Chindwin and continues elsewhere. The standing crops are suffering from want of rain in Thayetmyo and Pakokku. The sessamum crops have been damaged by insects and jowar is withering for want of rain in Pakokku township. More rain is also required in Magwe, Shwebo, parts of Sagaing Upper Chindwin and Yamethin. Owing to the fall of the river in Sagaing submerged tracks in the Kyaukyit township have been replanted with paddy. Crop prospects continue to be fair. The price of paddy has advanced considerably in Prome, in five districts the fluctuations are slight, in the remainder there is no change.

Central Provinces—The week has been practically rainless everywhere, except in Hoshangabad, Nimar, Betul and part of Sambalpur, where rain varying from half to one inch has fallen. Light local showers are also reported from parts of Chanda and Wardha. The autumn outturns are fair to good in the north and west of the provinces, except rice and light land crops which are not good. In the south the rice crop is now generally beyond hope, particularly in Bhandara, Balaghat, Chanda Nagpur, Raipur and Bilaspur. The general autumn prospects in Raipur are bad, but elsewhere crops, other than rice, are in fair to good condition. Juar is however rapidly deteriorating for lack of moisture in Nagpur and in parts of Wardha. The winter sowings are generally in progress, but in many places are retarded for want of rain. Germination has been satisfactory so far in Damoh and Jabulpore, except on light soils. Insufficiency of water for cattle is reported from Chanda, and several districts report damage by grasshoppers and other insects. Rain is urgently required both to revive the withering autumn crops and for spring sowings. Prices show a tendency to fall in Mandla, Hoshangabad and Betul, and to rise in Jabulpore and Bilaspur. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—Wheat, 17, gram, 33, rice, 15½, and juar, 33½. The highest prices are—Wheat, 10, gram, 13½, rice 10, and juar, 17½. In Raipur the numbers on gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) are—adults, 114, children, 81, total, 195.

Assam—Light rain has fallen in Upper and Central Assam the Khasi and Jaintia hills and the Garo hills. Harvesting of early rice still continues in Kamrup and Darrang, the outturn is poor in Lower Assam and fair elsewhere. Plucking and manufacture of tea, sowing of pulse, and ploughing for mustard are in progress. The prospects of tea are fair, of winter rice and sugarcane poor in Nowgong moderate in Kamrup, and elsewhere fair to good. Fodder is scarce in places. Prices—Common rice, Silchar, 13½, Sylhet, 13, Tezpur and Sibsagar, 12, Gauhati, 11, Dibrugarh, 10, Nowgong, 9½, and Dhubri, 8½ seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rain fell throughout the province during the week, but more is wanted in Bangalore, Kadur and in parts of Mysore. General prospects are good throughout. Prices are slightly fluctuating. The water and fodder supply are sufficient.

Coorg—Rainfall of the week 2 inches 34 cents. The reaping of ragi is completed. Picking of cardamom continues and that of coffee has commenced. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The rainfall of the week was—Akola 28 cents, Amraoti, 24 cents, Basim, 78 cents, and Buldana, 3 inches 11 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. The standing crops are in good condition, but juar on light soil is likely to be affected for want of moisture. The picking of cotton was commenced in two districts. Locusts have appeared in parts of the Malkapur and Melghat taluqs. The winter sowings continue. Weeding operations are nearing completion. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are almost stationary.

Hyderabad—The rainfall of the week was 3 cents. Prospects have improved generally. The autumn harvest continues. The early rice sowings are suffering in parts owing to the absence of rain. The spring sowings continue and in parts of Mahratwara are nearing completion. Prices—Wheat, 6½, rice, 8½, and juar, 20 seers per halla rupee.

Rajputana—There was slight rain in places during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress. Damage by locusts is reported from Jaisalmer. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. Cheapest price—32½ seers; highest, Kherwara, 14½ seers. The following were the numbers on relief—Native States—on relief works, 7, on gratuitous relief, 1,185 total, 1,452.

Central India—Light showers fell in parts of Gwalior, Indore, Bhopal and Bhopawar during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally in good condition. Rice and other crops have been slightly damaged in Baghelkhand. Insects have damaged the crops somewhat in parts of Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. Average prices—15 to 26 in Gwalior, 18-2 in Bhopal, 19½ to 26½ in Bundelkhand, 27½ in Malwa, 22 to 36 in Bhopawar, and 10 to 23 in Indore.

Baroda—The numbers on relief have decreased. The condition of cattle is good. The fodder and water supply are sufficient. The imports of grain are adequate. Prices of food grains are slightly falling, except in the Navsari division, where they are steady. The numbers on relief were—On works, Baroda, 3,222, on gratuitous relief, 5,885, total, 9,107.

Kashmir—The weather is bright and is becoming cooler. The rice crop is being reaped. Prices are getting more above normal. Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee. JAMMU—Rain nil. Prices are stationary. Wheat is selling from 12 to 22, maize 15 to 34 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient. Harvesting of autumn crops is in progress.

Nepal—Rainfall 0.2 cents. The weather is cold and cloudy. Lowland rice is being reaped. Price of rice is 9½ seers for the rupee.

CANTONMENTS

TAXATION

No. 994—The following draft of a notification which it is proposed to make for the Cantonment of Belgaum in exercise of the powers conferred by section 26, clause (17), and section 27 of the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), is published, as required by section 27, sub-section (1), of the said Act, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is given that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Governor-General in Council on or after the 16th day of January, 1903

2 Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft before the date fixed as aforesaid will be considered by the Governor General in Council

Draft Notification

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 26, clause (17), and section 27 of the Cantonments Act 1889 (XIII of 1889), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the following rules and to direct that they shall apply to the Cantonment of Belgaum—

(1) Firewood shall not be exposed for sale within the Cantonment of Belgaum else where than—

(a) in the firewood market as hereinafter defined in sub rule (2), or

(b) in any place for the use of which the Cantonment Magistrate has granted a license on payment of the fee prescribed by the fourth entry in Part II of the Notification of the Government of Bombay in the Military Department, No 134, dated the 6th December, 1881

(2) The following shall be the boundaries of the firewood Market, namely—

On the east, Club Road,

On the south, Darga Road,

On the west, public latrines, and

On the north, Mutton market Road

2 A seller of firewood shall not quit the firewood market unless and until the market dues leviable in respect of wood sold therein have been paid to the Market Inspector

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 6th November 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports
of the period

A feeble and ill-defined disturbance entered North-West India from the west at the commencement of the week and drifting eastwards gave showers in the North West Punjab and the east of the United Provinces and adjacent districts. The only fall of importance was one of 1.2 inches reported from Murree on the 31st October. Only a few light local showers have been received during the week in Bengal, Assam and Burma.

The most important rainfall of the week was that received in the Peninsula and the central parts of the country. The cyclonic storm from the Bay which entered the South Deccan at the close of the previous week introduced a period of unsettled weather in the Deccan, the Satpuras and the adjacent districts of the Central India Plateau during which rain was received in those areas. Rain also continued in the West and Madras Coast districts and South India and was heavy in the South Konkan on the 3rd November. The largest amounts reported were Silem 3.54 inches and Masulipatam 2.5 inches on 31st October. Saugor 4.14 inches, Colombo 2.52 inches and Hoshangabad 2.45 inches on 1st November, Wellington 2.49 inches on the 2nd, Ratnagiri 6.77 inches, Goa 3.07 inches and Mormugao 2.9 inches on the 3rd, and Masulipatam 2.4 inches on the 4th. Rain decreased towards the end of the week.

Rainfall of the week has been in considerable defect in Burma and the Delta of Bengal, in other parts of Northern India the normal rainfall of the week is very small.

and light scattered showers have had the effect of showing an excess in the Brahmaputra Valley, the North West Dry Area and the sub divisions of Dinajpur, Patna and Simla, in the Peninsula and Central India. The rainfall has been normal or in excess in the West Coast, the West Satpuras, the Deccan, South India and the sub-divisions of Waltair, Raipur, Jubbulpore, Jhansi and Indore.

The seasonal rainfall from the 2nd May to the 6th November has been in slight excess in the sub-division of Madura and normal in all other parts of the country except in Baluchistan and the sub-divisions of Burdwan, Raipur, Jubbulpore, Jaipur and Indore.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, 1st November, 1902

Madras—The rainfall has been heavy in the Carnatic, parts of the Circars, Deccan and North Arcot, and good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue generally. Standing crops are generally fair. Early crops are being harvested with moderate yield. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. Condition of cattle is good. Prices are easier or stationary. The price of rice is below or approaching the normal monthly average in parts of the Central, South, West Coast, and Nilgiris districts; that of dry grains is below or approaching the normal monthly average in Godavari, Kistna, Nellore and parts of the Central and Southern districts.

Bombay—There was good rain during the week in parts of Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Satara, Carnatic and Kanara, moderate rain fell in parts of Ratnagiri, Khandesh, and Poona, and slight showers in parts of Surat, Thana, and Kolaba. More rain is needed in parts of Kaira, Surat, Satara, Belgaum, Kathiawar and Baroda. Standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar and Surat, by rats in parts of Karachi and Hyderabad, and by insects in parts of Sukkur and Upper Sindh Frontier. They are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops continues in almost all districts. Preparation of lands for spring cultivation continues in parts of Sindh and Surat. Sowing has been completed in Sholapur, is almost over in Satara, and generally continues elsewhere. Cotton is in good condition in Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Sholapur, Satara, Bijapur and Dharwar. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Agricultural stock are in good condition and generally sufficient, except in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in parts of Upper Sindh Frontier and Satara. Prices have fallen in four districts, risen in two districts and are stationary elsewhere. Prices of food grains approach the normal and are generally easier than during the corresponding period of 1901. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee, at headquarters, were as follows—Ahmedabad and Kaira, 38, Pinch Mahals, 56, Surat, Jamkhandi, and Mudhol, 56, Sholapur, 46½, Ahmednagar, 39½, Poona, 32½, Bijapur, 41½, Belgaum, 42, Kathiawar, 32½, Palanpur, 27½, Rewakantha, 49½, Mahikantha, 34½.

The daily average number of persons on relief during the week was—BRITISH DISTRICTS—on test works 627, on relief works 6,052, dependants 1,916, total on works 8,595, in poor houses 2,633, on village relief 52,272, total on gratuitous relief 54,905 (Figures for Thar and Parkar are incomplete). NATIVE STATES—on relief works 3,529, dependants 24, total on works 3,553, in poor houses 1,868, on village relief 341, total on gratuitous relief 2,209 (Figures for Palanpur and Mahikantha are incomplete). Grand total 69,262. The physical condition of the people is reported to be good, fair or normal.

Bengal—Local showers are reported from a few districts, but the fall was every where scanty, except in parts of Midnapur, Pubna and Angul. Standing crops are suffering for want of rain in the districts of Bakura, Midnapur, Howrah, 24 Parganas, Cuttack and Palamau. Rain is urgently wanted in the Diamond Harbour Sub Division of the 24 Parganas, and in Angul. Rain also is needed in Burdwan, Hooghly, Saran, Puri, and in parts of Nadia and Malda. Prospects are fair. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in ten, and is stationary in the remaining 28.

United Provinces—Light rain is reported to have fallen in parts of seventeen districts. More rain is needed in Benares, Ballia, Gorakhpur and Unao for rice in tracts where irrigation is impracticable. The harvesting of autumn crops and the sowing of spring crops are still going on. Rice has been injured by insects in one tahsil of the Bareilly district, and hail has caused some damage in Gonda. Fodder and supplies are ample, and prices are stationary.

Punjab—Rain has fallen in Rawalpindi and parts of Amballa and Mooltan. Harvesting of autumn and sowing of spring crops continue, and cotton picking is going on. The condition of irrigated crops is generally good or average, and that of unirrigated poor in parts, owing to insufficiency of rain. The yield of irrigated autumn crops is said to be average, and that of unirrigated below average. Sesamum and cotton crops have been attacked by insects in Mooltan, and the crops in parts of Amritsar are being injured.

by field rats Cattle are generally in good condition Pasturage and fodder are sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Hissar, Rhotak, Mooltan and Amritsar The price of wheat is rising in Gurgaon, Umballa and Mooltan, and is unchanged elsewhere The prices of other food grains are unsettled The prices of the cheapest food grain at Hissar, Rhotak and Gurgaon, are as follows Hissar, dykar (mixed barley and gram), 21 seers, Rhotak, barley, 21 seers, Gurgaon, bulrush millet, 22 to 26 seers The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar is 946

North-West Frontier Province —From 32 to 68 cents of rain fell in Peshawar and 15 cents in Dera Ismail Khan Sowings of spring and reaping of autumn crops are in progress Fodder is procurable, but not sufficient There is sufficient water in the canals, but the rivers are running low in Peshawar The price of wheat is falling in Dera Ismail Khan, but is stationary in Peshawar

Burma —Except nearly 3 inches in Amherst, practically no rain has fallen in any districts Reaping of hill side paddy is in progress, and reaping of earlier wet weather paddy has commenced in Magwe, Shwebo, and Sagaing and is nearly completed in the Southern Shan States Plucking of cotton is in progress The sowing and transplanting of wet weather paddy is completed, except in Pakokku and the uplands of Yamethin The cultivation of alluvial crops and the sowing of beans continue in Upper Burma The paddy crop is fair, but rain is badly wanted in Akyab, Prome, and the high lands of Toungoo Rain is wanted in nearly all districts of Upper Burma, except Mandalay, Bhamo, Myitkyina and Ruby Mines, to mature the wet weather crops In Sagaing town ship, Minbu, two-fifths of the crops have been spoiled, and in Pyinmana sub division, Yamethin, the area cultivated is expected to be half that of last year The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and five other districts, and has fallen in Mandalay and three other districts

Central Provinces —Heavy rain has fallen in the north and west of the Province This has caused some slight damage to the ripe crops of bulrush millet, sesamum and cotton, and to recent spring sowings, but the damage is more than counterbalanced by the general advantage to other autumn crops and other spring-crop sowings In the Nagpur country, the showers were light, but have done good both to the standing autumn crops and to the spring crop sowings In the rice districts the showers have been insignificant with the exception of over an inch recorded in one tahsil of Chanda They may be sufficient in some parts to improve spring-crop sowings, but have been too light to benefit the rice crop, so that prospects remain much the same in Chanda, Bhandara, Balaghat and the Chhattisgarh districts Good rain would still help the late rice Harvesting of autumn crops is now generally in progress, and cotton picking has commenced The germination of spring crop sowings is generally fair Insufficiency of water for cattle is reported from Chanda Damage by grasshoppers and other insects is reported from several districts Prices show a tendency to rise in Damoh and Hoshangabad The lowest prices, in seers per rupee, are wheat, 16, gram, 21, rice, 15½, and juar, 22½ The highest prices are wheat, 10, gram, 12½, rice, 10 and juar, 16½ In Raipur the numbers on gratuitous relief are adults, 137 children, 102, total, 239

Assam —No rain has fallen in Goalpara, Kamrup, Darrang, Lakhimpur, and the Garo Hills, but there have been light showers elsewhere More rain is however wanted in Sylhet for the late rice, which is being damaged by insects Harvesting of early rice is still in progress, but the outturn, as a whole, is not good Plucking and manufacture of tea, sowing of pulse and ploughing for mustard are in progress Prospects of tea are fair, of winter rice and sugarcane poor in Nowgong and moderate in Kamrup, but elsewhere they are fair to good Fodder is scarce in places Prices, in seers per rupee common rice, Silchar, 13½, Sylhet and Sibsagar, 13, Tezpur, 12½ Gauhati, 12, Nowgong and Dibrugarh, 10, Dhubri, 8½

Mysore —Six inches and 22 cents of rain fell in the Civil and Military Station The fall has been good throughout the province, but more is wanted in parts of Mysore General prospects are good everywhere Prices are slightly fluctuating Cattle are healthy except in parts of Shimoga Water and fodder are sufficient

Coorg —The rainfall of the week was 1 inch 92 cents Rice is in ear The picking of cardamom and coffee continues Prices of food grains are stationary Water and fodder are sufficient

Berar —The average rainfall during the week was 1 inch and 75 cents The weather has been warm and cloudy, with showers of rain Standing crops are in fair condition Locusts have appeared in parts of four taluqs Picking of cotton is in progress in parts of the province Preparation of land for the spring crop is almost completed Sowings continue Fodder is sufficient except in Jalgaon taluk, the water-supply is ample Prices are almost stationary

Hyderabad—The rainfall of the week was 1 inch 40 cents and the total from 1st January 22 inches 45 cents. Prospects have improved generally, but in parts the autumn and early rice crops have suffered somewhat. The autumn harvest is nearing completion in Mahabubnagar district. The condition of the rice crop is fair and the rain has benefited it, spring crop sowings continue. Prices—wheat, 6½, rice, 8½, jowari, 20½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana—There was slight rain in parts. Agricultural operations are in progress. Damage by locusts reported from Marwar and Jaisalmer. Condition of cattle good, fodder sufficient. The cheapest price of common food grain was 43½ seers in Banswara and the highest 16 seers in Sirohi. The number of persons on famine relief were Native States—on relief works, 7, on gratuitous relief, 284.

Central India—Light showers fell in all Agencies except Bundelkhand and Malwa. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally in good condition. Rice has been slightly damaged in Jhansi for want of rain. Agricultural stock and pasturage good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, are falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. Average prices, in seers per rupee 15½ to 25½ in Gwalior, 16½ in Bhopal, 18½ to 26 in Bundelkhand, 30 in Malwa, 22 to 26 in Bhopawar, 8 to 28 in Indore.

Baroda—Numbers on relief have decreased. Condition of cattle good. Fodder and water not scarce. Import of grain adequate. Prices of food grains slightly falling, except in Nausari and Kadi divisions, where they are steady. Number of persons on relief works Baroda, 2,306, gratuitous relief, 5,510. Physical condition of labourers, including women and children, good except in Amreli, where it is fair.

Kashmir—The weather is bright. Prices are getting gradually more above normal. Rice is selling at 14 seers the rupee. The saffron crop has been indifferent. JAMMU—There has been no rain. Prices are fluctuating, wheat from 12 to 19½, maize from 20 to 47 seers per rupee. The condition of standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient. The harvesting of autumn crops is over, and lands are being prepared for spring crop sowings.

Nepal—Weather bright but cold. no rain. Lowland rice is still being reaped. Price of rice 9½ seers for the rupee.

NOTIFICATIONS

PUBLIC

Simla, the 6th November 1902

No. 3441—The Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the admission to the 3rd Class of the Order of Merit (Civil Division) of Havildar Kishen Singh, Derajat Mountain Battery, for conspicuous bravery displayed by him on the 6th May 1902, at Tutnara Post, when he rushed at and disarmed Gunner Achhar Singh, who had fired a round from his carbine at one of his comrades and was in the act of reloading

EXAMINATIONS

Calcutta, the 14th November 1902

No. 757—With reference to rules 4 and 9 of the rules published with Home Department Notification No 529, dated the 8th September 1899, it is hereby notified that the examination prescribed for filling up vacancies in the Lower Division of the Secretariat Clerical Service of the Government of India and attached offices will be held at Calcutta in the Senate House of the Calcutta University, commencing on Saturday, the 10th January 1903

No examination will be held during 1903 for filling up vacancies in the Clerical Establishment of the offices subordinate to the Government of Bengal

The examination at Allahabad and Lahore will be held at the same time at the places to be appointed by the Governments of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh and the Punjab, respectively. The hours of examination at Calcutta will be from 10 A M to 1 P M and from 1 30 P M to 4 30 P M daily

The probable number of vacancies in the Lower Division of the Secretariat Clerical Service of the Government of India and attached office to be competed for is fourteen. Of these, seven will be reserved for candidates domiciled in the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Central Provinces, Raiputana, Central India and Baluchistan, provided that a sufficient number of such candidates duly qualified appear for the examination to be held at Allahabad and Lahore. The remaining seven vacancies will be offered for competition among the candidates examined at Calcutta and such candidates temporarily resident, but not domiciled, in any of the Provinces enumerated above, as may be permitted to present themselves for examination at Allahabad and Lahore

Candidates should pay the prescribed fee (Rs 10) into the nearest Treasury and forward the Treasury receipt to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Calcutta. Candidates paying their fees in Calcutta should pay them into the Bank of Bengal

Application for permission to appear at the examination should be made to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners Calcutta between the date of this notification and the 15th December next (inclusive)

* Particulars and documents prescribed in rule 8 of the rules published with the Home Department Notification of 8th September 1899

- (1) Evidence that the candidate at the date of making his application is not less than 15 and not more than 24 years of age. The date of the candidate's birth must be stated
- (2) In case the candidate has been educated at a school in which student good conduct registers are kept the candidate's register for the last year of his attendance at school when 1 year has not elapsed since he left school. In other cases a certificate that the candidate is of good moral character from the head of the institution in which he has last been educated or from some respectable household to whom he is well known in private life and who is himself known to a District or Sub-Divisional Magistrate or to the head of some Government office—this last fact being certified by the counter signature of the officer in question
- (3) If the candidate is employed under Government a certificate by the head of the office or department to the effect that in his opinion there is no objection to the candidate appearing at the ensuing Clerkship Examination
- (4) A statement whether the candidate has appeared at any previous Clerkship Examination and if so in what year

The attention of intending candidates is called to rule 8 of the rules* published with the Home Department Notification of the 8th September 1899, prescribing the particulars and documents which should accompany the application for permission to appear at the examination

Imperial Government

III The Native Officers, Non Commissioned Officers, and Privates will be discharged with effect from the date of being struck off duty and will be granted —

- (a) Pay good conduct pay, and extra duty pay at the Indian rates prescribed in the Royal Warrant for Pay and Promotion, from the date of leaving Hong Kong to date of actual discharge in India
- (b) Pensions or gratuities, according to service, as laid down in the Royal Warrant* for Pay and Promotion
- (c) Deferred pay, or the gratuity authorised in lieu thereof, at the current rate of exchange as laid down in the Royal Warrant for Pay and Promotion

Articles 1109 to 1120 and 1124 B

- (d) Railway warrants from Jhelum to the stations nearest their homes, for themselves and their families

IV All expenditure incurred under paragraph III, above, will be debited to the Imperial Government

V All pensions and gratuities granted under paragraph III, clause (b), will be notified in the Pension Circulars of the Controller of Military Accounts, Punjab Command

VI The following terms will be granted to Native Officers, Non Commissioned Officers, and Privates, desirous of re-enlisting in the Indian Army —

- (i) Punjabi Musalmans, up to the establishment of four companies, will be permitted to volunteer in the ranks they held in the Hong Kong Regiment, for the 9th Madras Infantry. Kanghars, up to the establishment of one Company, will be allowed to volunteer, on the same conditions, for the 5th Bengal Infantry. After re-attestation under the Indian Articles of War, these Volunteers will be granted the following concessions —

- (a) They will be allowed on foregoing all claim to pension or gratuity under the terms of the Royal Warrant, to reckon all former service, either in the Hong Kong Regiment or in the Indian Army previous to transfer thereto for good conduct pay and pension under Indian Regulations
- (b) They will be granted kit money as for recruits at Rs 30 per Non Commissioned Officer and Private
- (c) They will be granted special furlough for four months on the full Indian rates of pay and good conduct pay of their ranks, with free passages by rail from their homes to the head-quarters of the regiment in which they elect to serve

- (ii) Yusufzais, Khattais and other Pathans, as well as Hindustanis and other classes represented in the Hong Kong Regiment [including such Punjabi Musalmans and Kanghars as are not disposed of under (i)] will be permitted to re-enlist in any battalion of the Indian Army, or in the reserve of any such battalion, recruiting men of their class (providing that the Commanding Officers of the same are willing to receive them) whether vacancies on the establishments exist or not. Soldiers so re-enlisted will be permitted on foregoing all claims to pension or gratuity under the terms of the Royal Warrant, to count the whole of their former service for good conduct pay and pension as specified in clause (i)(a) above, and those re-enlisting for service with the colours will, in addition, be granted the concessions specified in clause (i)(b) and (c) idem

VII The rates of pay, good conduct pay, and pension to which soldiers of the Hong Kong Regiment will be entitled on re-enlistment, are specified in Army Regulations, India, Volume I, Part II, Articles 46C, 87, 88, 91 and 522

VIII Subject to the condition that their characters are described as "good" in the certificates* granted them on discharge from the Hong Kong Regiment, soldiers re-enlisting in the Indian Army, whether for colour or reserve service, under the provisions of paragraph VI, will at once be granted the rate of good conduct pay to which they would have been entitled had their service since enlistment been under the Indian Articles of War instead of under the Army Act or partly under the latter and partly under the former. The three years approved service and refund of gratuity required by Army Regulations, India, Volume I, Part II, Articles 531 and 542, will in such cases not be enforced

* India Army Form H 231

- IX All expenditure incurred under paragraph VI will be debited to the Government of India
- X All bedding, personal clothing, and necessaries in possession of Non Commissioned Officers and Privates of the Hong Kong Regiment on their return to India shall become their private property to be disposed of in any way they please
- XI On the completion of the disbandment of the regiment, the books, documents, and other records will be forwarded to the Adjutant General in India for record
- XII Any subsidiary orders that may be required to carry the above arrangements into effect will be issued by His Excellency the Commander-in Chief in India

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 8th November, 1902

Madras—The rainfall of the week was light to fair in Ganjam, the Deccan and in parts of the Central districts and good elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing sowing and transplanting continue generally. The standing crops are generally in fair condition. The harvesting of early crops continues with a fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen. Rice is below the normal in Madura and South Canara and is approaching the normal in the remaining Southern and West Coast districts. Dry grains are below or are approaching the normal in parts of the Circars, Nellore and the Central and Southern districts.

Bombay—There was good rain during the week in parts of Colaba, Ratnagiri, the Deccan, Belgaum and Dhurwar, and slight falls in parts of Surat, Thana and Bijapur. More rain is needed in parts of Nasik, Satara, Belgaum, and Rajkot. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Sindh, Surat, Thana, Colaba, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Satara, and Baroda, by rats in parts of Karachi and Hyderabad, and by insects in parts of Sukkur. They are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops has been completed in Sukkur, is nearly over in Hyderabad and generally continues elsewhere. Threshing has commenced in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Thana. Preparation of lands for spring cultivation continues in parts of Sukkur, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Broach and Surat. Sowing is nearly over in Satara and continues in parts of Sindh, the Panch Mahals, Broach, Surat, Nasik, Belgaum, Dharwar, Kathiawar and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat and the Carnatic. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Agricultural stock is in good condition and sufficient except in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in parts of the Upper Sindh Frontier and Satara. Prices have fallen in seven districts, risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1901 remains substantially the same. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows—Ahmedabad and Mudhol 38, Panch Mahals, 56, Surat and Jamlhandi, 36, Sholapur, 44, Ahmednagar, 39, Poona 32, Bijapur, 43, Belgaum, 42, Kathiawar, 32, Rewakantha, 49.

The daily average numbers of persons on relief during the week were—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On test works, 269, on relief works, 4,222, dependants 1,505, total on works, 5,996. In poor houses, 2,450, on village relief, 37,228, total on gratuitous relief, 39,678. (Figures for Belgaum and Thar and Parkar are incomplete.) NATIVE STATES—On relief works, 1,348, dependants, 82, total on works, 1,430. In poor houses, 1,397, on village relief, 181, total on gratuitous relief, 1,578. (Figures for Rewakantha and Sangli are incomplete.) Grand total, 48,682.

Bengal—Light local showers have fallen in some districts. Paddy crops on high lands in the districts of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions would be benefited by rain. The Orissa districts, especially Angul and the districts of Saran, Ranchi, Lalainau and Singhbhum also require rain for the benefit of the standing crops. Prospects are on the whole fair. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in eight districts, fallen in five, and is stationary in the rest.

United Provinces—With the exception of a sprinkling of rain in Mirzapur, Jhansi, Hamirpur and Banda, the weather has been clear. More rain is wanted in Dehra Dun and Banda and late rice is said to have been injured in the Rasia tahsil in Ballia for want of it. Slight injury to maida from insects in tahsil Dhampur in Bijnor is also reported. Sowings for the spring crops are nearing completion and poppy sowings are in progress. Fodder and supplies are sufficient. Prices are stationary or falling slightly.

Punjab—There was no rain during the week. Sowings of the spring crops are in progress. Moisture on dry land in Sialkot is reported to be decreasing. The harvesting of the autumn crops on dry land is completed, and that of irrigated crops is still going on. Cotton picking is in progress and the yield is average. The outturn of irrigated crops is good and that of unirrigated average and below average. The standing crops are in good condition. Rain is badly wanted. The sesamum and cotton crops have been attacked by insects in Mooltan. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except in parts of Hisar, Mooltan and Amritsar. The price of wheat is stationary, while that of gram is rising in Hissar.

Rawalpindi, and Shahpur The price of maize is rising in Umballa and Shahpur, falling in Amritsar and is unchanged elsewhere. The prices of bajra and barley are rising in Hissar and Shahpur, falling in Amritsar, and are stationary elsewhere. The price of barley remains unchanged throughout the province. Bijhar (mixed barley and gram) is the cheapest food grain in Hissar and is sold at 20½ seers per rupee. The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar is 942.

North-West Frontier Province—There was no rain during the week. Sowings of spring crops and reaping of autumn crops are in progress. Fodder is procurable but is not sufficient. The water supply in canals is sufficient but rivers are running low in Peshawar. The price of wheat is rising in Peshawar but falling in Dera Ismail Khan.

Burma—Practically no rain has fallen except in Bassein, Myaungmya, Toungoo, the Ruby Mines District, and Kyaukse. Agricultural operations are much the same as last week. The reaping of early paddy has commenced in Amherst and is finished in the Southern Shan States. Sowing of wet weather paddy is completed. Agricultural operations in Yindaw and Yamethin, and sowing of late sesamum and beans in the Yeu sub-division of Shwebo are retarded for want of rain. In the Arakan division rain is badly wanted. In Pegu, Toungoo, and Prome the paddy crops on high lands have been damaged for want of rain. In Thaton some paddy crops are suffering, but elsewhere in Lower Burma the paddy crop is fair. Rain is still badly wanted in Upper Burma where the standing crops are withering in I hayetmvo, in most parts of Pakokku and Magwe, in parts of Shwebo, the Lower Chindwin Meiktila, Yamethin, and Myingyan. The outturn of paddy in the Upper Chindwin will be below normal only half of last year's area is under cultivation in Yindaw and Yamethin. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon, Prome, Thaton, and Pakokku.

Central Provinces—Light showers have fallen in parts of Jubbulpore, Wardha, Chanda and Sambalpur, elsewhere the week was rainless and bright cold weather has now set in. The harvesting of the autumn crops is proceeding. The rice crop promises an outturn of 12 per cent in Bhandara and 1 poor in Raipur. The sowings of the winter crops are in progress but in restricted areas. In Raipur early sowings have generally germinated well, but later sowings have been washed away in parts of the Northern Districts by previously reported heavy rains. Seedlings in Balaghat are suffering from want of moisture and in Chanda from insects. Grasshoppers are disappearing in Nimar but continue to damage crops in parts of Wardha. Insects are also damaging linseed and second crops in the Drug tahsil of Raipur. Prices are steady in six districts and show slight fluctuations in others. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat, 16, gram, 21½, rice, 15½, and juar, 22½. The highest prices are—wheat, 10, gram, 12½, rice, 9½ and juar, 11½. In Raipur the numbers on gratuitous relief are—adults 137, and children 100, total 237.

Assam—Light showers fell during the week in Upper Assam and in the Naga and Garo Hills. Rain is needed in Sylhet for the late rice which is being damaged by insects. The harvesting of early rice is nearly finished. The outturn is poor in Kamrup. Plucking and manufacture of tea, sowing of pulse and ploughing for and sowing of mustard are in progress. The prospects of tea are fair and those of winter rice and sugarcane fair every where except in Kamrup and Nowgong. The harvesting of late rice has commenced in the Surma Valley. Fodder is scarce in places. Prices—common rice—Silchar, 13½, Sylhet and Sibsagar, 13, Tezpur, 12½, Gauhati, 12, Nowgong, 11, Dibrugarh, 10½, and Dhubri, 9 seers per rupee.

Mysore—There was good rain generally throughout the province during the week. General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg—The rainfall of the week was 36 cents. The picking of cardamom and coffee continues. The prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The average rainfall during the week was 33 cents. The weather is cool. The standing crops are in fair condition. Cotton has suffered slightly owing to the recent rains. Locusts are still injuring crops in places. Sowing operations are nearing completion. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are fluctuating in parts of the Akola and Wun districts, elsewhere they are stationary.

Hyderabad—The rainfall during the week was 1 inch 3 cents. The rain has improved the prospects of the early rice and spring crops, but the cotton and til crops have suffered in parts. The autumn harvest continues. The early rice harvest has commenced. The standing rice and spring crops are in good condition. Prices—wheat, 6½, rice, 8½ and jowari, 21½ seers per hali rupee.

Rajputana—Agricultural operations are in progress. Damage by locusts is reported from Marwar and Jaisalmer. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grain was 43½ in Banswara and the highest 16½ seers in Marwar. The number of persons on relief were—Native States—on relief works, 7, gratuitous 1,279, total 1,286.

Central India—Slight rain fell during the week in Gwalior, Baghelkhand, Bhopawar and Indore. Agricultural operations have been completed in Indore and in parts of Gwalior and are in progress elsewhere. The crops are generally in fair condition. Juar, cotton and sil have, however, been slightly damaged by winter rain in Indore and in parts of Bhopawar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good, though the latter has been slightly injured in Bhopawar. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Baghelkhand, are falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and are low in Malwa. Average prices in seers per rupee—15 10 to 26 in Gwalior, 18 15 in Bhopal, 19 to 29 in Bundelkhand, 32½ in Malwa, 33 to 44 in Bhopawar, and 8 to 30 in Indore.

Baroda—The numbers on relief have decreased. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder and water are sufficient. The import of grain is adequate. Prices of food grains are slightly falling except in the Navsari and Kadi divisions where they are steady. The number of persons on relief was—On works—Baroda, 1,847, on gratuitous relief, 4,986, total 6,833.

Kashmir—The weather is bright and is becoming cooler. There was heavy rain at the end of the week. Prices are getting more above normal. Rice is selling at 14 seers per rupee. JAMMU—No rain. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat is selling from 14 to 23 and maize 15 to 36 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient. Spring sowings are in progress.

NEPAL—Report not received.

The number of persons in receipt of relief during the preceding and present weeks in each Province is shown in the following table—

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE INDIAN TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT FOR 1901 1902

I—GENERAL REPORT

General—Appendix D shows in a convenient form the growth of the Department from its commencement up to date

2 Finance—The Capital Account at the close of the year amounted to Rs 7,45,39,538, the expenditure on that head in 1901-1902 being Rs 37,16,122 Capital Account.

3 The revenue earned having been Rs 1,11,14,161 and the working expenses Rs 75,50,075, the surplus amounts to Rs 35,64,086, representing a return on Capital outlay of 4.77 per cent Revenue Account
App A pages 3 4

4 As compared with the previous year, the working expenses have increased by Rs 4,65,704, namely, Rs 15,381 under General charges, Rs 1,70,775 under Line maintenance, and Rs 2,70,548 under Signalling. The increase under Line maintenance is due to extensive re construction, and repairs to the older lines, which every year become necessary to enable them to carry the greater number of wires required. That under Signalling is attributable to a large increase of the signalling establishment necessary to cope with the growth of traffic Working expenses

5 The receipts which in the previous year aggregated Rs 1,14,98,682 fell to Rs 1,11,14,161 this year, owing to a decrease of Rs 6,10,191 in the message revenue. All the other heads of account show a satisfactory increase the most noticeable being Rs 1,71,655 in the rents from Railways and Canals for telegraph supplied for their use. The decrease in the value of telegrams is not associated with a corresponding decrease in their number, for while their value has decreased by 6.45 per cent, their number has increased by 0.4 per cent. The decrease in value is made up of Rs 5,76,197 under paid telegrams and Rs 33,994 under pro forma value of News free and Concessional telegrams. Of the former amount, Rs 2,64,098 represents the decrease in the value of State, and Rs 3,12,099 in that of Private telegrams. The cessation of hostilities in China sufficiently accounts for the diminution of State traffic, while the diversion of a large amount of foreign traffic from the Indian to the direct cable route via South Africa together with the reduction in the rates for foreign telegrams between India and Europe and the growing popularity of the deferred as compared with the ordinary and urgent classes for inland telegrams explain the decrease in the value of Private telegrams Receipts
App A pages 3 4

6 Telegraph Offices—The net additions during the year to the telegraph offices open for paid telegrams were 67 departmental and combined offices and 47 licensed telegraph offices. The total number of offices open at the end of the year was 5,292, namely, 2,086 departmental and combined offices, 3,276 railway offices and 10 canal offices Para 32 App D
page 8

7 Extensions—The net additions to the system maintained by the Telegraph Department comprised 772 miles of line and 8,708 miles of wire (including cable), making at the end of the year a total of 55,827 miles of line and 1,00,887 miles of wire. Of the latter, 64,912 miles were used by Railways, 3,17 miles by canals, 2,009 miles were worked in connection with Telephone Exchanges and Private Lines, and 118,794 miles were for Departmental purposes Para 38—40

8 Field Telegraphs—The system supplied last year in connection with the blockade of the Mahsud Waziris was maintained with slight modifications till 10th March 1902, when the blockade was raised Para 41

9 Telephones—The subscriptions to the Telegraph Department for telephone and similar services rendered during the year 1901 amounted to Rs 1,62,044 being Rs 914 in advance of the figures of the previous year. The average annual subscriptions for the past five years amount to Rs 1,51,417. From the 1st January 1902 the rate chargeable to the public for the rent of Telephones was reduced by 25 per cent and the method of calculating the charges, both for Telephone Exchanges and Private Lines, was simplified

10 The gross receipts of the Telephone Companies during the same calendar year amounted to Rs 4,63,843 representing an increase of Rs 25,767 over those of the previous year. Their average annual earnings during the past five years were Rs 4,13,178

11 Electrical—An electric light and fan installation was fitted up in the Madras Central Office. Greater use was made of Wheatstone's automatic instruments for the disposal of deferred traffic. Automatic instruments were fitted up in the Karachi and Agra offices. Electric power was introduced into the Telegraph Workshops at Alipur Calcutta for working a portion of the machinery. Preliminary experiments in Wireless Telegraphy were commenced at the close of the year Para 43

II—TRAFFIC

Number and value of paid telegrams

12 The number and value of telegrams of each class are given in Appendix D

13 In comparison with last year the total paid traffic of the year shows an increase of 26,173, or 0.40 per cent, in number, but a decrease of Rs 5,76,197, or 6.21 per cent, in value

Para 1 14 Inland Private telegrams show an increase of 19,784, or 0.41 per cent, in number, but a decrease of Rs 2,39,409, or 5.42 per cent, in value. This falling off in value is due to the greater use of the deferred as compared with the ordinary and urgent classes

15 Inland State telegrams as compared with the previous year, which, owing to the despatch of the expeditionary force from India to China, was an abnormal one for this class of traffic, show a decrease of 2,228, or 0.27 per cent, in number, and of Rs 2,45,567, or 10.67 per cent, in value

Para 31 16 In Foreign Private telegrams which include Press and all Foreign transit traffic, there has been an increase of 9,486, or 1.12 per cent, in number, but a decrease in value (Indian share) of Rs 72,630 or 3.00 per cent. The decrease in value is due to the reduction of the rates for telegrams between India and Europe and to the opening of the cable between Durban (South Africa) and Perth (Australia) which practically has resulted in all South Africa Australia traffic being exchanged direct instead of through India

Para 31 17 Foreign State telegrams compared with the previous year, the traffic during which was heavy on account of the correspondence in connection with the despatch of the China Expeditionary Force, show a decrease of 1,269, or 7.28 per cent, in number, and of Rs 18,531, or 13.22 per cent, in value (Indian share only). The decrease in value is also to some extent attributable to the reduction in rates between India and Europe on the 1st March 1902

Press telegrams

18 The statement below gives the number and value of Press telegrams, Inland and Foreign, dealt with during the year

	No	Value. Rs
Inland	36,787	1,46,699
Foreign	5,606	26,851 (Indian share only)
Total	42,393	1,73,550
Total for 1900-01	48,799	1,78,296

Press Inland traffic as compared with the previous year shows a decrease of 5,934 in number, and Rs 218 in value, or 13.89 and 0.14 per cent, respectively

Press Foreign traffic shows a decrease of 472 in number, and of Rs 4,528 in value (Indian share only), or 7.76 and 14.43 per cent, respectively, as compared with the previous year

The figures shown under the head Foreign represent the number of Press telegrams from and to India and the Indian share of their value, transit traffic to and from countries to the East and West of India being excluded

News free and Concessional Telegrams

19 The following statement shows the amount of this traffic during the year

Description of telegrams	No	Pro forma value Rs
Mail Steamer reports	431	58,241
Reuters Government and Press messages	1,066	55,367
French Government Service	834	4,563

Concessions on telegram for troops in South Africa	914	4,820
Concessions on telegrams for troops in China	2,108	3,853
Total	12,460	1,58,232
Total for 1900-01	12,906	1,92,226

Classification of Inland telegrams

20 The abstract given below shows the number and value of Inland telegrams classified under Urgent, Ordinary and Deferred during the year

Class	URGENT		ORDINARY		DEFERRED		TOTAL
	No	Value	No	Value	No	Value	No	Value

Proportion of Inland traffic under each class

21 The following statement shows the percentage of Inland traffic under Urgent, Ordinary and Deferred during the last three years

Class		1899 00		1900 01		1901 02
		No	Value	No	Value	No	Value
			Rs		Rs		Rs
STATE	Deferred	67.49	41.15	64.71	33.45	71.22	4.47
	Ordinary	19.61	16.88	17.96	13.54	17.14	16.35
	Urgent	12.90	41.97	17.33	52.98	11.64	41.18
	TOTAL	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00
PRIVATE	Deferred	61.64	12.55	63.23	43.74	69.15	51.15
	Ordinary	37.76	42.53	31.00	40.85	26.15	35.62
	Urgent	5.64	14.92	5.71	15.43	4.63	13.23
	TOTAL	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00
PRESS	Deferred	84.51	74.62	81.55	70.73	85.14	65.79
	Ordinary	10.3	10.90	12.10	13.85	10.39	21.59
	Urgent	5.16	14.48	5.76	15.42	4.47	12.62
	TOTAL	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00	100.00

It will be observed that the percentage of Deferred telegrams in each of the above classes continues to increase while that of both Urgent and Ordinary telegrams is decreasing. The increasing popularity of the Deferred class telegram is a clear and satisfactory indication of the efficiency of the service generally.

Telegraphic Money Order Advices

22 The table below shows the number of Telegraphic Money Order Advices dealt with during the last five years

Year	India Total	Indo Ceylon
		Outgoing	Incoming	Total
1897-98	156,513	573	15,928	16,501
1898-99	160,909	770	15,178	15,948

1900-01	181,864	982	21,495	22,477
1901-02	174,878	1,227	18,522	19,742

* Exclusive of Rs 20,015 on account of Abbreviated Addresses and of Rs 1,090 on account of debit adjustments

Total number of Signalling Operations

23 The following statement shows the total number of sent telegrams, paid service and free, the total number of signalling operations entailed in their despatch from the office of origin to destination with the necessary repetitions at intermediate offices, and lastly the average number of signalling operations per sent telegram, for the past five years

Year	Total number of sent telegrams, paid service and free	Total number of signalling operations	Average number of signalling operations per sent telegram
1897-98	6,372,233	31,792,779	5.02
1898-99	6,050,231	29,895,310	4.94
1899-00	6,949,446	35,147,932	5.05
1900-01	7,181,428	36,239,264	5.04
1901-02	7,154,268	35,795,604	5.00

The decrease in the average number of signalling operations per telegram is principally due to the extended use of automatic working over long distances, e.g. from Bombay to Rangoon and Madras to Rangoon, thereby avoiding the necessity for repetition at intermediate offices (Paragraph 43)

Communication between India and foreign countries

24 Communication with Europe via Suez was uninterruptedly maintained by the Eastern Telegraph Company throughout the year. The Tcheran route was interrupted for about 13½ hours in all, against 106 hours in the previous year. The Turkish route was interrupted for 1,051 hours as against 1,227 hours in the previous year. Details of the traffic which passed over these routes during the year are given in Appendices B and C

25 Communication with the Cape by the cables along the East Coast of Africa was maintained without interruption throughout the year. The restrictions placed by the British Government at Aden, Durban and Cape Town on telegrams for places in East and South Africa mentioned in paragraph 25 of last year's report, were relaxed during the year, telegrams for certain offices in the Orange River Colony and in the Transvaal being accepted if composed of words taken from one or other of the Codes deposited with the authorities at Aden, Durban or Cape Town, and those for other offices in these colonies if written in plain English.

26 Communication with Siam over the Moulmein-Bangkok line via Kanburi was interrupted for about 46 days as against 31 days in the previous year. There was only one interruption, lasting 2½ days within the Indian frontier. The line from Moulmein to Raheim via Myawaddy was interrupted for about 4 days only as against 41 days in the previous year.

27 Communication with the Straits Settlements was maintained uninterruptedly throughout the year, by the cables of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company. The opening of an alternative and cheaper route to the Straits Settlements by the linking up of the Siamese telegraph system with that of the former, via Kanburi was notified at the beginning of the year. Unfortunately, however, the frequent and prolonged interruptions to this route, especially on the section Moulmein-Bangkok, referred to in the preceding paragraph, rendered it practically useless.

28 The land route to China was interrupted beyond the Indian frontier for about 106 days in the aggregate against 152 days in the previous year. Within the Indian frontier there were only two interruptions, lasting 24 and 14 hours, respectively.

Events of interest

29 On the 1st November 1901, a cable connecting Durban (South Africa) with Perth (Australia) was successfully laid establishing an alternative route between England and Australia. The rates between those countries via Durban are the same as those via India, and as a consequence a considerable decrease in revenue to the Government of India on the traffic transiting India may be expected.

30 Almost concurrently with the completion of the above cable, namely, on the 1st January 1902, the through rates between Europe and Australia were reduced from 3s. 6d. to 3s., but this reduction did not affect the Indian transit share on that traffic.

31 The most important event of the year, however, as far as India is concerned, was the successful conclusion of the negotiation with the Administrations concerned, for a reduction of the tariff between India and Europe. These negotiations which had continued since 1899 have resulted in the tariff via the Indo-European, and the Eastern Telegraph Cable Company's routes being reduced from 4s. (francs 5) to 2s. 6d. (francs 3.125) a word, from the 1st March 1902. It was also agreed that the countries to the West of India excluding Africa should receive the benefit of this reduction on traffic transmitted by either of the above mentioned routes. From the same date the Government of India abolished the extra terminal charge to and from Burma in respect to the same traffic. The agreement which resulted in the above reductions was subject to the Government of India undertaking to guarantee the (1) Indian Joint Purse against loss for 15 years, to the extent of paying one third of the deficiency in the yearly revenue of the Joint Purse below the assumed standard revenue of £360,000 subject to a maximum yearly guarantee of £45,000. The anomaly of the rates between Europe and Australia being less than those between Europe and India has now been removed.

Telegraph Offices

32. The number of departmental and combined offices open on the 31st March 1902 was 2,006—2,54 first class, 531 second class, and 1,421 third class. In addition to these the Department technically supervised 2,915 Railway and Canal telegraph offices, of which 2,029 were open to the public for paid message traffic. There were also 1,365 telegraph offices controlled and supervised by Railway Companies, of which 1,257 were open to the public.

Meteorological

33. The following telegraph offices are meteorological observation stations

Ahmednagar	Chaman	Karachi	Rawalpindi
Akshob	Cherat	Lucknow	Saugor Island
Arrah	Chittarong	Munpuri	Serajm
Astor	Chupra	Maldia	Sirsa
Pahraich	Cuddalore New Town	Malegaon	Skardu*

Signalling Establishment

34. The sanctioned departmental signalling staff having become inadequate for the prompt disposal of the increased traffic the Government of India in their letter No. 972 of the 5th September 1900, sanctioned a gradual increase as required during the four subsequent years up to 25 per cent, thereby raising the sanctioned strength from 1,868 to 2,335. Up to the 31st March 1902, 340 signallers had been appointed against this sanction leaving only 121 to provide for future requirements up to the specified period. It is anticipated that the full sanctioned number will be employed by the end of 1902-03, when it will be necessary to still further increase this establishment. At the close of the year the signalling establishment stood as follows:

Departmental Telegraph Meters and Signallers	2,194
Unattached List {
Warrant Officers	7
Non-Commissioned Officers	13
Military Telegraphists	461
Postal employees	2,268
Other non departmental signallers	2
TOTAL	4,945
Total for 1900-01	4,751

35. During the year 279 soldiers were granted certificates of proficiency in telegraphy, and at its close 276 were under training. The corresponding numbers for the previous year were 200 and 184 respectively.

36. The number of Volunteers in the Department was 756 against 673 in the previous year. Of this number, 743 were efficient or extra efficient and 43 non efficient. Prizes aggregating Rs. 1,470 were granted from the Line Fund for proficiency in drill and shooting.

Post Office Agency

37. Ninety-two telegraph offices were opened in post offices during the year and eighteen offices closed. The following statement shows the number of combined offices

* These are Kashmir State telegraph offices

open at the end of each of the last five years, and the number and value of telegrams sent from them, as well as the total number of signalling operations during those years

Year	NUMBER OF COMBINED OFFICES				Number of paid telegrams	Value of paid telegrams	Total number of signalling operations

During the year, 401 postal signallers were granted certificates of proficiency in telegraphy and at its close 186 were under training. The numbers for the previous year were 358 and 137 respectively.

III—EXTENSION AND MAINTENANCE OF LINES

Extent of system and additions during the year

38 Appendix D shows the mileage of line and wire maintained by this Department at the end of each year from 1855-56 to date, and Appendix A shows the purposes for which the lines were maintained at the close of 1900-01 and 1901-02. The net additions during the year were 772 miles of line and 8,708 miles of wire (including cable).

Principal construction works carried out

39 Departmental lines—New lines were constructed from Russellkonda to Phulbari, 52 miles; from Purbhani to Mominabad, 51 miles; from Paran to Kotah, 44 miles; from Vajitri to Maninoddy, 25 miles; from Aska to Suradi, 24 miles; from Mandasaur to Sitamau, 20 miles; from Chiniot Road to Chiniot, 16 miles (in substitution of the road line from Jhang to Chiniot, 52 miles, which has since been dismantled); and a second line of posts from Satriachi near Calcutta, to Kharagpur, 68 miles.

Additional wires were erected on the following sections:

	Miles of wire
Calcutta to Madras (300 lb. per mile copper wire)	1,072
Howrah to Satriachi, Kharagpur (one 200 lb. and one 300 lb. per mile copper wire to replace 2 of those on the former circuitous route between Calcutta and Bombay via Kanungri and Satriachi)	346
Bombay to Bhusawal (2 iron wires)	554
Bhusawal to Agra (300 lb. per mile copper wire in completion of a through copper wire from Bombay to Agra via Khundwa and Jhansi)	560
Ahmedabad to Lajapur, 84 miles, and Phulera to Agra, 184 miles (to complete a through wire from Agra to Ahmedabad)	268
Agra to Delhi via Achnera, Brindaban and Kosi	135
Marwar Railway Junction to Khundiwa (300 lb. per mile copper wire to complete a through copper circuit from Karachi to Bombay via Marwar Railway Junction, Khundiwa and Phusawal— vide foot-note to paragraph 39 of Report for 1900-01)	403
Neemuch to Kutlam	85
Guna to Poran	77
Nandurbar to Amalner	59
Asinsol to Baniapur	207
Belusara to Khagaria	26
Barun to Gya	49
Allahabad to Kishanpur Combined Office Junction	56
Cawnpur to Hussunganj Combined Office Junction	61
Calcutta to Nattore	145

	Miles of wire
Parbattipur to Dhubri	186
Alamnagar (Rangpur) to Kuchbehar	51
Gauhati to Dimapur	157
Khopoli to Poona	48
Poona to Belgaum	243
Karad to Belgaum (2 wires)	262
Akalkot to Gulbarga	56
Jalna to Hyderabad Deccan	274
St. Thomas' Mount to Chingleput	27
Tanjore viz Trichinopoly to Madura	131
Calicut to Polachi Junction at Podirur	110
Lahore to Amritsar	33
Quetta to Khanai	30
Madras Postal Telephone system	73
Telephone system for Boer Camp at Umballa	25

Two copper wires of 300 lbs. per mile each between Rangpur and Sini, aggregating 194 miles have been taken down, this route between Calcutta and Bombay having been abandoned in favor of the shorter railway route from Calcutta via Khargpur and Sini, along which two copper wires have been erected.

40 Railway and Canal lines—The following were the principal new lines constructed

For the Assam-Bengal railway, from Lakshmi to Chowmahani 21 miles

For the Bengal Nagpur railway, from Midnapur to Pankura 21 miles, from Dobra to Boopoodch 73 miles, and for the Satpura Branch, from Khetanighat (Verbudda) to Gondia, 147 miles

For the Burma railways from Bassein to Henzada, 85 miles, and from Letpadan to Tharrawa, 23 miles

For the East Indian railway from Barun to Daltongiri, 19 miles

For the Kalol-Vijapur railway from Kalol to Vijapur, 29 miles

For the Madras railway from Shoranur to Ernadalam 64 miles

For the South Indian railway, from Madura to Tamban, 30 miles, and from Tinnevely to Shencotta 21 miles

For the Agra canal from Muttra to Okhla, 92 miles

For the Bagari Desert canal, from Kashmir to Humber 52 miles

For the Jhelum canal from Risul to Shahpur 51 miles

For the Multan-Sidhnai canal, from Multan viz Nawabpur to Bosan, 14 miles

For the Western Jammu canal, from Rohtal to Safidan, 35 miles

Field Telegraphs

41 The system of field telegraphs supplied for the Mahsud Blockade in 1900 or was maintained with slight modification up to the 10th March 1902 when, the blockade being raised, the greater part of the lines was dismantled and all the offices were either closed or retransferred to the departmental account at the close of the year

Interruptions to communication

42 The interruptions to communication which occurred during the year are classified below according to the causes to which they were attributed

Preventable causes
	No.	Duration Hr.
Faults on lines and cables	445	5 359
Unpreventable causes
Cyclones and exceptional storms	328	6 214
Floods	41	1 563
Lightning	75	1,437
Fires	28	475
Trees falling other than by cyclones, etc.	368	5,501
Birds and animals	512	5 812
Malice	139	1 024
Other unpreventable causes	326	5 012
TOTAL ON LINES AND CABLES	2 265	33 117
Faults in offices	304	3 776
Unknown causes	371	3 742
GRAND TOTAL	2,940	40 595
Total for 1900 or	3 180	40 833

As compared with the previous year, the interruptions which occurred in 1901-02 show a decrease of 75 per cent in number and 185 per cent in aggregate duration. These results are satisfactory especially so in view of the large extension of the line and wire mileage during the year (paragraph 38). There were 17 cases of theft of copper wire from the lines. In connection with three of these cases, which occurred in or on the outskirts of the town of Madras, four persons were arrested, three of them were convicted and sentenced to two years rigorous imprisonment, and the fourth died in prison before the case was concluded. A fifth man was later on arrested while trying to dispose of the stolen wire and was convicted and sentenced to eight months rigorous imprisonment. In another case which occurred 8 miles from Karachi a conviction was also obtained.

On the North West Frontier 33 interruptions were ascribed to malicious damage to the lines by the frontier tribes. All these cases were reported at the time of their occurrence to the Political Authorities concerned and it is understood the necessary action has been taken by them to prevent such wilful damage in future.

IV—ELECTRIC AL

43. The storage batteries in use in Calcutta continue to give satisfaction. The Clerks and Puncters employed in connection with the working of Wheatstone's Automatic instruments having become better acquainted with, and more expert in, their duties, it has been possible to make greater use of these instruments. All the circuits on which they were in operation worked well throughout the year, with the single exception of Madras to Calcutta which is attributable to the low insulation prevailing along the East Coast portion at night when the Automatic instruments are usually worked. Steps have been taken to remedy the defective insulation by substituting Johnson and Phillips oil insulators for those now on this section. Automatic instruments were fitted up in the Agra office on the 2nd April 1901 and in the Karachi office on the 5th May 1901. The following are some of the longer circuits on which Automatic instruments are worked:

Bombay to Rangoon, 2,226 miles, with Nagpur, Calcutta and Akvab in translation.

Madras to Rangoon, 2,040 miles, with Vizagapatam, Calcutta and Akvab in translation.

Bombay to Calcutta, 1,223 miles, with Nagpur in translation.

Madras to Calcutta, 1,037 miles, with Vizagapatam in translation.

Bombay to Karachi, 1,002 miles, direct.

Electric motors have been introduced in the Workshops at Alipur for driving the machinery in the carpenters', smiths' and rivet shops, and also some of the light machines in the instrument shop. They were started on the 1st March 1902 and have been found extremely useful and convenient. With electric power it is possible to drive many machines which could not be conveniently driven from steam plant.

V—STORES AND WORKSHOPS

44. The number of packages imported and exported by the Store Branch was 625,337 in 1901-02 as compared with 592, in 1900-01. The saving effected by the use of Government vessels for the conveyance of stores amounted to Rs. 9,000, the weight of the stores thus conveyed being 826 tons. The corresponding figures for the previous year were Rs. 29,350 and 1,460 tons.

45. The value of the outturn from the Alipur Workshops on completed orders was Rs. 10,98.69 as compared with Rs. 8,57,430 in 1900-01. The increase is due in a great measure to the largely augmented demand for tubular posts and angle iron for iron brackets, over 55,000 tubes and 47,000 of these brackets having been turned out during the year.

The standardising of the instrument manufacture has been continued with very satisfactory results.

Electric power was introduced towards the close of the year for driving a portion of the machinery, and its use will be further extended (paragraph 43). Several new automatic and semi-automatic machines have been brought in use. They have been found to pay extremely well and to enable much more work to be done with cheaper and almost unskilled labor which can be easily procured.

The 21st November 1902

No 3530—The Governor General in Council has received with profound regret the news of the death of Sir John Woodburn, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Entering the Civil Service as long ago as 1863, the deceased officer had risen through all the grades of promotion, everywhere performing his duties with conspicuous integrity and efficiency, and endearing himself alike to superiors and to subordinates, to his own countrymen, and to the people of India.

These services were nowhere more meritorious or crowned with greater success than in the Province of Oudh, where many years of his life were passed and where his name will long be held in affectionate remembrance.

At length in 1898 Sir John Woodburn received the prize of the service on being appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

In that exalted station, though serving in a province to which he had for the greater part of his career been a stranger the late Lieutenant-Governor speedily acquired a close familiarity with the work and the people identifying himself with their interests, and earning in an unusual degree the esteem and confidence of the leaders of the community.

In the sympathetic and unflinching execution of his duties, which carried him to every part of his vast charge were sown the seeds of the disease that has cut him off in his prime but to which he did not succumb without a struggle conducted with un murmuring patience and in a spirit of characteristic courage and tenacity.

The Governor General in Council mourns the premature loss of this distinguished public servant, whose career will always remain a bright example of public and private virtue, and he tender his respectful sympathy to the widow and family of the deceased.

The 20th November 1902

No 3494—In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 17 and 27 of the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878) the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the following further amendments shall be made in the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No 518, dated the 6th March 1879, as amended by subsequent notifications, namely—

Paragraph 1—For the words “rifles of 303 bore or rifles of 450 or 577 bore of the Martini Henry or Snider pattern” substitute the words “rifles of 303 bore or rifles of 450 bore of the Martini Henry pattern”, and for the words “patterns” substitute the word “pattern”.

Paragraph 1 clause 8—Substitute the following revised clause—

“(8) All retired officers of the Native Army who are in receipt of a pension as such or who not being in receipt of such a pension, have been recommended for exemption by their Commanding Officers by entry recorded on their discharge certificates and such pensioned officers of the Civil Departments as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct.”

Paragraph VI, Note to Rule 5 and Rule 11—For the words “rifles of 303 bore or rifles of 450 or 577 bore of the Snider and Martini Henry patterns” and “rifles of 303 bore or rifles of 450 or 577 bore of the Snider or Martini Henry pattern” respectively, substitute the words “rifles of 303 bore or rifles of 450 bore of the Martini Henry pattern”.

Paragraph VI, Rule 13B—For the words “rifles of the 303 bore or rifles of 450 or 577 bore of the Snider or Martini Henry pattern” and “a rifle of the 303 bore or a rifle of the 450 or 577 bore of the Snider or Martini Henry pattern”, respectively, substitute the words “rifles of 303 bore or rifles of 450 bore of the Martini Henry pattern” and “a rifle of 303 bore or a rifle of 450 bore of the Martini-Henry pattern”.

After the words “on application” add the words “to a military officer who is in possession of a rifle or carbine of 303 bore as part of his military equipment, or”.

Paragraph VI, Rules 16A and 16B—Substitute the following revised rules—

16A—Licenses may be granted to cultivators, contractors and other persons without payment of any fee entitling the holders to possess and transport gunpowder and fuses, and to transport dynamite, blasting gelatine and detonating caps, in reasonable quantities, when the same are proved, to the satisfaction of the officer granting the licenses, to be required bona fide for blasting purposes. Such licenses shall be granted in Form No XII appended to these Rules.

16B—In the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay and in the Lower Provinces of Bengal general licenses may be granted to dealers to transport dynamite, blasting gelatine, detonating caps and other explosive material required bona fide for blasting purposes. Such licenses for which no fees will be charged shall be available for one year and shall be in Form XII A appended to these Rules. At the Presidency towns they will be granted by the Commissioner of Police and elsewhere by the District Magistrate. Every such license shall authorize the licensee to deliver consignments of such explosive material to the consignee, subject to the following conditions, namely—

(1) that the licensee and the consignee have taken out licenses for the possession of explosives under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884),

- (ii) that the rules to regulate the manner of transport of explosives, published with the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No 5528, dated the 11th October, 1901, are duly observed,
- (iii) that within twenty four hours of the despatch of each consignment full information regarding the nature, quantity and destination thereof is furnished by the licensee to the authority granting the license and also to the Magistrate of the district to which the explosives are consigned
- (iv) that the licensee shall with each consignment of explosive material conveyed by cart under cover of his license, issue a pass in the form appended to Form XII A specifying the places from and to which the explosive material is to be conveyed, and the quantity of the explosive material covered by his license
- (v) that where a consignment of explosive material is transported by cart, the person in charge of the cart shall not smoke, nor permit smoking, on or dangerously near the same

"Where a consignment of explosive material covered by a license in Form XII A is transported by cart, any person who being in charge of the cart, either smokes, or permits smoking, on or dangerously near the same, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees."

Form XII—Substitute the following heading "License to possess and transport gun powder and fuses and to transport dynamite, blasting gelatine and detonating caps for bonâ fide blasting purposes"

Add the following form as No XII A to the forms appended to these rules —

Quetta, the 13th November, 1902

No 7866—The Agent to the Governor General and Chief Commissioner in Baluchistan is pleased to direct that the holidays specified in the schedule hereto annexed shall be observed as public holidays in all public offices in Baluchistan. These holidays will be given to all Government servants subject to the conditions that (i) it shall be open to the head of an office to stop a holiday specified in the schedule in the case of any individual guilty of idleness or inattention to duty unless the day in question is deemed specially acted by the members of the religion which the offender professes, and (ii) no urgent work is required.

2 In addition to the holidays specified in the schedule, all public offices will be closed from Saturday the 2nd, to Friday, the 8th January, 1903 both inclusive, on account of the celebration of the Coronation of His Imperial Majesty the King Emperor and Queen Alexandra, subject to the condition that arrangements are made for the dispatch of urgent business.

3 Local holidays such as the annual Horse Fairs may be granted at the discretion of heads of offices, provided always that there are no arrears of work and no inconvenience is caused thereby.

4 Holidays will be granted by heads of offices to all Hindus on the festivals of—

- (1) Basant Panchmi Monday, the 2nd February 1903
- (2) Sheoatri Wednesday, the 25th February, 1903

THE HONOURABLE THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF AJMER-MERWARA.

NOTIFICATION

Abu, the 13th November, 1902

No. 1462—401-A.—The following draft of a notification, which it is proposed to issue in exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), is published for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Ajmer Merwara on or after the 15th December, 1902

2 Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft before the date aforesaid will be considered by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner

DRAFT NOTIFICATION

In exercise of the power conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), and with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, the Chief Commissioner is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the granting of licenses to possess and to transport petroleum in the Province of Ajmer-Merwara

Possession of Petroleum

I For the purposes of these rules, "petroleum in bulk" means petroleum in any vessel or receptacle having a capacity of 300 gallons and upwards

II (1) The District Magistrate may grant licenses—

(a) in Form A for the possession of dangerous petroleum equal to or less than forty gallons, and

(b) in Form B for the possession of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum and not being in bulk, in quantities exceeding 500 and not exceeding 5,000 gallons

(2) The District Magistrate, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, may grant licenses in Form C for the possession of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum and not being in bulk, in quantities exceeding 5,000 and not exceeding 50,000 gallons

(3) The Chief Commissioner may grant licenses for the possession—

(a) of dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding forty gallons, and

(b) of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in bulk, to be stored in accordance with such special conditions as may in each case be prescribed by him and in places of which the plans and specifications have his previous approval

III (1) Petroleum, of which the possession is permitted under a license in Form A or B, shall be stored in a building constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk to a depth of not less than two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the building in case of fire

(2) Petroleum, of which the possession is permitted under a license in Form C, shall be stored in a building constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways or other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than three feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk to a depth of not less than three feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the building in case of fire, and there shall be a clear open space of at least twenty feet round the building

IV The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the possession of petroleum and dangerous petroleum under these rules—

Petroleum

	R
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 500 gallons, but does not exceed 1,000 gallons	6
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 1,000 gallons, but does not exceed 5,000 gallons	1 Extra for each 1,000 gallons or part of 1,000 gallons in excess of 1,000 gallons
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 5,000 gallons	2 For every (additional) 1,000 gallons, or part of 1,000 gallons in excess of 5,000 gallons

Dangerous Petroleum

When the quantity possessed is equal to, or less than 40 gallons	R
When the quantity possessed exceeds 40 gallons, for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	3

V Every license for the possession of petroleum in any place shall specify the maximum quantity of petroleum which may be stored in that place

VI Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained in Rule XV, every license for the possession of petroleum shall be in force until the 31st of December next following the grant of the license

Transport of Petroleum

VII (1) Licenses for the transport of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in quantities exceeding 500 gallons, may be either general or special. Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum shall be special only

(2) Petroleum to be transported shall be packed in airtight tins or other vessels not easily broken, or be contained in bottles securely stoppered and carefully packed so as to avoid risk of breakage

(3) Licenses for the transport of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in bulk by rail may be granted, if the petroleum is contained in wagons approved by the railway administration over whose line it is proposed to transport it.

(4) Licenses may be granted by the Chief Commissioner for the transport of dangerous petroleum exceeding 40 gallons and not being in bulk according to such special conditions as may in each case be prescribed by him

VIII General licenses in Form F for a period of twelve months shall be issued for transport by cart only. Such licenses shall authorize the holders to transport by cart petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, being their own property, without restriction as to destination or quantity

IX The holder of a general license shall, with each consignment of petroleum conveyed under cover of his license, issue a pass in Form G appended to these rules, specifying the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and the quantity of petroleum covered by it. Each pass shall be numbered, and the number of the general license shall be legibly marked on a conspicuous part of the last case on the cart. The person or persons in charge of the carts shall not permit them to be moved after sunset or before sunrise or to carry any light

X Special licenses in Forms D and E for the transport of petroleum shall be in force for such period, not exceeding six months from the date of the grant of the license, as may be specified in the license

XI Every special license for the transport of petroleum shall specify the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, the quantity of petroleum covered by the license, and the time for which the license is in force

XII Applications for special licenses for the transport of petroleum by rail, by cart, or by both these modes of conveyance, shall specify the description and quantity of petroleum to be transported, and the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and shall describe the receptacles in which it is to be contained, or in the case of petroleum to be transported in bulk by rail, shall state that the wagon in which it is to be carried has been approved as required by Rule VII (3)

XIII When a license has been granted under these rules for the transport of petroleum, the District Magistrate or any subordinate Magistrate or police officer of, or above, the rank of Head Constable empowered by him in writing for this purpose, may at any time after sunrise and before sunset, and on or before the arrival of the petroleum at its place of destination detain any cart used for such transport, for the purpose of inspecting the license and seeing whether its provisions are being complied with

XIV The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the transport of petroleum under these rules —

Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum

When the quantity of dangerous petroleum to be transported exceeds 40 gallons, for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	R
When the quantity of dangerous petroleum to be transported does not exceed 40 gallons	4

Special license for the transport of petroleum other than dangerous petroleum

When the quantity to be transported exceeds 500 but does not exceed 5,000 gallons	R
For every additional 5,000 gallons or part of 5,000 gallons	1
General license for the transport of petroleum by cart for twelve months	100

General

XV Licenses granted under these rules shall be in the forms, and shall have endorsed on them the rules and conditions, respectively, prescribed in the schedule hereto annexed. Every such license shall be liable to be forfeited for any contravention of the Act, or of any rule thereunder, or of any condition contained in such license, or for any other good and sufficient reason to be recorded in writing by the licensing officer, or where the license is granted by the Chief Commissioner, by an Assistant to the Chief Commissioner.

XVI Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made in the same manner as an application for an original license. Every such application shall be made not less than fifteen days before the date on which the original license will expire. The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a license as for a new license.

XVII The licensing officer may, for special reasons to be reported to the Chief Commissioner, refuse a license in any case. The reason for refusing a license shall be communicated to the applicant, if a request to that effect is preferred by him.

XVIII (1) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner against every order of the District Magistrate refusing or cancelling a license.

Provided that the appeal be filed within one month after the communication of such order to the appellant.

(2) The order of the Commissioner, in appeal or otherwise, shall be subject only to revision by the Chief Commissioner.

NOTIFICATION

MUNICIPAL OFFICE

Dated 7th October, 1902

No 3024.—Under the provisions of sections 43 and 44 (8) of the Bangalore Municipal Law of 1897, it is hereby notified that the Municipal Commission of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, with the sanction of the Hon'ble the Resident in Mysore and the Governor General in Council, make the following amendment to their notification No 4573, dated the 30th September, 1899 —

For—

Clause (iv) "Private buildings and premises during the period of such occupancy"

Substitute—

"The following lands and buildings are exempted from the water tax, but not from, the charges notified above, with effect from the 1st January, 1903 —

"(i) Private buildings and premises which are wholly occupied by persons who are in the employment of the Secretary of State and in active duty in the Civil and Military Station in any of the Military Departments of the Government of India during the period of such occupancy

THE HONOURABLE THE AGENT TO THE GOVERNOR GENERAL AND CHIEF COMMISSIONER, NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.

NOTIFICATIONS

Peshawar, the 14th November, 1902

No. 248—It is hereby notified that the holidays to be observed in public offices under the administration of the Hon'ble the Agent to the Governor General and Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province during the year 1903, which are specified in the schedule hereto annexed, are public holidays within the meaning of section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, XXVI of 1881. These holidays should be given to all Government servants subject to the single condition that it should be open to the head of an office to stop a holiday notified under the Act in the case of any individual guilty of idleness or inattention to duty, unless the day in question is deemed specially sacred by the members of the religion which the offender professes.

2 In addition to the holidays specified in the schedule all Government offices will be closed from Friday, the 2nd to Thursday, the 11th January, 1903, both inclusive, on account of the celebration of the Coronation of His Imperial Majesty the King Emperor and Queen Alexandra, subject to the condition that arrangements are made for the despatch of urgent business, and on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the 28th, 29th, and 30th December, 1902.

3 Local holidays for great festivals of fairs peculiar to particular places may be granted at the discretion of heads of offices, provided always that there are no arrears of work. Heads of offices may also, subject to the same condition, permit the last Saturday of every month to be observed as a holiday in the English and Vernacular offices. In such cases all establishments should be allowed, subject to the condition laid down in the case of public holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act, to take full advantage of the holiday.

4 This notification does not apply to holidays to be observed in Civil Courts.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a m on Thursday, the 20th November 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports
of the period

During the week under review India has been practically rainless except in the south

To the south of a line joining Mangalore on the West Coast with Nellore on the East Coast, there has been general and moderately heavy rain. During the week two rainy periods occurred over this area—the first lasting from the 14th to the 16th in Malabar and South India and from the 14th to the 15th on the East Coast, the second lasting from the 18th to the 20th in Malabar and South India and from the 17th to the 20th on the East Coast. During the first rainy period falls of over 3 inches of rain in 24 hours were registered at Nellore and Innervelly, of over 2.5 inches at Calicut and Madura and of over 1 inch at Irivandrum and Cochin. During the second rainy period fall of over 2.5 inches in 24 hours were recorded at Nellore and Cuddalore, and of over 1 inch at Calicut, Madras and Negapatam.

To the north of the line mentioned above light showers of rain occurred as follows in Tenasserim on the 18th and 19th, in the Assam Valley on the 15th and 16th, in Kashmir on the 14th, 18th and 19th, in Baluchistan on the 18th, along the West Coast, north of Mangalore on the 19th, in the Deccan on the 18th, 19th and 20th, and in the West Satpuras on the 20th, then showers were generally small and unimportant.

The table below shows that rain was recorded during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz—Burma Coast, Brahmaputra Valley, the Simla Hills, Baluchistan, the West Coast, the West Satpuras, the Deccan, South India and the East Coast (South), but was of importance only in the Calicut, Bellary, Mysore and Madura sub-divisions, and the East Coast (South) division. In the case of the Calicut and Madura sub-divisions and of the East Coast (South) division the week's rainfall was roughly twice as heavy as usual.

The seasonal percentage excess variations are steadily growing in the extreme south, but in other parts of the country there are no important changes in the seasonal conditions.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday,
the 15th November, 1902

Madras—The rainfall of the week was good in the Carnatic and Southern districts, fair in Central and West Coast districts and the Nilgiris, and light or nil elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue generally. The standing crops are generally fair. The harvest of the early crops continues with a fair yield. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally. Rice is below or approaching the normal in parts of the Central, Southern and West Coast districts and dry grains are below or approaching the normal in parts of the Circars and the Central and Southern districts.

Bombay—There was slight rain during the week in parts of Kanara and very slight falls in parts of Ratnagiri, Satara, Bijapur, and Dharwar. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts, rats, or insects in parts of Sindh, Ahmedabad, Surat, Ratnagiri, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Bijapur, and Baroda. They are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Nasik and are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops has been completed in Hyderabad and is nearly over in Karachi, Thana, and Ratnagiri, and continues in almost all other districts. Threshing is in progress in parts of Sindh, Thana, and Satara. The sowing of spring crops is nearly over in Satara, and continues in parts of Sindh, Gujarat, Thana, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Dharwar, Kathiawar, and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Satara, the Carnatic, and Baroda. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar and Khandesh. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Agricultural stock is in good condition, and generally sufficient except in parts of Bijapur and Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in parts of the Upper Sindh Frontier, Satara, and Dharwar. Prices have fallen in six districts, risen in one district, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to the normal and prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows—Ahmedabad and Jamkhandi, 38, Sholapur, 48, Ahmednagar and Mudhol, 40, Poona, 34, Bijapur, 44, Belgaum, 42, Kathiawar, 33.

The daily average numbers of persons on relief during the week were—BRITISH DISTRICTS—On relief works, 2,752, dependants, 822, total on works, 3,574. In poor-houses 2,235, on village relief, 25,731, total on gratuitous relief, 27,966. Figures for Thar and Parkar are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—On relief works, 1,191, dependants, 16, total on works, 1,207. In poor-houses, 1,405, on village relief, 146, total on gratuitous relief, 1,551. Figures for Palanpur are incomplete. Grand total, 34,358.

Bengal—No rain. In Orissa the paddy crop and the spring sowings have suffered for want of rain. Hooghly, Nadia, Saran, Palamau, and Singhbhum also require rain for the young spring crops, elsewhere prospects of crops are generally good and in some districts excellent. Harvesting of winter rice has commenced in places. Spring crops and poppy are being sown. There is no want of fodder or water. The price of common rice has risen in four districts, fallen in seventeen, and is stationary in the rest.

United Provinces—There was no rain during the week except six cents in Dehra Dun. Rain is said to be required in Lucknow for the spring sowings and the late rice crop in Gorakhpur is reported to have been slightly damaged for want of it. The harvesting of autumn crops and sowing for the spring crops are going on. Fodder and supplies are ample, and prices continue stationary or falling.

Punjab—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Rawalpindi and Shahpur. Sowings of spring crops continue. Moisture on dry land in Sialkot is decreasing. The harvesting of autumn crops is finished in all districts except Jullundur and Lahore. Cotton is being picked in all districts. The outturn of irrigated crops is good and that of unirrigated average or below average on the whole. The autumn pulses are below average. The millet and maize are good, and cotton is fair. The outturn of cotton and rice in Sialkot is reported good to average on irrigated and below average on unirrigated lands. In Shahpur the yield of Kullush millet and great millet is above average and that of cotton below average. The standing crops are reported to be in good condition. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient except in parts of Hisar, Multan, and Amritsar. Prices of wheat are slightly rising in Amritsar and Shahpur, falling in Jullundur, Multan, Mianwali, Lahore, and Rawalpindi, and are unchanged elsewhere. Price of gram is falling in Hissar, Jullundur, Lahore, and Rawalpindi, and is unchanged elsewhere. Bijhar (mixed barley and gram) is the cheapest food grain in Hissar and is sold at 21 seers per rupee. The average number of persons gratuitously relieved in Hissar is 899 against 942 last week.

North-West Frontier Province—There was no rain during the week. Reaping of the autumn crops is nearly finished. Spring sowings are in progress. The prospects of crops are generally average. Fodder is procurable, but is not sufficient. Water in canals is sufficient, but rivers are running low in Peshawar. Prices of wheat are stationary.

Burma—LOWER BURMA—Except a few showers here and there, rain has only fallen in Sindoway, Bassein, and the Ruby Mines Districts. Reaping of early paddy has commenced in Akyab, Henzada, Tavoy, Thavetmyo, and Bhamo, and other agricultural operations continue as reported last week. Want of rain has caused great damage to the paddy crop in Akyab. The standing crops in Upper Burma are withering in parts. In regard to the paddy planted after the rise of the river in October as well as dry crops in parts are expected to fail. In Kyaukse, Mandalay division, and the Shan States the standing crops are fair. In Shwebo they are also fair but are withering in parts. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and six other districts. In Magwe, Mandalay, and Kyaukse the rise has been very rapid.

Central Provinces—The week has been rainless. The rice crop in parts of Nagpur, Chanda, Bhandara, Bilaghat, Raipur, and Bilaspur must now be a serious failure. Other autumn crops are fairly good in these districts, except in Bhandara and Raipur where all autumn crops are poor. In other districts the autumn crops are generally good. Harvesting and cotton picking are in progress. The recent rain is reported to have caused some damage to juar and cotton in parts of Wardha and Nagpur, but the winter sowings have benefited everywhere. Winter sowings are approaching completion, though in Bhandara, Bilaghat, and Raipur some of the land is too dry to admit of sowing. Germination is generally good, except in these three districts and in parts of Wardha where the dryness of the soil has caused damage. The present prospects of the spring crops are good in the northern districts, but rain is required in the southern districts. Grasshoppers are fast disappearing everywhere. Some insects have attacked tur in the Hinghghat taluk of the Wardha district, also juar and castor in Chanda, and the young winter seedlings in Bilaghat and Raipur. Scarcity of water is felt in parts of Nagpur, Bhandara, and Chanda. Prices have risen in Damoh, but show a tendency to fall in Nimar and Betul. In other districts there is but little change. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat, 17; gram, 21; rice, 16; and juar, 22½. The highest prices are—wheat, 11; gram, 12½; rice, 9½; and juar, 17½. In Kupur the numbers on gratuitous relief are—adults 137, children 102, total 239. Two hundred and seventy-seven persons are also employed on tank works in the Katangi pargannah of the Bilaghat district.

Assam—Light rain is reported from Darrang, Sibsagar, and Lakhimpur, but there was none elsewhere. The weather is seasonable. The harvesting of early rice is nearly finished. The outturn is poor in Kamrup. Plucking and manufacture of tea, sowing of pulse, and ploughing for and sowing of mustard are in progress. Prospects of tea are fair. Those of winter rice are also fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup. Sugarcane is fair, except in Kamrup and Nowgong. The harvesting of late rice is in progress in the Surma Valley. Fodder is scarce in places. Prices—common rice—Sylhet, 16; Sylhet, 13½; Sibsagar 13; Tezpur, 12½; Gauhati, 2; Nowgong 11½; Dibrugarh, 11; and Dhubri, 9 seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rainfall—22 cents in Civil and Military station and good rain in parts of the province. General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg—Picking of cardamom and coffee continues. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The weather is cool. Crops are in fair condition. Picking of cotton continues, and the cutting of juar has commenced in the Akola district. Locusts are damaging crops in parts of the Illichpur district. Sowings are almost completed. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are fluctuating.

Hyderabad—The rainfall during the week was 14 cents. The autumn harvest continues and the early rice harvest has begun in parts. Spring sowings are approaching completion, and the crop is in good condition. Winter rice is being sown in a few talukas. Prices—wheat, 6½; rice, 8½; and jowari, 21½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana—Agricultural operations are in progress. The standing crops are fair to good. Harvesting of autumn crops is in progress. The condition of cattle is good.

Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grains was 36 seers in Kotah and the highest 13 seers per rupee in Sirohi. The number of persons on relief were—Native States—on gratuitous relief, 703

Central India—Slight rain fell in parts of Indore during the week. Agricultural operations have been completed in parts of Gwalior and are in progress elsewhere. Crops, agricultural stock, and pasturage are generally good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and are low in Malwa. The average prices in seers per rupee were—15 13 to 20-11 in Gwalior, 19 13 in Bhopal, 19 to 28 in Bundelkhand, 33 in Malwa, 33 to 44 in Bhopawar, and 9½ to 28½ in Indore. Opium operations have been started in parts of Gwalior.

Baroda—The numbers on relief have decreased. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder and water are sufficient. The import of grain is adequate. Prices of food grains are slightly falling except in the Nivsari division, where they are steady. The number of persons on relief was—On relief works—Baroda, 1,096, on gratuitous relief, 3,869, total 4,965.

Kashmir—The weather is bright and cooler. There was rain on the first two days of the week, and snow has also fallen on the surrounding hills. Prices are getting more above normal. Rice is selling at 14 seers per rupee. JAMMU. No rain. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat is selling from 14 to 20, maize 21 to 35 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient. Autumn crops are being harvested, and sowings are in progress.

Nepal—Rainfall nil. The weather is cloudy and cold. Morning mists have commenced. Lowland rice is being harvested. Price of rice is 9½ seers for the rupee.

The number of persons in receipt of relief during the preceding and present weeks in each Province is shown in the following table—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATIONS

Calcutta, the 25th November 1902

No 27 —Whereas by Resolution passed by the Secretary of State for India in Council on the 6th day of October, 1870, the provisions of sections 1 of the Government of India Act, 1870 (33 Vict., Cap 3), were declared applicable to the districts comprised in the North-West Frontier Province as constituted by the Proclamation issued with the Notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No 5780-P dated the 25th October, 1901

And whereas the Chief Commissioner of the said North-West Frontier Province has proposed to the Governor General in Council a draft of the following Regulation, together with the reasons for proposing the same

And whereas the Governor General in Council has taken the draft and reasons into consideration, and has approved of the draft and the same has received the assent of the Governor General on the 18th day of November 1902

In pursuance of the direction contained in the said section the said Regulation is now published in the Gazette of India and local Gazette for the said North-West Frontier Province

REGULATION NO IV OF 1902

A Regulation to provide for the better realisation of the dues known as Tirmi, Bua and Hâk Talukdari in the Teri Tahsil of the District of Kohat in the North West Frontier Province

Whereas from time immemorial the Khan of Teri for the time being has levied the dues known as tirmi and bua in the estates of the Teri Tahsil of the District of Kohat in the North West Frontier Province, which are now held by the said Khan on istamrari tenure,

And whereas the right to levy the said dues has from time to time been recognised and sanctioned by the Government and enforced by the Courts,

And whereas the right of the said Khan to levy the said dues has been disputed, and the realisation of the same by separate suit is attended with difficulty and delay,

And whereas it is expedient to declare the right of the said Khan to levy the said dues and to provide for the effective and speedy realisation of the said dues, and also of the hâk talukdari payable to the said Khan

It is hereby enacted as follows —

1 (1) This Regulation may be called the Teri Dues Regulation, 1902, and

(2) It extends to the Teri Tahsil of the District of Kohat in the North-West Frontier Province

2 In this Regulation unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) the expressions "estate", "landowner", "land-revenue" and "Revenue officer" have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Punjab Land revenue Act, 1887,

(b) "tirmi" means the dues payable to the Khan of Teri for the time being for the grazing of sheep, goats and camels by the owners of the same in the estates held by the said Khan on istamrari tenure

(c) "bua" means the house tax payable to the said Khan by non-agriculturists resident in the estates held by the said Khan on istamrari tenure, and

(d) "hâk talukdari" means the dues which the said Khan is entitled to receive in respect of land of which he is the superior landowner from the inferior landowners thereof, and which have been commuted, under section 146 of the Punjab Land revenue Act 1887 into a fixed percentage of the land-revenue

3 Subject to the provisions of section 4, the said Khan may levy tirmi and bua at rates not exceeding those specified in the schedule, in all the estates held by him on istamrari tenure

4 The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette,—

(a) fix for all or any of the said estates the rates, not exceeding those specified as aforesaid, at which tirmi and bua shall be leviable by the said Khan therein respectively, and

(b) direct that the levy of the said dues shall be subject to such exceptions (if any) as it may think fit

5 Tirmi, bua and hâk talukdari shall be payable harvest by harvest, along with the instalments of land revenue due to the said Khan

6 In case of default under this Regulation, the amount of tirmi, bua or hâk talukdari payable to the said Khan may be realised, by order of a Revenue officer, as if it were an arrear of land revenue

7 With the previous sanction of the Local Government, the said Khan may, by order in writing signed or sealed by him,—

(a) exempt any persons from payment of tirmi or bua, or both of the said dues,

(b) assign to any person his right to collect either or both of these dues, and

(c) cancel any such exemption or assignment. Provided that—

(i) no such exemption or assignment shall in any case continue in force beyond the life of the said Khan, and

(ii) no such assignment shall empower the assignee to realise the dues assigned in the manner provided by section 6

8 (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette make rules to carry out the purposes and objects of this Regulation

THE HONOURABLE THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF AJMER-MERWARA

NOTIFICATION

Abu, the 13th November, 1902

No. 1462—401-A —The following draft of a notification, which it is proposed to issue in exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), is published for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Ajmer Merwara on or after the 15th December, 1902

- 2 Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft before the date aforesaid will be considered by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner

DRAFT NOTIFICATION

In exercise of the power conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), and with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, the Chief Commissioner is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the granting of licenses to possess and to transport petroleum in the Province of Ajmer-Merwara

Possession of Petroleum

I For the purposes of these rules, "petroleum in bulk" means petroleum in any vessel or receptacle having a capacity of 300 gallons and upwards.

II (1) The District Magistrate may grant licenses—

(a) in Form A for the possession of dangerous petroleum equal to or less than forty gallons and

(b) in Form B for the possession of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum and not being in bulk, in quantities exceeding 500 and not exceeding 5,000 gallons

(2) The District Magistrate, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, may grant licenses in Form C for the possession of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum and not being in bulk, in quantities exceeding 5,000 and not exceeding 50,000 gallons

(3) The Chief Commissioner may grant licenses for the possession—

(a) of dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding forty gallons, and

(b) of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in bulk, to be stored in accordance with such special conditions as may in each case be prescribed by him and in places of which the plans and specifications have his previous approval

III (1) Petroleum, of which the possession is permitted under a license in Form A or B, shall be stored in a building constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk to a depth of not less than two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the building in case of fire

(2) Petroleum of which the possession is permitted under a license in Form C, shall be stored in a building constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof and the doorways or other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than three feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk to a depth of not less than three feet below the level of the road or street so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the building in case of fire, and there shall be a clear open space of at least twenty feet round the building

IV The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the possession of petroleum and dangerous petroleum under these rules —

Petroleum

	R
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 500 gallons, but does not exceed 1 000 gallons	6
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 1,000 gallons but does not exceed 5 000 gallons	1    Extra for each 1 000 gallons or part of 1 000 gallons in excess of 1 000 gallons
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 5 000 gallons	2    For every (additional) 1 000 gallons or part of 1 000 gallons in excess of 5 000 gallons

Dangerous Petroleum

When the quantity possessed is equal to or less than 40 gallons	3
When the quantity possessed exceeds 40 gallons for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	5

V Every license for the possession of petroleum in any place shall specify the maximum quantity of petroleum which may be stored in that place

VI Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained in Rule XV, every license for the possession of petroleum shall be in force until the 31st of December next following the grant of the license

Transport of Petroleum

VII (1) Licenses for the transport of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding 500 gallons, may be either general or special. Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum shall be special only

(2) Petroleum to be transported shall be packed in airtight tins or other vessels not easily broken, or be contained in bottles securely stoppered and carefully packed so as to avoid risk of breakage

(3) Licenses for the transport of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in bulk by rail may be granted if the petroleum is contained in wagons approved by the railway administration over whose line it is proposed to transport it

(4) Licenses may be granted by the Chief Commissioner for the transport of dangerous petroleum exceeding 40 gallons and not being in bulk according to such special conditions as may in each case be prescribed by him

VIII General licenses in Form F for a period of twelve months shall be issued for transport by cart only. Such licenses shall authorize the holders to transport by cart petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, being their own property, without restriction as to destination or quantity

IX The holder of a general license shall, with each consignment of petroleum conveyed under cover of his license, issue a pass in Form G appended to these rules, specifying the places from and to which respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and the quantity of petroleum covered by it. Each pass shall be numbered, and the number of the general license shall be legibly marked on a conspicuous part of the last case on the cart. The person or persons in charge of the carts shall not permit them to be moved after sunset or before sunrise or to carry any light

X Special licenses in Forms D and L for the transport of petroleum shall be in force for such period, not exceeding six months from the date of the grant of the license, as may be specified in the license

XI Every special license for the transport of petroleum shall specify the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, the quantity of petroleum covered by the license, and the time for which the license is in force

XII Applications for special licenses for the transport of petroleum by rail, by cart or by both these modes of conveyance, shall specify the description and quantity of petroleum to be transported, and the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and shall describe the receptacles in which it is to be contained, or in the case of petroleum to be transported in bulk by rail, shall state that the wagon in which it is to be carried has been approved as required by Rule VII (3)

XIII When a license has been granted under these rules for the transport of petroleum, the District Magistrate or any subordinate Magistrate or police officer of, or above, the rank of Head Constable empowered by him in writing for this purpose, may at any time after sunrise and before sunset, and on or before the arrival of the petroleum at its place of destination, detain any cart used for such transport, for the purpose of inspecting the license and seeing whether its provisions are being complied with

XIV The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the transport of petroleum under these rules —

Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum

	R
When the quantity of dangerous petroleum to be transported exceeds 40 gallons for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	4
When the quantity of dangerous petroleum to be transported does not exceed 40 gallons	2

Special license for the transport of petroleum other than dangerous petroleum

	R
When the quantity to be transported exceeds 500 but does not exceed 5,000 gallons	1
For every additional 5,000 gallons or part of 5,000 gallons	1

General

XV Licenses granted under these rules shall be in the forms, and shall have endorsed on them the rules and conditions, respectively, prescribed in the schedule hereto annexed. Every such license shall be liable to be forfeited for any contravention of the Act, or of any rule thereunder, or of any condition contained in such license, or for any other good and sufficient reason to be recorded in writing by the licensing officer, or where the license is granted by the Chief Commissioner, by an Assistant to the Chief Commissioner.

XVI Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made in the same manner as an application for an original license. Every such application shall be made not less than fifteen days before the date on which the original license will expire. The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a license as for a new license.

XVII The licensing officer may for special reasons to be reported to the Chief Commissioner, refuse a license in any case. The reason for refusing a license shall be communicated to the applicant, if a request to that effect is preferred by him.

XVIII (1) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner against every order of the District Magistrate refusing or cancelling a license.

Provided that the appeal be filed within one month after the communication of such order to the appellant.

(2) The order of the Commissioner, in appeal or otherwise, shall be subject only to revision by the Chief Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a m on Thursday, the 27th November 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports
of the period

Rain has again been practically confined to the extreme south of the Indian region, and even in this region has been less heavy and less extensive than in preceding weeks. Along the West Coast light showers occurred at several stations on the 21st, after which date the fall practically ceased. In South India there were moderate and general showers on the 21st and 22nd, and light showers on the 27th. The heaviest fall in 24 hours in this division was 2 inches at Trichinopoly on the 21st. Rain fell over the East Coast (South) on the 21st and 22nd and again on the 27th, the fall having practically ceased on the intervening days. The rainfall in this area was heavier than in any other part of India, falls of 2 inches in 24 hours having been reported at Negapatam on the 21st and of 2.5 inches at Madras and of 3.5 inches at Negapatam on the 27th, outside these three divisions any rain fall was exceedingly light, but showers were reported over the West Satpuras and the Deccan on the 21st, and on the Burma Coast on the 22nd. The weather has been very unsettled during the week in the Persian area, and this unsettled weather extended eastward into Baluchistan on the 21st and into Kashmir and the extreme north-west of India on the 24th, occasioning light showers in these regions. The remainder of India has been rainless.

The table below shows that light rain was received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz — Burma Coast, the Himalayas and Sub-Himalaya West, the North West Dry Area, Baluchistan, Waltair, the West Coast, the West Satpuras, Bijapur, Madras and the East Coast (South). The average actual rainfall of the week varied from a few cents in most divisions to over 4 inches in the East Coast (South). The week's rainfall was in considerable to large excess in the East Coast (South) division and the Madras sub-division of South India, and in trifling excess in the Bijapur and Bombay sub-divisions and the Baluchistan division.

The seasonal percentage variations show a moderate excess of rain in the Madras sub-division and the East Coast (South) division, and a moderate deficiency of rain in the Burdwan, Raipur, Jubbulpore, Jaipur and Indore sub-divisions, and a slight deficiency on the West Satpuras division and the Hyderabad sub-division.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday,
the 22nd November, 1902

Madras—The rainfall of the week was good in the Carnatic, in the Central and Southern districts and in the hills, fair in Cuddapah and on the West Coast, and light or nil elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. The harvest of early crops continues with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally.

Bombay—There was moderate rain during the week in parts of Ahmednagar, Poona and Sholapur, and slight falls in parts of Colaba, Ratnagiri, Khandesh, Nasik, Satara, Carnatic and Kanara. More rain is needed in parts of Satara. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad, Nasik, Poona, Satara, Rajkot and Baroda, and by insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Bijapur. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Ahmedabad and Belgaum, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops is completed in Hyderabad, is almost over in Karachi, Thana, Ratnagiri and Colaba, and generally continues elsewhere. Threshing continues in parts of Sindh, Thana, Colaba, Nasik and Satara. Spring sowings are nearly completed in Karachi and Satara, and are in progress in parts of other districts of Sindh and in parts of Gujarat, Thana, Colaba, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Dharwar, Wadhwan and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Satara, Bijapur and Dharwar, but is poor in parts of Nasik and Poona. Licking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar and Khandesh. The fodder supply is sufficient. Agricultural stock is generally in good condition and sufficient except in parts of Bijapur. The water supply is deficient in parts of the Upper Sindh Frontier and Satara. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at headquarters were as follows:—Ahmedabad, 38, Sholapur, 50, Ahmednagar, 43, Poona, 34, Bijapur, 57, Kathiawar and Palanpur, 33, Mudhol, 48. Prices have fallen in six districts, risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered.

The daily average number of persons on relief during the week was:—British Districts—on relief works, 1,141, dependants 63, total on works 1,304. In poor houses 2,053, on village relief, 17,744, total on gratuitous relief, 19,797. Figures for Thar and Parkar are incomplete. Native States—on relief works, 1,030, dependants 33, total on works, 1,063. In poor houses, 1,238, on village relief, 74, total on gratuitous relief 1,312. Figures for Palanpur and Sangli are incomplete. Grand total 23,576.

Bengal—No rain fell during the week except a slight shower at Kurseong. Rain is needed for the winter rice and spring crops in Nadia, Jessore, Saran, Singhbhum, and in Orissa. Prospects are otherwise good. The harvesting of winter rice is in progress. Sowing of spring crops and poppy still continues. Sugarcane is being pressed in places. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has increased in five districts, decreased in thirteen and remains unchanged in the rest.

United Provinces—The weather has been clear during the week. The irrigation of spring crops has commenced. Sowing of poppy continues and sugarcane is being pressed. Slight injury to crops from insects is reported in two tahsils of Banda. Prices are practically stationary.

Punjab—Very slight rain has fallen in parts of Rawalpindi. Sowings of spring crops are completed in Hissar and Ferozepore, and are in progress in other districts on irrigated lands. In Hissar only one sixth of the spring crops on irrigated areas have been sown for want of rain. Autumn harvesting is over except cotton and sugarcane. The former is being picked and the latter pressed. The outturn of autumn crops in Amritsar is reported to be good, in Sirikote it is average on irrigated and below average on unirrigated areas. Rice is reported good on irrigated and below average on unirrigated lands. The standing crops are reported to be good. Rain is urgently wanted. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient except in parts of the Mooltan and Amritsar districts. The price of wheat has risen slightly in Amritsar, fallen in Jullundur, Ferozepore and Rawalpindi, and is unchanged elsewhere. The price of gram is falling in Hissar, Jullundur, Ferozepore, Amritsar and Shahpur, and is unchanged in other districts. The cheapest food grain in Hissar is bijhar (mixed barley and gram) which is sold at 21½ seers per rupee. Gratuitous relief operations have been closed in Hissar.

North West Frontier Province—The rainfall of the week was 3 cents at Peshawar only. The reaping of autumn crops and sowings of spring crops are nearly finished. Grain is being housed and the prospects of crops are generally average. Fodder is procurable, but is not sufficient. Water in canals is sufficient, but rivers are running low in Peshawar. The price of wheat is stationary.

Burma—Rainfall nil except showers in Tavoy, Mergui and the Southern Shan States. The reaping of early paddy has commenced in Tharrawady, Thaton, Lower Chandwin and Kyaukse. Reaping of hillside paddy and sowing of miscellaneous crops on alluvial land are approaching completion in parts. Plucking of cotton has commenced in the Kama township of Thayetmyo. Seed beds for dry weather paddy have been prepared in Mandalay. In the Arakan division much of the paddy crop has withered. In Prome about two fifths of the crop has been destroyed by drought, and the outturn on the remainder is estimated at less than half the normal. In Thaton and Myaungmya and the Kyaukse township of Bassein and on high ground in Lounzoo and Pegu the paddy crop is suffering from drought, elsewhere in Lower Burma the paddy crop is promising. In Upper Burma in irrigated tracts the crops promise well, but the want of water is felt in the Songaing township of Kyaukse and the Salin tract of Minbu. In Shwegu and Bhamo one-fifth of the paddy crop has been destroyed. In Mandalay sesamum and unirrigated paddy have felt the effects of drought. In parts of Shwabo wet weather crops have failed for want of rain. The standing crops in most parts of Upper Burma are withering for want of rain. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and three other districts, in Amherst Magwe, Kyaukse, Yamethin the rise has been very rapid. In Myaungmya and Minbu the price has fallen. The price of rice has also risen very rapidly in Kyaukse, Yamethin, Tharrawady and Thaton.

Central Provinces—The week has again been rainless. The harvesting of autumn crops and the picking of cotton continues. The condition of the autumn crops is much the same as that previously reported, but the prolonged break has caused some deterioration everywhere. The winter sowings have generally been completed and the late rain in the northern districts tended to extend these sowings. The germination of winter crops has been very good in the northern districts and fair to good elsewhere except in Bhandara, Balaghat and in parts of Wardha and Raipur, where germination is on the whole unsatisfactory owing to insufficiency of moisture. The wheat and linseed crops are showing signs of withering in these districts for want of moisture, but the present prospects of the winter crops are good elsewhere. Some damage by insects is reported from Wardha, Nagpur, Chanda, Bhandara and Raipur and by caterpillars from Bilaspur. Grasshoppers have disappeared except in parts of the Khandwa taluk of that district. Fodder and water are generally ample, but some scarcity of water is beginning to be felt in some districts. Prices show a tendency to fall. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 17, gram 22, rice 16½, and juar 28. The highest prices are—wheat 11, gram 12½, rice 10 and juar 18. In Raipur the numbers on gratuitous relief are—adults 219, children 145, total 364. 365 persons are also employed on tank works in the Katangi pargana of the Balaghat District.

Assam—There has been no rain during the week. The weather is seasonable. Harvesting of early rice is finished except in Darrang, the outturn is poor in Kamrup and fair in Darrang. Plucking and manufacture of tea, sowing of pulse, ploughing for and sowing of mustard, and harvesting of late rice are in progress. Pressing of sugarcane has commenced in Cachar and Lakhimpur. Outturn of tea is fair. Prospects of winter rice and sugarcane are fair except in Nowgong and in parts of Kamrup. Fodder is scarce in places. Prices—common rice—Silchar 16, Sylhet 14, Itanagar and Sibsagar 13, Gauhati 12, Dibrugarh 11½, Nowgong 11, and Dhubri 10 seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rainfall 24 cents in the Civil and Military Station and good rain in parts of the State. Prices are steady. General prospects are good. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg—Picking of cardamom and coffee continues. The rice crop is maturing. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The rainfall of the week was 66 cents. The weather is cool. The standing crops are in good condition except in the Basim district, where they have suffered owing to recent rains. The cutting of juar continues in Akola, and picking of cotton has commenced in three districts. Locusts have appeared in parts of the Akola, Amraoti and Ellichpur districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are steady.

Hyderabad—The rainfall of the week was 53 cents. The autumn harvest continues. The early rice harvest has begun generally. Spring sowings are nearly completed and the winter rice sowings have commenced. The week's rainfall was injurious to the standing autumn and spring crops in parts. Prices—wheat 6½, rice 8½, and juar 23 seers per balli rupee.

Rajputana—Agricultural operations are in progress. The standing crops are fair to good. The harvest is very good in Kherwara and is estimated at 12½ annas in Ajmer-Merwara. Locusts are causing damage throughout the Jaisalmer State. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grains was 36 seers in Kotah and the highest 13 seers per rupee in Sirohi. The number of persons on relief was—Native States—on gratuitous relief 711. Relief works have been closed in Kishengarh.

Central India—There were light showers during the week in parts of Dhar, but none elsewhere. Agricultural operations are in progress and have been completed in parts of Gwalior. Crops are generally in good condition. Fuar has been slightly injured by locusts and insects in Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. The average prices in seers per rupee were—18 to 30-13 in Gwalior, 21 to 28 in Bundelkhand, 33 in Malwa, 36 to 44 in Bhopal, and 8 to 30 in Indore. Opium operations have been started in Bhopal and in parts of Gwalior. Locusts visited the Khargone district in Indore on the night of 21st October, they covered an area of about 1½ square miles.

Baroda—The numbers on relief have slightly increased in Kad and Navsari divisions. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder and water are sufficient. The import of grain is adequate. Prices of food grains are slightly falling except in the Navsari division, where they are steady. The number of persons on relief was—on works—Baroda 1,144, on gratuitous relief 3,885, total 5,029.

Kashmir—The weather is bright and cooler except for the last three days of the week when it was cloudy and rainy. Snow has also fallen on the surrounding hills. Prices are stationary. JAMMU—There was little rain during the week. Prices are stationary. Wheat is selling from 13 to 19, and maize 21 to 35 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is good. Fodder is sufficient. The spring sowings are in progress in some parts and have been completed in others. The autumn crops have been harvested.

Nepal—Rainfall nil. The weather is frosty and cold. The harvesting of rice is finished and the outturn is good. The price of rice is 9½ seers per rupee.

The number of persons in receipt of relief during the preceding and present weeks in each Province is shown in the following table—

THE HONOURABLE THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF AJMER-MERWARA.

NOTIFICATION

Ajmer, the 13th November, 1902

No 1462—401 A.—The following draft of a notification, which it is proposed to issue in exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), is published for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Ajmer-Merwara on or after the 15th December, 1902

2 Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the draft before the date aforesaid will be considered by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner

DRAFT NOTIFICATION

In exercise of the power conferred by section 9 of the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), and with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, the Chief Commissioner is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the granting of licenses to possess and to transport petroleum in the Province of Ajmer-Merwara

Possession of Petroleum

I For the purposes of these rules, "petroleum in bulk" means petroleum in any vessel or receptacle having a capacity of 300 gallons and upwards.

II (1) The District Magistrate may grant licenses—

(a) in Form A for the possession of dangerous petroleum equal to or less than forty gallons, and

(b) in Form B for the possession of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum and not being in bulk, in quantities exceeding 500 and not exceeding 5,000 gallons

(2) The District Magistrate, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, may grant licenses in Form C for the possession of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum and not being in bulk, in quantities exceeding 5,000 and not exceeding 50,000 gallons

(3) The Chief Commissioner may grant licenses for the possession—

(a) of dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding forty gallons, and

(b) of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in bulk, to be stored in accordance with such special conditions as may in each case be prescribed by him and in places of which the plans and specifications have his previous approval

III (1) Petroleum, of which the possession is permitted under a license in Form A or B, shall be stored in a building constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk to a depth of not less than two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the building in case of fire

(2) Petroleum, of which the possession is permitted under a license in Form C, shall be stored in a building constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways or other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than three feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk to a depth of not less than three feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the building in case of fire, and there shall be a clear open space of at least twenty feet round the building

IV The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the possession of petroleum and dangerous petroleum under these rules —

Petroleum

	R
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 500 gallons, but does not exceed 1,000 gallons	6
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 1,000 gallons, but does not exceed 5,000 gallons	1
	Extra for each 1,000 gallons or part of 1,000 gallons in excess of 1,000 gallons
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 5,000 gallons	2
	For every (additional) 1,000 gallons, or part of 1,000 gallons in excess of 5,000 gallons

Dangerous Petroleum

When the quantity possessed is equal to or less than 40 gallons	2
When the quantity possessed exceeds 40 gallons, for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	3

V Every license for the possession of petroleum in any place shall specify the maximum quantity of petroleum which may be stored in that place

VI Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained in Rule XV, every license for the possession of petroleum shall be in force until the 31st of December next following the grant of the license

Transport of Petroleum

VII (1) Licenses for the transport of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in quantities exceeding 500 gallons may be either general or special. Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum shall be special only

(2) Petroleum to be transported shall be packed in airtight tins or other vessels not easily broken, or be contained in bottles securely stoppered and carefully packed so as to avoid risk of breakage

(3) Licenses for the transport of petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, in bulk by rail may be granted, if the petroleum is contained in wagons approved by the railway administration over whose line it is proposed to transport it

(4) Licenses may be granted by the Chief Commissioner for the transport of dangerous petroleum exceeding 40 gallons and not being in bulk according to such special conditions as may in each case be prescribed by him

VIII General licenses in Form F for a period of twelve months shall be issued for transport by cart only. Such licenses shall authorize the holders to transport by cart petroleum, other than dangerous petroleum, being their own property, without restriction as to destination or quantity

IX The holder of a general license shall, with each consignment of petroleum conveyed under cover of his license, issue a pass in Form G appended to these rules, specifying the places from and to which respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and the quantity of petroleum covered by it. Each pass shall be numbered, and the number of the general license shall be legibly marked on a conspicuous part of the last case on the cart. The person or persons in charge of the carts shall not permit them to be moved after sunset or before sunrise or to carry any light

X Special licenses in Forms D and E for the transport of petroleum shall be in force for such period, not exceeding six months from the date of the grant of the license, as may be specified in the license

XI Every special license for the transport of petroleum shall specify the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, the quantity of petroleum covered by the license, and the time for which the license is in force

XII Applications for special licenses for the transport of petroleum by rail, by cart, or by both these modes of conveyance, shall specify the description and quantity of petroleum to be transported, and the places from and to which, respectively, the petroleum is to be conveyed, and shall describe the receptacles in which it is to be contained, or in the case of petroleum to be transported in bulk by rail, shall state that the wagon in which it is to be carried has been approved as required by Rule VII (3)

XIII When a license has been granted under these rules for the transport of petroleum, the District Magistrate or any subordinate Magistrate or police officer of, or above the rank of Head Constable empowered by him in writing for this purpose, may at any time after sunrise and before sunset, and on or before the arrival of the petroleum at its place of destination, detain any cart used for such transport, for the purpose of inspecting the license and seeing whether its provisions are being complied with

XIV The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the transport of petroleum under these rules —

Licenses for the transport of dangerous petroleum

When the quantity of dangerous petroleum to be transported exceeds 40 gallons, for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	4
When the quantity of dangerous petroleum to be transported does not exceed 40 gallons	2

Special license for the transport of petroleum other than dangerous petroleum

When the quantity to be transported exceeds 500, but does not exceed 5,000 gallons	1
For every additional 5,000 gallons or part of 5,000 gallons	1

General

XV Licenses granted under these rules shall be in the forms, and shall have endorsed on them the rules and conditions, respectively, prescribed in the schedule hereto annexed. Every such license shall be liable to be forfeited for any contravention of the Act, or of any rule thereunder, or of any condition contained in such license, or for any other good and sufficient reason to be recorded in writing by the licensing officer, or where the license is granted by the Chief Commissioner, by an Assistant to the Chief Commissioner.

XVI Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made in the same manner as an application for an original license. Every such application shall be made not less than fifteen days before the date on which the original license will expire. The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a license as for a new license.

XVII The licensing officer may, for special reasons to be reported to the Chief Commissioner, refuse a license in any case. The reason for refusing a license shall be communicated to the applicant, if a request to that effect is preferred by him.

XVIII (1) An appeal shall lie to the Commissioner against every order of the District Magistrate refusing or cancelling a license.

Provided that the appeal be filed within one month after the communication of such order to the appellant.

(2) The order of the Commissioner, in appeal or otherwise, shall be subject only to revision by the Chief Commissioner.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a m on Thursday, the 4th December 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports
of the period

The whole of India, except the extreme south, has been rainless during the week under review and dry weather with very low humidity percentages has prevailed over Northern and Central India. In only three divisions has rain been received, viz, the West Coast to the south of Mangalore, South India and the East Coast (South). In the first rain was confined to light showers at Cochin and Calicut on the 28th November and light to moderate showers at Trivandrum, Cochin and Calicut on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th December. The heaviest fall in 24 hours in this division was 1.35 inches reported from Calicut on the 4th. In South India there occurred general light showers on the 28th November and general moderate showers on the 4th December, the rainfall during the intervening five days having been generally light and sporadic, on the 4th Tinnevely, Trichinopoly and Wellington reported showers exceeding 1 inch in amount. In the East Coast (South) the rainfall was heavier and more general than in the other southern districts. More than 1 inch of rain fell at Nellore on the 29th November, at Negapatam on the 1st and 2nd December, at Madras on the 3rd December and at Cuddalore on the 4th, while at Madras on the 4th the amount reported was 5.25 inches and at Negapatam 5.75 inches. The weather has continued very unsettled in Persia, and on the 28th November and the 4th December unsettled weather and rain extended into Baluchistan.

The table below shows the average actual rainfall received during the week in Baluchistan, the Calicut sub-division, the South India division and the East Coast (South) division. In the case of the East Coast (South) division and the Madura sub division of South India the week's rainfall was twice as heavy as usual and in the Calicut sub division was 50 per cent. heavier.

With the present weekly rainfall return a fresh rainfall period is commenced so that the information is the same in both halves of the following table.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday,
the 29th November, 1902.

Madras—The rainfall of the week was good in the Carnatic and the Southern Districts, nil in the Circars, the Deccan and the West Coast, and light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally in fair condition. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally.

Bombay—There was no rain during the week. More rain is needed in parts of Nasik, Ahmednagar, and Satara. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Karachi, Sukkur, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Nasik, by insects in parts of Ahmedabad, are suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Belgaum, and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops is completed in the Panch Mahals, Kaira and Ratnagiri, is almost over in the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thana, Colaba and Bijapur and generally continues elsewhere. Threshing continues in parts of Sindh, Thana and Colaba and has commenced in parts of Ahmednagar. Spring sowings have been completed in Panch Mahals, Khandesh and Nasik, are nearly over in Karachi, and are progressing elsewhere. Cotton is in good condition in Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Satara, Bijapur, Belgaum and Dharwar, but is in poor condition in Poona and Nasik. Picking continues in Thar and Parkar and Khandesh. The fodder-supply is generally sufficient. Agricultural stock is in good condition and sufficient except in parts of Dharwar. The water supply is deficient in parts of the Upper Sindh Frontier and Satara. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows—Ahmedabad, 38, Sholapur, 59, Ahmednagar, 44, Poona, 34, Bijapur, 53, Kathiawar, 35, Palanpur, 34. Prices have fallen in seven districts, risen in two districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The price of rice is slightly below normal in Guzarat and the Carnatic, about normal in the Deccan, and slightly over the normal in the Konkan and compared with 1901 is generally easier. The price of bajri is below the normal in Guzarat and the Carnatic and slightly over the normal in the Deccan and Konkan and compared with 1901 is about the same in Konkan, is easier in Guzarat and the Deccan and considerably easier in the Carnatic. The price of jua is below the normal in Guzarat and the Carnatic, slightly over the normal in the Deccan and considerably over the normal in Konkan, and compared with 1901 about the same in Konkan and considerably easier elsewhere. The price of wheat is over the normal in Guzarat and considerably over the normal in the Deccan, Konkan and Carnatic, and compared with 1901 is slightly easier.

The daily average number of persons on relief during the week was—British Districts, - on relief works 609, dependants, 176, total on works, 785. In poor houses, 1,568, on village relief, 12,502, total on gratuitous relief, 14,070. Figures for Ahmedabad, Sholapur and Thar and Parkar are incomplete. Native States—on relief works, 225, dependants, 31, total on works, 256. In poor-houses, 1,005, on village relief, 200, total on gratuitous relief, 1,295. Figures for Palanpur are incomplete. Grand Total, 16,406.

Bengal—No rain fell during the week. Rain is needed for the spring crops in Bankura, Nuddea, Chittagong and in Orissa. Harvesting of winter rice and pressing of sugarcane continue. Sowing of spring crops and poppy is approaching completion. Prospects are generally good. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice is cheaper in twelve districts, dearer in six and unchanged in the remainder (twenty-nine).

United Provinces—Rain is said to be wanted in parts of the Chakrata tahsil, Naini Tal, Pilibhit, Bahraich, Jalaun, Cawnpore and Banda. The spring crops are reported to have germinated well and are flourishing. The pressing of sugarcane and sowing of poppy continue. Slight injury to gram by insects is reported in two parganas of Banda. Prospects are good and prices are stationary or falling.

Punjab—Slight rain fell in parts of Rawalpindi during the week. The sowings of spring crops in irrigated tracts are nearly completed in Hissar and Mianwali, and are still in progress in other districts. The harvesting of autumn crops is over. Cotton is still being picked and sugarcane pressing has commenced. The standing irrigated crops are reported to be good in Umballa, Jullundur and Rawalpindi. In Jullundur the unirrigated crops are said to be average. Rain is wanted in Hissar and Mianwali districts. The outturn of sugarcane is reported to be average in irrigated and below average in unirrigated lands in Sialkot.

Locusts have done a little damage to the wheat and turnip crops in parts of Mooltan. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient except in parts of the Mooltan and Amritsar districts. The price of wheat has risen slightly in Mianwali and Shabpur, fallen in Umballa and Rawalpindi, and has remained unchanged elsewhere. The price of gram has risen in Hissar and Umballa, fallen in Mooltan and Amritsar, and is unchanged elsewhere.

North-West Frontier Province—There was no rain during the week. The reaping of autumn crops and sowings of spring crops are nearly finished. The prospects of crops are generally average. Fodder is procurable but is deficient in several villages of Peshawar. Water in canals is sufficient but rivers are running low in Peshawar. The price of wheat is stationary.

Burma—No rain has fallen either in Upper or Lower Burma during the week. The reaping of hill side paddy is nearly completed, and reaping of wet-weather paddy has commenced in most districts. Plucking of cotton and cultivation of Island and miscellaneous crops are in progress in irrigated and riverain tracts. The standing crops are good but in most districts they have suffered from the failure of the later rains, which has reduced the estimated outturn. The price of rice has fallen considerably in Prome, and risen largely in the Thayetmyo, Minbu and Magwe districts of the Minbu division.

Central Provinces—No rain has fallen during the week. The harvesting of autumn crops is approaching completion and threshing has commenced. The outturn in Bhandara is very poor. Insects are doing much damage to the tur crops in Chhindwara, Nagpur and Chanda. The prospects of the winter crops are good everywhere except in Balaghat and parts of Wardha and Raipur, where germination has not been satisfactory. Rain is generally needed in the Nagpur country and in Chhattisgarh. Insects are damaging the young wheat plants in the Drug tahsil of the Raipur district and in the Warora tahsil of the Chanda district. Grasshoppers have disappeared in Nimar but complaints of damage by grasshoppers and rats are received from Chanda. Fodder and water are generally ample but some scarcity of water is felt in some districts. Prices show a tendency to fall in Jabulpore and Chanda and have slightly fluctuated elsewhere. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 17, gram 21½, rice 17, and juar 28. The highest prices are—wheat 10, gram 14½, rice 8½, and juar 18½. In Raipur the numbers on relief were as follows—relief workers (Public Works Department) adults 11, children 6, total 17. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) adults 1,256, children 587, total 1,843. Total on all farms of relief 1,860.

Assam—Rainfall nil. Rain is wanted for mustard in Lakhimpur. Plucking and manufacture of tea, and sowing of pulse are nearly finished. Ploughing for and sowing of, mustard and harvesting of late rice are in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues in Cachar and Lakhimpur. The outturn of tea is fair. Prospects of winter rice and sugarcane are fair except in Nowgong and in parts of Kamrup. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Common rice—Silchar and Sylhet 16, Tezpur and Sibsagar 13, Gauhati 12, Dibrugarh 11½. Nowgong 11 and Dhubri 10 seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rainfall 8 cents in the Civil and Military station and good rain in parts of the State. Prices are steady in parts and have risen in other parts. General prospects are good. Cattle are healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg—Picking of cardamom and coffee continues. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The weather is cool. Cutting of juar and picking of cotton have commenced throughout the province. The winter crops are in fair condition. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are steady.

Hyderabad—The rainfall of the week was 1 cent. The autumn and early rice crops are being harvested. The standing spring crops are in fairly good condition. The castor seed crop is being damaged by insects in parts of Ichlingana. Winter rice is being sown over limited areas. Prices—wheat 7, rice 8½, and juar 23½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana—Agricultural operations are in progress. The standing crops and harvest operations continue as reported last week. Slight damage by locusts has occurred in parts of Ajmer Merwara. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grains was—Kotah 36, and the highest, Sirohi 14 seers per rupee. The number of persons on relief was—Native States—On gratuitous relief, 606.

Central India—There was no rain during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally in good condition. Juar and rice have been slightly damaged in parts of Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, falling in Bhopal, normal in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa and parts of Gwalior The average prices in seers per rupee were —18-16 to 34-13 in Gwalior, 24-12 in Bhopal, 19 to 28 in Bundelkhand, 30 in Malwa, 33 to 44 in Bhopawar, and 8 to 32 in Indore Opium operations are in progress in Gwalior, Malwa, Bhopawar, and Indore

Baroda —The numbers on relief have decreased everywhere The condition of cattle is good Fodder and water are sufficient The import of grain is adequate Prices of food-grains are slightly falling except in the Navsari Division, where they are steady The number of persons on relief was—On works—Baroda 960, on gratuitous relief 4,060, total 5,020

Kashmir —The weather is bright and chilly Prices are stationary Some snow has fallen on higher latitudes Jammu —Rainfall nil Prices are generally stationary Wheat is selling from 13 to 19 and maize from 21 to 32 seers per rupee The condition of the standing crops is good Fodder is sufficient Spring sowings are in progress There has been no damage to crops from insects Autumn crops have not yet been completely harvested in some parts

Nepal —There was no rain during the week The weather is foggy and cold The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee

CIVIL VETERINARY ADMINISTRATION

Calcutta, the 10th December, 1902

No 2554—159-4 — The services of Mr K Hewlett, Civil Veterinary Department, attached to the Punjab for training, are placed at the disposal of the Government of Bombay for employment as Assistant Principal of the Bombay Veterinary College with effect from the date on which he assumes charge of the appointment

FORESTS

No 1269-F—254-1 — The Governor General in Council has received, with much regret, intelligence of the death in England, on the 7th November, of Mr Harry Charles Hill, the Inspector-General of Forests to the Government of India

Mr Hill entered the Forest Department in December 1872 as Assistant Conservator, and, after officiating on several occasions as Inspector-General of Forests, was finally confirmed in that important post in November 1900. Much of his earlier service was spent in Burma, where the arduous task fell to him of organizing and developing an efficient system of forest administration in the Upper Provinces after their annexation. As Inspector-General his wide experience of Indian forestry was of great value to the Government of India.

Mr Hill's premature death removes one who worthily filled a responsible office and the Governor General in Council desires to place on record his sense of the loss which the public service has sustained.

The elephants for the Ruling Chiefs taking part in the Procession will be arranged by the Officer detailed for the duty, facing inwards, according to the order of the Procession, on either side of the Queen's Road, commencing at the Railway Station. The portion of the Escort preceding His Excellency will be formed up along the road, beyond the Ruling Chiefs. His Excellency the Viceroy and Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, on mounting their elephants at the station will proceed with their staffs in the order above shown through the line of the Chiefs on their elephants and when His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses reach the end of the line of elephants, a signal will be given for the Escort to start and the Ruling Chiefs will move forward, two by two behind Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, in the order in which they are placed on the road. The carriages of His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Hesse, of the Heads of Local Governments and Administrations, and of the Members of Council with their escorts, and the horses of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, of the Khan of Kalat, and of the Agents to the Governor General in Baluchistan and the North-West Frontier Province, with their followers, will be arranged in order along the Queen's Road, and will come up, in the same order as soon as His Excellency the Viceroy has left the station on his elephant. The various Officers, entering their carriages or mounting their horses, will follow the elephants of the Ruling Chiefs in the order already described. The troops detailed to close up the Procession will be formed, in their proper order, in the rear of the Escort of the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces. The route of the Procession will be lined throughout by troops, and, as His Excellency passes the Lahore Gate of the Fort, the Viceregal Standard will be hoisted on the Fort, and a Royal Salute of 31 guns will be fired from the Fort Batteries.

The elephants constituting the retinues of the Chiefs will be placed on the Champ de Mars to the west of the Elgin Road and will join the rear of the Procession as it passes by.

On reaching the corner of the Rajpur Road, outside the Mori Gate, His Excellency the Viceroy and Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught will halt and bid farewell from their elephants to the Chiefs who are mounted on elephants behind them, and who at this point will turn to the left by the Boulevard Road and proceed to their respective Camps. His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses, after exchanging these salutations, will then dismount from their elephants and enter their carriages, which will be in readiness at this spot, and the Procession will pursue its way along the road under the Ridge, as far as the turning up to the Flagstaff Tower. At this point, the portion of the escort in front of His Excellency, with the exception of the Body Guard and the Imperial Cadet Corps, will march straight on to the Alipore Road and thence to their Camps. The carriages of His Excellency and of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and of His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Hesse, as they turn off the Rajpur Road before proceeding to the Flagstaff Tower and to the Central Camp will be halted, in order that they may have an opportunity of viewing the remainder of the Procession which will pass along, down to the concluding regiment of the Escort, on its way to the Alipore Road. His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses, accompanied only by the Viceroy's Body Guard and the Cadet Corps, will then continue, by the Flagstaff Road, to the Viceregal Camp. As His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses arrive in front of the Circuit House in the Camp, a Royal Salute of 31 guns will be fired from a Battery placed at a suitable spot, and at the sound of the first gun the Viceregal Standard will be displayed at the Flagstaff. A Guard of Honour will be drawn up in front of the Circuit House and other Guards of Honour in front of the Tents of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and of His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Hesse. These guards will present arms as His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses alight at their respective residences.

Full dress will be worn. Gentlemen not entitled to wear uniform will appear in morning dress.

Programme of the ceremonies to be observed at the Durbar which will be held at Delhi for the purpose of proclaiming the Coronation of His Majesty the King, Emperor of India

At 12 noon on Thursday, the 1st of January, 1903, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India will hold a Durbar at Delhi, for the purpose of proclaiming the Coronation of His Most Gracious Majesty the King, Emperor of India. It will be attended by Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught who are coming out from England for the purpose.

The Durbar will be held in a large Amphitheatre on the plain beyond the Ridge at Delhi. The site is the same as that on which the Imperial Assemblage of 1877 was held.

The Durbar will also be attended by the Governors of Bombay and Madras, the Lieutenant Governor of the Punjab, the Commander-in-Chief in India, and the Lieutenant-Governors of Burma, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and Bengal, with the members of their Staffs, the Ordinary Members of the Council of the Governor-General, the Lieutenant-Generals Commanding the Forces, Bengal, Bombay, Madras, and Punjab, and their Staffs, the Residents of Hyderabad and Mysore, the Agents to the Governor General in Rajputana, Baluchistan, Central India, and the North-West Frontier Province, and the Chief Commissioners of Assam and the Central Provinces. It will also be attended by the Ruling Chiefs, who have been invited by the Government of India and by the Local Governments and Administrations, with their retinues, and by the Official Guests, European and Native, who have been invited by the same authorities. Tickets of admission will also be issued by the Executive Committee at Delhi to a large number of spectators, European and Native.

The following Ruling and Mediatized Chiefs are expected to be present —

Alipura, The Rao of Alwar, The Maharaja of Bahawalpur, The Nawab of Bansda, The Raja of

Blocks A and X in the Amphitheatre are reserved for the Representatives of Foreign Powers, the Members of the Government of India including the Commander-in-Chief in India, the Lieutenant-Generals Commanding the Forces, Members of the Foreign Consular body, and the Official Guests of His Excellency the Viceroy. The Heads of the various Local Governments and Administrations and the Ruling Chiefs will be allotted seats in the front rows of the Blocks reserved for the different Provinces. Spectators will be seated in Blocks H to S and in Blocks I to IV. Special accommodation will be reserved for representatives of the Press.

The troops assembled at Delhi, numbering about 37,000 men, will be drawn up, under the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, on the plain opposite the entrance to the Amphitheatre and along the road from the Viceregal Camp to the Durbar.

The Massed Bands within the Amphitheatre will take up position round the Royal Flagstaff in the centre of the arena.

Ruling Chiefs will be invited to send their troops and retinues to the place of the Durbar. The elephants and the bulk of the retinues will be disposed on the plain to the south west of the Amphitheatre, while the mounted men will line the Prince's Road and the Review Road leading to the Durbar. These should be in their appointed places by 10 A M.

A Guard of Honour of British troops will be drawn up within the Amphitheatre in front of the Dais. Guards will also be posted at the separate entrances at the back of the Amphitheatre, leading to the various Blocks of seats for High Officers and Ruling Chiefs. A battalion of British Infantry will be detailed for these and other duties, and will be placed at the disposal of the Foreign Secretary.

Spectators should be seated not later than 10-15 A M. They will reach their places by the steps at the back of the Amphitheatre leading to the Blocks in which their seats are situated, according to the coloured letter printed upon their admission cards. Ruling Chiefs should be in their seats not later than 11 A M, and the Heads of Local Governments and Administrations and the Members of the Governor General's Council by 11-15 A M. These also will reach their seats by the steps at the back of their Blocks.

Ruling Chiefs, Heads of Local Governments and Administrations, the Commander in Chief, the Members of Governor General's Council and the Lieutenant Generals of Commands will be met on alighting, by Officers of the Foreign Department and the Military Officers on duty, who will conduct them to their seats. As the Chiefs and High Officers entitled to salutes enter, the guards posted at the entrance to their Block will present arms.

At 11-15 A M the surviving Veterans of the Mutiny, both European and Native, will march into the Amphitheatre, to the Block allotted to them, and the Massed Bands within the arena will play a suitable March. With the exception of these Veterans, no one, except Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and His Excellency the Viceroy, will enter the Amphitheatre by the road leading to the Viceregal Dais.

From 10-30 A M to 12 noon, the Massed Bands within the arena will play selections for the entertainment of the spectators.

Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught will leave the Viceregal Camp at 11-15 A M with an escort of one squadron of British and one squadron of Native Cavalry.

As the Royal carriage reaches the point where the road turns in to the Amphitheatre, Their Royal Highnesses will be received with a Royal Salute by the troops drawn up outside the arena, including a salute of 31 guns. As Their Royal Highnesses drive into the arena and approach the Dais the Guard of Honour in front of the Dais will present arms and the Massed Bands within the arena will play the National Anthem. All present will rise as the National Anthem is played and will remain standing until Their Royal Highnesses have taken their seats.

His Excellency the Viceroy will leave the Viceregal Camp at 11-30 A M with an escort of one British Cavalry Regiment, the Imperial Cadet Corps, His Excellency's Body Guard, and a Regiment of Native Cavalry. As the Viceregal carriage reaches the point where the road turns in to the Amphitheatre, His Excellency will be received by a Royal Salute by all the troops drawn up outside the arena. No guns will be fired at this stage. His Excellency will then drive into the Amphitheatre accompanied by the Cadet Corps and the Body Guard. The remainder of the escort will form up outside the arena, on either side of the road behind the Infantry of the escort who with the Battery of the escort, will previously have been drawn up at this spot. All present will rise as the Viceroy enters the arena, and will remain standing until he has taken his seat.

As His Excellency approaches the Dais, the Guard of Honour in front of the Dais will present arms, the Massed Bands in the centre of the arena will play the National Anthem, the Viceregal Standard will be hoisted, and a Royal Salute of 31 guns will be fired. On alighting, His Excellency, preceded by his Staff, will ascend the steps and take his seat on the Throne. The spectators will then resume their seats.

At the conclusion of the salute, the Foreign Secretary will ask His Excellency's permission to open the Durbar

Opening of the Durbar

The Bands within the arena will then sound a summons to the Herald. The Herald, with the Trumpeters accompanying him, who will be posted with the escort outside, will reply with a flourish of trumpets and will ride up to the Amphitheatre. They will halt at the entrance and sound another flourish of trumpets

The Proclamation

They will then ride to the front of the Viceregal Dais, form up and sound a third flourish. The Herald will then, at the command of the Viceroy, read the Proclamation, announcing the Coronation of His Majesty the King, Emperor of India. When reading the Proclamation, the Herald will turn and face the entrance to the Amphitheatre. When the Proclamation has been read, the Herald will sound another flourish. As this flourish concludes, the Royal Standard will be hoisted on the flagstaff in the centre of the Amphitheatre, the Massed Bands within the arena will play the National Anthem, and the Guard of Honour within the arena will present arms. All the spectators will rise from their seats and remain standing while the National Anthem is being played. On the completion of the National Anthem, the Herald and Trumpeters will retire to the entrance. When the Royal Standard is hoisted, and as the National Anthem concludes, an Imperial Salute of 101 guns will be fired, in the same way as at the Parades on the 1st of January and the King's Birthday, a Feu de Joie being fired and the National Anthem played at the customary intervals. While the Salute is being fired, and in the intervals between the playing of the National Anthem, the Massed Bands in the Amphitheatre will play appropriate selections.

When the Royal Salute concludes, and immediately after the final National Anthem is played, the Herald and Trumpeters at the entrance will sound a prolonged flourish. As the flourish concludes, His Excellency the Viceroy will rise and address the Durbar. At the conclusion of His Excellency's Address the Herald and Trumpeters will again advance to the front of the Dais, where they will sound another flourish and the Herald, raising his cap, will call for three cheers for the King Emperor, which will be joined in by all the spectators in the Amphitheatre. As soon as these cheers have subsided, the General Officer Commanding the Troops outside will similarly call for three cheers for the King Emperor, and these cheers will be given by the entire body of troops outside (but by no one inside) the arena. At the conclusion of the cheering the Bands will again play the National Anthem, after which the Herald and Trumpeters will retire from the arena.

The Foreign Secretary will next ask permission to present the Ruling Chiefs present at the Durbar. The Ruling Chiefs will, in the order previously arranged, advance to the front of the Dais in turn, and will briefly offer their congratulations to His Majesty the King Emperor through His Excellency the Viceroy, who with His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught will receive them standing. At the conclusion of the presentation, the Foreign Secretary will request permission to close the Durbar.

His Excellency will then depart in the same manner and with the same ceremonies as he came, the first gun of the salute being fired as His Excellency enters his carriage. After the departure of His Excellency, Their Royal Highnesses will leave the Durbar in the same way and with the same honours as upon their arrival. After the Royal cortege has left the arena, the Representatives of Foreign Powers, the Heads of the Local Governments and Administrations, the Ruling Chiefs, the Commander in Chief, the Members of the Governor General's Council and the Lieutenant Generals of Commands will depart from the inside of the Amphitheatre into which their carriages will be brought. They will be conducted to their carriages by officers detailed for the purpose. No other carriages will be admitted into the arena.

Spectators, who will depart by the gangways and steps at the back of the Amphitheatre in the same manner as they arrived, are requested not to leave their seats till the Representatives of Foreign Powers, the Ruling Chiefs, and the High Officials have left the arena.

Full dress will be worn. Gentlemen not entitled to wear uniform will appear in morning dress.

Programme of the Departure of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General and of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught from Delhi on the 10th January, 1903

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General and Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught will leave Delhi from the East Indian Railway terminus at 11 and 11-15 A.M., railway time, on Saturday, the 10th January, 1903.

His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses, accompanied by their respective Staffs, will leave the Viceregal Camp at 10-30 A.M., and will drive to the Railway Station.

Guards of Honour will be drawn up in front of the Circuit House and in front of the tents of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, which will present arms as His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses drive away.

As His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses leave the Camp, a Royal Salute of 31 guns will be fired from the Ridge

His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses will be escorted to the station by the Imperial Cadet Corps, the Viceroy's Body Guard and by the Cavalry portion of the Viceroy's escort, and the route from the camp to the station will be lined with troops

The route taken will be by the Lansdowne Road, the Alipur Road, the Kudsia Road, the Mori Gate, Dufferin Bridge and Queen's Road

A Guard of Honour from a British regiment, with band, will be drawn up outside the station on the west side of the porch, and will present arms as His Excellency, accompanied by Their Royal Highnesses, enters the station

His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses will be received upon the platform by the Ruling Chiefs, and by all the High Officials who were present at the station upon His Excellency's arrival in Delhi

A band will be drawn up on the platform and will play the National Anthem as His Excellency and Their Royal Highnesses appear

The Special Train of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught will be drawn up at the platform and will depart first, at 11 A.M. As the train starts, the band upon the platform will play the National Anthem, and a salute of 31 guns will be fired from the ramparts of the Fort

His Excellency the Viceroy's Special Train will then be brought up to the platform, and His Excellency will leave at 11-15. The band upon the platform will play the National Anthem as the train leaves, and a salute of 31 guns will be fired from the ramparts of the Fort

Full dress will be worn. Gentlemen not entitled to wear uniform will appear in morning dress

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 11th December 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period

During the week, from the 5th to the 11th, the weather was actually or practically rainless over Burma, Bengal, Assam, the Gangetic Plain, the East and West Himalayan regions, the North-West Dry Area, the Central India Plateau and the North division of the East Coast. Over the remainder of India more or less rain was received during the week. On the 5th the weather was very unsettled in the extreme south and rain was reported over the West Coast, South India and the south of the East Coast, the principal amounts having been 5 inches at Cuddalore, 3 inches at Negapatam, 2.5 inches at Tinnevely and 2 inches at Mercara. On the 6th rain continued over the three southern divisions and had extended along the West Coast as well as into the Deccan, the principal falls on this day were 4.25 inches at Cuddalore, 3.5 inches at Wellington and over 2 inches at Calicut, Mercara, Karwar, Madura and Chitaldroog. On the 7th the rainfall decreased in amount and extent in the south, but have become heavier and more extensive in the north, having reached the North Konkan Coast, the whole of the Bombay Deccan and parts of the West and East Satpuras, the principal falls on this day were—Wellington 3 inches, Cuddalore 2 inches and Sholapur and Bijapur over 1 inch. On the 8th the rainfall conditions were generally unchanged, showery weather prevails along the West Coast as far north as Bombay in South India, in the Deccan, in the Satpuras and in the south of the East Coast, the stations of Trichinopoly, Negapatam, Mangalore, Cuddalore and Ahmednagar reporting between 1 inch and 1.75 inches. On the 9th there was no change, scattered showers continuing to fall over the same areas as on the 7th and 8th, the showers were generally light, but Belgaum reported the heavy local fall of 6.5 inches and Mercara and Wellington of about 3 inches. The reports for the 10th and 11th showed that showers continued to fall over the West Coast, South India, the Deccan, the Satpuras and the East Coast (South) and the only important alteration was the extension of rain into Gujarat on the 11th. On the two last days of the week the showers were nowhere heavy. In addition there were some showers over the Tenasserim Peninsula during the week.

The table below shows the average actual rainfall which has fallen over the Burma Coast, the East Satpuras, the West Coast, the West Satpuras, South India and the East Coast (South) divisions, and the Rajkot, Bijapur and Hyderabad sub-divisions. In practically all the divisions and sub-divisions in which rain was received, the amount exceeded the normal. In South India, the East Coast (South), the Bijapur sub-division and both the sub-divisions of the West Coast the excess was very large and remarkable, showing how exceedingly infrequent is rain in these regions in the beginning of December.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 6th December, 1902

Madras—The rainfall of the week was heavy in the Carnatic, the Southern districts and in the hills good in the Central and West Coast districts, and light or nil elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue generally. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally.

Bombay—There was heavy rain during the week in parts of the Carnatic, good falls in parts of Nasik, Sholapur and Satara, and slight rain in parts of Poona and the Konkan. The standing crops have been slightly damaged by locusts in parts of Karachi, Sukkur, Hyderabad and Thar and Parkar, by insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Nasik, and by excessive rainfall in parts of Belgaum and Dharwar and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops is completed in the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thana and Sholapur, is almost over in Sukkur and Larkana and continues in parts of Karachi, Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, Satara, the Carnatic, Kanara, Wadhwan and Baroda, but is retarded by excessive rainfall in parts of Belgaum. Threshing continues in parts of Sukkur, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Thana, Colaba, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Satara and Rajkot. Spring sowings are completed in Khandesh, are nearly over in Karachi, Hyderabad, and Poona and continues in parts of Sukkur, Larkana, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Colaba, Ratnagiri, Wadhwan and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Ahmedabad, Broach, Khandesh, Satara, Bijapur, Belgaum, Dharwar, Rajkot and Baroda and in poor condition in parts of Poona. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Khandesh and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and generally sufficient. The water supply is deficient in parts of Satara. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at head quarters were as follows—Ahmedabad, 38, Sholapur, 59, Ahmednagar, 44, Poona, 36, Bijapur, 50, Kathiawar and Palanpur, 35. Prices have fallen in five districts, risen in two districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered.

The daily average number of persons on relief during the week was—BRITISH DISTRICTS—on relief works 635, dependants, 85, total on works, 720. In poor-houses, 1,442, on village relief, 10,790, total on gratuitous relief 12,232. Figures for Ahmedabad and Thar and Parkar are incomplete. NATIVE STATES—on relief works 101, dependants, 74, total on works 175. In poor-houses, 861, on village relief, 88, total on gratuitous relief, 949. Figures for Palanpur are incomplete. Grand total, 14,076.

Bengal—No rain fell during the week except a slight shower in Singbhum. The standing crops require rain in the districts of Bankura, Nadia, Gaya, Puri and Singbhum. Poppy is doing well. Harvesting of winter rice continues, and the outturn is estimated at 94 per cent for the whole Province. Bankura returns the lowest estimate of the rice crop. The harvesting of autumn food crops is over, and the estimated outturn is 90 per cent. Prospects are generally good. The season was not very favourable for the early cotton crop, the outturn of which is estimated at 77 per cent. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, fallen in fourteen and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces—Rain is required in several districts and particularly in Cawnpore for irrigated lands. The irrigation of spring crops and pressing of sugarcane are being carried on. Cotton picking still continues in a few districts, and the germination of poppy is said to be good. Further slight injury to the gram crop is reported in Banda. Fodder and supplies are ample, and prices are stationary.

Punjab—Rainfall, nil. Cotton picking and sugarcane pressing are going on. Sowings of spring crops continue in some districts. The outturn of autumn crops is said to be good on irrigated, and average or below average on unirrigated areas. The standing spring crops are reported to be in good condition. Rain is wanted for unirrigated crops in Hissar. Locusts appeared in parts of Hissar and did serious damage to the canal crop in five villages. Cattle are generally in good condition, but are suffering from overwork in Sarkot. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Mooltan and Amritsar. Prices of food grains are generally unchanged, they are slightly rising in Rawalpindi and falling in Umballa.

North West Frontier Province—There was no rain during the week, and it is now badly needed to complete certain sowings. Reaping of autumn crops and sowings of spring crops have been finished. The outturn of autumn crops has been about average and prospects of spring crops are so far good. Stocks of food grain are sufficient. Fodder is procurable and water in canals is sufficient in Peshawar. Prices are rising owing partly to exports to Afghanistan where grain is selling at famine rates. Prices—wheat  $14\frac{1}{2}$  and  $13\frac{1}{2}$ , maize 20 and  $17\frac{1}{2}$  seers per rupee at Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma—Rainfall nil. Reaping of the main paddy crop has commenced generally. Plucking of cotton and cultivation of miscellaneous crops are in progress. Unirrigated crops have largely failed in Upper Burma owing to drought, and remissions of revenue will be needed in a varying degree in Thayetmyo, Minbu, Magwe, Mandalay, Katha, Shwebo, Sagaing and the Singu township of Kyaukse. Three-fourths of the paddy crop in Thayetmyo and of the crops in the Salin sub-division of Minbu have failed. In Lower Burma the paddy crop is estimated between 14 and 15 annas generally. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and Minbu, and has fallen in Bassein, Thayetmyo, Magwe, Mandalay and Mungyan.

Central Provinces—The weather has been cloudy during the latter part of the week and light showers have fallen in Seoni, Betul, Chhindwara and in the Nagpur country. The harvesting of autumn crops is reaching completion. Threshing is generally in progress. The picking of cotton continues in Chanda. The juar plants are withering on light soils for want of moisture. The sowing of winter crops has been almost completed and germination has generally been good. The rain in November caused some small damage to winter sowings in Jubbulpore but the damage has been made good by re-sowing. The prospects of winter crops are generally good and will be benefited by the recent rain. Some damage from cloudy weather is reported from Wardha and by insects from Nagpur, Chanda and Raipur. Fodder and water are generally ample. Prices have fluctuated slightly in some districts. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat, 17; gram  $21\frac{1}{2}$ , rice, 16 and juar, 28. The highest prices are—wheat, 10; gram  $12\frac{1}{2}$ , rice,  $8\frac{1}{2}$ , and juar,  $18\frac{1}{2}$ . In Raipur the number on relief works was as follows—Relief workers (Public Works Department) adults, 325; children, 45; total 370. Gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) adults 1,794; children, 770; total, 2,564. Total on all forms of relief 2,934. Seven Public Works Department camps are now open. One hundred and forty-four persons in Bhandara and 246 in Balaghat are employed on tank works.

Assam—The weather is cold. Rainfall nil. Rain is wanted for mustard in Lakhimpur, and for mustard, pulse and linseed in Sylhet. Plucking and manufacture of tea and sowing of pulse are nearly finished. Ploughing for and sowing of mustard and harvesting of late rice are in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues in Cachir and Lakhimpur. The outturn of tea is fair and of late rice generally fair, except in Nowgong and in parts of Kamrup. Prospects of mustard are fair except in Nowgong. Fodder is scarce in places and water is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice, Silchar and Sylhet 16; Gauhati, Tezpur and Sibsagar 13; Nowgong and Dibrugarh  $11\frac{1}{2}$ , and Dhubri 10 seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rainfall 16 cents in the Civil and Military station and good rain throughout the State. Prices are stationary or falling. General prospects are good. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg—Rainfall 8 inches 67 cents. Picking of cardamom is completed. Picking of coffee continues. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—The weather is cool. Picking of cotton and cutting of juar continue. Winter crops are doing well. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are almost stationary, except juar, which has fallen in the Basim district.

Hyderabad—There was no rain during the week. The harvest of autumn and early rice crops continues and the former is nearing completion. The standing spring crops are fairly good except in parts of Telangana where insects are causing damage to the castor crop. Winter rice sowings continue. Prices—wheat  $7\frac{1}{2}$ , rice  $8\frac{1}{2}$ , and juar  $23\frac{1}{2}$  seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana—Agricultural operations are in progress. The standing crops and harvest prospects are much the same as previously reported. Cotton picking and poppy cultivation continue. Cattle are in good condition and the fodder supply is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grain was—Mallawar 36/10, and the highest—Sirohi 14 seers per rupee. The number of persons on relief was—Native States, on gratuitous relief 684.

Central India—There was no rain during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere, and crops are generally in good condition. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good Prices are steady in Gwalior, falling in Bhopal, above normal in Bundelkhand, normal in Baghelkhand and low in Malwa The average prices in seers per rupee were—18 6 to 34 8 in Gwalior, 25-14 in Bhopal, 20 to 28 in Bundelkhand, 30 in Malwa, 32 to 40 in Bhopawar, and 8½ to 32 in Indore The opium crop is fair in Gwalior and good in Malwa Opium operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore

Baroda—The number of persons on relief was—Relief works—Baroda 1,587 gratuitous relief 4,351, total 5,938.

Kashmir—The weather is bright and cold Prices are stationary JAMMU—Rainfall, nil Prices are fluctuating Wheat is selling from 12 to 20 and maize 21 to 35 seers per rupee The condition of the standing crops is fair Fodder is generally sufficient Some scarcity is felt in parts of the Province Rain is badly wanted in several parts Spring sowings are almost completed

• Nepal—No rain fell during the week The weather is frosty and very cold The price of rice is 9 seers for the rupee

The subjoined Agreement between the British Government and the Hyderabad State, whereby His Highness the Nizam leases the Berar Districts in perpetuity to the British Government, is published, with the connected correspondence, for general information

No 19, dated India Office, London, the 28th March 1878

From—The Most Noble THE MARQUIS OF SALISBURY, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

I have received and considered your letter of the 11th of June last (No 18 of 1877) enclosing a memorial from the Regent Ministers of Hyderabad, praying for restoration to them of the administration of the Assigned Districts of Berar, and Your Excellency's reply to that request

2 I concur with Your Excellency in thinking that the previous correspondence which has passed upon this subject dispenses with the necessity of examining and refuting the historical contentions put forward by the Ministers in support of their prayer. It is superfluous at this time to inquire into the grounds and motives which actuated those who concluded the Treaty of 1853. The fact that it was signed, and that its provisions are binding on those who signed it, is the material fact with which Her Majesty's Government on the one side and His Highness's Government on the other side have to deal. To go behind it—to impugn the reasons which induced the signatories to conclude it, and on that ground to challenge its validity, is inconsistent with the practice of nations

3 It would be sufficient, therefore, that I should now simply express my approval of the course which you have followed, and my concurrence in the arguments which on this and on former occasions your Government has employed. But in this and in former letters from the Ministers, a line of reasoning has been pursued, of which, if I do not take any notice, I may seem to have admitted the legitimacy, and upon which, therefore, I will make some observations.

4 A claim, as of right, to the restitution of the administration of Berar will be naturally sustained by appeals to the treaties and other formal obligations of the British Government. To a certain extent the arguments advanced have been of this character, and little as the Regent Ministers appear to Her Majesty's Government to have been successful in establishing their contention, no demur can so far be made to the legitimacy of the evidence to which they appeal. But formal treaties, or instruments of like authority, are by no means the only documents which they quote in seeking to fix a pledge or obligation on the British Government. A large portion of their argument rests on expressions of opinion by servants of that Government, contained in letters or minutes addressed by them, not to the Nizam and his officers, but to their own superiors or subordinates. It often happens that these papers are subsequently given to the world in a Parliamentary Blue Book. The Ministers appear to assume that opinions which they find expressed by highly placed officers of the Crown, and published in this manner, are binding upon Her Majesty's Government, and constitute a pledge which the latter may be called upon to fulfil. It is very necessary to point out that this assumption is quite ungrounded.

5 In all Governments, and especially in the Government of India, it is generally requisite that public servants should record the reasons on which any particular measure or order is based. The statement of these reasons may take the form of instructions to the subordinate officer, by whom the orders are to be executed, or they may be contained in minutes and reports addressed to Her Majesty's Government in explanation of the policy that has been pursued. Such documents, if they are to be of any value, must contain not only records of fact, but statements of opinion upon disputable questions. They may contain arguments upon the rights and claims of persons concerned, upon contested questions of obligation, upon controverted points of external and internal law. It must occasionally happen that, in his treatment of these questions of opinion, the officer may hold, and express with great distinctness, views which are entirely at variance with those of the Government under which he is serving, and, perhaps, the consciousness that his opinions are not generally shared will lead him to dwell upon them at greater length, and to advocate them with more energy. The Government may possibly approve the measures that have been taken by an officer, while dissenting from his opinions upon matters of controversy, but unless the statement of these opinions contains matters requiring immediate decision, they will probably be satisfied simply to approve his policy without expressing any judgment on his opinions. The documents may, in due course, be published, but it would be a great error to assume that Her Majesty's Government are in the slightest degree pledged to the expressions of opinion or the interpretation of documents, or the estimate of rights, which the reports so published may be found to contain. No obligations can be created on their part towards any other person, except by assurances addressed by them or on their behalf to him for that purpose.

6 It is, therefore, irrelevant to discuss point by point the various opinions which have been quoted during this controversy out of the official correspondence of various Governors General and other officers during the half century which elapsed between the surrender of Berar by the British Government to the Nizam, and its re-assignment by the Treaties of 1853 and 1860. It would not be difficult to show that the opinions attributed to the Marquis of Hastings, and the Marquis of Dalhousie, and the Earl Canning are not really deducible from the expressions which are quoted out of their correspondence. But it is comparatively of little importance to ascertain what is the signification of their language, and the discussion might attach to it an exaggerated value. It is essential to insist that their meaning is irrelevant to the question of obligation. The pledges of Her Majesty in respect to Berar are to be found only in the formal engagements which have been contracted on her behalf.

7 The only formal engagements which are directly material to this controversy, are to be found in the Treaties of 1853 and 1860. In order to elucidate the meanings of these documents, the Ministers dwell upon the conversations which took place during the negotiations between the Nizam and the British Residents, Colonel Low and Colonel Davidson, and they seek apparently to establish that the Nizam had fully resolved not to cede the district in perpetuity, and that the arrangement to which he did agree was accepted by him rather in deference to the superior material force of the British Government, than of his own genuine inclination. Upon these latter circumstances it is hardly necessary to enlarge. The Nizam appears to have been guided by a fear of losing the Contingent, a body of whose utility to his Government, in spite of its costliness, he was well convinced. But the obligations of the treaty can hardly be thought to turn upon this point. The doctrine that the validity of a treaty is affected by the fact that one of the two parties signing it was actuated in doing so by a consciousness of the material superiority of the other, would, as I have already observed to you, be fatal to the mass of treaty law over the whole of the civilized world. Nor is it necessary to inquire into the exact nature and application of the conversations which passed between the negotiators of the Treaty of 1853. Its language requires no elucidation, but sets forth with perfect distinctness the nature of the relation which it was intended to establish. It is manifest that the treaty does not convey any absolute cession of Bejar. Lord Dalhousie appears to have desired such an arrangement, but the Nizam entertained insuperable objections to it, and no attempt was made to force it on him. If the cession had been absolute, the entire sovereignty would have passed to the British Crown. No transfer of sovereignty in fact took place, but the territory remained among the dominions of the Nizam, as it had been before the treaty was signed. The Nizam retained unimpaired all the personal dignity which this sovereignty had previously conferred upon him, and the net revenue of the province, after all charges of administration have been defrayed, has ever since been paid into his treasury. All that he parted with was the actual conduct of the administration. So far the limited nature of the assignment is clearly borne out by the language of the treaties, and has always been scrupulously recognized in practice by Her Majesty's Government.

8 But when the Ministers attempt to extend this important limitation in the scope of the assignment, by adding to it a limitation in time as well, they are inserting into the treaty a stipulation of which its actual text does not bear the slightest trace. There is no word in it indicating any term after the expiration of which the assignment is to cease, or vesting in one of the signatories the power of terminating it at will. If any intention had been entertained of fixing a limit to the duration of the British administration, or of making its continuance to depend on the will of the Nizam, words to that effect would have been inserted. The entire absence of any such words is, in the judgment of Her Majesty's Government, decisive of this controversy.

9 The Right Ministers, on this, as on previous occasions, do not rely exclusively upon their claim to the re-assignment of territory as of right, but enforce it by an appeal to the favour of Her Majesty, and the friendly relations which have long continued between the British Government and the Nizam. While fully recognizing the satisfactory nature of these relations as they at present exist, and the advantage which their continuance confers upon both Governments, I am unable to admit that a question of this character can be disposed of as a matter of favour, or that the policy of the British Government in respect to it can be looked upon as a test of the amicable nature of the sentiments they entertain towards the Government of the Nizam. The matter in controversy here is not dignity, or revenue, or any matter of personal enjoyment, it is the control over the lives and properties of two millions of men. In dealing with interests of this magnitude, Her Majesty's Government must necessarily be guided by considerations of a more imperative character than the sentiments, however friendly, which they entertain towards another Government. A very strong presumption exists in such a case against disturbing a state of things which was not only sanctioned by treaty, but is now established by usage. It would be invidious in this despatch to compare the relative merits of the British system of Government with that which has prevailed in the dominions of the Nizam during the period covered by the review of the Ministers. But it may be at least confidently said that the two Governments differ widely in their methods, and that a thickly peopled territory could not be transferred from one system to the other without a disturbance in the most important circumstances of life being felt by every class of the population. No doubt, the interests of the empire at large, and especially of the adjoining populations, and the character of the administrative system which ultimately takes root in the Nizam's dominions, are considerations germane to such an issue as the Ministers desire to raise. But it would be necessary to make good a very strong case of advantage on the whole to those who would be affected, in order to overbear the weighty presumption which treaties and the actual well-being of the Assigned Districts have established against a change.

10 Your Excellency, in replying to this appeal on the part of the Ministers to the favour of the Crown, has noticed the inconvenience of discussing questions of this kind, while the Nizam, on whose behalf they are professedly raised, is himself a minor. In this opinion I entirely concur. You go on to say, that if on His Highness undertaking the government, he should desire to bring the whole of the treaty arrangements between the two Governments under general revision, the British Government will take His Highness's request into consideration. I confirm this intimation on your part on the understanding that in making it you do not in the slightest degree prejudice, by any present engagement, the discretion of the Government of the day to deal as it shall think expedient with any question submitted by the Nizam.

No 57-Political, dated India Office, London, the 11th May 1899

From—THE RIGHT HON'BLE LORD GEORGE FRANCIS HAMILTON, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

Having considered in Council the Report on the Administration of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for the year 1897-98, my attention has been drawn to the fact that in the year under review no surplus revenue was available for payment to His Highness the Nizam.

2 This result may, no doubt, in a large measure be attributable to the influence exercised by the prevailing scarcity both on the Civil Expenditure in respect of famine relief, and on the Military Commissariat Expenditure, owing to dearness of grain. I observe, however, that the average payments made to the Nizam during the period from 1892-93 to 1896-97, had fallen to Rs 73,192, as compared with an average of Rs 136,311 in the previous twenty years.

3 I cannot regard this state of things as satisfactory, and I commend the matter to the serious consideration of Your Excellency's Government, with a view to the adoption of such measures of economy as may be found practicable, in order to establish the financial position of Berar on a basis which should provide an adequate surplus of revenue over expenditure for payment to the Nizam.

No 53 C, dated Viceroy's Camp, the 25th April 1902

From—H S BARNES, Esq, C S I, Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department,

To—THE HON'BLE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR D W K BARR, C S I, Resident at Hyderabad

In the course of his recent visit to Hyderabad, His Excellency the Viceroy arrived at a settlement of the Berar question with His Highness the Nizam. This settlement was the result of informal and private communications that had for some time been proceeding between His Excellency and His Highness. As there is no official record of these communications, which had been largely conducted by word of mouth, I am now to address you officially on the matter, and to instruct you to place before His Highness the following statement concerning the proposals that were made, with a view to securing His Highness's formal confirmation of his acceptance.

2 There has been no discussion of the Berar question between the British Government and His Highness, since the correspondence that ended with the

* Copy forwarded with the letter from the Government of India in the Foreign Department No. 10031, dated the 16th May 1878

despatch* of Lord Salisbury (at that time Secretary of State for India), dated 28th March 1878. On that occasion Lord Salisbury, in replying to a memorial from the Regent Ministers of Hyderabad, praying for the restoration to them of the administration of the Assigned Districts of Berar, stated at length the reasons which prevented Her late Majesty's Government from acceding to any such request. He pointed out that the engagements of Her late Majesty in respect of Berar were to be found only in the two Treaties of 1853 and 1860, that no limitation of time whatever was assigned to the British administration of Berar by either of those Treaties, that a very strong presumption existed against the disturbance of a state of things which was not only sanctioned by Treaty, but was now established by usage, and that this presumption was fortified by a consideration of the actual well-being of the population in the Assigned Districts.

3 At the same time, in thus refusing the request of the Regents, Lord Salisbury went on to say that, should His Highness the Nizam, who was at that time a minor, desire at a later date, after undertaking the government of his State, to bring the whole of the Treaty arrangements between Great Britain and Hyderabad under general revision, the British Government would take the request into consideration, but must reserve to the Government of the day a full discretion to deal with the matter as they might find expedient.

4 This was the starting point of the recent communications, which were conducted with the knowledge and authority of His Majesty's Government, between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Highness the Nizam. Understanding that the latter was willing once again to bring the matter under discussion, His Excellency suggested to His Highness the proposals which have since been accepted. It was not sought on either side to revive the controversies of the past. They were regarded as having been determined by the reply of the British Government contained in the aforesaid despatch of Lord Salisbury. The considerations that were already strong in 1878 had manifestly gained, instead of losing, in force during an additional quarter of a century of British administration. They precluded the revival of a request that had even then been rejected without qualification. But this did not render the British Government less willing in 1902 than they had been in 1878 to consider any solution that might conduce to the interests of the Hyderabad administration, to the satisfaction of its Ruler, and to the permanent maintenance of the happy relations that have so long prevailed between the Paramount Power and the Hyderabad State.

5 Although, as had been pointed out by Lord Salisbury, no limit of time was fixed in either of the Treaties of 1853 or 1860 to British administration in the Assigned Districts, and although, in the interests of Berar itself, there was no manifest reason for any change in the existing system, yet there were circumstances in the situation created by the Treaties that seemed to be susceptible of positive improvement in the interests both of the British Government and still more of His Highness the Nizam. It was a consideration of these circumstances, which I am now to recapitulate, that suggested to His Excellency the Viceroy the proposals recently put forward by him, and that also commended them to the acceptance of the Nizam.

Firstly, it cannot be doubted that the system under which the Assigned Districts of Berar have been administered, according to the terms of the Treaties, as a separate Province under the British Resident at Hyderabad has not been as economical as could be desired. The result of a recent enquiry, ordered by the Government of India, into the civil administration of Berar has shown that, while it may be possible to introduce certain economies in the existing scale of expenditure in Berar, these economies can only be insignificant, unless accompanied by such a redistribution of administrative authority as will enable the Government of India to incorporate the administration of Berar with that of the neighbouring British Provinces. Such an amalgamation would render possible a reduction of local staffs and establishments, and would finally assimilate the administrative standards of Berar and of the adjacent districts of British India. Hitherto this has been rendered impossible by the Treaties. The desirability of their revision, so as to admit of a change in this respect, is greatly enhanced by the effect that has been produced by the same causes in curtailing the balances paid over from year to year to the Nizam. Thus on both sides there would appear to be the strongest grounds for revising an arrangement that has been shown to be so wasteful of the resources of each.

Secondly, there is similar scope for reorganisation and retrenchment, though hitherto prevented by the same reasons, in the case of the military force known as the Hyderabad Contingent. Under the Treaties it has been necessary to maintain this force as a separate unit at a recognised strength in certain stations in His Highness's dominions. The advantages that might accrue from any redistribution of strength, or reduction of numbers, still more from the incorporation of the Contingent with the neighbouring forces of the Indian Army, have been prevented by the Treaties. An arrangement has thus been stereotyped for nearly half a century which, as time has passed and communications have improved, has scarcely been demanded for the adequate protection of His Highness's dominions, whilst it has imposed upon the Government of India a system compatible neither with economy nor with efficiency of administration. It must be to the interest of both parties that some change should be introduced into this situation. Nor will such a change, in all probability, be less welcome to the Nizam, if it is no longer considered necessary to maintain the separate existence or title of a force whose associations are believed to be somewhat invidious to the feelings of the Hyderabad State and its Ruler.

Thirdly, while it has been shown to be desirable, in the interests of both parties, that a complete revision should take place of the conditions under which Berar is at present administered and the Hyderabad Contingent maintained, it is even more desirable, in the interests of the Nizam, and is certainly the wish of the British Government, that His Highness should receive from these portions of his territory which have hitherto been assigned a more regular and assured income than that which, under the Treaties, it has hitherto been found possible to pay over to him. The terms of the Treaties in this respect have in no way been departed from, nor has any complaint been received from His Highness as to the nature or amount of the surpluses which from time to time he has received. The Treaties themselves, for the reasons already named, have, however, been fatal to real economy of administration, and, as a consequence, to the payment of large surpluses. The largest surplus that has ever been paid over to His Highness the Nizam in any single year since 1860 was Rs 19,73,000 in 1887-88. In several years, owing to famine or other causes, there has been no surplus at all. The average of the surpluses transferred to Hyderabad during the forty years between 1860 and 1900 amounted only to a fraction under nine lakhs per annum. More recently all chance of a surplus payment to the Nizam for many years to come has been seriously affected, if not altogether destroyed, by the contraction of certain loans, for the repayment of which (capital and interest) the Berar surplus, when there is a surplus, has been made the chief security, viz., (1) the loan of two crores from the Government of India to the Hyderabad State in 1900, and (2) the famine loans amounting to 141 lakhs which have been made by the Government of India to Berar. The interest upon the former, or Hyderabad loan, is fixed at 4 per cent, and it is to be repaid partly by annual payments of 3 lakhs by the Nizam, but in the main by annual instalments of 15 lakhs, towards principal and interest, from the Berar surplus. The interest upon the second, or Berar loans, is 3½ per cent, and they are to be repaid by an annual instalment of 5 lakhs a year from the Berar surplus spread over 28 years. Should there be no surplus in any year or years, the repayment of these loans will be proportionately postponed. In any case, it is clear that while Berar has for forty years been a source only of fluctuating and precarious revenue to the Hyderabad State, there is no chance, under existing conditions, of any change being effected in this condition of affairs for many years to come and that, even if such economies are introduced by the Government of India as have been shown by the recent enquiry to be possible, it will not be the Nizam, but the Government of India, who will profit by the saving, in the greater rapidity with which their loans will be repaid.

6 These conditions suggested to His Excellency the Viceroy the arrangement which he recently communicated to His Highness the Nizam, and which has been accepted by the latter. The present arrangement by which the Berar Districts are assigned to the British Government will be terminated. The sovereignty of the Nizam over Berar is re-affirmed. But His Highness undertakes to grant a lease in perpetuity to the British Government of the districts hitherto assigned, in return for a permanent annual rent of 25 lakhs. The annual rent will not be payable to His Highness in full for several years to come, since a part of it must be devoted to effecting, under an arrangement which will presently be discussed, the liquidation of the loans for which the Berar Revenues have already been made the security. As soon as these loans have been discharged, the annual rent will be payable in full to His Highness the Nizam. For their part the Government of India will in future be at liberty to administer Berar in such manner as they may deem desirable, by amalgamation with adjoining British territory or otherwise. The Hyderabad Contingent will also cease to exist as an independent auxiliary force, its strength in Hyderabad territory will probably be found capable of reduction, and it will be finally incorporated in the Indian Army.

7 It has been the desire of the Government of India in making this proposal to vindicate in the fullest manner, compatible with convenience and reason, the sovereignty of His Highness the Nizam. Indeed, his sovereignty over Berar will be not less, but if anything more clearly acknowledged by the grant of a lease than by the cession of an assignment. Although the territories leased from His Highness may hereafter be administered as part of a British Province, the laws of British India will only continue to apply through the exercise of the foreign jurisdiction of the Governor-General in Council. Further, His Excellency the Viceroy has signified his willingness, should the Nizam attach value to such a suggestion, to undertake that the flag of His Highness the Nizam shall be flown at the head-quarters of the local administration in Berar upon the anniversary of the birth of His Highness, and that a salute should be fired in his honour on the same occasion. This is a compliment that is not paid to the Ruler of the Hyderabad State under the existing form of administration.

8 There is one point in connection with the suggested reduction in the Hyderabad Contingent, that was mentioned by His Excellency to the Nizam and which I am instructed to request you to bring again more particularly before the attention of His Highness to whom it was submitted by you as far back as January last, in the first outline of the Viceroy's scheme. It has been proposed that the strength of the Hyderabad Contingent, that is of the Indian troops who will in future be stationed in His Highness's territories, shall be reduced. This is a concession which the Government of India are willing to make if His Highness can pari passu see his way to initiate a corresponding reduction in the number of irregular troops at present maintained by the Hyderabad State. These troops consist of 19,500 men, and they cost the Hyderabad Treasury 45 lakhs a year. These numbers appear to be fraught with some peril rather than with any material advantage to the State, while the annual charge entailed is an expensive and unnecessary burden. The Government of India are animated solely by a regard for the best interests of the Nizam himself and of his State, in suggesting that a substantial reduction should be made in the strength of this irregular force. The proposal of the Viceroy was that the number of troops in Hyderabad territory, who are at present comprised in the Hyderabad Contingent, i.e., 6,800 men, should be reduced to 4,500—5,000 men, to be maintained in future at a reduced number of stations, and that the Nizam's irregular forces should be simultaneously reduced to 12,000, or, if His Highness is agreeable, to 10,000 men.

9 Different alternatives have been placed before His Highness for making to him an annual payment of rent pending the liquidation of the Hyderabad and Berar loans. The arrangement that appeared to be most satisfactory would be the payment to him of an immediate cash benefit of  $6\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs a year for 20 years, and of  $16\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs a year in the 21st and following years, culminating in the full 25 lakhs after both the loans had been fully repaid, which would be in about 30 years. These payments would be made concurrently with the continuous liquidation of the loans, and His Highness would continue to pay to the Government of India the 3 lakhs a year which he has undertaken to contribute towards the Hyderabad loan until it is fully repaid. Under this arrangement the annual rent of 25 lakhs would be thus distributed —

- (a) To the Nizam,  $6\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs for 20 years  $16\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs from the 21st year till the loans had been fully repaid thereafter 25 lakhs,
- (b) Towards the Berar loans, 10 lakhs for about 20 years,
- (c) Towards the Hyderabad loan,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs

The 10 lakhs a year would discharge the Berar loans, principal and interest in a fraction under 20 years, and the  $8\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs, with His Highness the Nizam's 3 lakhs a year, making  $11\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in all, would discharge the Hyderabad loan in a fraction over 30 years. By these means His Highness would receive in the next 30 years a total sum of 295 lakhs, loans amounting to 341 lakhs being in the meantime discharged. The Government of India in fact in return for the lease of Berar will undertake to provide from its revenues and from their own resources a total sum of 636 lakhs in 30 years, and will promise to His Highness an assured income of 25 lakhs a year afterwards. If the surpluses in the future were not to exceed the average of the last 40 years, namely, 9 lakhs a year, that sum, even with the 3 lakhs payable towards the Hyderabad loan by His Highness, would not suffice to pay the interest on the two loans, and there would be nothing available either for the repayment of the principal or for payment to the Nizam. These calculations are, it is hoped, sufficient to show that the arrangement which has been proposed is conceived in a spirit of no small generosity to the Nizam. Should His Highness, in order to secure a larger immediate annual benefit, desire to spread the suggested payment to himself more evenly over the next 30 years, the Government of India would be willing to consider any proposal to that effect. Their desire is to place the contemplated pecuniary advantage in the possession of His Highness in such form as may be most agreeable to him.

10 I am to instruct you to place the contents of this letter before His Highness the Nizam, and, in requesting from him an official confirmation of the proposals to which he has already signified his assent, to invite from him an expression of opinion on the points mentioned in the letter upon which his final opinion still remains to be sought. When His Highness's reply has been received, I will then forward to you a formal agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally agreed upon, for the joint signature of His Highness and of the Viceroy, or of their several representatives.

11 In conclusion, I am to convey the grateful recognition of the Governor-General in Council of the extreme friendliness and courtesy which have been displayed by His Highness the Nizam in the negotiations that have thus happily terminated, and to express a hope that the settlement arrived at, which is equally honourable to both parties, and which has been framed in the best interests of each, will not merely remove the only shadow that has ever appeared to fall upon the relations of the Government of India and the Hyderabad State in the past, but will tend to place them for all time upon a footing of undisturbed confidence and amity.

No 33-C, dated Hyderabad, the 17th July 1902

From—The HON'BLE LIEUTENANT-COLONEL SIR DAVID BARR, K C S I, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 53-C, dated the 25th April 1902, instructing me to place before His Highness the

Nizam a statement concerning the proposals that were made by His Excellency the Viceroy in the course of his visit to Hyderabad, with a view to securing His Highness's formal confirmation of his acceptance of the settlement verbally made as the result of informal and private communications between His Excellency and His Highness

2 On the receipt of your instructions, I addressed the Minister to His Highness the Nizam in a letter No 4 P, dated the 7th May 1902, of which a copy is attached. Considerable delay occurred before I received the reply to this letter—due probably to the fact that His Highness the Nizam was anxious to collect the views of his Minister and principal nobles and officials before committing himself to an opinion on the points referred to in paragraphs 8 and 9 of your letter, on which an expression of His Highness's views was sought

3 I have now the honour to submit (in original) a letter No 3 C, dated the 14th July 1902, from His Highness's Minister to my address, replying to my letter No 4 P, dated the 7th May 1902. This letter, written by command of His Highness the Nizam, states that His Highness formally accepts and officially confirms the agreement made between His Excellency the Viceroy and himself, with regard to the lease in perpetuity of Berar for a permanent annual rent of Rs 25 lakhs. Having thus formally confirmed His Highness's acceptance of the agreement made with His Excellency the Viceroy—the Minister's letter proceeds to discuss the points mentioned in paragraphs 8 and 9 of my letter No 4-P, dated the 7th May 1902, and to communicate, as invited, an expression of His Highness's opinion on those points, and concludes with the formulation of certain requests which are left to the final decision of the Government of India—while His Highness's assent to the new agreement is not conditional on that decision

4 I will await the further orders of the Government of India before offering any remarks on the requests made, as I believe they are of a nature which the Government of India are prepared to deal with separately from the actual terms of the new agreement which are in no way involved by their consideration. I would, however, observe that I have ascertained that the allusion in paragraph 5 of the Minister's letter to "clauses 2 and 3 of the Treaty of the 21st May 1853, in so far as they apply to the Hyderabad Contingent", is merely intended to apply to that portion of Article 3 of the Treaty, wherein it is agreed that, "whenever the services of the said Contingent may be required they shall be afforded at all times to His Highness the Nizam fully and promptly throughout his whole Dominions, etc."

It is clearly understood by His Highness's Minister that the new agreement does not abrogate any of the treaties now in force between the Government of India and His Highness the Nizam

No 4 P*, dated Ootacamund, the 7th May 1902

From—The HONOURABLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL D W K BARR, C S I, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—The MAHARAJA PLSHKAR KISHEN PERSHAD BAHADUR, Minister to His Highness the Nizam

In the course of his recent visit to Hyderabad, His Excellency the Viceroy arrived at a settlement of the Berar question with His Highness the Nizam. This settlement was the result of informal and private communications that had for some time been proceeding between His Excellency and His Highness. As there is no official record of these communications, which had been largely conducted by word of mouth, I have now the honour to address you on the matter, and to request you to place before His Highness the following statement concerning the proposals that were made, with a view to securing His Highness's formal confirmation of his acceptance

2 There has been no discussion of the Berar question between the British Government and His Highness, since the correspondence that ended with the despatch of Lord Salisbury (at that time Secretary of State for India), dated

28th March 1878 On that occasion Lord Salisbury, in replying to a memorial from the Regent Ministers of Hyderabad, praying for the restoration to them of the administration of the Assigned Districts of Berar, stated at length the reasons which prevented Her late Majesty's Government from acceding to any such request. He pointed out that the engagements of Her late Majesty in respect of Berar were to be found only in the two Treaties of 1853 and 1860, that no limitation of time whatever was assigned to the British administration of Berar by either of those Treaties, that a very strong presumption existed against the disturbance of a state of things which was not only sanctioned by Treaty, but was now established by usage, and that this presumption was fortified by a consideration of the actual well-being of the population in the Assigned Districts.

3 At the same time in thus refusing the request of the Regents, Lord Salisbury went on to say that, should His Highness the Nizam, who was at that time a minor, desire at a later date, after undertaking the government of his State, to bring the whole of the Treaty arrangements between Great Britain and Hyderabad under general revision, the British Government would take the request into consideration, but must reserve to the Government of the day a full discretion to deal with the matter as they might find expedient.

4 This was the starting point of the recent communications, which were conducted with the knowledge and authority of His Majesty's Government, between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Highness the Nizam. Understanding that the latter was willing once again to bring the matter under discussion, His Excellency suggested to His Highness the proposals which have since been accepted. It was not sought on either side to revive the controversies of the past. They were regarded as having been determined by the reply of the British Government contained in the aforesaid despatch of Lord Salisbury. The considerations that were already strong in 1878 had manifestly gained, instead of losing, in force during an additional quarter of a century of British administration. They precluded the revival of a request that had even then been rejected without qualification. But this did not render the British Government less willing in 1902 than they had been in 1878 to consider any solution that might conduce to the interests of the Hyderabad administration, to the satisfaction of its Ruler, and to the permanent maintenance of the happy relations that have so long prevailed between the Paramount Power and the Hyderabad State.

5 Although, as had been pointed out by Lord Salisbury, no limit of time was fixed in either of the Treaties of 1853 or 1860 to British administration in the Assigned Districts, and although, in the interests of Berar itself, there was no manifest reason for any change in the existing system, yet there were circumstances in the situation created by the Treaties that seemed to be susceptible of positive improvement in the interests both of the British Government and still more of His Highness the Nizam. It was a consideration of these circumstances, which I am now to recapitulate, that suggested to His Excellency the Viceroy the proposals recently put forward by him, and that also commended them to the acceptance of the Nizam.

Firstly,—it cannot be doubted that the system under which the Assigned Districts of Berar have been administered according to the terms of the Treaties, as a separate Province under the British Resident at Hyderabad has not been as economical as could be desired. The result of a recent enquiry, ordered by the Government of India into the civil administration of Berar has shown that, while it may be possible to introduce certain economies in the existing scale of expenditure in Berar, these economies can only be insignificant, unless accompanied by such a redistribution of administrative authority as will enable the Government of India to incorporate the administration of Berar with that of the neighbouring British Provinces. Such an amalgamation would render possible a reduction of local staffs and establishments, and would finally assimilate the administrative standards of Berar and of the adjacent districts of British India. Hitherto this has been rendered impossible by the Treaties. The desirability of their revision, so as to admit of a change in this respect is greatly enhanced by the effect that has been produced by the same causes in curtailing the balances paid over from year to year to the Nizam. Thus on both sides there would appear to be the strongest grounds for revising an arrangement that has been shown to be so wasteful of the resources of each.

Secondly,—there is similar scope for reorganisation and retrenchment, though hitherto prevented by the same reasons, in the case of the Military force known as the Hyderabad Contingent. Under the Treaties it has been necessary to maintain this force as a separate unit at a recognised strength in certain stations in His Highness's Dominions. The advantages that might accrue from any redistribution of strength, or reduction of numbers, still more from the incorporation of the Contingent with the neighbouring forces of the Indian Army, have been prevented by the Treaties. An arrangement has thus been stereotyped for nearly half a century, which, as time has passed and communications have improved, has scarcely been demanded for the adequate protection of His Highness's Dominions, whilst it has imposed upon the Government of India a system compatible neither with economy nor with efficiency of administration. It must be to the interest of both parties that some change should be introduced into this situation. Nor will such a change, in all probability, be less welcome to His Highness the Nizam, if it is no longer considered necessary to maintain the separate existence or title of a force whose associations are believed to be somewhat invidious to the feelings of the Hyderabad State and its Ruler.

Thirdly,—while it has been shown to be desirable, in the interests of both parties, that a complete revision should take place of the conditions under which Berar is at present administered and the Hyderabad Contingent maintained, it is even more desirable, in the interests of the Nizam, and is certainly the wish of the British Government, that His Highness should receive from those portions of his territory which have hitherto been assigned, a more regular and assured income than that which, under the Treaties, it has hitherto been found possible to pay over to him. The terms of the Treaties in this respect have in no way been departed from, nor has any complaint been received from His Highness as to the nature or amount of the surpluses which from time to time he has received. The Treaties themselves, for the reasons already named, have, however, been fatal to real economy of administration, and, as a consequence, to the payment of large surpluses. The largest surplus that has ever been paid over to His Highness the Nizam in any single year since 1860 was Rs 19,73,000 in 1887-88. In several years owing to famine or other causes there has been no surplus at all. The average of the surpluses transferred to Hyderabad during the forty years between 1860 and 1900 amounted only to a fraction under nine lakhs per annum. More recently all chance of a surplus payment to the Nizam for many years to come has been seriously affected, if not altogether destroyed by the contraction of certain loans, for the repayment of which (capital and interest) the Berar surplus, when there is a surplus, has been made the chief security, viz—(1) the loan of two crores from the Government of India to the Hyderabad State in 1900, and (2) the famine loans amounting to 141 lakhs which have been made by the Government of India to Berar. The interest upon the former, or Hyderabad loan, is fixed at 4 per cent and it is to be repaid partly by annual payments of 3 lakhs by the Nizam, but in the main by annual instalments of 15 lakhs, towards principal and interest from the Berar surplus. The interest upon the second, or Berar loans, is 3½ per cent, and they are to be repaid by an annual instalment of 5 lakhs a year from the Berar surplus spread over 28 years. Should there be no surplus in any year or years, the repayment of these loans will be proportionately postponed. In any case, it is clear that while Berar has for forty years been a source only of fluctuating and precarious revenue to the Hyderabad State, there is no chance, under existing conditions, of any change being effected in this condition of affairs for many years to come and that, even if such economies are introduced by the Government of India as have been shown by the recent enquiry to be possible, it will not be His Highness the Nizam but the Government of India who will profit by the saving, in the greater rapidity with which their loans will be repaid.

6 These conditions suggested to His Excellency the arrangement which he recently communicated to His Highness the Nizam, and which has been accepted by the latter. The present arrangement by which the Berar Districts are assigned to the British Government will be terminated. The sovereignty of the Nizam over Berar is re-affirmed. But His Highness undertakes to grant a lease in perpetuity to the British Government of the districts hitherto assigned, in return for a permanent annual rent of 25 lakhs. The annual rent will not be payable to His Highness in full for several years to come, since a part of it must be devoted to effecting, under an arrangement which will presently be discussed, the liquidation of the loans for which the Berar Revenues have already been made the security. As soon as these loans have been discharged the annual rent will be payable in full to His Highness the Nizam. For their part the Government of India will in future be at liberty to administer Berar in such manner as they may deem desirable, by amalgamation with adjoining British territory or otherwise. The Hyderabad Contingent will also cease to exist as an independent auxiliary force, its strength in Hyderabad territory will probably be found capable of reduction, and it will be finally incorporated in the Indian Army.

7 It has been the desire of the Government of India in making this proposal to vindicate in the fullest manner, compatible with convenience and reason, the sovereignty of His Highness the Nizam. Indeed, his sovereignty over Berar will be not less, but if anything more clearly acknowledged by the grant of a lease than by the cession of an assignment. Although the territories leased from His Highness may hereafter be administered as part of a British Province, the laws of British India will only continue to apply through the exercise of the foreign jurisdiction of the Governor General in Council. Further, His Excellency the Viceroy has signified his willingness, should the Nizam attach value to such a suggestion, to undertake that the flag of His Highness the Nizam shall be flown at the head quarters of the local administration in Berar upon the anniversary of the birth of His Highness, and that a salute should be fired in his honour on the same occasion. This is a compliment that is not paid to the Ruler of the Hyderabad State under the existing form of administration.

8 There is one point in connection with the suggested reduction in the Hyderabad Contingent, that was mentioned by His Excellency to the Nizam, and which I am to request you to bring again more particularly before the attention of His Highness to whom it was submitted by me as far back as January last, in the first outline of the Viceroy's scheme. It has been proposed that the strength of the Hyderabad Contingent, that is of the Indian troops who will in future be stationed in His Highness's territories, shall be reduced. This is a concession which the Government of India are willing to make if His Highness can pari passu see his way to initiate a corresponding reduction in the number of irregular troops at present maintained by the Hyderabad State. These troops consist of 19,500 men, and they cost the Hyderabad Treasury 45 lakhs a year. Their numbers appear to be fraught with some peril rather than with any material advantage to the State, while the annual charge entailed is an expensive and unnecessary burden. The Government of India are animated solely by a regard for the best interests of the Nizam himself and of his State, in suggesting that a substantial reduction should be made in the strength of this irregular force. The proposal of the Viceroy was that the number of troops in Hyderabad territory, who are at present comprised in the Hyderabad Contingent, i.e., 6,800 men, should be reduced to 4,500—5,000 men, to be maintained in future at a reduced number of stations, and that the Nizam's irregular forces should be simultaneously reduced to 12,000 or, if His Highness is agreeable, to 10,000 men.

9 Different alternatives have been placed before His Highness for making to him an annual payment of rent pending the liquidation of the Hyderabad and Berar loans. The arrangement that appeared to be most satisfactory would be the payment to him of an immediate cash benefit of 6½ lakhs a year for 20 years and of 16½ lakhs a year in the 21st and following years, culminating in the full 25 lakhs after both the loans had been fully repaid, which would be in about 30 years. These payments would be made concurrently with the continuous liquidation of the loans, and His Highness would continue to pay to the Government of India the 3 lakhs a year which he has undertaken to contribute towards the Hyderabad loan until it is fully repaid Under this arrangement the annual rent of 25 lakhs would be thus distributed

- (a) To the Nizam,  $6\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs for 20 years  $16\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs from the 21st year till the loans had been fully repaid thereafter 25 lakhs,
- (b) Towards the Berar loans, 10 lakhs for about 20 years,
- (c) Towards the Hyderabad loan,  $8\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs

The 10 lakhs a year would discharge the Berar loans, principal and interest, in a fraction under 20 years and the  $8\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs, with His Highness the Nizam's 3 lakhs a year, making  $11\frac{1}{2}$  lakhs in all, would discharge the Hyderabad loan in a fraction over 30 years By these means His Highness would receive in the next 30 years a total sum of 295 lakhs, loans amounting to 341 lakhs being in the meantime discharged The Government of India in fact in return for the lease of Berar will undertake to provide from its revenues and from their own resources a total sum of 636 lakhs in 30 years, and will promise to His Highness an assured income of 25 lakhs a year afterwards If the surpluses in the future were not to exceed the average of the last 40 years, namely 9 lakhs a year, that sum, even with the 3 lakhs payable towards the Hyderabad loan by His Highness, would not suffice to pay the interest on the two loans, and there would be nothing available either for the repayment of the principal or for payment to the Nizam These calculations are, it is hoped, sufficient to show that the arrangement which has been proposed is conceived in a spirit of no small generosity to the Nizam Should His Highness, in order to secure a large immediate benefit, desire to spread the suggested payment to himself more evenly over the next 30 years, the Government of India would be willing to consider any proposal to that effect Their desire is to place the contemplated pecuniary advantage in the possession of His Highness in such form as may be most agreeable to him

10 I am directed by His Excellency the Viceroy to lay the contents of this letter before His Highness the Nizam and, in requesting from him an official confirmation of the proposals to which he has already signified his assent, to invite from His Highness an expression of opinion on the points upon which his final opinion still remains to be sought I would, therefore, beg you to submit this letter to His Highness and to explain that the points on which His Excellency the Viceroy invites an expression of opinion are contained in paragraphs 8 and 9 When His Highness's reply is received I shall have the honour to submit it for the information of His Excellency the Viceroy, and, in due course, a formal agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally agreed upon will be forwarded for the joint signature of His Highness and of the Viceroy, or of their several representatives

11 In conclusion, I am to convey the grateful recognition of the Governor-General in Council of the extreme friendliness and courtesy which have been displayed by His Highness the Nizam in the negotiations that have thus happily terminated, and to express a hope that the settlement arrived at which is equally honourable to both parties, and which has been framed in the best interests of each, will not merely remove the only shadow that has ever appeared to fall upon the relations of the Government of India and Hyderabad State in the past, but will tend to place them for all time upon a footing of undisturbed confidence and amity

From—MAHARAJA KISHEN PRSHAD, Minister to His Highness the Nizam of Hyderabad,

To—The HON'BLE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR SIR DAVID BARR, K C S I, Resident at Hyderabad

I duly submitted to His Highness your confidential letter No 4 P, dated Ootacamund, 7th May 1902, regarding the settlement of the Berar question arrived at between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Highness

2. I am now commanded by His Highness to reply to your letter above cited

3 His Highness formally accepts and officially confirms the agreement verbally made between His Excellency the Viceroy and himself with regard to the lease in perpetuity of Berar for a permanent annual rent of Rs 25 lakhs

4 I now proceed to answer paragraphs 8 and 9 of your letter under acknowledgment, and these paragraphs may be summarised as follows —

- (a) The reduction in numbers of the Hyderabad Contingent troops, and their maintenance in future at a reduced number of stations, as also the final incorporation of these troops in the Indian Army
- (b) A corresponding reduction in the number of irregular troops at present maintained by the Hyderabad State
- (c) The manner in which the annual rent of 25 lakhs is to be paid, pending the liquidation of the Hyderabad loan and the Berar Famine loan

5 I am commanded by His Highness to say that he understands that, whatever change may be made in the number and designation of the troops maintained hereafter by the Government of India in Hyderabad territory, the terms contained in clauses 2 and 3 of the Treaty of the 21st May 1853, in so far as they apply to the Hyderabad Contingent, will be strictly observed and maintained in respect of the troops of the Indian Army stationed in His Highness's Dominions, and paid from the Revenues of Berar

6 His Highness highly appreciates the kind advice given by the Government of India in connection with the reduction in the number of irregular troops. This is a matter which, as you are aware, has been engaging His Highness's attention for some time past, and the reductions already effected have been officially intimated to the Hon'ble the Resident from time to time—vide correspondence ending with my letter No 1341, dated the 12th September 1900. His Highness, while accepting the advice of the Government of India, and agreeing with them as to the necessity of reducing the existing strength of the Hyderabad irregular troops, desires to point out that the reduction of these troops involves many delicate and difficult questions. His Highness, however, agrees that, after carefully considering the requirements of the city and the districts, he will, if possible, reduce the number to 12,000 men, when this reduction can be carried out with due regard to the claims of those who are employed, and without causing dissatisfaction and discontent.

7 The point dealt with in paragraph 9 is connected to a certain extent with the views expressed in sub-paragraph 3 of paragraph 5, as also in paragraph 6 of your letter. His Highness has no hesitation in accepting the proposed arrangement as regards the annual payment of the rent, and His Highness's Government will continue to pay to the Government of India the three lakhs a year which they have undertaken to contribute towards the Hyderabad loan, until it is fully repaid. With reference to the concluding portion of paragraph 9 of your letter, His Highness would wish to secure a larger immediate benefit resulting from the proposal of spreading the suggested payment to himself more evenly over the next thirty years. If this can be done, His Highness will feel greatly obliged. But at the same time His Highness desires to reserve the right of making larger payments than the instalments that may be fixed upon, or of paying off the whole balance of the loan, should he, at any time, be in a position to do so.

8 I am, however, to request that the actual amount of instalments to be paid in liquidation of the two loans, may be left undetermined until a decision is arrived at as to the exact amount of the Famine loan now due by the Berar Province to the Government of India. In this connection I am desired by His Highness to point out that a large reserve balance of something like thirty lakhs is always kept in the Berar Treasuries to meet current expenses. This reserve balance pertains to the surplus payable to His Highness's Government according to the terms of the Treaty of 1853, and I am to enquire whether the amount of this reserve balance has been deducted from the loan received by Berar from the Government of India. Further, as some proportion of the famine expenditure in Berar is represented by public works which will remain as an asset, I am to enquire whether the value of these works has been deducted from the famine debt of the Province. His Highness earnestly hopes that, in view of the fact that he has been made liable for the Berar famine loan, the point he has now urged will receive the most favourable consideration of the Government of India.

9 There are a few other points which require settlement, and these I mention below —

- (1) In good seasons or in bad seasons the amount of rent now fixed, viz, Rs 25 lakhs per annum, should be regularly paid to His Highness's Government
- (2) His Highness's Government should be absolved from all future responsibility, financial or otherwise, should unhappily any famines occur in the Berar Province
- (3) His Highness's Government should also be absolved, as heretofore, from responsibility for payment of certain chauth allowances and pensions mentioned in Article 6 of the Treaty, dated 31st December 1860
- (4) When the number of stations of the Hyderabad Contingent troops are reduced, the lands, etc., of such stations should revert to His Highness's Government
- (5) Should the Hyderabad Contingent troops be incorporated in the Indian Army, all free Rumnahs hitherto granted to these troops should revert to His Highness's Government

10 I have kept paragraph 7 of your letter to answer at the last. His Highness is extremely obliged to His Excellency the Viceroy for his proposal to vindicate in the fullest manner, compatible with convenience and reason, the sovereignty of His Highness the Nizam over Berar. His Highness accepts with pleasure the suggestion made that his flag should be flown at the headquarters of the local administration in Berar on the anniversary of the birth of His Highness, and that a salute should be fired in his honour on the same occasion. His Highness, however, should be further obliged if these ceremonies were also observed on the occasions of the Eed ul Fitr (Ramzan) and Eed-uz-Zoha (Bukkur Eed), and if on all these occasions Khutbas were read in the mosques.

11 I am to state that the requests made in this letter are left to the final decision of the Government of India, and that His Highness's assent to the new agreement is not conditional on that decision. I am also to express the fullest reliance of His Highness's Government on receiving the most friendly and liberal treatment at the hands of the Government of India.

12 In conclusion His Highness desires to tender to His Excellency the Viceroy and to yourself his most cordial thanks for the great friendliness and courtesy that have been shown to him in bringing to an amicable settlement this most important matter, and to express His Highness's earnest hope that this settlement will tend to promote and strengthen the happy relations which have always existed between the Government of India and the Hyderabad State.

No 4293 I-B, dated Simla, the 30th September 1902

From—H S BARNES, Esq, C S I, Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department,

To—The HONOURABLE LIEUTENANT-COLONEL SIR D W K BARR, K C S I, Resident at Hyderabad

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 33 C, dated the 17th July 1902, forwarding a copy of the Minister's letter (No 3 C, dated the 14th July) formally accepting, on behalf of His Highness the Nizam, the proposals contained in paragraph 6 of my letter No 53 C, dated the 25th April last, for the lease of the Assigned Districts of Berar in perpetuity to the British Government for an annual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees.

2 I am now to forward in duplicate, for execution by yourself and the Minister, a formal* Agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally decided upon. After the execution of the Agreement, both copies of it should be returned to this office for ratification by His Excellency the Viceroy, and one of the copies will then be forwarded to you for delivery to the Durbar.

For the Agreement see enclosure in Lieutenant Colonel Sir D. Barr's letter No. 67 C dated the 5th November 1902; which follows

3 You will notice that the Agreement contains a reference to Article 3 of the Treaty of the 21st May 1853, which meets the wishes of His Highness the Nizam as stated in the 5th paragraph of the Minister's letter of the 14th July, and as explained in the 4th paragraph of your letter under reply. Article 2 of the Treaty of 1853 is not affected by the new Agreement, and as regards Article 3, while it is an essential part of the settlement now made that the troops maintained in lieu of the Hyderabad Contingent shall be no longer controlled through the Resident, the Government of India readily agree that the services of these troops, if required, shall be fully and promptly afforded at all times to His Highness the Nizam throughout his dominions.

4 The Government of India have learnt with pleasure that His Highness the Nizam accepts their advice as to the need of a reduction in the number of his irregular troops, and they note with much satisfaction that he agrees to diminish them, if possible, to 12,000 men. It is recognised that the promise of so considerable a reduction will require time for its complete fulfilment. But you should point out to His Highness the importance of taking some immediate steps to carry out the measure to which he has now signified his assent, since upon this reduction depends the corresponding reduction that the Government of India desire to effect in the number of their troops stationed in His Highness's dominions. The Government of India confidently hope that His Highness's Government will approach the matter without delay in a business-like spirit, and will lose no time in devising the means for effecting a reform of so much financial benefit to the State.

5 I am now to communicate to you the decision of the Government of India upon the other requests that are contained in the Minister's letter. The Government of India readily agree to the proposal in paragraph 7 of the Minister's letter that a larger immediate annual benefit should be secured to His Highness by spreading the payments to himself more evenly over the next 30 years, and in view of the reduction in the Berar famine loans which will be referred to later on, they propose that the distribution of the rent of 25 lakhs should be as follows until these loans and the Hyderabad loan are repaid —

10 lakhs to His Highness the Nizam

7 „ towards the Berar loans

8 „ towards the Hyderabad loan

The last-named payment is, of course, in addition to the 3 lakhs per annum which His Highness has agreed to pay from Hyderabad revenues. The effect of these payments in extinguishing the loans will be explained later. I am to add that there will be no objection to His Highness making larger repayments of the principal of these loans when he is in a position to do so, provided this is not done by incurring fresh loans, but the Government of India will require six months' previous notice of the amount of such excess repayment, and of the date upon which it will be made.

6 In paragraph 8 of his letter the Minister asks that the reserve or working balance in the Berar treasuries, and also the value of the public works constructed out of the famine expenditure, may be deducted from the Berar famine loans. As regards the first part of his request, I am to explain that, while it is true that a part of the cash balance in Berar has been built up out of the surplus revenue, to which the Nizam's Government was entitled, the actual cash balance consists not only of the unpaid portion of the surplus, but of the balances of Local funds, of Judicial and Revenue deposits, and of other sums held on behalf of persons other than Government. Even, therefore, on the assumption that the Nizam has a claim to a portion of the balance, it is reasonable to hold that only so much of the cash balance as represents the unpaid portion of past surpluses can rightly be credited in deduction of the famine loans. There is, however, equal force in the argument that the Nizam is not ceding Berar, but is merely consenting to certain improvements in the existing arrangements, and that since a working balance was necessary and would have been retained under the old assignment, it is equally necessary and should, therefore, be retained for the working of the new lease. Nevertheless the Government of India, in their anxiety to deal in this matter with the Nizam's Government in a spirit of the utmost liberality and in a way which shall admit of no criticism or dispute, have decided to make to His Highness a full and ample payment in satisfaction of all actual or possible claims. The sum that they are prepared to hand over is the whole of the actual cash balance on the date upon which the new settlement will come into force. It is proposed that this should be the 1st October next. The amount of the actual cash balance of Berar on that date, which, as will be shown presently, may not improbably amount to 40 lakhs, will be communicated to you for His Highness's information, and the whole amount will be taken in reduction of the Berar famine loans.

7 The above remarks will have made clear that the second request of His Highness, namely, that the value of the famine works that have been constructed from the famine expenditure should also be taken as a set off against the famine loans, is one with which the Government of India have not found it possible to comply. It is open to them to contend that the normal cost of these works is for the most part a mere forestallment of expenditure which would probably have been undertaken later if the need for famine expenditure had not hurried it on. But, on the other hand, in any well regulated administration the cost of famines should ordinarily be met from the surplus of past years, and in the case of Berar the whole of the surplus (including, under the present orders, the working balance) having been made over to the Nizam, the latter cannot fairly expect to receive credit also for the value of works the cost of which forms a proper charge against that surplus. It must be recollected that the true value of famine works is always difficult to ascertain, and it is estimated by the Public Works Department of the Government of India that in Berar their value will not exceed about 11½ lakhs, since many of the works begun will never be completed, while others, such as railway embankments, will probably be destroyed before they can be used. Moreover, the Government of India are unable to recognise any difference of principle between these works and other public works constructed in the past from the revenues of Berar, the value of which will also remain in the province. For these reasons, it is impossible to accede to this request of His Highness, apart from, or outside of, the general settlement which has been proffered in the preceding paragraph.

8 I am to enclose statements showing particulars of the transactions up to the present date connected with the principal of (i) the Berar famine loans, and (ii) the Hyderabad loan. It will be seen that the former loans have already been reduced to 116 lakhs. If the cash balance on the 1st October amounts to 40 lakhs, as is not improbable, these loans will be reduced further to about 76 lakhs, and by the proposed payment of 7 lakhs a year they will be discharged with interest in about 14 years. From the 15th year therefore, on the supposition above made as to the amount of the cash balance at the beginning of October, the cash payment to the Nizam will be increased from 10 lakhs per annum, as stated in paragraph 5, to 17 lakhs per annum. This increase will occur sooner if the cash balance of October is higher than 40 lakhs, and later if the cash balance is lower. The balance of the Hyderabad loan, 185 lakhs, by the annual payment of 11 lakhs (8 lakhs from the annual Berar rent and 3 lakhs from Hyderabad revenues), will be completely discharged with interest in about 29 years, after which His Highness will receive the full rent of 25 lakhs per annum. As the new Agreement is to have effect from the 1st October 1902, the Government of India are willing to agree that the first payment and distribution of the 25 lakhs in the manner proposed should be made on the 1st April 1903, and thereafter on the 1st April in each year. It is hoped that this arrangement will prove agreeable to His Highness, and will prove to him the sincerity of the Government of India's desire to conclude this settlement with a due regard to his wishes, and on generous as well as equitable terms. It will be understood that the periods mentioned in this paragraph for the liquidation of the loans are approximate only. The actual process of liquidation will be as follows from the 7 lakhs to be paid on the 1st of April of each year towards the Berar famine loans, the amount of interest due and unpaid up to that date will be first discharged, and the balance will be credited to the principal of the loans, the process continuing until the annual credits to principal have discharged the whole of the loans. The annual payment of 11 lakhs towards the Hyderabad loan will be similarly distributed every year between interest and principal till the whole principal is repaid.

9 As regards the points discussed in paragraph 9 of the Minister's letter, the Government of India agree to proposals 1, 2 and 3. It was always intended that, under the new settlement, the responsibility for future famine expenditure should rest upon the Government of India, and the new Agreement does not affect the provisions of the Treaty of 1860 in regard to the payment of the Chouth allowances and pensions, which are mentioned in Article 6 of that Treaty. The Government of India also agree that, if the number of stations now occupied by the Hyderabad Contingent is reduced, the lands hitherto occupied by the troops in the abandoned stations will revert to His Highness, subject to the reservation of all private rights in such lands. Similarly, all free rumnahs at the stations that may be given up will also revert to His Highness's Government, but in any stations that may be retained, it is considered that the free rumnahs hitherto attached to them should continue to be available as heretofore for the use of the troops. The above-named reversion will, of course, not apply to the station of Ellichpur in Berar, which, in common with the whole of that province, will remain exclusively under British administration.

10 As His Highness the Nizam accepts the concession which had been proposed by His Excellency the Viceroy, the Government of India will issue orders that his flag shall be flown at the head-quarters of the Berar Administration on the anniversary of His Highness's birthday, and that a salute shall be fired in his honour on the same occasion. But they are of opinion that it is not desirable that these ceremonies should also be observed on the occasions of the Id-ul-Fitr and the Id-us-Zoha, or that Khutbas should be read in the mosques. The concession that was suggested by His Excellency the Viceroy is an innovation in Berar itself, and is without precedent in any other territories similarly administered by the British Government. Moreover, His Excellency's desire in making the proposal was specially to associate the compliment with His Highness the present Nizam, an object that will not be attained by the wider proposals now submitted, which the Government of India are accordingly reluctant to sanction.

11 In conclusion, I am to ask you to convey to His Highness the Nizam the Governor-General in Council's cordial acknowledgments of the friendly spirit in which His Highness has participated in these negotiations and his hearty congratulations upon their successful termination.

No 67-C, dated Hyderabad, the 5th November 1902

From—The HON'BLE LIEUTENANT-COLONEL SIR D W K BARR, K C S I, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 4293 I-B, dated the 30th September 1902, forwarding, in duplicate, for execution by myself and the Minister, a formal Agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally decided upon for the lease of the Assigned Districts of Berar in perpetuity to the British Government for an annual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees

2 I have now the honour to return the Agreement, in duplicate, executed by myself and the Minister to His Highness the Nizam

3 The Agreement was signed by us, this day, in the presence of Major Wolseley Haig, my First Assistant, and Mr Faridoonji Jamshedji, Private Secretary to the Minister

4 I enclose a copy of my letter to the Minister, No 54-C, dated the 11th October 1902, with which, as authorised by you, I forwarded confidentially, for the information of His Highness the Nizam, a printed copy of your letter No 4293 I-B, dated the 30th September 1902

No 54 C, dated the 11th October 1902

From—The HON'BLE LIEUTENANT-COLONEL SIR D W K BARR, K C S I, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—MAHARAJA PESHKAR KISHEN PERSHAD BAHADUR, Minister to His Highness the Nizam

1 I had the honour of submitting, for the consideration of the Government of India, a copy of your letter No 3-C, dated the 14th July 1902, formally accepting, on behalf of His Highness the Nizam, the proposals contained in paragraph 6 of my letter No 4 P, dated the 6th May 1902, for the lease of the Assigned Districts of Berar in perpetuity to the British Government, for an annual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees, and I now enclose confidentially, for the information of His Highness, a copy of a letter No 4293 I-B, dated the 30th September 1902, from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, to my address, together with enclosures, viz, a copy of the Agreement, referred to in that letter, and a statement of the Berar Famine loan

2 I would beg you to lay these papers before His Highness, and after obtaining his orders, to inform me on what date it will be convenient to you to execute with me the formal Agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally decided upon

Memorandum of Agreement between the British Government on the one part and the Hyderabad State on the other part, concluded by LIEUTENANT COLONEL SIR DAVID WILLIAM KEITH BARR, K C S I, I S C, duly authorised by the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council for that purpose, and by the MAHARAJA PESHKAR KISHEN PERSHAD BAHADUR, Minister to His Highness the Nizam, on behalf of the Hyderabad State

Whereas by the Treaties concluded between the British Government and the Hyderabad State on the 21st May 1853 and the 26th December 1860, the Berar districts were assigned to the British Government for the maintenance of the Hyderabad Contingent, the surplus, if any, from the Assigned Districts being paid to His Highness the Nizam

And whereas the British Government and His Highness the Nizam desire to improve this arrangement

And whereas it is inexpedient in the interests of economy that the Assigned Districts should continue to be managed as a separate administration or the Hyderabad Contingent as a separate force

And whereas it is also desirable that His Highness the Nizam should receive a fixed instead of a fluctuating and uncertain income from the Assigned Districts

The following terms are hereby agreed upon between the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council and the Nawab Mir Sir Mahbub Ali Khan Bahadur Fateh Jung Nizam of Hyderabad —

- (1) His Highness the Nizam, whose sovereignty over the Assigned Districts is re-affirmed, leases them to the British Government in perpetuity in consideration of the payment to him by the British Government of a fixed and perpetual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees per annum,
- (2) The British Government, while retaining the full and exclusive jurisdiction and authority in the Assigned Districts which they enjoy under the Treaties of 1853 and 1860, shall be at liberty, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in those Treaties, to administer the Assigned Districts in such manner as they may deem desirable, and also to redistribute, reduce, reorganise and control the forces now composing the Hyderabad Contingent, as they may think fit, due provision being made as stipulated by Article 3 of the Treaty of 1853 for the protection of His Highness's Dominions

Letter from the Government of India in the Foreign Department, to the RIGHT HON'BLE LORD GEORGE FRANCIS HAMILTON, His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No 1-C, dated Viceroy's Camp, the 13th November 1902

We have the honour to forward to Your Lordship a complete copy of the correspondence that has passed between the Government of India and the Minister of His Highness the Nizam, concerning the future administration of Berar, and also of the Agreement that has been concluded on the subject between Sir D Barr, our Resident at Hyderabad, on behalf of the Viceroy and Governor-General of India on the one hand, and the Maharaja Peshkar Kishen Pershad Bahadur, Minister to His Highness the Nizam, on behalf of the Hyderabad State on the other

2 The negotiations that have thus reached a happy termination were inaugurated, with the full knowledge and sanction of Your Lordship, towards the end of the year 1901. An interchange of friendly and confidential opinions ensued between the representatives of the Government of India and of the Nizam and His Excellency the Viceroy, who had some time previously accepted an invitation from His Highness to visit Hyderabad in the spring of the present year, was able, while there in the month of April, to complete the negotiations in personal conference with His Highness. The succeeding interval has been occupied in working out the details of the new arrangement, and in considering and replying to certain requests that were received from the Nizam. Finally, the Agreement, recording the settlement arrived at, was signed at Hyderabad on the 5th November 1902, and the discussions between the Government of India and the Hyderabad State were thereby brought to a successful close

3 The papers which we forward with this despatch will in themselves provide a full and ample explanation, both of the objects which the Government of India have throughout had in view, and of the nature of the Agreement that has been signed. But they may briefly be summarised as follows. The system that has prevailed up to the present date in Berar, dates from the Treaties of 1853 and 1860, under which certain districts, known as the Assigned Districts of Berar, were made over without limit of time to the British Government for the maintenance of the Hyderabad Contingent, the surplus, if any, from their administration being paid to His Highness the Nizam. In the passage of time these arrangements have become both inconvenient and obsolete, while they have on occasions given rise to controversies, which have never permanently affected the friendly relations between the British Government and the Hyderabad State, but the recurrence or revival of which it was nevertheless most desirable in the interests of both parties to preclude. Upon the side of the Government of India the flaws in the existing system were mainly associated with the civil and military administration of the province, which, under the arrangements stereotyped by the Treaties, was imperfect and wasteful. Upon the side of His Highness the Nizam, the desirability of a change arose in the main from the precarious and fluctuating character of the surpluses which, also under the stipulations of the Treaties, were payable to him, and the irregular nature of which introduced a regrettable element of uncertainty into the finances of the State. It was realised on both sides that the events of the past half century, during which the Assigned Districts of Berar have remained continuously under British administration, constituted a prescription, from which it was neither possible nor desirable to depart, and the efforts of both parties in the recent negotiations were accordingly directed to the discovery of a solution that should possess the combined merits of removing the administrative anomalies of which we have spoken, of securing to His Highness the Nizam an assured income from this portion of his territories, and of guaranteeing to the population of Berar, which now amounts to over 2½ million persons, a continuance of the conditions and standards under which they have attained to a high measure of prosperity.

Consistently with these objects, it has been our desire to recognise and to re-affirm, rather than in any way to dispute or to derogate from, the sovereignty of the Nizam, and the Agreement arrived at, while leaving the administration of Berar as at present in British hands, though under conditions that will ensure a far more economical system of management, provides for the recognition of the prerogatives of His Highness, both by the terms of the Agreement, according to which the future tenure of the Assigned Districts by the British Government will be a lease in perpetuity, and also by the annual compliments to His Highness in the leased territories which the Government of India have consented henceforward to bestow.

4 The financial terms which we offered to the Nizam and which have been accepted by him are an annual rent of 25 lakhs, or nearly £167,000. When this sum is contrasted with the average annual amount of the surpluses that have been paid to the Nizam during the 40 years between 1860 and 1900—namely, a fraction under 9 lakhs, or a sum varying according to the rate of exchange from £90,000 to £50,000, it will, we think, be recognised, both that the Hyderabad State will be a substantial gainer by the transaction, and also that our proposals have been conceived in no grudging or illiberal spirit. It is true that, in consequence of the financial embarrassments in which the State has lately been plunged, owing in the main to famine both in Hyderabad and Berar, and which have compelled recourse to be made in both cases to the Government of India for loans, the full annual rent will not for some time be realised by His Highness. But the arrangements that have been agreed upon for the discharge of these liabilities are such as will relieve the Hyderabad State at the earliest possible date from its burdens, while we have further accelerated this consummation by handing over to the Nizam, for the still more rapid liquidation of the loans, a sum equivalent to the entire working balance of 41 lakhs, which stood to the credit of the Berar administration on October 1st of the present year. We did not regard the request of the Nizam for a concession of this point as one with which we were at all bound, either in logic or equity, to comply. But in our anxiety to meet the courteous and conciliatory attitude of His Highness in a similar spirit, and to effect a liberal settlement of all possible claims, we were glad to give a favourable answer to his representation.

5 It only remains for us to notice the effect that will be produced by the new Agreement upon the military forces of both signatories. The Government of India acquire the liberty, hitherto denied to them by the Treaties, to effect such a redistribution and reorganisation of the Hyderabad Contingent (without of course in any way reducing the numerical strength of the Indian army) as may be found desirable, consistently with the uninterrupted discharge of the obligation, assumed by them in the Treaty of 1853, to employ these troops, when required, in assisting the Nizam to maintain order within his dominions. Simultaneously the Nizam has undertaken to reduce by gradual degrees the irregular forces of his State, which, as at present constituted, are far from being required for purposes of internal order, and which, moreover, impose an onerous annual charge upon the revenues of the State. It is, therefore, a further and not less beneficial result of the new Agreement that both parties will thereby be enabled to undertake long needed projects of military economy and reform.

6 We do not delay the present despatch to acquaint Your Lordship with the proposals which we have in view for the future administration of Berar. Under the terms of the new Agreement the British Government are at liberty to deal with this matter in such manner as they may deem desirable. The extinction of a separate and costly administration will be the first condition of the projected reforms. But upon this matter we shall again address Your Lordship at a later date when our plans have been more fully worked out.

7 In our correspondence with our Resident at Hyderabad, we have already expressed our cordial acknowledgments of the friendly manner in which His Highness the Nizam has throughout participated in the recent negotiations. The language that has been used by his Minister in reply assures us that these sentiments are entirely reciprocated by His Highness, and leaves no doubt that the settlement of this most important matter which we have here recorded has been as heartily and spontaneously accepted by the Nizam, as it was frankly and sincerely put forward by ourselves. We now look forward with confidence to a future in which no cloud need again arise to obscure the historical and unbroken friendship that has for so long existed between the British Government and the Hyderabad State.

We have, etc

No. 5615-I B—The subjoined Agreement between the British Government and the Hyderabad State, whereby His Highness the Nizam leases the Berar Districts in perpetuity to the British Government, is published, with the connected correspondence, for general information

No 19 dated India Office, London, the 28th March 1878

From—THE MOST NOBLE THE MARQUIS OF SALISBURY, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

I have received and considered your letter of the 11th of June last (No 18 of 1877) enclosing a memorial from the Regent Ministers of Hyderabad, praying for restoration to them of the administration of the Assigned Districts of Berar, and Your Excellency's reply to that request

2 I concur with Your Excellency in thinking that the previous correspondence which has passed upon this subject dispenses with the necessity of examining and refuting the historical contentions put forward by the Ministers in support of their prayer. It is superfluous at this time to inquire into the grounds and motives which actuated those who concluded the Treaty of 1853. The fact that it was signed, and that its provisions are binding on those who signed it, is the material fact with which Her Majesty's Government on the one side and His Highness's Government on the other side have to deal. To go behind it—to impugn the reasons which induced the signatories to conclude it, and on that ground to challenge its validity, is inconsistent with the practice of nations

3 It would be sufficient, therefore, that I should now simply express my approval of the course which you have followed, and my concurrence in the arguments which on this and on former occasions your Government has employed. But in this and in former letters from the Ministers, a line of reasoning has been pursued, of which, if I do not take any notice, I may seem to have admitted the legitimacy, and upon which, therefore, I will make some observations

4 A claim, as of right, to the restitution of the administration of Berar will be naturally sustained by appeals to the treaties and other formal obligations of the British Government. To a certain extent the arguments advanced have been of this character, and little as the Regent Ministers appear to Her Majesty's Government to have been successful in establishing their contention, no demur can so far be made to the legitimacy of the evidence to which they appeal. But formal treaties, or instruments of like authority, are by no means the only documents which they quote in seeking to fix a pledge or obligation on the British Government. A large portion of their argument rests on expressions of opinion by servants of that Government, contained in letters or minutes addressed by them, not to the Nizam and his officers, but to their own superiors or subordinates. It often happens that these papers are subsequently given to the world in a Parliamentary Blue Book. The Ministers appear to assume that opinions which they find expressed by highly placed officers of the Crown, and published in this manner, are binding upon Her Majesty's Government, and constitute a pledge which the latter may be called upon to fulfil. It is very necessary to point out that this assumption is quite ungrounded.

5 In all Governments, and especially in the Government of India, it is generally requisite that public servants should record the reasons on which any particular measure or order is based. The statement of these reasons may take the form of instructions to the subordinate officer, by whom the orders are to be executed, or they may be contained in minutes and reports addressed to Her Majesty's Government in explanation of the policy that has been pursued. Such documents, if they are to be of any value, must contain not only records of fact, but statements of opinion upon disputable questions. They may contain arguments upon the rights and claims of persons concerned, upon contested questions of obligation, upon controverted points of external and internal law. It must occasionally happen that, in his treatment of these questions of opinion, the officer may hold, and express with great distinctness, views which are entirely at variance with those of the Government under which he is serving, and, perhaps, the consciousness that his opinions are not generally shared will lead him to dwell upon them at greater length, and to advocate them with more energy. The Government may possibly approve the measures that have been taken by an officer, while dissenting from his opinions upon matters of controversy, but unless the statement of these opinions contains matters requiring immediate decision, they will probably be satisfied simply to approve his policy without expressing any judgment on his opinions. The documents may, in due course, be published, but it would be a great error to assume that Her Majesty's Government are in the slightest degree pledged to the expressions of opinion or the interpretation of documents, or the estimate of rights, which the reports so published may be found to contain. No obligations can be created on their part towards any other person, except by assurances addressed by them or on their behalf to him for that purpose.

6 It is, therefore, irrelevant to discuss point by point the various opinions which have been quoted during this controversy out of the official correspondence of various Governors-General and other officers during the half century which elapsed between the surrender of Berar by the British Government to the Nizam, and its re-assignment by the Treaties of 1853 and 1860. It would not be difficult to show that the opinions attributed to the Marquis of Hastings, and the Marquis of Dalhousie, and the Earl Canning are not really deducible from the expressions which are quoted out of their correspondence. But it is comparatively of little importance to ascertain what is the signification of their language, and the discussion might attach to it an exaggerated value. It is essential to insist that their meaning is irrelevant to the question of obligation. The pledges of Her Majesty in respect to Berar are to be found only in the formal engagements which have been contracted on her behalf.

7 The only formal engagements which are directly material to this controversy, are to be found in the Treaties of 1853 and 1860. In order to elucidate the meanings of these documents, the Ministers dwell upon the conversations which took place during the negotiations between the Nizam and the British Residents, Colonel Low and Colonel Davidson, and they seek apparently to establish that the Nizam had fully resolved not to cede the district in perpetuity, and that the arrangement to which he did agree was accepted by him rather in deference to the superior material force of the British Government, than of his own genuine inclination. Upon these latter circumstances it is hardly necessary to enlarge. The Nizam appears to have been guided by a fear of losing the Contingent, a body of whose utility to his Government, in spite of its costliness, he was well convinced. But the obligations of the treaty can hardly be thought to turn upon this point. The doctrine that the validity of a treaty is affected by the fact that one of the two parties signing it was actuated in doing so by a consciousness of the material superiority of the other, would, as I have already observed to you, be fatal to the mass of treaty law over the whole of the civilized world. Nor is it necessary to inquire into the exact nature and application of the conversations which passed between the negotiators of the Treaty of 1853. Its language requires no elucidation, but sets forth with perfect distinctness the nature of the relation which it was intended to establish. It is manifest that the treaty does not convey any absolute cession of Berar. Lord Dalhousie appears to have desired such an arrangement, but the Nizam entertained insuperable objections to it, and no attempt was made to force it on him. If the cession had been absolute, the entire sovereignty would have passed to the British Crown No transfer of sovereignty in fact took place, but the territory remained among the dominions of the Nizam, as it had been before the treaty was signed. The Nizam retained unimpaired all the personal dignity which this sovereignty had previously conferred upon him, and the net revenue of the province, after all charges of administration have been defrayed, has ever since been paid into his treasury. All that he parted with was the actual conduct of the administration. So far the limited nature of the assignment is clearly borne out by the language of the treaties, and has always been scrupulously recognized in practice by Her Majesty's Government.

8 But when the Ministers attempt to extend this important limitation in the scope of the assignment, by adding to it a limitation in time as well, they are inserting into the treaty a stipulation of which its actual text does not bear the slightest trace. There is no word in it indicating any term after the expiration of which the assignment is to cease, or vesting in one of the signatories the power of terminating it at will. If any intention had been entertained of fixing a limit to the duration of the British administration, or of making its continuance to depend on the will of the Nizam, words to that effect would have been inserted. The entire absence of any such words is, in the judgment of Her Majesty's Government, decisive of this controversy.

9 The Regent Ministers, on this, as on previous occasions, do not rely exclusively upon their claim to the re-assignment of territory as of right, but enforce it by an appeal to the favour of Her Majesty, and the friendly relations which have long continued between the British Government and the Nizam. While fully recognizing the satisfactory nature of these relations as they at present exist, and the advantage which their continuance confers upon both Governments, I am unable to admit that a question of this character can be disposed of as a matter of favour, or that the policy of the British Government in respect to it can be looked upon as a test of the amicable nature or the sentiments they entertain towards the Government of the Nizam. The matter in controversy here is not dignity, or revenue, or any matter of personal enjoyment, it is the control over the lives and properties of two millions of men. In dealing with interests of this magnitude, Her Majesty's Government must necessarily be guided by considerations of a more imperative character than the sentiments, however friendly which they entertain towards another Government. A very strong presumption exists in such a case against disturbing a state of things which was not only sanctioned by treaty, but is now established by usage. It would be invidious in this despatch to compare the relative merits of the British system of Government with that which has prevailed in the dominions of the Nizam during the period covered by the review of the Ministers. But it may be at least confidently said that the two Governments differ widely in their methods, and that a thickly peopled territory could not be transferred from one system to the other without a disturbance in the most important circumstances of life being felt by every class of the population. No doubt, the interests of the empire at large, and especially of the adjoining populations, and the character of the administrative system which ultimately takes root in the Nizam's dominions are considerations germane to such an issue as the Ministers desire to raise. But it would be necessary to make good a very strong case of advantage on the whole to those who would be affected, in order to overbear the weighty presumption which treaties and the actual well being of the Assigned Districts have established against a change.

10 Your Excellency, in replying to this appeal on the part of the Ministers to the favour of the Crown, has noticed the inconvenience of discussing questions of this kind, while the Nizam, on whose behalf they are professedly raised, is himself a minor. In this opinion I entirely concur. You go on to say, that if on His Highness undertaking the Government, he should desire to bring the whole of the treaty arrangements between the two Governments under general revision, the British Government will take His Highness's request into consideration. I confirm this intimation on your part on the understanding that in making it you do not in the slightest degree prejudice, by any present engagement, the discretion of the Government of the day to deal as it shall think expedient with any question submitted by the Nizam.

No 57 Political, dated India Office London, the 11th May 1899

From—The RIGHT HONBLE LORD GEORGE FRANCIS HAMILTON, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General of India in Council

Having considered in Council the Report on the Administration of the Hyderabad

Hyderabad Assigned Districts Administration Report for 1897-98 able for payment to His Highness the Nizam

Assigned Districts for the year 1897-98, my attention has been drawn to the fact that in the year under review no surplus revenue was avail-

2 This result may, no doubt, in a large measure be attributable to the influence exercised by the prevailing scarcity both on the Civil Expenditure in respect of famine relief, and on the Military Commissariat Expenditure, owing to dearness of grain. I observed, however, that the average payments made to the Nizam during the period from 1892-93 to 1896-97, had fallen to Rs 73,192, as compared with an average of Rs 136,311 in the previous twenty years.

3 I cannot regard this state of things as satisfactory, and I commend the matter to the serious consideration of Your Excellency's Government, with a view to the adoption of such measures of economy as may be found practicable, in order to establish the financial position of Berar on a basis which should provide an adequate surplus of revenue over expenditure for payment to the Nizam

No 534<sup>d</sup>, dated Viceroy's Camp, the 25th April 1903

To—The HON'BLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL D W K BARR, C S I, Resident at Hyderabad

In the course of his recent visit to Hyderabad, His Excellency the Viceroy arrived at a settlement of the Berar question with His Highness the Nizam. This settlement was the result of informal and private communications that had for some time been proceeding between His Excellency and His Highness. As there is no official record of these communications, which had been largely conducted by word of mouth, I am now to address you officially on the matter, and to instruct you to place before His Highness the following statement concerning the proposals that were made, with a view to securing His Highness's formal confirmation of his acceptance.

2 There has been no discussion of the Berar question between the British Government and His Highness, since the correspondence that ended with the despatch* of Lord Salisbury (at that time Secretary of State for India), dated 28th March 1878. On that occasion Lord Salisbury, in replying to a memorial from the Regent Ministers of Hyderabad, praying for the restoration to them of the administration of the Assigned Districts of Berar, stated at length the reasons which prevented Her late Majesty's Government from acceding to any such request. He pointed out that the engagements of Her late Majesty in respect of Berar were to be found only in the two Treaties of 1853 and 1860, that no limitation of time whatever was assigned to the British administration of Berar by either of those Treaties, that a very strong presumption existed against the disturbance of a state of things which was not only sanctioned by Treaty, but was now established by usage, and that this presumption was fortified by a consideration of the actual well being of the population in the Assigned Districts.

* Copy forwarded with the letter from the Government of India in the Foreign Department No 1003 P, dated the 16th May 1878

3 At the same time, in thus refusing the request of the Regents, Lord Salisbury went on to say that, should His Highness the Nizam, who was at that time a minor, desire at a later date, after undertaking the government of his State, to bring the whole of the Treaty arrangements between Great Britain and Hyderabad under general revision, the British Government would take the request into consideration, but must reserve to the Government of the day a full discretion to deal with the matter as they might find expedient.

4 This was the starting point of the recent communications, which were conducted with the knowledge and authority of His Majesty's Government, between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Highness the Nizam. Understanding that the latter was willing once again to bring the matter under discussion, His Excellency suggested to His Highness the proposals which have since been accepted. It was not sought on either side to revive the controversies of the past. They were regarded as having been determined by the reply of the British Government contained in the aforesaid despatch of Lord Salisbury. The considerations that were already strong in 1878 had manifestly gained instead of losing, in force during an additional quarter of a century of British administration. They precluded the revival of a request that had even then been rejected without qualification. But this did not render the British Government less willing in 1902 than they had been in 1878 to consider any solution that might conduce to the interests of the Hyderabad administration, to the satisfaction of its Ruler, and to the permanent maintenance of the happy relations that have so long prevailed between the Paramount Power and the Hyderabad State.

5 Although, as had been pointed out by Lord Salisbury, no limit of time was fixed in either of the Treaties of 1853 or 1860 to British Administration in the Assigned Districts, and although, in the interests of Berar itself, there was no manifest reason for any change in the existing system, yet there were circumstances in the situation created by the Treaties that seemed to be susceptible of positive improvement in the interests both of the British Government and still more of His Highness the Nizam. It was a consideration of these circumstances, which I am now to recapitulate, that suggested to His Excellency the Viceroy the proposals recently put forward by him, and that also commended them to the acceptance of the Nizam.

Firstly, it cannot be doubted that the system under which the Assigned Districts of Berar have been administered, according to the terms of the Treaties, as a separate Province under the British Resident at Hyderabad has not been as economical as could be desired. The result of a recent enquiry, ordered by the Government of India, into the civil administration of Berar has shown that, while it may be possible to introduce certain economies in the existing scale of expenditure in Berar, these economies can only be insignificant, unless accompanied by such a redistribution of administrative authority as will enable the Government of India to incorporate the administration of Berar with that of the neighbouring British Provinces. Such an amalgamation would render possible a reduction of local staffs and establishments, and would finally assimilate the administrative standards of Berar and of the adjacent districts of British India. Hitherto this has been rendered impossible by the Treaties. The desirability of their revision, so as to admit of a change in this respect, is greatly enhanced by the effect that has been produced by the same causes in curtailing the balances paid over from year to year to the Nizam. Thus on both sides there would appear to be the strongest grounds for revising an arrangement that has been shown to be so wasteful of the resources of each.

Secondly, there is similar scope for reorganization and retrenchment, though hitherto prevented by the same reasons, in the case of the military force known as the Hyderabad Contingent. Under the Treaties it has been necessary to maintain this force as a separate unit at a recognised strength in certain stations in His Highness's dominions. The advantages that might accrue from any redistribution of strength, or reduction of numbers, still more from the incorporation of the Contingent with the neighbouring forces of the Indian Army, have been prevented by the Treaties. An arrangement has thus been stereotyped for nearly half a century, which, as time has passed and communications have improved, has scarcely been demanded for the adequate protection of His Highness's dominions, whilst it has imposed upon the Government of India a system compatible neither with economy nor with efficiency of administration. It must be to the interest of both parties that some change should be introduced into this situation. Nor will such a change, in all probability, be less welcome to the Nizam, if it is no longer considered necessary to maintain the separate existence or title of a force whose associations are believed to be somewhat invidious to the feelings of the Hyderabad State and its Ruler.

Thirdly, while it has been shown to be desirable, in the interests of both parties, that a complete revision should take place of the conditions under which Berar is at present administered and the Hyderabad Contingent maintained, it is even more desirable, in the interests of the Nizam, and is certainly the wish of the British Government, that His Highness should receive from these portions of his territory which have hitherto been assigned a more regular and assured income than that which, under the Treaties, it has hitherto been found possible to pay over to him. The terms of the Treaties in this respect have in no way been departed from, nor has any complaint been received from His Highness as to the nature or amount of the surpluses which from time to time he has received. The Treaties themselves, for the reasons already named, have, however, been fatal to real economy of administration, and, as a consequence, to the payment of large surpluses. The largest surplus that has ever been paid over to His Highness the Nizam in any single year since 1860 was Rs. 19,73,000 in 1887-88. In several years, owing to famine or other causes, there has been no surplus at all. The average of the surpluses transferred to Hyderabad during the forty years between 1860 and 1900 amounted only to a fraction under nine lakhs per annum. More recently all chance of a surplus payment to the Nizam for many years to come has been seriously affected, if not altogether destroyed, by the contraction of certain loans, for the payment of which (capital and interest) the Berar surplus, when there is a surplus, has been made the chief security, vis, (1) the loan of two crores from the Government of India to the Hyderabad State in 1900, and (2) the famine loans amounting to 141 lakhs which have been made by the Government of India to Berar. The interest upon the former, or Hyderabad loan is fixed at 4 per cent, and it is to be repaid partly by annual payments of 3 lakhs by the Nizam, but in the main by annual instalments of 15 lakhs, towards principal and interest, from the Berar surplus. The interest upon the second, or Berar loans, is 3½ per cent, and they are to be repaid by an annual instalment of 5 lakhs a year from the Berar surplus, spread over 28 years. Should there be no surplus in any year or years, the repayment of these loans will be proportionately postponed. In any case, it is clear that while Berar has for forty years been a source only of fluctuating and precarious revenue to the Hyderabad State, there is no chance, under existing conditions, of any change being effected in this condition of affairs for many years to come and that, even if such economies are introduced by the Government of India as have been shown by the recent enquiry to be possible, it will not be the Nizam, but the Government of India, who will profit by the saving, in the greater rapidity with which their loans will be repaid.

6 These conditions suggested to His Excellency the Viceroy the arrangement which he recently communicated to His Highness the Nizam, and which has been accepted by the latter. The present arrangement by which the Berar Districts are assigned to the British Government will be terminated. The sovereignty of the Nizam over Berar is re-affirmed. But His Highness undertakes to grant a lease in perpetuity to the British Government of the districts hitherto assigned, in return for a permanent annual rent of 25 lakhs. The annual rent will not be payable to His Highness in full for several years to come, since a part of it must be devoted to effecting, under an arrangement which will presently be discussed, the liquidation of the loans for which the Berar Revenues have already been made the security. As soon as these loans have been discharged, the annual rent will be payable in full to His Highness the Nizam. For their part the Government of India will in future be at liberty to administer Berar in such manner as they may deem desirable, by amalgamation with adjoining British territory or otherwise. The Hyderabad Contingent will also cease to exist as an independent auxiliary force, its strength in Hyderabad territory will probably be found capable of reduction, and it will be finally incorporated in the Indian Army

7 It has been the desire of the Government of India in making this proposal to vindicate in the fullest manner, compatible with convenience and reason, the sovereignty of His Highness the Nizam. Indeed, his sovereignty over Berar will be not less, but if anything, more clearly acknowledged by the grant of a lease than by the cession of an assignment. Although the territories leased from His Highness may hereafter be administered as part of a British Province, the laws of British India will only continue to apply through the exercise of the foreign jurisdiction of the Governor-General in Council. Further, His Excellency the Viceroy has signified his willingness, should the Nizam attach value to such a suggestion, to undertake that the flag of His Highness the Nizam shall be flown at the headquarters of the local administration in Berar upon the anniversary of the birth of His Highness, and that a salute should be fired in his honour on the same occasion. This is a compliment that is not paid to the ruler of the Hyderabad State under the existing form of administration.

8 There is one point in connection with the suggested reduction in the Hyderabad Contingent, that was mentioned by His Excellency to the Nizam and which I am instructed to request you to bring again more particularly before the attention of His Highness to whom it was submitted by you as far back as January last, in the first outline of the Viceroy's scheme. It has been proposed that the strength of the Hyderabad Contingent, that is of the Indian troops who will in future be stationed in His Highness's territories, shall be reduced. This is a concession which the Government of India are willing to make if His Highness can pari passu see his way to initiate a corresponding reduction in the number of irregular troops at present maintained by the Hyderabad State. These troops consist of 19,500 men, and they cost the Hyderabad Treasury 4½ lakhs a year. Their numbers appear to be fraught with some peril rather than with any material advantage to the State, while the annual charge entailed is an expensive and unnecessary burden. The Government of India are animated solely by a regard for the best interests of the Nizam himself and of his State, in suggesting that a substantial reduction should be made in the strength of this irregular force. The proposal of the Viceroy was that the number of troops in Hyderabad territory, who are at present comprised in the Hyderabad Contingent, i.e., 6,800 men, should be reduced to 4,500—5,000 men to be maintained in future at a reduced number of stations, and that the Nizam's irregular forces should be simultaneously reduced to 12,000, or, if His Highness is agreeable, to 10,000 men.

9 Different alternatives have been placed before His Highness for making to him an annual payment of rent pending the liquidation of the Hyderabad and Berar loans. The arrangement that appeared to be most satisfactory would be the payment to him of an immediate cash benefit of 6½ lakhs a year for 20 years, and of 16½ lakhs a year in the 21st and following years, culminating in the full 25 lakhs after both the loans had been fully repaid, which would be in about 30 years. These payments would be made concurrently with the continuous liquidation of the loans, and His Highness would continue to pay to the Government of India the 3 lakhs a year which he has undertaken to contribute towards the Hyderabad loan until it is fully repaid. Under this arrangement the annual rent of 25 lakhs would be thus distributed —

- (a) To the Nizam, 6½ lakhs for 20 years, 16½ lakhs from the 21st year till the loans had been fully repaid, thereafter 25 lakhs.
- (b) Towards the Berar loans, 10 lakhs for about 20 years,
- (c) Towards the Hyderabad loan, 8½ lakhs.

The 10 lakhs a year would discharge the Berar loans, principal and interest in a fraction under 20 years, and the 8½ lakhs, with His Highness the Nizam's 3 lakhs a year, making 11½ lakhs in all, would discharge the Hyderabad loan in a fraction over 30 years. By these means His Highness would receive in the next 30 years a total sum of 295 lakhs, loans amounting to 341 lakhs being in the meantime discharged. The Government of India in fact in return for the lease of Berar will undertake to provide from its revenues and from their own resources a total sum of 636 lakhs in 30 years, and will promise to His Highness an assured income of 25 lakhs a year afterwards. If the surpluses in the future were not to exceed the average of the last 40 years, namely, 9 lakhs a year, that sum, even with the 3 lakhs payable towards the Hyderabad loan by His Highness, would not suffice to pay the interest on the two loans, and there would be nothing available either for the repayment of the principal or for payment to the Nizam. These calculations are, it is hoped, sufficient to show that the arrangement which has been proposed is conceived in a spirit of no small generosity to the Nizam. Should His Highness, in order to secure a larger immediate annual benefit, desire to spread the suggested payment to himself more evenly over the next 30 years, the Government of India would be willing to consider any proposal to that effect. Their desire is to place the contemplated pecuniary advantage in the possession of His Highness in such form as may be most agreeable to him.

10 I am to instruct you to place the contents of this letter before His Highness the Nizam, and, in requesting from him an official confirmation of the proposals to which he has already signified his assent, to invite from him an expression of opinion on the points mentioned in the letter upon which his final opinion still remains to be sought. When his

Highness's reply has been received, I will then forward to you a formal agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally agreed upon, for the joint signature of His Highness and of the Viceroy, or of the several representatives

11 In conclusion, I am to convey the grateful recognition of the Governor-General in Council of the extreme friendliness and courtesy which have been displayed by His Highness the Nizam in the negotiations that have thus happily terminated, and to express a hope that the settlement arrived at, which is equally honourable to both parties, and which has been framed in the best interests of each, will not merely remove the only shadow that has ever appeared to fall upon the relations of the Government of India and the Hyderabad State in the past, but will tend to place them for all time upon a footing of undisturbed confidence and amity

From—The HONOURABLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL SIR DAVID BARR, KCSI, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 53-C, dated the 25th April 1902, instructing me to place before His Highness the Nizam a statement concerning the proposals that were made by His Excellency the Viceroy in the course of his visit to Hyderabad, with a view to securing His Highness's formal confirmation of his acceptance of the settlement verbally made as the result of informal and private communications between His Excellency and His Highness

2 On the receipt of your instructions, I addressed the Minister to His Highness the Nizam in a letter No 4 P, dated the 7th May 1902, of which a copy is attached. Considerable delay occurred before I received the reply to this letter—due probably to the fact that His Highness the Nizam was anxious to collect the views of his Minister and principal nobles and officials before committing himself to an opinion on the points referred to in paragraphs 8 and 9 of your letter, on which an expression of His Highness's views was sought

3 I have now the honour to submit (in original) a letter No 3 C, dated the 14th July 1902, from His Highness's Minister to my address, replying to my letter No 4 P, dated the 7th May 1902. This letter, written by command of His Highness the Nizam, states that His Highness formally accepts and officially confirms the agreement made between His Excellency the Viceroy and himself, with regard to the lease in perpetuity of Berar for a permanent annual rent of Rs 25 lakhs. Having thus formally confirmed His Highness's acceptance of the agreement made with His Excellency the Viceroy—the Minister's letter proceeds to discuss the points mentioned in paragraphs 8 and 9 of my letter No 4-P, dated the 7th May 1902, and to communicate, as invited, an expression of His Highness's opinion on those points, and concludes with the formulation of certain requests which are left to the final decision of the Government of India—while His Highness's assent to the new agreement is not conditional on that decision

4 I will await the further orders of the Government of India before offering any remarks on the requests made, as I believe they are of a nature which the Government of India are prepared to deal with separately from the actual terms of the new agreement which are in no way involved by their consideration. I would, however, observe that I have ascertained that the allusion in paragraph 5 of the Minister's letter to "clauses 2 and 3 of the Treaty of the 21st May 1853, in so far as they apply to the Hyderabad Contingent", is merely intended to apply to that portion of Article 3 of the Treaty wherein it is agreed that, "whenever the services of the said Contingent may be required they shall be afforded at all times to His Highness the Nizam fully and promptly throughout his whole Dominions etc."

It is clearly understood by His Highness's Minister that the new agreement does not abrogate any of the treaties now in force between the Government of India and His Highness the Nizam

No 4 P, dated Ootacamund, the 7th May 1902

From—The HONOURABLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL D W K BARR, CSI, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—The MAHARAJA PESHKAR KISHEN PERSHAD BAHADUR, Minister to His Highness the Nizam

In the course of his recent visit to Hyderabad, His Excellency the Viceroy arrived at a settlement of the Berar question with His Highness the Nizam. This settlement was the result of informal and private communications that had for some time been proceeding between His Excellency and His Highness. As there is no official record of these communications, which had been largely conducted by word of mouth, I have now the honour to address you on the matter, and to request you to place before His Highness the following statement concerning the proposals that were made, with a view to securing His Highness's formal confirmation of his acceptance

2 There has been no discussion of the Berar question between the British Government and His Highness, since the correspondence that ended with the despatch of Lord Salisbury (at that time Secretary of State for India), dated 28th March 1878. On that occasion Lord Salisbury, in replying to a memorial from the Regent Ministers of Hyderabad, praying for the restoration to them of the administration of the Assigned Districts of Berar stated at length the reasons which prevented Her late Majesty's Government from acceding to any such request. He pointed out that the engagements of Her late Majesty in respect of Berar were to be found only in the two Treaties of 1853 and 1860, that no limitation of time what ever was assigned to the British administration of Berar by either of those Treaties, that a very strong presumption existed against the disturbance of a state of things which was not only sanctioned by Treaty, but was now established by usage, and that this presumption was fortified by a consideration of the actual well being of the population in the Assigned Districts.

3 At the same time in thus refusing the request of the Regents, Lord Salisbury went on to say that, should His Highness the Nizam, who was at that time a minor, desire at a later date, after undertaking the government of his State, to bring the whole of the Treaty arrangements between Great Britain and Hyderabad under general revision, the British Government would take the request into consideration, but must reserve to the Government of the day a full discretion to deal with the matter as they might find expedient.

4 This was the starting point of the recent communications, which were conducted with the knowledge and authority of His Majesty's Government, between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Highness the Nizam. Understanding that the latter was willing once again to bring the matter under discussion, His Excellency suggested to His Highness the proposals which have since been accepted. It was not sought on either side to revive the controversies of the past. They were regarded as having been determined by the reply of the British Government contained in the aforesaid despatch of Lord Salisbury. The considerations that were already strong in 1878 had manifestly gained, instead of losing, in force during an additional quarter of a century of British administration. They precluded the revival of a request that had even then been rejected without qualification. But this did not render the British Government less willing in 1902 than they had been in 1878 to consider any solution that might conduce to the interests of the Hyderabad administration, to the satisfaction of its Ruler, and to the permanent maintenance of the happy relations that have so long prevailed between the Paramount Power and the Hyderabad State.

5 Although, as had been pointed out by Lord Salisbury, no limit of time was fixed in either of the Treaties of 1853 or 1860 to British administration in the Assigned Districts, and although, in the interests of Berar itself, there was no manifest reason for any change in the existing system, yet there were circumstances in the situation created by the Treaties that seemed to be susceptible of positive improvement in the interests both of the British Government and still more of His Highness the Nizam. It was a consideration of these circumstances which I am now to recapitulate, that suggested to His Excellency the Viceroy the proposals recently put forward by him, and that also commended them to the acceptance of the Nizam.

Firstly,—it cannot be doubted that the system under which the Assigned Districts of Berar have been administered according to the terms of the Treaties, as a separate Province under the British Resident at Hyderabad has not been as economical as could be desired. The result of a recent enquiry, ordered by the Government of India into the civil administration of Berar has shown that, while it may be possible to introduce certain economies in the existing scale of expenditure in Berar, these economies can only be insignificant, unless accompanied by such a redistribution of administrative authority as will enable the Government of India to incorporate the administration of Berar with that of the neighbouring British Provinces. Such an amalgamation would render possible a reduction of local staffs and establishments, and would finally assimilate the administrative standards of Berar and of the adjacent districts of British India. Hitherto this has been rendered impossible by the Treaties. The desirability of their revision, so as to admit of a change in this respect is greatly enhanced by the effect that has been produced by the same causes in curtailing the balances paid over from year to year to the Nizam. Thus on both sides there would appear to be the strongest grounds for revising an arrangement that has been shown to be so wasteful of the resources of each.

Secondly,—there is similar scope for reorganisation and retrenchment though hitherto prevented by the same reasons, in the case of the Military force known as the Hyderabad Contingent. Under the Treaties it has been necessary to maintain this force as a separate unit at a recognised strength in certain stations in His Highness's Dominions. The advantages that might accrue from any redistribution of strength, or reduction of numbers, still more from the incorporation of the Contingent with the neighbouring forces of the Indian Army, have been prevented by the Treaties. An arrangement has thus been stereotyped for nearly half a century which, as time has passed and communications have improved, has scarcely been demanded for the adequate protection of His Highness's Dominions, whilst it has imposed upon the Government of India a system compatible neither with economy nor with efficiency of administration. It must be to the interest of both parties that some change should be introduced into this situation. Nor will such a change, in all probability, be less welcome to His Highness the Nizam, if it is no longer considered necessary to maintain the separate existence or title of a force whose associations are believed to be somewhat invidious to the feelings of the Hyderabad State and its Ruler

Thirdly,—while it has been shown to be desirable in the interests of both parties, that a complete revision should take place of the conditions under which Berar is at present administered and the Hyderabad Contingent maintained, it is even more desirable, in the interests of the Nizam and is certainly the wish of the British Government, that His Highness should receive from those portions of his territory which have hitherto been assigned, a more regular and assured income than that which, under the Treaties, it has hitherto been found possible to pay over to him. The terms of the Treaties in this respect have in no way been departed from, nor has any complaint been received from His Highness as to the nature or amount of the surpluses which from time to time he has received. The Treaties themselves for the reasons already named, have, however, been fatal to real economy of administration, and, as a consequence to the payment of large surpluses. The largest surplus that has ever been paid over to His Highness the Nizam in any single year since 1860 was Rs. 19,73,000 in 1887-88. In several years owing to famine or other causes there has been no surplus at all. The average of the surpluses transferred to Hyderabad during the forty years between 1860 and 1900 amounted only to a fraction under nine lakhs per annum. More recently all chance of a surplus payment to the Nizam for many years to come has been seriously affected, if not altogether destroyed by the contraction of certain loans, for the repayment of which (capital and interest) the Berar surplus, when there is a surplus, has been made the chief security, viz—(1) the loan of two crores from the Government of India to the Hyderabad State in 1900, and (2) the famine loans amounting to 141 lakhs which have been made by the Government of India to Berar. The interest upon the former, or Hyderabad loan, is fixed at 4 per cent, and it is to be repaid partly by annual payments of 3 lakhs by the Nizam but in the main by annual instalments of 15 lakhs, towards principal and interest from the Berar surplus. The interest upon the second, or Berar loans, is 3½ per cent, and they are to be repaid by an annual instalment of 5 lakhs a year from the Berar surplus spread over 28 years. Should there be no surplus in any year or years the repayment of these loans will be proportionately postponed. In any case, it is clear that while Berar has for forty years been a source only of fluctuating and precarious revenue to the Hyderabad State, there is no chance, under existing conditions, of any change being effected in this condition of affairs for many years to come. And that, even if such economies are introduced by the Government of India as have been shown by the recent enquiry to be possible, it will not be His Highness the Nizam but the Government of India who will profit by the saving, in the greater rapidity with which their loans will be repaid.

6 These conditions suggested to His Excellency the arrangement which he recently communicated to His Highness the Nizam, and which has been accepted by the latter. The present arrangement by which the Berar Districts are assigned to the British Government will be terminated. The sovereignty of the Nizam over Berar is re-affirmed. But His Highness undertakes to grant a lease in perpetuity to the British Government of the districts hitherto assigned, in return for a permanent annual rent of 25 lakhs. The annual rent will not be payable to His Highness in full for several years to come, since a part of it must be devoted to effecting, under an arrangement which will presently be discussed, the liquidation of the loans for which the Berar Revenues have already been made the security. As soon as these loans have been discharged the annual rent will be payable in full to His Highness the Nizam. For their part the Government of India will in future be at liberty to administer Berar in such manner as they may deem desirable, by amalgamation with adjoining British territory or otherwise. The Hyderabad Contingent will also cease to exist as an independent auxiliary force, its strength in Hyderabad territory will probably be found capable of reduction, and it will be finally incorporated in the Indian Army.

7 It has been the desire of the Government of India in making this proposal to vindicate in the fullest manner, compatible with convenience and reason, the sovereignty of His Highness the Nizam. Indeed, his sovereignty over Berar will be not less, but if anything more clearly acknowledged by the grant of a lease than by the cession of an assignment. Although the territories leased from His Highness may hereafter be administered as part of a British Province, the laws of British India will only continue to apply through the exercise of the foreign jurisdiction of the Governor General in Council. Further, His Excellency the Viceroy has signified his willingness, should the Nizam attach value to such a suggestion, to undertake that the flag of His Highness the Nizam shall be flown at the headquarters of the local administration in Berar upon the anniversary of the birth of His Highness, and that a salute should be fired in his honour on the same occasion. This is a compliment that is not paid to the Ruler of the Hyderabad State under the existing form of administration.

8 There is one point in connection with the suggested reduction in the Hyderabad Contingent, that was mentioned by His Excellency to the Nizam, and which I am to request you to bring again more particularly before the attention of His Highness to whom it was submitted by me as far back as January last, in the first outline of the Viceroy's scheme. It has been proposed that the strength of the Hyderabad Contingent, that is of the Indian troops who will in future be stationed in His Highness's territories, shall be reduced. This is a concession which the Government of India are willing to make if His Highness can pari passu see his way to initiate a corresponding reduction in the number of irregular troops at present maintained by the Hyderabad State. These troops consist of 19,500 men, and they cost the Hyderabad Treasury 45 lakhs a year. Their numbers appear to be fraught with some peril rather than with any material advantage to the State, while the annual charge entailed is an expensive and unnecessary burden. The Government of India are animated solely by a regard for the best interests of the Nizam himself and of his State, in suggesting that a substantial reduction should be made in the strength of this irregular force. The proposal of the Viceroy was that the number of troops in Hyderabad territory, who are at present comprised in the Hyderabad Contingent, i.e., 6,800 men, should be reduced to 4,500—5,000 men, to be maintained in future at a reduced number of stations, and that the Nizam's irregular forces should be simultaneously reduced to 12,000 or, if His Highness is agreeable, to 10,000 men.

9. Different alternatives have been placed before His Highness for making to him an annual payment of rent pending the liquidation of the Hyderabad and Berar loans. The arrangement that appeared to be most satisfactory would be the payment to him of an immediate cash benefit of 6½ lakhs a year for 20 years and of 16½ lakhs a year in the 21st and following years, culminating in the full 25 lakhs after both the loans had been fully repaid, which would be in about 30 years. These payments would be made concurrently with the continuous liquidation of the loans, and His Highness would continue to pay to the Government of India the 3 lakhs a year which he has undertaken to contribute towards the Hyderabad loan until it is fully repaid. Under this arrangement the annual rent of 25 lakhs would be thus distributed:

- (a) To the Nizam 6½ lakhs for 20 years, 16½ lakhs from the 21st year till the loans had been fully repaid, thereafter 25 lakhs,
- (b) Towards the Berar loans, 10 lakhs for about 20 years,
- (c) Towards the Hyderabad loan, 8½ lakhs.

The 10 lakhs a year would discharge the Berar loans, principal and interest, in a fraction under 20 years, and the 8½ lakhs, with His Highness the Nizam's 3 lakhs a year, making 11½ lakhs in all, would discharge the Hyderabad loan in a fraction over 30 years. By these means His Highness would receive in the next 30 years a total sum of 295 lakhs, loans amounting to 341 lakh being in the meantime discharged. The Government of India in fact in return for the lease of Berar will undertake to provide from its revenues and from their own resources a total sum of 636 lakhs in 30 years, and will promise to His Highness an assured income of 25 lakhs a year afterwards. If the surpluses in the future were not to exceed the average of the last 40 years, namely 9 lakhs a year, that sum, even with the 3 lakhs payable towards the Hyderabad loan by His Highness, would not suffice to pay the interest on the two loans, and there would be nothing available either for the repayment of the principal or for payment to the Nizam. These calculations are, it is hoped sufficient to show that the arrangement which has been proposed is conceived in a spirit of no small generosity to the Nizam. Should His Highness in order to secure a large immediate benefit, desire to spread the suggested payment to himself more evenly over the next 30 years, the Government of India would be willing to consider any proposal to that effect. Their desire is to place the contemplated pecuniary advantage in the possession of His Highness in such form as may be most agreeable to him.

10. I am directed by His Excellency the Viceroy to lay the contents of this letter before His Highness the Nizam and in requesting from him an official confirmation of the proposals to which he has already signified his assent, to invite from His Highness an expression of opinion on the points upon which his final opinion still remains to be sought. I would, therefore, beg you to submit this letter to His Highness and to explain that the points on which His Excellency the Viceroy invites an expression of opinion are contained in paragraphs 8 and 9. When His Highness's reply is received I shall have the honour to submit it for the information of His Excellency the Viceroy, and, in due course, a formal agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally agreed upon will be forwarded for the joint signature of His Highness and of the Viceroy or of their several representatives.

11. In conclusion, I am to convey the grateful recognition of the Governor-General in Council of the extreme friendliness and courtesy which have been displayed by His Highness the Nizam in the negotiations that have thus happily terminated, and to express a hope that the settlement arrived at which is equally honourable to both parties, and which has been framed in the best interests of each, will not merely remove the only shadow that has ever appeared to fall upon the relations of the Government of India and Hyderabad State in the past, but will tend to place them for all time upon a footing of undisturbed confidence and amity.

No 3 C, dated Hyderabad, the 14th July 1902

From—MAHARAJA KISHEN PERSHAD, Minister to His Highness the Nizam of Hyderabad, To—The Hon'ble Lieutenant Colonel Sir David Barr, K C S I Resident at Hyderabad

I duly submitted to His Highness your confidential letter No 4 P, dated Ootacamund, 7th May 1902, regarding the settlement of the Berar question arrived at between His Excellency the Viceroy and His Highness.

2 I am now commanded by His Highness to reply to your letter above cited

3 His Highness formally accepts and officially confirms the agreement verbally made between His Excellency the Viceroy and himself with regard to the lease in perpetuity of Berar for a permanent annual rent of Rs 25 lakhs

4 I now proceed to answer paragraphs 8 and 9 of your letter under acknowledgment, and these paragraphs may be summarised as follows —

(a) The reduction in numbers of the Hyderabad Contingent troops, and their maintenance in future at a reduced number of stations, as also the final incorporation of these troops in the Indian Army

(b) A corresponding reduction in the number of irregular troops at present maintained by the Hyderabad State

(c) The manner in which the annual rent of 25 lakhs is to be paid, pending the liquidation of the Hyderabad loan and the Berar Famine loan

5 I am commanded by His Highness to say that he understands that, whatever change may be made in the number and designation of the troops maintained hereafter by the Government of India in Hyderabad territory, the terms contained in clauses 2 and 3 of the Treaty of the 21st May 1853 in so far as they apply to the Hyderabad Contingent, will be strictly observed and maintained in respect of the troops of the Indian Army stationed in His Highness's Dominions, and paid from the Revenues of Berar

6 His Highness highly appreciates the kind advice given by the Government of India in connection with the reduction in the number of irregular troops. This is a matter which, as you are aware, has been engaging His Highness's attention for some time past, and the reductions already effected have been officially intimated to the Hon'ble the Resident from time to time — vide correspondence ending with my letter No 1341 dated the 12th September 1900. His Highness while accepting the advice of the Government of India, and agreeing with them as to the necessity of reducing the existing strength of the Hyderabad irregular troops desires to point out that the reduction of these troops involves many delicate and difficult questions. His Highness, however, agrees that, after carefully considering the requirements of the city and the districts, he will, if possible, reduce the number to 12,000 men, when this reduction can be carried out with due regard to the claims of those who are employed, and without causing dissatisfaction and discontent

7 The point dealt with in paragraph 9 is connected to a certain extent with the views expressed in sub-paragraph 3 of paragraph 5, as also in paragraph 6 of your letter. His Highness has no hesitation in accepting the proposed arrangement as regards the annual payment of the rent, and His Highness's Government will continue to pay to the Government of India the three lakhs a year which they have undertaken to contribute towards the Hyderabad loan until it is fully repaid. With reference to the concluding portion of paragraph 9 of your letter, His Highness would wish to secure a larger immediate benefit resulting from the proposal of spreading the suggested payment to himself more evenly over the next thirty years. If this can be done, His Highness will feel greatly obliged. But at the same time His Highness desires to reserve the right of making larger payments than the instalments that may be fixed upon or of paying off the whole balance of the loan, should he, at any time, be in a position to do so

8 I am, however, to request that the actual amount of instalments to be paid in liquidation of the two loans may be left undetermined until a decision is arrived at as to the exact amount of the Famine loan now due by the Berar Province to the Government of India. In this connection I am desired by His Highness to point out that a large reserve balance of something like thirty lakhs is always kept in the Berar Treasuries to meet current expenses. This reserve balance pertains to the surplus payable to His Highness's Government according to the terms of the Treaty of 1853 and I am to enquire whether the amount of this reserve balance has been deducted from the loan received by Berar from the Government of India. Further, as some proportion of the famine expenditure in Berar is represented by public works which will remain as an asset I am to enquire whether the value of these works has been deducted from the famine debt of the Province. His Highness earnestly hopes that, in view of the fact that he has been made liable for the Berar Famine loan, the point he has now urged will receive the most favourable consideration of the Government of India

9 There are a few other points which require settlement, and these I mention below —

- (1) In good seasons or in bad seasons the amount of rent now fixed, viz, Rs 25 lakhs per annum, should be regularly paid to His Highness's Government
- (2) His Highness's Government should be absolved from all future responsibility, financial or otherwise, should unhappily any famines occur in the Berar Province
- (3) His Highness's Government should also be absolved, as heretofore, from responsibility for payment of certain chauth allowances and pensions mentioned in Article 6 of the Treaty, dated 31st December, 1860
- (4) When the number of stations of the Hyderabad Contingent troops are reduced, the lands, etc., of such stations should revert to His Highness's Government

- (5) Should the Hyderabad Contingent troops be incorporated in the Indian Army all free Rumnahs hitherto granted to these troops should revert to His Highness's Government

10 I have kept paragraph 7 of your letter to answer at the last His Highness is extremely obliged to His Excellency the Viceroy for his proposal to vindicate in the fullest manner, compatible with convenience and reason, the sovereignty of His Highness the Nizam over Berar His Highness accepts with pleasure the suggestion made that his flag should be flown at the headquarters of the local administration in Berar on the anniversary of the birth of His Highness, and that a salute should be fired in his honour on the same occasion His Highness, however, should be further obliged if these ceremonies were also observed on the occasions of the Eed ul Fitr (Ramzan) and Eed uz Zoha (Bukkur Eed), and if on all these occasions Khutbas were read in the mosques

11 I am to state that the requests made in this letter are left to the final decision of the Government of India, and that His Highness's assent to the new agreement is not conditional on that decision I am also to express the fullest reliance of His Highness's Government on receiving the most friendly and liberal treatment at the hands of the Government of India

12 In conclusion His Highness desires to tender to His Excellency the Viceroy and to yourself his most cordial thanks for the great friendliness and courtesy that have been shown to him in bringing to an amicable settlement this most important matter, and to express His Highness's earnest hope that this settlement will tend to promote and strengthen the happy relations which have always existed between the Government of India and the Hyderabad State

From—H S BARNES, Esq., C S I, Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department,

To—The HONOURABLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL SIR D W K BARR K C S I Resident at Hyderabad

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 33 C, dated the 17th July 1902, forwarding a copy of the Minister's letter (No 3 C, dated the 14th July), formally accepting, on behalf of His Highness the Nizam, the proposals contained in paragraph 6 of my letter No 53C, dated the 25th April last, for the lease of the Assigned Districts of Berar in perpetuity to the British Government for an annual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees

2 I am now to forward in duplicate, for execution by yourself and the Minister, a formal* Agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally decided upon After the execution of the Agreement both copies of it should be returned to this office for ratification by His Excellency the Viceroy, and one of the copies will then be forwarded to you for delivery to the Durbar

* For the Agreement see enclosure in Lieutenant Colonel Sir D Barr's letter No 67 C dated the 5th November 1902 which follows

3 You will notice that the Agreement contains a reference to Article 3 of the Treaty of the 21st May 1853, which meets the wishes of His Highness the Nizam as stated in the 5th paragraph of the Minister's letter of the 14th July, and as explained in the 4th paragraph of your letter under reply Article 2 of the Treaty of 1853 is not affected by the new Agreement, and as regards Article 3, while it is an essential part of the settlement now made that the troops maintained in lieu of the Hyderabad Contingent shall be no longer controlled through the Resident, the Government of India readily agree that the services of these troops, if required shall be fully and promptly afforded at all times to His Highness the Nizam throughout his dominions

4 The Government of India have learnt with pleasure that His Highness the Nizam accepts their advice as to the need of a reduction in the number of his irregular troops, and they note with much satisfaction that he agrees to diminish them, if possible, to 12,000 men It is recognised that the promise of a considerable reduction will require time for its complete fulfilment But you should point out to His Highness the importance of taking some immediate steps to carry out the measure to which he has now signified his assent, since upon this reduction depends the corresponding reduction that the Government of India desire to effect in the number of their troops stationed in His Highness's dominions The Government of India confidently hope that His Highness's Government will approach the matter without delay in a business like spirit, and will lose no time in devising the means for effecting a reform of so much financial benefit to the State

5 I am now to communicate to you the decision of the Government of India upon the other requests that are contained in the Minister's letter The Government of India readily agree to the proposal in paragraph 7 of the Minister's letter that a larger immediate annual benefit should be secured to His Highness by spreading the payments to himself more evenly over the next 30 years, and in view of the reduction in the Berar famine loans which will be referred to later on, they propose that the distribution of the rent of 25 lakhs should be as follows until these loans and the Hyderabad loan are repaid —

10 lakhs to His Highness the Nizam
7 " towards the Berar loans.
8 " towards the Hyderabad loan

The last-named payment is, of course, in addition to the 3 lakhs per annum which His Highness has agreed to pay from Hyderabad revenues. The effect of these payments in extinguishing the loans will be explained later. I am to add that there will be no objection to His Highness making larger repayments of the principal of these loans when he is in a position to do so, provided this is not done by incurring fresh loans, but the Government of India will require six months' previous notice of the amount of such excess repayment, and of the date upon which it will be made.

6 In paragraph 8 of his letter the Minister asks that the reserve or working balance in the Berar treasuries, and also the value of the public works constructed out of the famine expenditure, may be deducted from the Berar famine loans. As regards the first part of his request, I am to explain that, while it is true that a part of the cash balance in Berar has been built up out of the surplus revenue, to which the Nizam's Government was entitled, the actual cash balance consists not only of the unpaid portion of the surplus, but of the balances of Local funds, of Judicial and Revenue deposits, and of other sums held on behalf of persons other than Government. Even, therefore, on the assumption that the Nizam has a claim to a portion of the balance, it is reasonable to hold that only so much of the cash balance as represents the unpaid portion of past surpluses can rightly be credited in deduction of the famine loans. There is, however, equal force in the argument that the Nizam is not ceding Berar, but is merely consenting to certain improvements in the existing arrangements, and that since a working balance was necessary and would have been retained under the old assignment, it is equally necessary and should, therefore, be retained for the working of the new lease. Nevertheless the Government of India, in their anxiety to deal in this matter with the Nizam's Government in a spirit of the utmost liberality and in a way which shall admit of no criticism or dispute, have decided to make to His Highness a full and ample payment in satisfaction of all actual or possible claims. The sum that they are prepared to hand over is the whole of the actual cash balance on the date upon which the new settlement will come into force. It is proposed that this should be the 1st October next. The amount of the actual cash balance of Berar on that date, which, as will be shown presently, may not improbably amount to 40 lakhs, will be communicated to you for His Highness's information, and the whole amount will be taken in reduction of the Berar famine loans.

7 The above remarks will have made clear that the second request of His Highness, namely, that the value of the famine works that have been constructed from the famine expenditure should also be taken as a set off against the famine loans, is one with which the Government of India have not found it possible to comply. It is open to them to contend that the normal cost of these works is for the most part a mere forestalment of expenditure which would probably have been undertaken later if the need for famine expenditure had not hurried it on. But on the other hand in any well regulated administration the cost of famines should ordinarily be met from the surplus of past years, and in the case of Berar the whole of the surplus (including, under the present orders, the working balance) having been made over to the Nizam, the latter cannot fairly expect to receive credit also for the value of works the cost of which forms a proper charge against that surplus. It must be recollected that the true value of famine works is always difficult to ascertain, and it is estimated by the Public Works Department of the Government of India that in Berar their value will not exceed about 11½ lakhs, since many of the works begun will never be completed, while others, such as railway embankments, will probably be destroyed before they can be used. Moreover, the Government of India are unable to recognise any difference of principle between these works and other public works constructed in the past from the revenues of Berar, the value of which will also remain in the province. For these reasons, it is impossible to accede to this request of His Highness, apart from, or outside of, the general settlement which has been proffered in the preceding paragraph.

8 I am to enclose statements showing particulars of the transactions up to the present date connected with the principal of (i) the Berar famine loans, and (ii) the Hyderabad loan. It will be seen that the former loans have already been reduced to 116 lakhs. If the cash balance on the 1st October amounts to 40 lakhs, as is not improbable, these loans will be reduced further to about 76 lakhs, and by the proposed payment of 7 lakhs a year they will be discharged with interest in about 14 years. From the 15th year therefore, on the supposition above made as to the amount of the cash balance at the beginning of October, the cash payment to the Nizam will be increased from 10 lakhs per annum, as stated in paragraph 5 to 17 lakhs per annum. This increase will occur sooner if the cash balance of October is higher than 40 lakhs, and later if the cash balance is lower. The balance of the Hyderabad loan, 185 lakhs, by the annual payment of 11 lakhs (8 lakhs from the annual Berar rent and 3 lakhs from Hyderabad revenues), will be completely discharged with interest in about 29 years, after which His Highness will receive the full rent of 25 lakhs per annum. As the new Agreement is to have effect from the 1st October 1902, the Government of India are willing to agree that the first payment and distribution of the 25 lakhs in the manner proposed should be made on the 1st April 1903, and thereafter on the 1st April in each year. It is hoped that this arrangement will prove agreeable to His Highness, and will prove to him the sincerity of the Government of India's desire to conclude this settlement with a due regard to his wishes, and on generous as well as equitable terms. It will be understood that the periods mentioned in this paragraph for the liquidation of the loans are approximate only. The actual process of liquidation will be as follows from the

7 lakhs to be paid on the 1st of April of each year towards the Berar famine loans, the amount of interest due and unpaid up to that date will be first discharged, and the balance will be credited to the principal of the loans, the process continuing until the annual credits to principal have discharged the whole of the loans. The annual payment of 11 lakhs towards the Hyderabad loan will be similarly distributed every year between interest and principal till the whole principal is repaid.

9 As regards the points discussed in paragraph 9 of the Minister's letter, the Government of India agree to proposals 1, 2 and 3. It was always intended that, under the new settlement, the responsibility for future famine expenditure should rest upon the Government of India, and the new Agreement does not affect the provisions of the Treaty of 1860 in regard to the payment of the Chouth allowances and pensions, which are mentioned in Article 6 of that Treaty. The Government of India also agree that, if the number of stations now occupied by the Hyderabad Contingent is reduced, the lands hitherto occupied by the troops in the abandoned stations will revert to His Highness subject to the reservation of all private right in such lands. Similarly all free rumnahs at the stations that may be given up will also revert to His Highness's Government, but in any stations that may be retained, it is considered that the free rumnahs hitherto attached to them should continue to be available as heretofore for the use of the troop. The above named reversion will, of course, not apply to the station of Ellichpur in Berar, which in common with the whole of that province, will remain exclusively under British administration.

10 As His Highness the Nizam accepts the concession which had been proposed by His Excellency the Viceroy, the Government of India will issue orders that his flag shall be flown at the head-quarters of the Berar Administration on the anniversary of His Highness's birthday, and that a salute shall be fired in his honour on the same occasion. But they are of opinion that it is not desirable that these ceremonies should also be observed on the occasion of the Id ul Fitr and the Id us Zoha or that Khutbas should be read in the mosques. The concession that was suggested by His Excellency the Viceroy is an innovation in Berar itself, and is without precedent in any other territory similarly administered by the British Government. Moreover, His Excellency's desire in making the proposal was specially to associate the compliment with His Highness the present Nizam, an object that will not be attained by the wider proposals now submitted, which the Government of India are accordingly reluctant to sanction.

11 In conclusion, I am to ask you to convey to His Highness the Nizam the Governor General in Council's cordial acknowledgments of the friendly spirit in which His Highness has participated in these negotiations and his hearty congratulations upon their successful termination.

No 67 C, dated Hyderabad, the 3th November 1902

From—The HON'BLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL, SIR D W K BARR, KCSI, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 4293 I-B, dated the 30th September 1902, forwarding, in duplicate, for execution by myself and the Minister, a formal Agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally decided upon for the lease of the Assigned Districts of Berar in perpetuity to the British Government for an annual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees.

2 I have now the honour to return the Agreement, in duplicate, executed by myself and the Minister to His Highness the Nizam.

3 The Agreement was signed by us, this day, in the presence of Major Wolseley Haig my First Assistant, and Mr Faridoonji Jamshedji, Private Secretary to the Minister

4 I enclose a copy of my letter to the Minister, No 54-C, dated the 11th October 1902, with which, as authorised by you, I forwarded confidentially, for the information of His Highness the Nizam, a printed copy of your letter No 4293 I B, dated the 30th September 1902

No 54 C, dated the 11th October 1902<sup>1</sup>

From—THE HONBLE LIEUTENANT COLONEL SIR D W K BARR K C S I, Resident at Hyderabad,

To—MAHARAJA PESHKAR KISHEN PERSHAD BAHADUR, Minister to His Highness the Nizam

I had the honour of submitting for the consideration of the Government of India, a copy of your letter No 3 C, dated the 14th July 1902, formally accepting, on behalf of His Highness the Nizam the proposals contained in paragraph 6 of my letter No 4 P, dated the 6th May 1902 for the lease of the Assigned Districts of Berar in perpetuity to the British Government, for an annual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees, and I now enclose confidentially, for the information of His Highness, a copy of a letter No 4293 I-B, dated the 30th September 1902, from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, to my address, together with enclosures, viz, a copy of the Agreement, referred to in that letter, and a statement of the Berar I amine loan

2 I would beg you to lay these papers before His Highness and after obtaining his orders, to inform me on what date it will be convenient to you to execute with me the formal Agreement containing the terms of the settlement as finally decided upon

Memorandum of Agreement between the British Government on the one part and the Hyderabad State on the other part concluded by LIEUTENANT COLONEL SIR DAVID WILLIAM KEITH BARR K C S I, I. S. C., duly authorised by the Viceroy and Governor General of India in Council for that purpose, and by the MAHARAJA PESHKAR KISHEN PERSHAD BAHADUR, Minister to His Highness the Nizam, on behalf of the Hyderabad State

Whereas by the Treaties concluded between the British Government and the Hyderabad State on the 21st May 1853 and the 26th December 1860, the Berar districts were assigned to the British Government for the maintenance of the Hyderabad Contingent, the surplus, if any, from the Assigned Districts being paid to His Highness the Nizam

And whereas the British Government and His Highness the Nizam desire to improve this arrangement

And whereas it is inexpedient in the interests of economy that the Assigned Districts should continue to be managed as a separate administration or the Hyderabad Contingent as a separate force

And whereas it is also desirable that His Highness the Nizam should receive a fixed instead of a fluctuating and uncertain income from the Assigned Districts

The following terms are hereby agreed upon between the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council and the Nawab Mir Sir Mahbub Ali Khan Bahadur Fateh Jung, Nizam of Hyderabad —

- (i) His Highness the Nizam, whose sovereignty over the Assigned Districts is re-affirmed, leases them to the British Government in perpetuity in consideration of the payment to him by the British Government of a fixed and perpetual rent of 25 lakhs of rupees per annum,
- (ii) The British Government, while retaining the full and exclusive jurisdiction and authority in the Assigned Districts which they enjoy under the Treaties of 1853 and 1860, shall be at liberty, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in those Treaties, to administer the Assigned Districts in such manner as they may deem desirable, and also to redistribute, reduce, reorganise and control the forces now composing the Hyderabad Contingent, as they may think fit, due provision being made as stipulated by Article 3 of the Treaty of 1853 for the protection of His Highness's Dominions

The 16th December, 1902

Letter from the Government of India in the Foreign Department, to the RIGHT HON BLE LORD GEORGE FRANCIS HAMILTON, His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No 1 C dated Viceroy's Camp, the 13th November 1902

We have the honour to forward to Your Lordship a complete copy of the correspondence that has passed between the Government of India and the Minister of His Highness the Nizam, concerning the future administration of Berar, and also of the Agreement that has been concluded on the subject between Sir D Barr, our Resident at Hyderabad, on behalf of the Viceroy and Governor General of India on the one hand, and the Maharaja Peshkar Kishen Pershad Bahadur, Minister to His Highness the Nizam, on behalf of the Hyderabad State on the other.

2 The negotiations that have thus reached a happy termination were inaugurated, with the full knowledge and sanction of Your Lordship, towards the end of the year 1901. An interchange of friendly and confidential opinions ensued between the representatives of the Government of India and of the Nizam and His Excellency the Viceroy, who had some time previously accepted an invitation from His Highness to visit Hyderabad in the spring of the present year, was able, while there in the month of April, to complete the negotiations in personal conference with His Highness. The succeeding interval has been occupied in working out the details of the new arrangement, and in considering and replying to certain requests that were received from the Nizam. Finally, the Agreement, recording the settlement arrived at, was signed at Hyderabad on the 5th November 1902, and the discussions between the Government of India and the Hyderabad State were thereby brought to a successful close.

3 The papers which we forward with this despatch will in themselves provide a full and ample explanation both of the objects which the Government of India have throughout had in view and of the nature of the Agreement that has been signed. But they may briefly be summarised as follows. The system that has prevailed up to the present date in Berar date from the Treaties of 1853 and 1860 under which certain districts known as the Assigned Districts of Berar, were made over without limit of time to the British Government for the maintenance of the Hyderabad Contingent, the surplus if any, from their administration being paid to His Highness the Nizam. In the passage of time these arrangements have become both inconvenient and obsolete while they have on occasions given rise to controversies which have never permanently affected the friendly relations between the British Government and the Hyderabad State but the recurrence or revival of which it was nevertheless most desirable in the interests of both parties to preclude. Upon the side of the Government of India the flaws in the existing system were mainly associated with the civil and military administration of the province which, under the arrangements stereotyped by the Treaties was imperfect and wasteful. Upon the side of His Highness the Nizam the desirability of a change arose in the main from the precarious and fluctuating character of the surpluses which also under the stipulations of the Treaties, were payable to him, and the irregular nature of which introduced a regrettable element of uncertainty into the finances of the State. It was realised on both sides that the events of the past half century during which the Assigned Districts of Berar have remained continuously under British administration constituted a prescription from which it was neither possible nor desirable to depart and the efforts of both parties in the recent negotiations were accordingly directed to the discovery of a solution that should possess the combined merits of removing the administrative anomalies of which we have spoken of securing to His Highness the Nizam an assured income from this portion of his territories, and of guaranteeing to the population of Berar, which now amounts to over 2½ million persons a continuance of the conditions and standards under which they have attained to a high measure of prosperity.

Consistently with these objects, it has been our desire to recognise and to reaffirm, rather than in any way to dispute or to derogate from the sovereignty of the Nizam and the Agreement arrived at, while leaving the administration of Berar as at present in British hands though under conditions that will ensure a far more economical system of management, provides for the recognition of the prerogatives of His Highness both by the terms of the Agreement according to which the future tenure of the Assigned Districts by the British Government will be a lease in perpetuity, and also by the annual compliments to His Highness in the leased territories which the Government of India have consented hence forward to bestow.

4 The financial terms which we offered to the Nizam and which have been accepted by him are an annual rent of 25 lakhs, or nearly £167,000. When this sum is contrasted with the average annual amount of the surpluses that have been paid to the Nizam during the 40 years between 1860 and 1900—namely, a fraction under 9 lakhs or a sum varying according to the rate of exchange from £90,000 to £50,000 it will, we think, be recognised both that the Hyderabad State will be a substantial gainer by the transaction and also that our proposals have been conceived in no grudging or illiberal spirit. It is true that, in consequence of the financial embarrassments in which the State has lately been plunged, owing in the main to famine both in Hyderabad and Berar, and which have compelled recourse to be made in both cases to the Government of India for loans, the full annual rent will not for some time be realised by His Highness. But the arrangements that have been agreed upon for the discharge of these liabilities are such as will relieve the Hyderabad State at the earliest possible date from its burdens while we have further accelerated this consummation by handing over to the Nizam, for the still more rapid liquidation of the loans, a sum equivalent to the entire working balance of 41 lakhs, which stood to the credit of the Berar administration on October 1st of the present year. We did not regard the request of the Nizam for a concession of this point as one with which we were at all bound either in logic or equity, to comply. But in our anxiety to meet the courteous and conciliatory attitude of His Highness in a similar spirit, and to effect a liberal settlement of all possible claims, we were glad to give a favourable answer to his representation.

5 It only remains for us to notice the effect that will be produced by the new Agreement upon the military forces of both signatories. The Government of India acquire the liberty, hitherto denied to them by the Treaties, to effect such a redistribution and reorganisation of the Hyderabad Contingent (without of course in any way reducing the numerical strength of the Indian army) as may be found desirable, consistently with the uninterrupted discharge of the obligation, assumed by them in the Treaty of 1853, to employ these troops, when required, in assisting the Nizam to maintain order within his dominions. Simultaneously the Nizam has undertaken to reduce by gradual degrees the irregular forces of his State, which, as at present constituted, are far from being required for purposes of internal order, and which, moreover, impose an onerous annual charge upon the revenues of the State. It is therefore a further and not less beneficial result of the new Agreement that both parties will thereby be enabled to undertake long needed projects of military economy and reform.

6 We do not delay the present despatch to acquaint Your Lordship with the proposals which we have in view for the future administration of Berar. Under the terms of the new Agreement the British Government are at liberty to deal with this matter in such manner as they may deem desirable. The extinction of a separate and costly administration will be the first condition of the projected reforms. But upon this matter we shall again address Your Lordship at a later date when our plans have been more fully worked out.

7 In our correspondence with our Resident at Hyderabad, we have already expressed our cordial acknowledgments of the friendly manner in which His Highness the Nizam has throughout participated in the recent negotiations. The language that has been used by his Minister in reply assures us that these sentiments are entirely reciprocated by His Highness, and leaves no doubt that the settlement of this most important matter which we have here recorded has been as heartily and spontaneously accepted by the Nizam, as it was frankly and sincerely put forward by ourselves. We now look forward with confidence to a future in which no cloud need again arise to obscure the historical and unbroken friendship that has for so long existed between the British Government and the Hyderabad State.

We have, etc

No. 2506-B—In continuation of the Notification of the Government of India, No 1025-P, dated the 11th May, 1874, the following Order of His Majesty in Council, published in the London Gazette of the 26th September, 1902, is republished for general information —

At the Court of Balmoral, the 15th day of September, 1902

ORDER IN COUNCIL

EXTRADITION DECLARATION OF THE 26TH JUNE, 1901, BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND AUSTRIA HUNGARY

Balmoral, 15th September, 1902

At the Court at Balmoral, the 15th day of September, 1902

PRESENT,

The KING'S Most Excellent Majesty
 H R H The Prince of Wales
 Duke of Fife
 Mr Secretary Akers-Douglas
 Sir Dighton Probyn

Whereas by the Extradition Acts, 1870 to 1895, it was amongst other things enacted that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the sur-

under to such State of any fugitive criminals, His Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Acts shall apply in the case of such foreign State, and that His Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of His Majesty's dominions specified in the Order, and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient,

And whereas a Treaty was concluded on the third day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy three, between Her late Majesty Queen Victoria and His Majesty the Emperor of Austria and King of Hungary for the mutual extradition of fugitive criminals, in the case of which Treaty "The Extradition Act, 1870," was applied by Order in Council of the seventeenth March, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four

And whereas a Declaration was concluded on the twenty sixth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and one, between His Majesty and His Majesty the Emperor of Austria, King of Hungary, amending Article XI of the said Treaty of the third of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy three, for the mutual extradition of fugitive criminals, which Declaration is in the terms following

As it is considered necessary by the Government of Great Britain and Ireland and by the Governments of Austria and Hungary to extend the period of fourteen days fixed in Article XI of the Treaty for the mutual surrender of criminals, concluded on the 3rd December, 1873, between Her late Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India &c, on one side, and His Majesty the Emperor of Austria, King of Bohemia &c and Apostolic King of Hungary, on the other, the respective Plenipotentiaries, undersigned, have agreed that—

The last paragraph of Article XI of the said Treaty of Extradition shall be altered as follows —

Provided, however that he shall be discharged if, within the shortest time possible, and at the utmost within one month, a requisition for his surrender in accordance with the terms of Article IX of this Treaty be not made by the Diplomatic Representative of the State which requests his extradition "

The present Declaration shall have the same force and duration as the Extradition Treaty of the 3rd December, 1873, to which it relates

The present Declaration shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged as soon as possible at London

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seal of their arms

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 18th December 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports
of the period

Between the 12th and the 18th the weather was actually or practically rainless over Burma, Bengal, Assam, the Indo Gangetic Plain, the Himalayan and Sub-Himalayan districts and the North-West Dry Area but was more or less rainy elsewhere. A storm appeared in Persia on the 12th or 13th and advancing eastward reached the Central India Plateau on the 16th, it gave rain to Persia on the 13th and 14th, to Baluchistan on the 15th and 16th, and to Further Kashmir and Sind on the 16th. The rainfall amounts were generally small and unimportant, but Chaman received over 0.5 inch of rain on 15th.

A feeble cyclonic storm, lying off the Kathiwar Coast on the 12th, gave showery, unsettled weather on the 12th, 13th and 14th to the West Coast districts, Gujarat, the Deccan, the West Satpuras, the Central India Plateau and part of the East Satpuras, the heaviest falls in 24 hours were 1.5 inches at Mormugao and 1 inch at Veraval on the 12th, and 1 inch at Trivandrum, 0.75 inch at Nagpur and 1 inch at Pachmarhi on the 13th. Rainfall from this cause ceased during the 14th, but on the 15th a fresh depression appeared off the Madras Coast and in consequence the East Coast (South and North) the Deccan, South India and the West Coast had frequent, almost daily, showers between the 15th and the end of the week. The principal falls of rain in twenty four hours from this disturbance were 4.75 inches at Nellore, 2.25 inches at Madras and 1.25 inches at Cuddapah on the 15th, 7.5 inches at Nellore and 1.25 inches at Masulipatam on the 16th, 2.25 inches at Wellington on the 17th, and about 1 inch at Trichinopoly, Bijapur and Sholapur on the 18th.

The table given below shows the average actual rainfall which has been received during the week over the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz., Baluchistan, Waltair, Raipur, Jubbulpore, Jhansi, Indore, the West Coast, Gujarat, the West Satpuras, the Deccan, South India and the East Coast (South) the average actual rainfall ranged from 3.25 inches in the East Coast (South) division to only 0.01 inch in the Jhansi sub-division. Except in the case of the Calicut, Jhansi and Raipur sub-divisions where the week's rainfall was lighter than usual the rainfall was in excess of the normal in all the above mentioned divisions and in most cases by large amounts, relatively to the average. This relative excess is shown by the percentage variations.

The rainfall for the period, from the 28th November to 18th December, has been in very large excess of the normal over the whole of the Peninsula and some central districts, while Northern India and Burma have been generally rainless during the same period.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday,
the 13th December, 1902

Madras.—The rainfall of the week was good in South Arcot, South Nilgiris and in parts of the Central districts nil in the Circars, and light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue generally. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally.

Bombay.—There was heavy rain during the week in parts of Ratnagiri, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Satara, Belgaum, Dharwar, and Kanara; moderate falls in parts of Surat, Thana, Colaba, Poona, Nasik, Bijapur, and Baroda, and slight in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, and Rajkot. The standing crops have been slightly damaged by locusts in parts of Karachi, Larkana, and Thar and Parkar, by rats in parts of Kaira and Nasik, by insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Nasik, and by the recent rainfall in parts of Surat, Ratnagiri, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Satara, Belgaum and Dharwar. The harvesting of autumn crops is completed in Karachi, Sukkur, Larkana, Kaira, and the Panch Mahals; continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Surat, Colaba, Nasik, Bijapur, Belgaum, Wadhwan, and Baroda, but is retarded in parts of Bijapur, Belgaum and Kanara by the recent rainfall. Threshing continues in parts of Larkana, Sukkur, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Thana, Nasik, and Poona, but is retarded in parts of Satara by excessive rainfall. The spring sowings have been completed in the Panch Mahals, are nearly over in Karachi, and continue in parts of Sukkur, Larkana, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Colaba, Kanara, and Wadhwan, and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Satara, Bijapur and Dharwar, in poor condition in Poona, and is slightly injured in parts of Surat and Dharwar by the recent rainfall. Picking is in progress in parts of Thar and Parkar and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient. Agricultural stock are in good condition and generally sufficient. The water supply is deficient in parts of Bijapur. The prices of the cheapest food grain in pounds per rupee at headquarters were as follows:—Ahmedabad, 38, Sholapur 57, Ahmednagar, 44, Poona 36, Bijapur, 49, Kathiawar 36, and Palanpur, 35. Prices have fallen in six districts, risen in two districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered.

The daily average number of persons on relief during the week was:—British Districts:—on relief works 598, dependants nil. Poor houses—1,430, on village relief 7,484; total on gratuitous relief 8,914. Figures for Thar and Parkar are incomplete. Native States:—On relief works 130, dependants 67, total on works 197. In poor houses—720, on village relief 130, total on gratuitous relief 850. Figures for Palanpur are incomplete, grand total 10,559.

Bengal.—No rain. The standing spring crops need rain in the districts of Bankura, Nadia, Puri, Palamau and Singhbhum. Prospects are otherwise good. Harvesting of winter rice is going on. Poppo is doing well. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has fallen in twenty districts, risen in four and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—The want of rain for unirrigated lands continues to be felt in several districts. The irrigation of spring crops and pressing of sugarcane are going on. Slight injury by frost is reported in Shahjahanpur, and damage to crops by insects continues to be reported from Banda. The condition of the standing crops is otherwise good. Fodder and supplies are sufficient, and prices are almost stationary.

Punjab.—Rainfall nil. Cotton picking and sugarcane pressing are still going on. Sowings of spring crops continue in some districts. The outturn of cotton and sugarcane is said to be good in Amritsar, but in Sialkot it is average on irrigated and below average on unirrigated areas. The standing spring crops are in good condition. Rain is wanted in Hissar, Jullundur, and Sialkot. Locusts passed through two tahsils of Hissar and slightly damaged the crops in some villages. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except in parts of Mooltan and Amritsar. The prices of food grains are generally unchanged with a slight variation in some cases. The price of wheat is rising in Umballa, Rawalpindi and Shahpur.

North-West Frontier Province—There was no rain during week. Rain is now badly needed to complete sowings and help crops on dry land. The condition of the irrigated standing crops is good and of unirrigated fair. Stocks of food grains are sufficient. Fodder is procurable. Water in canals is sufficient in Peshawar. The price of wheat is rising. Prices—wheat 14½ and 13 seers, gram 17½ and 17½ seers, and maize 22½ and 20 seers in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma—Rainfall nil. The reaping of early paddy is completed in parts, and plucking of cotton is completed in Myingyan and nearly finished in Meiktila. The winter crops are now being reaped. Sowing and cultivation of miscellaneous crops are in progress. In Lower Burma, the prospects of the paddy crop are less bright in parts of Henzada and Myaungmya. In Upper Burma prospects of the winter harvest remains the same. The outturn in the Iagan sub-division of Myingyan will be very poor. The price of paddy has risen in Prome and Mergui, and fallen in Rangoon, Shwebo and Magwe. Remissions of land revenue have been applied for in Kyaukpyu and Toungoo and in districts reported last week. Applications are numerous in the Singaing township of Kyaukse and large remissions of land revenue will have to be made in Myingyan. In Magwe Hathameda remissions will be needed for about 266 villages.

Central Provinces—The weather has continued cloudy and light showers have fallen in all districts except Jabalpur and Chhattisgarh. The falls at Hoshangabad and Nagpur amounted to 1½ and one inch respectively. The harvesting of autumn crops and the picking of cotton have been slightly retarded in places by the recent rain. The harvesting and thrashing of juar has been delayed in the Warora taluk of Chanda owing to the scarcity of field labourers. The rain has slightly damaged cotton in parts of Nimar, Chhindwara, Wardha and Nagpur, and juar on the thrashing floor. Winter sowings have generally been completed and germination has been good. The present prospects of the winter crops which have benefited by the recent rain are generally good, but the cloudy weather is causing some damage in places and if it continues for a fortnight longer the damage will be serious in Chanda. Some slight damage by caterpillars is reported from Jabalpur and Chhindwara, and by insects from Narsinghpur and Raipur. Fodder and water are generally ample. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat, 17, gram, 21½, rice, 17, and juar, 28. The highest prices are wheat, 11, gram, 12½, rice, 9½ and juar 18½. In Raipur, the numbers on relief works were as follows—Relief workers—Public Works Department—adults, 475, children, 45, total 520. Gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved) adults, 1,728, children, 82, total 2,510. Total on all forms of relief, 3,070. Eleven Public Works Department camps are now open. Three hundred and one persons in Balaghat are employed on tank works and 159 on Ghut works.

Assam—The weather is cold. Rainfall nil. Rain is wanted for mustard in Goalpara and Lakhimpur, and for mustard, pulse, and linseed in Sylhet. Plucking and manufacture of tea, and sowing of pulse and mustard are nearly finished. Pruning of tea has commenced in places. Harvesting of late rice is in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues in Cachar and Lakhimpur. The outturn of tea is fair and of late rice generally fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup. Prospects of mustard are generally poor. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice, Silchar 16, Sylhet 14, Gauhati and Sibsagar 13, Lerpur 12½, Nowgong and Dibrugarh 11½, and Dhubri 10 seers per rupee.

Mysore—Rainfall 20 cents in the Civil and Military Station and good rain throughout the State. Prices are fluctuating. General prospects are good. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg—Rainfall 46 cents. Picking of cardamom is over. Picking of coffee continues. The rice crop is maturing. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar—Average rain during the week one inch 52 cents. The weather is cool and cloudy. Juar and cotton have suffered owing to recent rains. The winter crops are in good condition and have benefited by the rain. The fodder and water-supply are ample. Prices are almost steady except juar which has risen in parts of three districts.

Hyderabad—Rainfall during the week 45 cents. The week's rainfall has injured the autumn crops under harvest and such young crops as cotton, linseed, and juar, in few talukas. The autumn harvest is completed in some talukas and continues in others. Early rice is being harvested. The standing spring crops are generally good and in parts have benefited by the rain. In parts of Telangana the castor seed is being injured by insects. Prices—wheat 17, rice 8½, and juar 24½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana—Rainfall—Hilly Tracts 31 and Mewar 21 cents. Agricultural operations continue. The standing crops are promising. Cotton picking and opium cultivation are progressing in places Cattle are in good condition Fodder is ample The cheapest price of food grains was—Kotah, 36 seers, and the highest—Sirohi, 14½ seers per rupee There were 630 persons on gratuitous relief in Marwar

Central India—Slight rain fell in parts of Bhopawar Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere Crops are generally in good condition Fuar has been slightly injured by locusts in parts of Dhar Agricultural stock and pasturage are good Prices are steady in Gwalior, above normal in Bundelkhand, normal in Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa The average prices in seers per rupee were —18-6 to 35-3 in Gwalior, 20½ to 27 in Bundelkhand, 31 in Malwa, 32 to 40 in Bhopal, and 8½ to 31½ in Indore Opium is fair in Gwalior and good in Malwa Sowing of opium is in progress in Bhopawar and Indore .

Baroda.—Report not received

Kashmir—The weather is bright and chilly Snow has fallen on the surrounding higher latitudes Prices are stationary JAMMU—There was some rain during the week Prices are stationary Wheat is selling from 13 to 20, and maize 21 to 36 seers per rupee The condition of the standing crops is fair Fodder is sufficient though scarce in parts Rain is badly wanted in many places Spring sowings are completed

Nepal—There was no rain during the week. The weather has been cloudy and very cold The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POST OFFICE OF INDIA
FOR THE YEAR
1901-02.

No 120-B P, dated the 4th October, 1902

From—A U FANSHAWP Esq CSI Director General of the Post Office of India,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India Finance and Commerce Department

I have the honour to submit the Annual Report on the Post Office of India for the official year 1901-02

2 The administration of the Department was in charge of Mr Kisch, as officiating Charge of Director General, from the 1st April to the 21st June 1901, and in my hands during the remainder of the year the Post Office

3 The principal reform introduced during the year was the reduction in the postage on postal parcels not exceeding 440 tolas, or 11 lbs, in weight This came into force on the 1st July 1901 and from the same date the fee for the registration of a postal parcel was reduced to a uniform charge of two annas The reduction led to an immediate and marked increase in the number of parcels posted Principal events in land post

The plague, which continued with more or less virulence in the localities previously affected, spread rapidly in the Punjab and United Provinces and infected a large area. Its effects caused much anxiety to officers of the Department, specially in the Bombay circle where 124 servants of the Post Office succumbed to the disease, there being 38 fatal cases in the presidency town alone, and the total number of postal servants who fell victims to this scourge increased from 97 in the previous year to 199 during the year under report There were no cases of desertion from duty on the part of postal servants owing to the fear of plague The men remained at their posts and worked loyally, amidst great dangers and hardships, and I sanctioned special rewards in 255 cases, to postmen, village postmen, mail carriers and other inferior servants of the Department in Bombay, the United Provinces and Bihar, for devotion to duty in circumstances of extreme trial

The continuous delivery scheme was brought to completion in the city of Bombay and special measures were taken to improve the delivery arrangements in Bangalore, which had for some time before been made the subject of complaint in the public press

At the request of Government special arrangements were made to meet the postal needs of the troops employed in connection with the Blockade against the Mahsud Waziris, and several camp and field post offices were opened for the convenience of the troops

During the Blockade operations, the mails were plundered by tribesmen in South Waziristan on five occasions, and a runner on one occasion, unfortunately lost his life in the attempt to escape with the mails The usual postal arrangements were made in October 1901 for the annual relief of the Chitral Garrison and two field post offices accompanied the relieving force and came back to India with the relieved force The arrangements worked smoothly and there were no complaints

Several military camps of exercise and instruction were held in the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province during the winter, and the postal arrangements in connection with these camps were carried out successfully

At the close of the year there were 2 base post offices and 6 sub post-offices with the China Field Force.

The postal arrangements of the Dhar Native State in Rajputana were taken over by the Imperial Post Office on the 1st April 1901, and this resulted in the opening of 17 new Imperial post offices and 288 miles of new Imperial mail lines Negotiations were completed during the year for the transfer to the Imperial Post Office of the posts of the Sirmoor State in the Punjab, but the actual transfer was not carried out till the 1st April 1902

With effect from the 1st May 1901, the speed of the mail trains running between Karachi and Quetta was accelerated and their timing revised, so as to allow of a later despatch of the English mails from stations in Beluchistan, and also of their earlier delivery at those stations. In December 1901, owing to a revision of the time tables of the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, the transmission of mails from the Punjab for places between Moghal Serai and Calcutta was accelerated to the extent of about 12 hours, by the adoption of a new train service via Saharanpur, Lucknow and Moghal Serai.

There were serious breaks and land slips on various railways during the year, which caused interruptions in the mail service. The most important of these were the breaches of the North East line of the Madras Railway, and the land slips which occurred on the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, between Hurdwar and Daiwala. The interruption in the first case lasted for over a week, from the 9th to the 19th December 1901, and in the second case for about four months, from the 21st August to the 23rd December 1901.

In pursuance of the accepted policy of raising pay on account of the growth of work and money responsibility, increases in pay and allowances were sanctioned in the case of 288 sub postmasters, 120 departmental branch postmasters and 311 extra departmental agents. The pay of 8 head postmasters was also raised, in one case with the sanction of Government and in the others under my own powers of sanction.

In accordance with the principle laid down by the Government of India that all Government servants, to whatever Department they might belong, should assist in the work of taking the census in March 1901, the servants of the Post Office were directed to lend their aid, so far as this might be practicable in carrying out this important measure, and in point of fact nearly 3 000 postal servants, ranging from a postal superintendent to a postal runner had a share in the work, though the great majority of them consisted of departmental branch postmasters and extra departmental agents. For the most part these men acted as enumerators, and 268 of them were granted sanads by the local Government or Administration concerned in recognition of the specially good work done by them on this occasion. It may also be mentioned that this is the first occasion on which the Post Office as a Department has lent its assistance in the taking of a census in India.

Principal events, foreign post

4 The following were the principal events of the foreign post —

The foreign parcel post was extended to North Eastern Rhodesia, the Cayman Islands, the German and French offices in China, the Italian offices in Tripoli and a large number of Ottoman and other offices in Turkey. Direct exchanges of parcels were introduced between India and Cape Colony and between India and New Zealand, in supersession of the previously existing exchanges through the intermediate agency of the British Post Office and the Post Office of Ceylon respectively. On the other hand, the parcel post to Hawaii was abolished while the parcel exchange with Greece, which had been resumed in 1900 1901, had again to be suspended in consequence of quarantine restrictions. Insurance to destination was made available for parcels for New Zealand, Cyprus, Bosnia, Herzegovina, Gibraltar, Dutch Guiana, the Gold Coast Colony, the British Post Office at Salonica, the French Office at Shanghai, the German and French agencies in Morocco, the German agencies at Kiaochow and Kaumi in China and the French, Italian and Ottoman offices in Turkey, while the system of insurance of foreign registered letters was extended to Malta, German East Africa, the British offices in China under the control of the Hongkong Postal Administration, the Italian office at Bengasi in Tripoli and the Ottoman offices in Turkey. The money order system was extended to British Bechuanaland, Greece, Tunis, Montenegro, Sarawak, the Japanese agencies in China, certain Austrian and Italian offices in Turkey and the Italian office at Bengasi in Tripoli. The British colony of Southern Rhodesia and the British Protectorates of Bechuanaland and Uganda entered the Universal Postal Union and the Imperial Penny Postage scheme was extended to the British offices in China under the Hongkong Postal Administration.

Working of the P and
O contract

5 According to the sanctioned time tables of the Peninsula and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, the outward steamers with the European mails were due in Bombay at noon on Saturday of each week. During the year under report, the mail steamers arrived on 25 occasions on Friday, on 25 occasions on Saturday and on two occasions on Sunday. The contract time however was exceeded on one occasion only, the delay being due to the fact that the Suez Canal was blocked by the grounding of another steamer and that very heavy weather was experienced in the southern part of the Red Sea. On the other occasion on which the mails reached Bombay on Sunday, the P and O steamer left Brindisi 24 hours behind the prescribed hour owing to the late arrival of the mail train which had been detained by a railway accident in Italy. The actual voyage was completed well within the contract time. The shortest time occupied in transit by the mail from London to Bombay was 13 days, 7 hours and 46 minutes, while the average time for the year was 13 days, 23 hours and 5 minutes. In the opposite direction, that is, from Bombay to London, the quickest transit was 12 days, 23 hours and 28 minutes, while the average time for the year was 14 days, 4 hours and 27 minutes.

Section I —Post offices and postal communications

(1) Post offices, letter-boxes and village postmen

Post offices, letter-boxes,
etc

6 Appendix I shows the number of post offices, letter-boxes and village postmen, both Imperial and District Post, in each circle at the close of the year, as compared with the corresponding figures at the close of the previous year. There was an increase during the year of 875 in the number of post offices and of 3 395 in the number of letter boxes. The increase was greatest in Madras and the Punjab as regards post offices and in Bombay and Madras as regards letter boxes. The number of post offices in the charge of schoolmasters and other persons who are not regular servants of the Department rose from 7,809 to 8,527.

(2) Postal communications

7 In Appendix I also are shown the distances over which mails were conveyed in each circle by the various agencies employed by this Department. The total figures for the year under report are given in the following statement in comparison with those of the previous year —

	NATURE OF POSTAL COMMUNICATIONS
	Railway	Runners and boats	Mail tonga	Steamer	TOTAL
Mileage at close of 1900-1901	22,839	85,023	7,937	15,822	131,621
Ditto at close of 1901-1902	23,450	87,668	8 130	16,002	135,250
Increase	611	2,645	193	180	3,629

It will be seen that there was a general increase under each class of mail lines, the increase being greatest under the head of runners and boats. This was chiefly due to the opening of new lines in Madras and the Punjab, in order to serve the large number of offices newly established in those provinces.

Section II — Correspondence and parcels — Postage stamps

(1) Correspondence and parcels

8 The estimated number of postal articles of all kinds, exclusive of money orders and parcels issued for delivery during the year, added to the actual number of parcels amounted to nearly 560 millions or more than 27½ millions in excess of the number during the preceding year. Statistics showing the different classes of articles delivered in the various postal circles during 1901-1902 will be found in Appendix II, and a summary of the general results is given in the following statement —

Classes of postal articles	1900-01	1901-02	Increase ( ) or decrease (—)	Percentage of increase ( + ) or decrease (—)
Letters—paid	211 018 910	219 563 062	+ 8 544 152	+ 4 05
unpaid	29 228 913	28 462,364	— 766 549	— 2 62
registered	10 610 342	11 299,071	+ 688 729	+ 6 49
Total letters	250 858 165	259,324,497	+ 8 466 332	+ 3 37
Postcards	218 351 317	236,367,534	+ 8 016 217	+ 8 25
Registered Newspapers	32 091 100	31,550,052	— 541 348	— 1 69
Book and pattern packets	28 302 751	29,712,460	+ 1,409 709	+ 4 98
Parcels—registered	2 177 948	2 256 059	+ 78 111	+ 3 59
„ unregistered	501 161	735,245	+ 234 084	+ 46 71
Grand total of all postal articles	532 282 742	559,945 847	+ 27 663 105	+ 5 20

It will be seen that there was an increase in the total number of articles issued for delivery under every head except unpaid letters and registered newspapers. The increase under the head of postcards (18 millions) far exceeded the increase in any other class of postal articles, and it may be noted that the total number of postcards exceeded the number of paid letters in every circle except Madras Assam Burma and Sind and Baluchistan. The total number of letters registered during the year was more than 11 millions, showing an increase of 688,729 or 6.49 per cent over the figures of the preceding year. Registration is still more popular in Madras than in any other part of India, the total number of letters registered in that Presidency being nearly 2½ millions. The most noticeable feature, however, of the return is the increase in the number of parcels of both classes which rose from 2,679,109 in 1900-1901 to 2,991,304, in the year under report—an increase of 11.65 per cent, as compared with an increase in 1900-1901 of 2.8 per cent, over the figures of the preceding year. During 1900-1901 there had been an actual decrease in the number of registered parcels, but during the year under report there was an increase over the figures of that year of 3.59 per cent, while under the head of unregistered parcels the figures for 1901-1902 showed an increase of 234,084 or 46.71 per cent over the figures for 1900-1901. These results were due to the reduction in the scale of inland parcel postage which came into force from the 1st July 1901. This reduction was followed by an increase of more than 300,000 parcels during the last 9 months of the year under report as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of the preceding year and it may be added that the total increase in the inland parcel traffic for the whole period of 10 years ending with 1900-1901 only just exceeded a million.

Average number of postal articles per

9. The table at the foot of Appendix I, prepared from the last census returns, shows for each postal circle the number of post offices and letter boxes in relation to area and population and the number of postal articles (excluding money orders) per head of the total population and per head of the literate portion of the population.

The Bombay, Sind and Baluchistan, Punjab and Madras circles rank highest, in the order mentioned as regards the number of articles per head of the population, while the Sind and Baluchistan, Punjab and Bombay circles rank highest as regards the number of articles per head of the literate portion of the population.

Foreign correspondence

10. The foreign correspondence received in India for delivery is included in the total figures contained in Appendix II, and separate figures showing the correspondence exchanged with the United Kingdom are given here. The number of letters and postcards received from the United Kingdom was 4,707,466 in 1901-1902, as compared with 4,271,745 in the preceding year, while the number of newspapers, book packets and samples was 7,933,112 as compared with 7,770,797 in the previous year. The number of letters and postcards despatched home from this country during 1901-1902 was 3,912,481, as compared with 3,636,207 despatched during the preceding year, and the number of newspapers, book packets and samples was 1,308,358, as compared with 1,221,989 during the previous year. The large increases of 10.20 per cent and 7.60 per cent, respectively, in the number of letters and post cards received and despatched are probably due mainly to the fact that in consequence of the reduction in the rates of letter postage large numbers of circulars, advertisements and other articles which would otherwise be posted for transmission by the packet mail are now sent as letters. There is no doubt also that the cheap rates of letter postage are being more and more appreciated by the public in both countries, and that more letters are now being written than was the case formerly. Another factor to be taken into consideration in connection with the increase in the number of letters and postcards exchanged is the introduction of pictorial postcards of private manufacture, large numbers of which, chiefly, it is believed, for the purpose of collections, are now being sent through the post both to and from India.

As regards the correspondence exchanged with countries other than the United Kingdom, the Union statistics which used to be taken every three years have been discontinued under the terms of the Principal Convention of Washington. The figures for 1901-1902 are therefore, merely a repetition of those based upon the statistics taken in 1896 and do not call for any remark.

Foreign parcels

11. The total number of parcels sent by the foreign post from this country was 161,484 during 1901-1902 as compared with 144,427 during the preceding year. The total number received in this country during 1901-1902 was 169,580 as compared with 157,103 received during the previous year. There was thus an increase of 11.81 per cent in the number of parcels despatched and of 7.94 per cent in the number of parcels received by the foreign parcel post.

Nearly 61 per cent of the whole foreign parcel traffic was with the United Kingdom. The number of parcels received from that country has shown a constant tendency to increase and for the year under report stood at 124,107 as compared with 120,219 for the year 1900-1901. On the other hand the number of parcels despatched from India to the United Kingdom has of late years remained stationary or shown a falling off but there has now been an increase in the homeward traffic the number of parcels despatched from India having risen from 70,936 during 1900-1901 to 77,561 during the year under report. There is room however for a large development of parcel traffic by post in both directions and it may be hoped that this will be secured in the near future by India adopting the Imperial parcel scheme with its cheap and simple scale of postage rates.

The Brindisi route was less used than in the preceding year, but the figures for that year were abnormally high owing to the fact that this route was used during 1900-1901 for the remittance by post of comparatively large sums of gold in both directions between India and the United Kingdom which is now no longer allowed. As regards the exchange by the sea route and Gibraltar, there was an appreciable increase, as compared with the figures of the preceding year, in the number of parcels both sent and received, the number sent having risen from 57,570 to 64,944, and the number received, from 100,031 to 112,912.

In the case of the exchanges with countries other than the United Kingdom, there was a satisfactory development of the traffic in both directions, the number of parcels received from these countries during 1901-1902 being 45,473, as compared with 36,884 during the preceding year, while the number despatched from India was 83,923, as compared with 73,491 during the previous year. This increase is due mainly to the continued growth of the parcel post with Ceylon and the development of the traffic with the British Protectorate of East Africa.

12 The figures given in Appendix II show that 559,945,847 letters, post cards news Delivery papers, packets and parcels were issued for delivery during the year and that 13,581,928 Work of the money orders were issued for payment making a grand total for all these classes of articles of 573,527,775 as compared with 545,205,207 in 1900-01. Of the total number issued for delivery or payment it is estimated that 561,216,605 or 97.85 per cent were actually delivered or paid during the year under report, as compared with 533,022,150 or 97.77 per cent during the previous year. These figures in the case of parcels and money orders are actual figures but in the case of the other articles are founded on an enumeration made twice during the year for a period of a week on each occasion.

13 The total number of letters postcards and other articles excluding money orders that reached one or other of the ten Dead Letter Offices was 4,621,260 as compared with 4,579,071 received in the previous year. Details of the distribution of these articles among the several offices and the manner of their disposal will be found in Appendix III. Of the total number of articles, 1,056,164—or 22.86 per cent as compared with 20.39 per cent in the previous year—were successfully disposed of by being redirected and then delivered to the persons to whom they were addressed, while 2,399,560—or 51.92 per cent as compared with 52.40 per cent in the previous year—were issued for return to the senders though out of these 365,851 or about 11 per cent in all came back again to the Dead Letter Offices. The total number finally found to be unreturnable was 1,531,387 and these were deposited as dead. This last figure is only 0.3 per cent of the total number of articles given out for delivery in the year and a large proportion of the unreturnable articles were from their nature not capable of delivery. Every year a large number of valuable securities are found in letters and other articles which have to be opened in the different Dead Letter Offices. The total value of these securities does not vary considerably from year to year but it may be noted that in the Bombay Dead Letter office more than 40 letters posted without any address were found to contain bills of exchange. All the valuable securities and valuable property actually found during the year under report aggregating about 3½ lakhs of rupees were successfully delivered to the owners with the exception of Rs 17,222 9 11 and £83 2 5.

(2) Postage stamps

14 Particulars regarding the issues from treasuries of ordinary postage stamps postcards, embossed envelopes and stamped wrappers and also of service postage stamps postcards and envelopes will be found in Appendix IV. The total value of the issues of ordinary postage stamps amounted to over 1½ crores of rupees and the total value of service stamps to more than 20 lakhs of rupees there being an increase over the figures of the preceding year of Rs 2,27,638 in the case of ordinary postage stamps and of Rs 7,513 in the case of service stamps.

The issues of ordinary stamps were largest in the Bombay circle where they amounted to over 20 lakhs of rupees. Bengal and Madras come next with issues of over 27 lakhs of rupees each and then the Punjab with issues of more than 19½ lakhs. The inland single postcards which are sold for the denominated value of the stamp, continued to command the highest sales the total issues being over 139 millions in number. The small ½ anna envelopes which also are sold for the denominated value of the stamp had the next largest sale over 78 millions being issued during the year. Of the ½ anna adhesive stamps, over 75 millions were issued while the sales of the 3 pies adhesive stamps rose from 21½ millions to more than 25 millions, and of the 1 anna adhesive stamps from 15½ millions to 17 millions. On the other hand, there was some falling off in the sales of adhesive stamps of the higher denominations from 12 annas up to Rs 5. Of the special envelopes and wrappers supplied by the Department, for which a charge is made on account of stationery there was an increase in the sales of the large and small registration envelopes and of the ½ anna wrappers. In the case however of the 1 anna wrappers the ½-anna and 1 anna square envelopes, and the 2½ annas envelopes the sales declined.

As regards service stamps there was a decrease which it is difficult to account for, in the sales of the stamps and envelopes of all denominations with the exception of the two annas large registration envelopes and the quarter anna 1 anna and 2 annas stamps.

Apart from the sales of postage stamps one anna revenue or receipt stamps to the value of Rs 5,04,242 were sold during the year through the agency of the Post Office. Non-judicial stamps and Court-fee stamps are also sold at many post offices but except in Burma the postmaster acts, as regards these stamps as a private vendor, and the stamps do not form part of the Post Office balance. In Burma where general stamps are kept by the postmaster in the same way as other stamps the sales on this account amounted to Rs 81,769.

Section III—Insurance and Value-payable post.

(1) Insurance

business

15 During the year under report 347,071 letters and parcels in all were insured for transmission by post for an aggregate amount of nearly 9½ crores of rupees. The following statement shows the year's business as compared with that of the preceding year—

	INSURED LETTERS		INSURED PARCELS		TOTAL
	Number	Value	Number	Value	Number	Value	Insurance fees
		₹		₹		₹	₹
1900-01	103,163	2,51,46,132	214,823	6,59,88,205	317,986	9,55,34,337	2,54,840
1901-02	108,685	2,57,92,306	238,386	6,64,05,530	347,071	9,21,97,836	2,47,127
Percentage of increase (+) or decrease (—)	+5.35	+96	+10.97	—12	+9.15	—3.49	—3.03

It will be seen that there was an increase to the extent of 9.15 per cent in the total number of articles insured, as compared with the figures of 1900-01 but the total value insured fell from Rs 9,55,34,337 in the year 1900-01 to Rs 9,21,97,836 during the year under report.

The average amount for which each letter was insured during the year under report was Rs 238 as compared with Rs 248 in the previous year and the average amount for which each parcel was insured was Rs 279 as compared with Rs 326 in the year 1900-01.

Claims for compensation

16 The number of claims for compensation in respect of insured articles during the year under review was only 17 as compared with 24 in the previous year. Out of these 17 claims, 14 were admitted the loss having been caused in 3 cases by fraud or negligence or the part of postal servants in one case by an accident and in the remaining 10 cases by highway robbery of mails in Native States. The total amount paid in satisfying these claims was Rs 3,009.83 out of which a sum of Rs 202.610 was recovered so that the whole loss accepted by the Department was Rs 3,407.15 representing a percentage of 1.18 on the total amount realised from insurance fees, as compared with Rs 5,885.13.9 representing a percentage of 2.31 in 1900-1901.

Of the three cases in which claims were not admitted one was actually rejected while the other two were pending at the close of the year. In the case in which compensation was refused, the Post Office declined to accept responsibility as the insured letter in question had been delivered in good condition with all the seals intact and there was independent evidence to justify the conclusion that the currency note which was said to have been enclosed in the letter was not really inside it when it was posted.

Value payable

17 The total number of value payable articles of all kinds sent through the post during the year under the report was 2,847,173 as compared with 2,608,888 in the previous year. The total amount declared for recovery was more than 3½ crores of rupees or about 15½ lakhs more than in the preceding year while the amount of commission realised was Rs 6,40,287 as compared with Rs 5,87,611 in the previous year. There was thus an increase of 19.13 per cent in the number of articles of 4.54 per cent in the value specified for recovery and of 8.96 per cent in the commission realised. The number of value payable articles posted during the year at the Calcutta General Post Office and its town sub-offices was 93,176 as compared with 89,676 in 1900-1901, and this Department realised on delivery of these and paid over to the tradesmen of Calcutta a total sum of Rs 1,05,31,594 or £702,106. It may be added that the total number of value payable articles posted during the year in Bombay City was not less than 462,333 representing a total value of Rs 61,04,083 or £406,909 while the number posted at Madras was 246,998 representing a total value of Rs 21,67,855 or £144,524.

There was an increase in the year's business under all classes of value-payable articles except registered parcels as compared with the figures of the preceding year. The main increase occurred under the head of unregistered parcels which showed an advance of 56.83 per cent over the figures of the previous year and this was due in large measure to the reduction in the rates of inland parcel postage which took effect from the 1st July 1901. The average value of each article taking all classes of articles together was Rs 12.811 as compared with Rs 13.10 in the year 1900-1901. The popularity of this system goes on increasing and the proportion of increase in the total transactions for the year under report was higher than during any previous year since 1893-1894.

During the year under report 41,799 value payable articles of the aggregate value of Rs 3,59,086 were despatched from India to Ceylon as compared with 37,365 articles of the aggregate value of Rs 3,30,923 in the preceding year. The marked increase therefore, of the last few years in the value-payable transactions with that Colony has been fully maintained.

Section IV.—Money orders

18 Appendix V (a) shows the entire money order transactions of the Department year by year for a period of ten years, separate figures being given for inland and foreign orders. The total number of money orders issued during 1901 1902 was 14,107,218 as compared with 13,420,713 in the previous year, and the total amount remitted was over 29½ crores as compared with about 28½ crores in 1900 1901. Foreign money orders constitute only a small percentage of the entire transactions of the year, their total number being only a little over half a million.

money
business

19. Appendix V (b) shows the issues and payments of inland money orders according to postal circles for 1901 1902 in comparison with the results of the previous year. More than 13½ million money orders, including telegraphic money orders, of the aggregate amount of over 26½ crores of rupees, were issued during the year, and the commission realized amounted to over 33½ lakhs of rupees. These figures represent an increase, over the transactions of the previous year, of 5 10 per cent in the number of inland money orders issued, of 2 18 per cent in the amount and of 1 50 per cent in the commission.

Inland
money
business

As in previous years, the money order business of the Bengal circle was far in excess of that of any other circle, and the number of orders issued and paid in the Lower Provinces, taken together, was more than one third of the total transactions for all India. The payments in Bombay, Bihar and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh were considerably more than the issues while the issues in Assam, Bengal, Burma, the Central Provinces, and Sind and Baluchistan largely exceeded the payments.

The average value of an inland money order was Rs 19 12 0 for 1901 1902 as compared with Rs 20 5 0 in the preceding year.

20 In the same appendix separate figures are given for telegraphic money orders. It will be seen that there was a slight falling off in the number accompanied by a rather marked decrease in the amount remitted by this means. The change was chiefly due to the fact that the telegraphic money order remittances in the Bombay Presidency, which had been altogether abnormal in 1900 1901 owing to speculative transactions in grain, had resumed their ordinary dimensions during the year under report. It may be added that the average value of a telegraphic money order in that circle fell from Rs 201 in the previous year to Rs 143 in 1901 1902. The postal commission realized on telegraphic money orders amounted to Rs 200,584 as compared with Rs 2,27,401 in the preceding year, while the cost of the telegrams which is paid by the remitters along with the postal commission, but credited to the Telegraph Department, amounted to Rs 1,70,382 as compared with Rs 1 83 246 in the previous year.

Telegraphic
money
business

As usual these orders were more freely issued from Burma than from other parts of the country the total remittances by telegraph from that province being 43 09 per cent of the entire number for the whole of India. The payments in Burma were also larger in amount than in any other province except Madras.

The average value of a telegraphic money order was Rs 109 12 0 as compared with Rs 118 2 0 for the preceding year.

21 The special classes of money order for the payment of revenue, rent and miscellaneous Government dues are included under inland money orders in Appendix V (b) though separate figures are not shown for these classes.

Special money order
business
(1) Revenue money
orders

The revenue money order system is in force in the Lower Provinces the United Provinces, the Central Provinces and in the Punjab and North West Frontier Province. In the Lower Provinces of Bengal there was a decrease both in the number and value of revenue money orders. The number of orders fell from 217,922 in 1900 1901 to 215,546 and the amount from Rs 21,31,436 to Rs 20,69,094 during the year under report. On the other hand in the Central Provinces, where there had been a falling off in these transactions during the previous two years, owing to the prevalence of famine, the number of orders rose from 14,377 in the year 1900 1901 to 25,697 and the amount from Rs 4,41,945 to Rs 8,16,809. In the Punjab and North West Frontier Province the progress reported last year in the revenue money order business was more than maintained during the year under review. The number of orders rose from 14,570 to 18,561 and the amount from Rs 9,74,689 to Rs 13,82,551. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh there was also an increase both in the number and amount of revenue money orders. The number increased from 206,993 to 211,563 and the amount from Rs 47,35,688 to Rs 49,27,882 during the year under report.

The rent money order system is in force in the Lower Provinces, the United Provinces and the Central Provinces. In the Lower Provinces of Bengal the progress reported last year in the rent money order business was sustained during the year under review. The number of orders issued advanced from 55,111 in 1900 1901 to 57,837, the amount of rent remitted being Rs 9,19,592 as compared with Rs 8,80,794 in the preceding year. In the Central Provinces the transactions, which showed a falling off in the previous year

money

owing to the prevalence of famine, have, during the year under report, considerably increased. The number of orders rose from 773 in 1900-1901 to 1,540 and their aggregate value from Rs 12,675 to Rs 29,655. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the total number of remittance money orders increased from 79,093 in 1900-1901 to 94,423 and their value from Rs 10,78,920 to Rs 12,98,188 during the year under report.

(3) Remittances of miscellaneous Government dues by money orders

The system of remitting other miscellaneous Government dues by money order is in force in the Lower Provinces, the United Provinces, the Punjab and North West Frontier Province, Madras and Burma. In the Lower Provinces of Bengal, 106,671 official money orders of the aggregate value of Rs 22,84,369 were issued during the year under report as compared with 107,177 of the aggregate value of Rs 23,12,315 in the previous year. In the Punjab and North West Frontier Province the number of official money orders increased from 5,299 to 8,501 and their value from Rs 1,49,644 to Rs 2,15,952 during the year under report. In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh 55,400 orders of the aggregate value of Rs 6,70,812 were issued as compared with 35,212 of the aggregate value of Rs 6,59,429 in the previous year. In Madras the number of official money orders issued was 4,562 of Rs 80,042 as against 4,307 of the previous year amounting to Rs 72,491. In Burma 272 orders of a total value of Rs 13,990 were issued as compared with 187 of the value of Rs 9,099 in the year 1900-1901.

Foreign money order business

22 Figures relating to the money order exchanges with foreign countries will be found in Appendix V (c) in which payments as well as issues are shown. The appendix comprises sterling money order exchanges which are in force with the United Kingdom, the colonies and foreign countries generally, and rupee money order exchanges which are in force chiefly with countries and places in the Far East and Africa. The money order transactions with the Native States of India that have separate postal arrangements, are also included, for the purpose of convenience, in this appendix.

(1) Sterling money orders

There was an increase in the total number of sterling money orders issued by India during the year under report, the figures having risen from 75,882 in 1900-01 to 91,095. This was principally due to an increase of more than 14,000 in the number of remittances sent by money order to the United Kingdom and of nearly 1,000 in the number sent to Germany. There was also an increase in the number of sterling money orders received for payment in this country, which rose from 59,456 in 1900-01 to 67,174. This was caused entirely by a rise in the number of money order remittances from Cape Colony and Natal. The figures rose in the case of Cape Colony from 12,726 in 1900-01 to 17,231, and in the case of Natal from 10,257 to 13,870 during the year under report.

The average amount of a sterling money order was £3 10s 7d as compared with £3 5s 2d in the preceding year in the case of issues from India, and £5 19s 9d as compared with £5 8s 1d in the preceding year in the case of payments.

(2) Rupee money orders

In the case of the rupee money order exchanges the chief transactions consist of remittances to India, but the increase during the year in these remittances was not so marked as usual, the total number of rupee orders received for payment in this country being only 2,979 more than the number received in 1900-01. There was a falling off of 1,923 in the number of orders received from the Straits Settlements, of 773 in the number from the Portuguese Settlements in India, and of 2,683 in the number of telegraphic money orders received from Ceylon. On the other hand, the number of ordinary, i.e., non telegraphic, money orders received from Ceylon rose by 5,300, the number of money orders from British East Africa by 2,973, and the number from Mauritius by 181. It should be added that 28,175 money orders, for a total amount of more than 19 lakhs were received direct from our field post offices in China for payment in India itself or for onward transmission to other countries.

The average amount of a rupee money order was Rs 42 2 0, as compared with Rs 38 15 0 in 1900-01 in the case of issues from India, and Rs 42 3 0, as compared with Rs 42 0 0 in the preceding year, in the case of payments.

British postal orders

23 During the year under report there was a marked increase in the sales of British postal orders, the total number of orders sold being 107,098, as compared with 83,945 in the preceding year, and the total value (including postage), £68,663 as compared with £53,612 in 1900-01. The increase chiefly occurred in Bombay, the Punjab and North West Frontier Province, the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Bengal, Madras and Burma. The increase appears to have been due to improved sales in all the more important provinces. There was no change in the classes of order which command most popularity. The net commission realized by the Indian Post Office on the entire sales of the year was Rs 4,930.

Section V —Post Office Savings Banks

General results of the year

24 In Appendix VI are given in detail, according to postal circles, the savings bank transactions of the year as compared with those of the previous year. The figures show a net increase during the year under report of 50,042 or 6.12 per cent in the number of active accounts and, exclusive of transfers from one post office to another, of over 54 lakhs of rupees in the amount deposited, and of over 31 lakhs of rupees in the amount withdrawn. The interest paid exceeded the sum paid in 1900-01 by 1½ lakhs of rupees and the total amount standing at the credit of depositors at the close of the year was slightly in excess of 10 crores 68½ lakhs, showing an increase of about 63½ lakhs, as compared with the balance at the close of the preceding year

Of the 866,693 active accounts in existence at the end of the year, 43,175 were security deposit accounts with a balance in favour of depositors of more than 53 lakhs, 6,568 were public accounts with a balance of 37½ lakhs, and 246 were regimental and other conjoint accounts with a balance of 14½ lakhs. Of the remaining 816,704 active accounts with a balance of more than 9 crores 63 lakhs, 1,02,270 with a balance of 1½ crores were held on behalf of minors by their parents, relatives and guardians, and the rest were accounts opened and held by depositors on their own behalf. It will be seen therefore that 91.23 per cent of all the accounts and 90.17 per cent of the total balance of 10 crores 68½ lakhs represent the savings of private persons deposited either for their own benefit or for that of their children minor relatives and wards. It may be added that 90.76 per cent of the total number of accounts at the close of the year were held by natives of the country.

25 In Appendix VI will also be found a classification, according to their occupation of the persons who held savings bank accounts. During the year under report, as in the preceding year the largest number of accounts were held by the under mentioned classes of depositors in the following order —

- (1) persons of no occupation or whose incomes are derived from others or from their own property—classified as "Indefinite" in the statement,
- (2) the professional class, and
- (3) the domestic class.

The highest percentage of increase, however, was again in the number of accounts held by the agricultural class, which was over 15½ per cent in excess of the number held by that class at the end of the preceding year.

26 The number of securities purchased through the agency of this Department was 527 of the nominal value of Rs 3,79,300 as compared with 557 of the nominal value of Rs 3,97,400 in the previous year. The sales of securities were 45 as compared with 28 in the preceding year and the nominal value of the securities held in the custody of the Comptroller General at the close of the year on account of depositors in the Post Office Savings Bank was Rs 11,01,600 as compared with Rs 10,24,400 on the 31st March 1901. Of this balance in the hands of the Comptroller General, Rs 10,28,600 represented the nominal value of securities of the 3½ per cent loans, while the balance, Rs 76,000, was held in 3 per cent loans.

Section VI — District Post

27 The District Post was administered as usual during the year under report by the heads of postal circles subject to the control of the several Local Governments and Administrations. In Appendix VII will be found details of the establishments income and expenditure of the District Post, and also of the work done under this head for the years 1900-01 and 1901-02. The total expenditure of the year under report was Rs 11,76,342, as compared with Rs 12,11,136 in the previous year. There was an increase of 27 in the number of post offices and of 401 in the number of letter boxes kept up out of District Post funds while the length of District Post mail lines decreased by 60 miles. There was also a decrease of 77 in the number of postmen and village postmen maintained out of District Post funds of 1,18,696 or 6.52 per cent in the number of articles of all kinds received for delivery by the District Post agency and of 58,575 or 4.70 per cent in the number of articles posted in post offices and letter boxes kept up by the District Post. A large number of District Post establishments were transferred during the year to the Imperial Post on being found to be self supporting and to this is due the decrease in the number of District Post mail lines postmen and village postmen while the falling off in the number of articles dealt with by the District Post is accounted for by the fact that though there was an increase in the number of post offices maintained out of District Post funds most of the larger District Post offices were taken over by the Imperial Post. The total monthly charges accepted on account of these transfers was Rs 3,531 during the year under report as compared with Rs 2,905 in 1900-01.

Section VII — Miscellaneous.

28 The following statement shows the transactions of the Post Office Guarantee Fund during the year 1901-02. The balance at the credit of the Fund including the nominal value of Government securities purchased on its behalf rose from Rs 8,00,427 on the 31st March 1901, to Rs 8,55,054 on the 31st March 1902. The subscriptions realized from postal servants amounted to Rs 29,014 while the amount decreed against the Fund in connection with frauds committed by officials of the Department was Rs 9,914 as compared with Rs 13,470 in the previous year and with an average amount of

Rs 15,326 for the last ten years. A sum of Rs. 28,500 was added to the Fund on account of interest during the year under report —

Complaints
by the public

29. The number of complaints made by the public during the year under review was 26,731 against 24,041 in 1900-01. There was, therefore, an increase of 2,690 or 11.21 per cent over the previous year's figures. The proportion of cases in which the complaints were found to be well founded was 32.9 per cent and the proportion of entirely groundless complaints was 43.08 per cent of the total. In the remaining cases the investigation of the complaints had not been complete at the end of the year or although the enquiry had been completed, no definite conclusion had been arrived at. The increase in the number of complaints is believed to be mainly due to the greater care and completeness with which complaints made to subordinate officers have been recorded and may also be attributed in some measure to the encouragement which has been given to the public to bring postal defects to notice.

Complaints regarding special classes of articles

30. During the year under report 1,436 complaints were received regarding the special classes of postal articles which are shown in the following statement —

	Registered articles	Ordinary parcels	Insured letters and insured parcels	Value payable on parcels and registered articles	Total for 1901-1902	Total for 1900-1901
Number of complaints received	672	569	50	140	1,436	1,281

Out of the total of 1,436 complaints 745 or 51.88 per cent were found to be groundless that is to say the enquiry showed either that no loss had occurred or that the loss had not occurred through the fault of a postal official, and 347, or 24.10 per cent of the total were well grounded. There was an increase in the number of complaints of 155 over the number of similar complaints received in 1900-1901 but it should be noted that the number of articles of these special classes dealt with during the year was in excess of the number that passed through the post in the preceding year by 689,729 in the case of registered letters, 312,195 in the case of parcels, 29,085 in the case of insured articles and 238,285 in the case of value payable articles. It may further be pointed out that complaints which proved to be well founded were made by the public in respect of only 173 out of 11,299,071 registered letters, 111 out of 2,991,304 parcels, 11 out of 347,071 insured articles and 52 out of 2,847,173 value payable articles.

servants of the Post

	1900-1901	1901-1902
Number of legal convictions	184	206
Number of cases departmentally punished	164	157

Office were held to be guilty of offences punishable by law is shown in Appendix VIII, and a summary of the figures is given on the margin. The total includes 51 cases of misappropriation of office cash, 138 money order frauds, 8 savings bank frauds and 89 cases of theft from mails or post offices. Most of the remaining offences were committed in respect of letters, parcels or other postal articles entrusted to the Post Office for conveyance. Among the offenders convicted or departmentally punished were 100 departmental postmasters and 41 clerks, 82 extraneous agents in charge of post offices, 105 postmen and village postmen and 14 runners. The defalcations and losses amounted to Rs 35,513 6 10 as compared with Rs 31,831 4 1 in the previous year, and Rs 37,302 9 1 in 1899 1900. A sum of Rs 20,680 9 4 was recovered from the offenders or their sureties, a sum of Rs 1059 4 4 was decreed against the Guarantee Fund, Rs 40 were written off as finally lost and Rs 13,733 9 2 remained unadjusted at the close of the year.

32 During the year there were 11 cases of money order frauds involving a sum of Rs 642 and 3 cases of fraudulent withdrawals amounting to Rs 169 from the Savings Bank, in which persons not belonging to the Post Office were concerned. In addition to these, there were 46 cases of house breaking or theft of Government money from the mails, apart from cases of highway robbery, which are separately dealt with. The total amount stolen was Rs 6688 14 8 of which Rs 3,613 2 8 were recovered and Rs 298 0 0 were decreed against the Guarantee Fund. A sum of Rs 523 7 0 was written off as finally lost and Rs 2,254 5 0 remained unadjusted at the close of the year.

33 The number of highway robberies of the mail had been unprecedentedly high in 1900 01, and has now fallen from 57 in that year to 43 for the year under report. Of these 43 robberies 33, or 9 less than in the previous year, took place in British territory and 10, or 5 less than in the previous year, occurred in Native States. The decrease was most marked in the Punjab, Bombay and Rajputana where the number of these cases fell from 9, 12 and 6, respectively, to 2, 6 and 1, respectively. On the other hand, 3 cases occurred in Burma which had enjoyed complete immunity from highway robberies of mails in the previous year. In the Madras circle again a larger number of highway robberies occurred than elsewhere. There were no less than 15 cases in that circle, while the United Provinces circle comes next with 10 cases.

In two of the 43 cases which occurred during the year, there was loss of life, and in 21 instances the mail carriers were wounded by the robbers.

In July 1901, a mail carrier and the escort by whom he was accompanied were murdered in the Marwar Native State in Bombay. The entire mail with the exception of a cash remittance of Rs 100 was subsequently recovered. In December of the same year, a mail carrier failed to arrive at his destination in the Dhamoh district in the Central Provinces and on search being made his dead body was found with marks of beating and a deep gash at the back of the neck. The man is believed to have received the wound which apparently caused his death by the sword which he himself was carrying. The entire mail was stolen in this case and no trace of the robbers could be obtained.

There were only 22 cases in which Government suffered any loss and the total loss amounted to Rs 4,179 6 2. Of this amount a sum of Rs 1,565 11 11 was stolen from the mails in actual cash while the balance Rs 2,613 10 3 represents the compensation that had to be paid for the loss of insured articles.

In 10 cases the entire mail was recovered and a part of the mail in 23 other cases, while in the remaining 10 cases the entire mail was lost. Prosecutions were instituted in 10 cases in 5 of which convictions were obtained. Besides the cases of actual highway robbery mentioned above there were 10 unsuccessful attempts to rob the mails, 5 of which occurred in British territory and 5 in Native States. In one of these attempts which took place in the Dir State, one of the escorts was shot dead and the runner was severely wounded.

34 There were various other cases during the year in which the lives of postal servants were lost and mails and postal property damaged or destroyed.

In April 1901 a Burman mail carrier was found dead by the side of the road leading from Shewedung to Promt. His death was declared by the medical evidence to be due to the dislocation of his neck but there was no trace of a struggle on the spot where he was found and no marks of violence on his person while the mails which he was carrying were lying intact by his side. The case therefore remained a mystery though it was surmised that he might have dislocated his own neck by falling down in a fit. In September of the same year a mail carrier was murdered in the Kathiawar province while conveying the mail to Kodinar, and in this case also the mail wallet was found intact by the side of the dead man. Inquiry showed that he had been killed by two men armed with swords who were arrested and sentenced to imprisonment for life. The cause of the murder was a private quarrel arising from jealousy. In the same month a mail carrier committed suicide in the Godavery district of the Madras Presidency by drowning himself in a well. While conveying the mail in company with another runner he left the road to stay for a short time at his own house and it is believed that while he was there the mail bag which he was carrying was cut open by some other person. On rejoining his comrade the mail carrier realised what had occurred. He then decided to return at once to the post office from which he had started and on his way back committed suicide in the manner described apparently out of fear of the consequences that might ensue though it was subsequently ascertained that, in point of fact, nothing had been abstracted from the mail bag. In the following month another mail carrier was found drowned in a well in the South Arcot district of the Madras Presidency but the occurrence was believed to have been due to a pure accident. The mail carrier's wallet, belt and spear were discovered near the top of the well, and it is supposed that he had gone down the steps to obtain a drink of water, had overbalanced himself and fallen in. Earlier in the year a bullock cart carrying the mails to the Kalembo post office in the Chin Hills had fallen over a precipice owing to the bullocks taking fright and running away. The driver of the cart died from the injuries received by him but the mails were safely recovered. During the rains of 1901 there were two accidents due to floods. In the first case a mail carrier was swept away while attempting to cross a stream to reach a village in the Khandesh district of the Bombay Presidency. He was rescued, however, by the men of the village and the mails which he was carrying, were recovered several days later much damaged by wet. In the second case an overseer was carried away by the force of the water while crossing a stream in the Hoshangabad district of the Central Provinces but he also escaped with his life.

It is a matter for great satisfaction that I am able to record that no case of loss of life occurred on the mail lines to Gilgit and Leh where the mail carriers during the winter and spring months discharge their duties at the imminent peril of life and limb. In March 1902 two mail carriers were caught in an avalanche on the Burzil Pass on their way to Gilgit but they escaped without serious injury and the mails which were overwhelmed in the snow at the time of the accident were afterwards recovered.

During the year 29 post offices were destroyed by fire and one was washed away by a flood in September 1901 in the Monghyr district of Bihar.

the year. The staff of the Post Office included 171 pensioned soldiers of the Native Army, of whom 42 were Non-Commissioned officers and 129 sepoys, and 65 women, of whom all with three exceptions were either Europeans or Eurasians.

The total number of servants of the Department who were dismissed during the year was 621. Of this number 262 were postmen and village postmen, while 107 belonged to the road establishment. On the other hand, there was much excellent work done by postal officials of all classes during the year and, as already stated, special rewards were paid to a number of postmen and others for their devotion to duty in plague stricken areas.

Use of private presses

36 The charges incurred during the year on account of printing work done by private presses amounted to Rs 5,711 as compared with Rs 5,278 in 1900-1901 and Rs 4,532 in 1899-1900.

Section VIII — Non postal branches of the Post Office

Postal Telegraph
offices

37 During the year under report 92 combined post and telegraph offices were opened, and 18 previously existing offices were closed. There was therefore, a net increase of 74 in the total number of combined offices, as compared with a net increase of 79 during 1900-01. Of these new combined offices, 77 were opened at places which had previously been without a Government telegraph office and 48 at places where there had previously been neither a Government nor a Railway telegraph office.

During the year 27 new combined offices were opened in the Madras circle 16 in the Punjab and North West Frontier Province 11 in Burma and 9 in Bombay, and the total number of combined offices open on the 31st March last, in each postal circle, will be found in Appendix X. On that date there were 2,007 Government telegraph offices in all of which 242 were under the control of the Telegraph Department and 1,765 were combined post and telegraph offices under the control of this Department.

The total number of signallers employed in these combined offices was 2,494 as compared with 2,354 at the close of 1900-01, and during the year under report 401 servants of the Post Office qualified as signallers. It may be added that there were 689 boys employed as messengers at combined offices as compared with 638 at the close of the preceding year.

Traffic statistics of combined

38 In Appendix X also will be found the traffic statistics of combined offices, arranged according to postal circles. For the year under report there was an increase of 3,325 or 0.89 per cent in the number of messages sent and a decrease of 22,035 or 0.77 per cent. in the number of messages received and of Rs 1,23,183 or 4 77 per cent in the revenue realised on sent messages as compared with the figures of the previous year. The total revenue from messages despatched from combined offices amounted to Rs 24,56,979 and exceeded the expenditure on the establishment of the offices by Rs 18,36,434.

On the whole there was a slight increase in the traffic though this was accompanied by a falling off in the revenue. The increase in the traffic was largely due to a considerable development of telegraph business in the Punjab and North West Frontier Province and Burma and is attributed to the opening of new combined offices and, in the case of the Punjab and North West Frontier Province, also to the large number of messages sent in connection with the Blockade of the Mashud-Waziris. The decrease in the revenue occurred chiefly in Bombay, Rajputana, the Central Provinces and Berar, Madras and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh.

39 In addition to the work done during the year by the 1,765 combined offices, telegrams were received from the public at 1,810 post offices, as compared with 1,694 during the year 1900-01, for despatch by post to the nearest telegraph offices. The number of telegrams booked at these receiving offices, was 36,018 and the revenue realised was Rs. 32,859 as compared with 38,340 telegrams and a revenue of Rs 40,426 during the previous year. Telegraph receiving offices

The number of telegrams similarly received at post offices in the Persian Gulf on account of the Indo-European Telegraph Department was 314 as compared with 524 in the year 1900-01, and fees to the amount of Rs 4,205 were realised as compared with Rs. 7,466 10-0 in the previous year.

40 The gross expenditure on the combined passenger and bullock train services maintained on the road between Kalka and Simla was Rs 3,86,071 as compared with Rs 4,12,922 during the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs 26,851 during the year under report. The receipts were practically the same as during the previous year. They amounted to Rs 3,54,825 in the year under review as compared with Rs 3,54,932 in 1900-1901, and the charges, therefore, exceeded the receipts by a sum of Rs 31,246 as compared with Rs 57,990 during the previous year. The decrease in expenditure was mainly due to the fact that it was not necessary during the year under review to make any special grant to the contractors on account of famine compensation whereas during the preceding year a sum of Rs 56,611 had to be paid on this account. Carrying agency on the Kalka Simla line

41 The Post Office continued to be used during the year under report as an agency for receiving salt revenue at a few selected offices in the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Rajputana, but the transactions were small and show a decrease as compared with the figures of the preceding year. Only 84 indents for 17,340 maunds of salt of the gross value of nearly Rs 46,350 were received for transmission to the salt depôts, the total postal commission realised being Rs 231, as compared with Rs 604 last year. Receipt of salt revenue at post offices

42 The following table shows the supplies of quinine obtained on indent for sale at post offices in the several postal circles during the year 1901-02, as compared with the figures of the previous year. — Sale of quinine at post offices

It will be seen that there was a net increase of over 375 lbs in the supplies obtained during the year, and that no less than six circles, out of the twelve, contributed to this result. The improvement was due mainly to the increased supplies procured in Bombay, Madras and the Central Provinces. The increase in the first named circle is attributed to measures recently taken to popularise the drug and in the Central Provinces, to the reduction in the price of a packet from three pies to two pies while in Madras, the increase is due to the extension of the system, during the year, to our post offices in the Mysore State. Of the three other circles which show better results Burma is best and here too the larger supplies obtained are ascribed to a reduction in the retail price of the drug from four pies to three pies per packet. The circles which show a falling off are principally those forming the Province of Bengal namely Bengal, Bihar and Eastern Bengal and in all these the smaller supplies procured are attributed to the prevalence of more healthy conditions. It may be noted that notwithstanding the decrease in the present instance Bengal still holds its position as the circle where the total quantity of quinine obtained for sale at post offices is largest.

Postal
Insurance
Fund

43 A separate report has been submitted as usual on the administration of the Postal Insurance Fund. During the year under report 893 new policies were granted of the aggregate value of Rs 14,08,400 and of these 737 were endowment Assurance policies of the aggregate value of Rs 11,70,000. At the close of the year there were 6,177 active policies in existence 2,406 of which were held by Post Office servants and 3,771 by servants of other Departments. Seventy-four claims amounting in all to Rs 1,09,400 were paid during the year on the death of insured persons and the aggregate sum insured at the end of the year was Rs 98,60,350. It should be added that during the year ten life annuities were purchased under article 867 of the Civil Service Regulations.

Payment of Military pensioners by postal agency

44 The total number of pensioners of the Native Army whose pensions were paid through the agency of the Post Office in the Punjab and North West Frontier Province during 1901-02 was 28,521 as compared with 27,509 in 1900-01 and the amount disbursed on this account was Rs 20,62,25,14 11 as compared with Rs 19,97,71,70 0 in the previous year. The commission credited to this Department as remuneration for this special service was Rs 15,46,61 3 or Rs 484 0 2 more than in the previous year.

Section IX – Financial results

Receipts and expenditure

45 The following table is a summary of the receipts and charges of the year as shown in the Post Office accounts which are given in Appendix XI —

TOTAL	2,02,45,657	2,06,51,092	1,55,16,344	1,63,73,783

Under the head Postal Service proper, the net receipts, excluding the amounts due to the British Colonial and other Postal Administrations were Rs 4,05,513 in excess of those of the previous year against an increase of Rs 8,52,618 in the charges during the year under the same head. Increases in the sales of postage stamps and in the commission realized on money orders chiefly contributed to the improved revenue under this head. The receipts under the head non postal branches were practically the same as in the year before. On the whole the receipts exceeded the charges by Rs 42,77,309 as compared with Rs 47,29,313 in the preceding year.

46 Appendix XI gives a comparative abstract of the receipts and charges of the Post Office for the year, including, under a distinct head (III), certain receipts and charges which appear in the Finance and Revenue Accounts but not in the Post Office Accounts. The entries under this head are reproduced on the margin, and if these totals be added to the totals given in the preceding paragraph, the entire receipts of the year amount to

Rs 207,55,719 and the entire charges to Rs 1,01,71,054. It will thus be seen that there was a surplus of Rs 15,81,665 on the year's transactions as shown in the Finance and Revenue Accounts. Excluding the charges on account of District Post establishments which are entirely met by grants from District Post Funds and which, with the exception of Rs 1,04,627 shown in the marginal table, are not credited to the Post Office in the Finance and Revenue Accounts the actual accounts of the year show a surplus of

Rs 28,51,154. From this surplus must be deducted the net balance of the items shown in the margin, in order to bring out the complete financial results of the year, and this leaves a surplus of Rs 17,95,978, as compared with Rs 22,41,383 in 1900 1901 and Rs 20,60,650 in 1899 1900. This estimate of the financial position of the Post Office does not include any allowance on account of the services rendered by the Department to Government in the management of the Post Office Savings Bank and in carrying official correspondence at exceptionally low postage rates.

47 The following figures show the financial results of the management of the posts in Kashmir by this Department.

The revenue derived by this Department from the Kashmir posts was Rs 1,16,295 in 1901 02, as compared with Rs 1,44,167 in 1900 01, and the expenditure was Rs 1,63,950 as compared with Rs 1,63,238. It will be seen that the charges remained practically stationary while the falling off in the revenue was apparent rather than real. The decrease was due to the fact that during the year 1900 01 the Kashmir Durbar purchased service postage stamps much in excess of the actual requirements of the year with the object it is understood, of creating a reserve stock and this unduly swelled the receipts of that particular year.

Section X—Notice of officers

48 I have much pleasure in bringing to the special notice of Government the services of Mr W. Maxwell I.C.S. who has been doing excellent work as Postmaster General of Bombay. I beg also to bring to the special notice of Government the good services rendered by Mr F. Whymper as Inspector General of the Railway Mail Service. This officer has shown much energy and grasp of work and during the year under report has carried through various important reforms in this branch of the Department.

Mention of officers of the Department

The following officers whose names have been brought to notice by heads of circles deserve special mention:—Ru Daulat Ram Bahadur C.I.E. for the success with which he continued to manage the Simla Kalka line in the face of special difficulties caused by the demand for labour on the railway works; Messrs R. J. Ialkaka, C. M. Vyas and E. K. Karanjavala, Superintendents of Post Offices in the Bombay circle, for their capable administration of their Divisions at a time of stress caused by the plague and famine; Mr C. C. Sheridan Superintendent, Railway Mail Service, for his able investigation of a difficult case of abstraction of the contents of an insured parcel; Mr A. Cordeiro, Postmaster of Karachi, for the success with which he kept his staff together and carried on the work of his office during the prevalence of plague; Babu Tinkari Roy, Inspector Arrakan Division, for the energy and ability displayed by him in opening the Chitta gong-Akyab mail line and maintaining it in a state of efficiency in the face of serious difficulties, Babu Santokhi Lal, a clerk employed in the Bihar circle; for the courage and devotion to duty displayed by him, in circumstances of an exceptional nature, when deputed to take charge of an office at a plague stricken place

I regret to have to add that during the year under report the Post Office was deprived, by death, of the services of three superintendents of experience and ability, viz, Mr E A Pereira, Superintendent of town sub offices, Calcutta, whose good work had been brought to the notice of Government, and Messrs Dinsha Jijibhai Chhapgar and Vinayak Kananand Kirtikar, of the Bombay circle both of whom had served the Department faithfully for a period of more than thirty years

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

A U FANSHAWE,

Director General of the Post Office of India

No 6648 S R., dated Calcutta, the 17th December, 1902.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department

SUBJECT,—Review of the reports of the Registrars of Joint Stock Companies on the working of the Indian Companies Act, VI of 1882, during the official year 1901-1902

The number of companies and the capital invested in them stood as follows at the end of each of the last five years —

	1897-98	1898-99.	1899-1900	1900-01	1901-02
Number of companies	1 572	1 417	1 340	1 366	1 405
Nominal capital	50 18 96,370	51 30 97 190	50 16 59 360	51,71 18 550	53 04 41 120
Paid up capital	31 1 ,34,220	35 59 89 490	36 43 87 750	37,06 29 870	38,25 98 530

There was thus a net increase of 39 in the number of companies, of Rs1,30,22,570 in the nominal capital, and of Rs1,19,68,660 in the paid-up capital during the year under review

An analysis of the reports shows that—

- (1) the nominal capital of 377 companies was increased by Rs63,35,890, and the paid up capital by Rs1,66,14,800
- (2) paid-up capital of 52 companies was reduced by Rs17,08,960,
- (3) 31 companies with a nominal and paid up capital of Rs1,19,14,120 and Rs75,69,230, respectively, ceased to work and
- (4) 120 new companies with a nominal and paid up capital of Rs2,78,88,300 and Rs46,12,000, respectively, were registered during the year

2 The following table shows the number of companies and the amount of paid-up capital in each province in the last two years —

PROVINCE	NUMBER OF COMPANIES		PAID UP CAPITAL IN RUPEES		Increase or decrease per cent in capital in 1901-1902	Provincial proportion of paid up capital to all paid up capital in 1901-1902

Ajmer Merwara	9	9	9,98,270	9 98,340	+0.0
TOTAL	306	405	37,06,29 570	38,25,98,530	+3.2	100

The average paid up capital of the joint stock companies in each province during the last four years was as follows —

	1898-99	1899-1900.	1900-01	1901-02
	Rs	Rs	Rs	Rs
Bombay	4,23 490	4 25,030	4 56,240	4,71,950
Bengal	3,07 690	3,73 960	3,88,520	3 95,320
Central Provinces	2,40,890	2,50 250	2,54 920	2,16,320
United Provinces of Agra and Oudh	2 11,570	2 13,610	2,29 300	2,05 965
Punjab	1,30,150	1,42 530	1,45,150	1,55,580
Burma	1,03,490	1,12,050	1,75,320	2 02,980
Madras	88,540	75,540	67,470	66 150

These figures show that during the year under review the average has increased in Bombay, Bengal, the Punjab and Burma, and decreased in the Central Provinces, the United Provinces and Madras. The large decrease of Rs23,35 in the average of paid up capital in the United Provinces is due to the fact that the paid up capital of ten out of the twelve new companies registered during the year has not yet appeared in the returns.

4 The following table shows the distribution of the aggregate capital in the principal classes of joint-stock enterprise —

(1) Over 18½ crores of rupees or nearly 49 per cent of the total paid-up capital is invested in mills and presses, chiefly for working or pressing cotton, jute, wool, and silk. Of this amount the Bombay Presidency accounts for over 11 crores and Bengal for over 5 crores, the capital being chiefly invested in the cotton industry in the case of Bombay and in jute mills and presses in the case of Bengal.

(ii) Trading companies have a paid-up capital of over 7 crores, of which nearly a quarter of a crore is invested in coasting and river steamer companies and about 3½ crores in railways and tramways.

(iii) The amount invested in tea, coffee and other plantations is over 3½ crores, of which a little over 3½ crores is held in Bengal, as most of the tea companies which own gardens in Northern and Eastern India are registered in Calcutta. These new tea companies were registered in Bengal during the year, but they were formed from old estates which have been converted into companies with limited liability.

(iv) Of the capital of over 2 crores invested in mining and quarrying companies, Bengal holds a little over 1½ crores, most of which is employed in coal-mining. The high price of English coal during the year gave a great stimulus to the Bengal mining industry, and 13 new coal companies were registered.

5 The following table shows, so far as reported, the total number of joint-stock companies at work in India with their nominal and paid-up capital as it stood at the end of each of the last fifteen years —

1901-02	1,405	53,04,41,120	38,25,98,530

6 There were 251 companies limited by guarantee at the close of 1900-1901. Of these, 42 ceased to work and 10 new companies were registered, making 219 companies at the close of the year under review. There was a further decrease in the number of Provident Societies in Bengal and Bombay, and no such Societies were registered in either of those Provinces during the year.

7 The fees realised and the expenditure in each province during the year were —

NOTE—1 In English and Vernacular offices where there are no arrears of work the last Saturday in every month may be observed as a holiday

2 The last day of every month will be observed as a holiday in the Treasury Office Ajmer instead of the last Saturday

3 Mohammedan holidays depend upon the moon being visible and fall on the day following that event

4 With regard to Hindu holidays on account of eclipses of the sun and the moon those for the former are granted for the day on which the eclipse occurs and those for the latter for the day following

In 1903 there will be two eclipses of the moon on Saturday the 11th April 1903 and Tuesday the 6th October 1903, and the holidays will be observed on Sunday the 1st April and Wednesday the 7th October 1903

5 Local holidays may be granted for great festivals or fairs at the discretion of the Commissioner when there are no arrears of work

6 The Civil Court vacation commences on the first of August 1903 and ends on the thirtieth of September 1903. No fresh suits shall during that period be instituted unless they be of an urgent character but the Courts will be open for the purpose of clearing up cases instituted before July 15th and for the disposal of any urgent work

7 In addition to the holidays specified above, all Government offices will be closed from Friday the 2nd to Thursday the 8th January, 1903 both inclusive on account of the celebration of the Coronation of His Imperial Majesty the King Emperor and Queen Alexandra subject to the condition that arrangements are made for the despatch of urgent business

By order,

A. B. MINCHIN, Captain,

First Assistant to the Governor General's Agent, Rajputana and Chief Commissioner, Ajmer Merwara

THE HONOURABLE THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE

NOTIFICATIONS

Bangalore the 17th December, 1902

No 7247 —Whereas by the Notification of the Government of India in the Foreign Department, No 2252 I, dated the 7th August, 1883, the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, was with certain modifications declared to apply to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, so far as regards marriages between persons one of whom is a Native Christian subject of Mysore, and neither of whom is a Christian British subject

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 9 respectively of the Act, the Honourable the Resident in Mysore is pleased—

- (a) to grant a license to the Reverend Richard Watson Boote, B Sc, and the Reverend Francis George Gray, of the Wesleyan Mission in Bangalore, to solemnize marriages within the territories included in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, and
- (b) to grant a license to the said Richard Watson Boote, B Sc, and the Reverend Francis George Gray authorizing them to grant certificates of marriage within the territories included in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore between Native Christians one of whom is a Native Christian subject of Mysore and neither of whom is a Christian subject of His Majesty

No 7248 —In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 9 respectively of the Indian Christian Marriage Act 1872 (XV of 1872 as modified by Act II of 1891), and which have been delegated to him by the Governor General in Council under section 86 of the Act by Foreign Department Notification No 3747 I B, dated the 1st October, 1897, the Honourable the Resident in Mysore is pleased—

- (a) to grant a license to the Reverend Richard Watson Boote, B Sc, and the Reverend Francis George Gray, of the Wesleyan Mission in Bangalore, to solemnize marriages within the territories of Mysore, including the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore,
- (b) to grant a license to the said Reverend Richard Watson Boote, B Sc, and the Reverend Francis George Gray authorizing them to grant certificates of marriage between Native Christians within the said territories

The powers hereby conferred are to be exercised only so far as regards Christian subjects of His Majesty

The 18th December, 1902

No. 7258 — The following draft of the rules which it is proposed to make in exercise of the power conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), as applied to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, is published as required by section 18 of the said Act and in accordance with the directions contained in the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department No. 1964, dated the 2nd September, 1887, for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the draft will be taken into consideration on or after 1st March, 1903. Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person in respect of the said draft before the date aforesaid will be considered by the Resident in Mysore —

DRAFT RULES

To regulate the Transport, Manufacture, Possession and Sale of Explosives

In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), as applied to the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, the Honourable the Resident in Mysore, subject to the sanction of the Governor General in Council, is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the transport, manufacture, possession and sale of explosives in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore and on the Railways in Mysore under British Jurisdiction

Nothing in these Rules shall apply to the packing or transport of capped safety cartridges if otherwise empty or to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport, or importation of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), or as a keeper of a magazine, artisan, soldier, sailor, policeman, or otherwise, or enrolled as a volunteer under the Indian Volunteers Act, 1869 (XX of 1869), in the course of his employment or duty as such

PRELIMINARY

For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely —

Class 1	Gunpowder
Class 2	Nitrate mixture
Class 3	Nitro compound
Class 4	Chlorate mixture
Class 5	fulminate
Class 6	Ammunition
Class 7	Firework

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls

CLASS 1 — GUNPOWDER CLASS

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called

CLASS 2 — NITRATE MIXTURE CLASS

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non explosive substance

The nitrate mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Chilworth special powder,	{	Ripp Lane,
Fortis explosive,		Safety blasting powder,
	Westfallite,

and any preparation coming within the above definition

CLASS 3 — NITRO COMPOUND CLASS

The term "nitro compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not

The nitro compound class has two divisions

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No 1,
Ballistite,
Blasting Gelatine,
Carbonite,
Cordite,

Stonite,

Dynamite,
Gelatine Dynamite,
Gelignite,
Lithofracteur,
Nitro-glycerine, and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists either wholly or partly of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Amberite No 2,
Ammonite,
Bellite,
Coopal's powder,
Cotton gunpowder,
E C powder,
Gun-cotton ordinarily so-called

Nitrated gun-cotton,
Picrates,
Picric powder,
Roburite,
Sawdust and gun-cotton powder,
Schultz's powder,
Tonite (or cotton powder), and any nitro compound as before defined which is not comprised in the 1st division

CLASS 4—CHLORATE-MIXTURE CLASS

The term "chlorate mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brun's blasting powder, and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,
Erhardt's powder,
Reverley's powder,

Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Reichen's blasting charges,
Leutonite,

Chlorated gun-cotton, and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the 1st division

CLASS 5—FULMINATE CLASS

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous

The fulminate class has two divisions

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion-caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphurate, with or without carbonaceous matter

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol and the nitrate of diazobenzol

CLASS 6—AMMUNITION CLASS

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuse for blasting, or for shell, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a log-signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a fire work

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuze.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

The maximum diameter at which a small arm or machine-gun cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch.

The ammunition class has three divisions.

Division 1 comprises exclusively —

*Safety cartridges,

Safety fuzes for blasting,

Fuzes for shells, and tubes friction for guns, provided there be no more than five fuzes or 25 tubes in one package, and that the package be a hermetically sealed metal cylinder.

Railway fog-signals,

Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as —

Cartridges for small-arms which are not safety cartridges,

Cartridges and charges for cannon shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,

Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,

Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,

Fuzes for shells,

Tubes for firing explosives,

War rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as —

Detonators,

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,

Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,

Fuzes for shells,

Tubes for firing explosives.

which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7 — FIRE WORK CLASS

The fire work class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises fire-work compositions, that is to say, any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fire works, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any star and any coloured fire composition subject to the proviso hereinafter set forth.

Division 2 comprises manufactured fire works that is to say, any explosive of any of the foregoing classes and fire work composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent, rocket (other than a war rocket), maroon, lance, wheel Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals.

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case containing not more than 1 lb. of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition shall be deemed to be a "manufactured fire work."

TRANSPORT

(a) Packing

2 The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance —

I — Each class of explosive shall be separately packed

II — An explosive not being an explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 2nd and 3rd divisions of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (fire-work) class, shall, if not exceeding 5 lbs in quantity, be contained in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping

III — In every other case the explosive shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and the outer package shall be a box, barrel or case of wood or metal or other solid material, and shall be of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape

(a) If the explosive is of the 1st (or gunpowder) class or of the 2nd (nitrate-mixture) class or of the 2nd division of the 3rd (nitro compound) class, the quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not, in the case of explosives of the first two classes exceed 100 lbs and in other cases 50 lbs

If the explosive is picric acid, the inner package must be of such a nature as to effectually prevent any picric acid from coming into contact with any basic metallic oxide *

(b) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class or to the 4th (chlorate mixture) class, the inner package shall be without any metal in its construction, and the inner or outer package, or both, shall be thoroughly waterproof † No one of the inner packages shall contain more than 10 lbs, and the aggregate quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not exceed 50 lbs

(c) — 1 If the explosive belongs to the 5th (fulminate) class, and is of such character that it cannot be packed mixed with water or that danger would arise from such mode of packing, it shall be packed in such manner as shall be specially directed by the Resident with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council

2 Any other explosive of the fulminate class shall be packed as follows — It shall be packed in bags or coverings of calico, canvas or other material permeable to water, and containing each not more than 25 lbs of fulminate, and so made and closed as to prevent any explosive from escaping. Such bags or coverings shall be packed in a case containing sufficient water to ensure the explosive being kept constantly wet, and such case (hereinafter called the inner case) shall be packed in an outer case containing sufficient water constantly to surround the inner case, and the inner case and the outer case shall each be of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any fulminate or water to escape and the amount of the explosive in any one outer case shall not exceed 200 lbs except with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, an Inspector of Explosives

3 Every package when actually used for the packing of one fulminate shall not be used for the packing of any other fulminate or for any other purpose

4 On the outer case there shall be affixed in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark the word "Explosive," with the name of the explosive followed by the words "Fulminate, Division 1" (or 2 as the case may be) and the name and address of the owner or sender

(d) — 1 If an explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape

* Note — This rule is intended to prevent picric acid being packed in a case lined with certain metals such as zinc or lead which would result in danger arising from the formation of a picrate. Waterproof bags inside powder barrels are suggested as a simple and safe method of packing picric acid for transport or storage

† Note — From the requisition that the package should be water-proof are excepted —

(1) All explosives falling in the 2nd division of the 4th (chlorate mixture) class.

(2) Those explosives included in the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class which do not yield up their nitro glycerine in contact with water such as blasting gelatine, gelatine dynamite, cordite and ballistite and gelignite provided that any other substance than those named has been certified to be of this character by a Chief Inspector of Explosives

2. If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, the following rules shall apply, vis —

- (i) A shell or torpedo containing any explosive material, whether such shell or torpedo be separate or form part of a rocket or other appliance, shall be packed in such manner as may be specially directed by the Resident with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council with reference to such explosive
- (ii) Any explosive material when made up into a cartridge or charge for cannon, shells, mines, blasting or other like purposes, shall be packed in the manner required for the same explosive material when not so made up
Provided that where a double package is required, the enclosing case of such cartridge or charge, if it satisfies the conditions required for the inner package, may be held to be such inner package
- (iii) Any other explosive of the 2nd division shall be packed in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or be come defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape and any one such package shall not contain more than 100 lbs of ammunition
- (e) If the explosive belongs to the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be packed in a double package. The inner package shall not contain more than 2 lbs of such explosive, and no more than 50 lbs shall be contained in the outer package

"Provided that, in the case of detonators, the following further rules shall also be observed, namely —

- 1 The detonators, and the spaces between the detonators and between the sides of the inner package and the detonators, shall all be filled, as far as practicable, with fine saw dust or other similar material. A layer of cotton wool or other soft elastic material shall be placed between both ends of all the detonators and the interior of the inner package in which the detonators are placed, in such manner and so secured that both ends of the detonators will rest upon the said cotton wool or other material. Every inner package, if of metal, shall be lined throughout with paper or other soft material
- 2 Where the number of detonators packed for conveyance exceeds in all one thousand (1,000) or such greater number as may from time to time be assigned with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, an Inspector of Explosives, all the inner packages as aforesaid shall be placed inside a substantial case of wood or metal, made and closed, so as to prevent any of the inner packages escaping therefrom, and the case shall be placed inside such outer packages as is required by the above general rule relating to the packing for conveyance of explosives of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, in such manner and so secured as to leave a clear space of not less than three inches between every part of the interior of the said outer package, notwithstanding that such clear space may, if preferred, be filled with sawdust, straw or other similar material, or may contain a light framework or battens of wood to keep the case aforesaid in position in the outer package
- 3 In the case of electric detonators, the quantity to be contained in any one such outer package may amount to not more than three thousand (3,000) electric detonators, or, if such outer package is provided with handles of such strength and construction as to allow it to be safely and conveniently carried by means of such handles, the number may be increased to five thousand (5,000)
- (f) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial canister, case, or other receptacle hermetically closed, and containing no more than 1 lb of explosive and no more than 20 lbs shall be contained in the outer package, and,
- (g) If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape, and the quantity of explosive in any one package shall not exceed 100 lbs

IV — Whatever be the amount of the explosive, and to whatever class or division of a class it belongs, the following conditions shall be observed —

- (a) the interior of every package, whether single or double, shall be kept free from grit and otherwise clean,

- (b) every package, whether single or double, when actually used for the packing of the explosive, shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive of the same or any other class or for any other purpose, except with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, an Inspector of Explosives,
- (c) there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any such single package or inner or outer package unless the same is effectually covered with tin, zinc, or other suitable material,
- (d) on the outermost package there shall be affixed, in conspicuous characters, by means of a brand or securely attached label or mark, the word "Explosive" followed by the name of the explosive or other description of the contents and the name and address of the owners or senders, and
- (e) the amount of the explosive in any single package or, if there is a double package, in any one outer package, shall not exceed the amount specified in the foregoing rules except with the consent of, and under conditions to be approved by, an Inspector of Explosives or other officer appointed by the Resident in this behalf

3 Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosives for conveyance shall be punishable with fine which may extend to Rs 1,000*

(b) Mode of conveyance

4 The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives —

i — No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules ii — There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it is sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another

iii — Except in the case of small consignments carried by railway, which may be unloaded at any time explosives shall be loaded or unloaded only between sunrise and sunset. For the purposes of this rule, no consignment of more than half a wagon-load booked to one station shall be deemed to be a small consignment iv — Whilst the explosive is being loaded on or unloaded out of any carriage, no fire or artificial light, nor any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion [such as charcoal, lucifer matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit] shall be or shall be allowed to be, brought, had or used dangerously near to such carriage, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on or dangerously near to the same

Provided that when the use of a light for the purposes of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction position, or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used, and no person while handling any explosive (except an explosive of division 1, class 6, if packed in accordance with the packing rules), shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips

v — In the loading or unloading of any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground they shall be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed vi — The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire vii — There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage with which the case containing the explosive is in contact, unless the same is effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth, or other suitable material

viii — In the stowing of the explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in such carriage which is liable to cause fire or explosion, and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive

* Rules regarding search for, and detention of, explosives contravening regulations have been issued by the Local Governments

ix — The amount of the explosives conveyed in any one carriage at any one time shall not exceed 2,000 lbs unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of the explosives conveyed shall not exceed the following —

	Tons
In any one carriage on a railway	10
In any one other carriage	2

Note — This rule shall, in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway be read subject to paragraph XII of Rule 6

x — Nothing in the foregoing rules (except Rule 1) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class

Provided that all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents

5 The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives otherwise than by railway —

1 — No explosive shall be conveyed in a carriage whilst carrying or plying for public passengers unless the quantity is less than 5 lbs and notice has been given beforehand to the person in charge of such carriage, and all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents by a fire or explosion

Provided that there shall not be conveyed in any such carriage any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or any explosive of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, except detonators packed according to the proviso to Rule 2 (iii) (e), to the number of 200

Provided that the amount of explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class in the detonators shall in no case exceed in the aggregate 3 oz (a certificate to this effect being given by the Agent of the Company by whom the detonators are tendered for transport)

Provided also that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment

ii — With respect to the conveyance by carriage of explosives of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, or of larger quantities than 5 lbs of any other explosive, the following regulations shall be observed —

(1) The person in charge of the carriage shall not drive or conduct the same in a dangerous or reckless manner and shall take all due precautions to avoid fire and explosion, and no person shall do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance, and a person who is intoxicated shall not have charge of any carriage conveying explosive and shall not be permitted to be in, or on, or attending the same

(2) A person shall not forward to any warehouseman or carrier a consignment of explosive, unless he has given notice to such warehouseman or carrier beforehand, stating the name and quantity of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had an intimation that the warehouseman or carrier is prepared to receive the consignment, and a warehouseman or carrier shall not make such an intimation, nor receive such consignment, unless he is prepared to receive it, and forthwith to despatch the same, or to deposit it in a magazine or at a place at which a person is licensed to possess the same

(3) The carriage conveying the explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons, and such persons shall not, if the amount of the explosive conveyed exceed 100 lbs, stop or delay for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary, or stop unnecessarily, at any place where such stopping would be attended with special public danger

6 The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives by public railway —

i — No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name description, quantity and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorized officer of the railway that such consignment will be received

ii — No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent or forwarded to, or upon, any railway of the said Railway Administration iii.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times, between sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint, and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station.

All gunpowder under despatch or receipt by a Government arsenal, depôt, or factory, shall be loaded or unloaded in the railway vans by Government servants employed in such arsenal, depôt, or factory. In each van used by the railway for the transport of gunpowder the packages of gunpowder shall be secured in such a way as to prevent concussion when the train is in motion.

iv.—An explosive shall be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival. If this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

v.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any railway, the Railway Administration may open, or require to be opened, such package, to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages, pending such return, in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

vi.—Subject to the exception provided for in clause (e), no explosive shall be conveyed by passenger-train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule—

(a) Safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety fuze (for blasting), also fog signals for railway use which may be conveyed in ordinary wagons or carriages.

(b) Explosives of the 3rd (nitro compound) class which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs.

Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment.

(c) Detonators packed according to the proviso to Rule 2 (iii) (e) may be carried to the number of 200.

Provided that in no case the amount of fulminate of mercury in the package or packages containing the detonators exceeds in the aggregate 3 oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the Company, firm, or person tendering the detonators for transport or by its or his agent).

Provided also that no other explosive is carried in the same compartment.

(d) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs. of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.

(e) Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods trains are not running, subject to the conditions that they are loaded in properly constructed powder vans, that not more than one powder van containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train, that there are not less than three vehicles between the powder van and either the engine or the passenger coaches, that the powder van is close-coupled to the adjoining vehicles, and that directly a powder van containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed train.

vii.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station or be conveyed by any one train at any one time, and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriages shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of safety cartridges for small-arms.

viii.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraffine, petroleum to which the Indian Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any other volatile spirit substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion

ix.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate, signed by an officer authorized by the Resident in this behalf, that the explosive, if it is an explosive of class 3 or 4, is of the standard purity, and further, in the case of dynamite, and all nitro-glycerine compounds, that there are no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine or of liquefaction. The consignor shall also certify that the explosive has been packed in accordance with the packing rules in force in England or in British India or in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

x.—In the case of explosives under classes 3 and 4 the outer packages shall be marked with the date of the manufacture of the explosives. The abovementioned certificate shall contain sufficient information to admit of all packages being easily recognized.

xi.—The certificate referred to in Rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March; but any Railway Administration which accepts dynamite and other nitro-glycerine compounds for transport may demand a fresh certificate for these explosives if presented for conveyance between 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

xii.—Packages containing dynamite and other blasting explosives of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class or explosives of the 4th (chlorate-mixture) and 5th (fulminate) classes or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons.

Provided that, if the packages of explosive are in rectangular form and are properly secured so as to prevent movement during transit, they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 5 tons.

xiii.—No explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 7th (firework) class shall be carried in the same train with any explosive not of the class and division to which it belongs unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

xiv.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-proof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair, cloth, hides, or other suitable materials shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain safety cartridges for small arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes.

xv.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

xvi.—Packages containing explosives other than those referred to in Rule 6 (XII) shall not be stored in more than three layers one above the other. But if the packages are in rectangular form and of uniform size (provided they are double packages and are so secured as to prevent movement during transit), they may be packed in five layers one above the other. But in the case of safety cartridges for small arms packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, there is no restriction. Subject to the provisions of Rule 4 (III), the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

xvii.—When the train is being marshalled, wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, if they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance. This precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed for the carriage of explosives. The speed of these movements shall be restricted to five miles an hour, they shall be superintended by a duly authorized officer, who shall be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

xviii.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close coupled to one another, as well as to the adjoining wagons, and preceded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosives or other traffic of an inflammable nature.

xix.—If the wagons employed in the transport of explosives are provided with brakes, other than iron brakes, the brakes thereon shall on no account be worked while the wagons are running with a train, nor shall brakes other than iron brakes on vehicles immediately adjoining such wagons, be worked while such wagons are so running.

xx.—Wagons shall in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

xxi.—All operations connected with the transhipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

7. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the mode of conveyance of explosives shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to Rs 100.

MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION AND SALE

(a) General Rules

8 An explosive shall not be manufactured except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to manufacture the explosive granted under these rules

Provided that this rule shall not apply—

- (a) to the making of a small quantity of an explosive for the purpose of chemical experiment, and not for practical use or for sale, or
- (b) to the filling for private use, and not for sale, of any safety cartridges to the amount allowed by these rules to be possessed for private use

9 Whoever manufactures an explosive in contravention of rule 8 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees

10 An explosive shall not be possessed except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to possess the explosive granted under these rules

Provided that this rule shall not apply—

- (1) to a person possessing for his private use and not for sale—

- (a) gunpowder to an amount not exceeding on the same premises 30 lbs, or in lieu of the said quantity of gunpowder 15 lbs of any other explosive, or in lieu of any less amount of gunpowder not so possessed, half that amount of other explosive or
- (b) gunpowder contained in safety cartridges to an amount not exceeding 150 lbs, or in lieu thereof 150 lbs of any explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or in lieu of any less amount of gunpowder not so possessed, that amount of any explosive so contained

Exception—Nothing in the foregoing portion of the proviso to this rule shall be held to authorize the possession for private use—

- (a) of any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, or
- (b) of any explosive whereof the possession has been prohibited absolutely by notification under section 6 of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), or
- (c) where the possession of an explosive has by notification under that section been prohibited, subject to conditions, of any such explosive except subject to those conditions,

(2) to the possession of fireworks, not exceeding 50 lbs in quantity within municipal areas and not exceeding 200 lbs in quantity outside any such areas, if obtained and intended for immediate use and not for sale, and if not kept for a period exceeding 14 days, provided that such fireworks are kept in a substantial receptacle, exclusively appropriated to keeping explosives, and closed and secured so as to prevent unauthorized persons from having access thereto

2 (a) to the possession of fireworks within municipal areas, exceeding 50 lbs but not exceeding 200 lbs if obtained and intended for immediate use and not for sale, and if kept for a period not exceeding 14 days. Such possession is permitted subject to the proviso set forth in clause (2) and to the further condition that is covered by a permit to be issued free of cost by a Magistrate of the 1st class or a police officer not below the rank of District Superintendent of Police

(3) to the possession of any explosive by a carrier or other person for the purpose of transport when the same is being kept or transported in accordance with the provisions of the rules made under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) with respect to the transport of such explosive

11 Whoever possesses an explosive in contravention of rule 10 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees

12 An explosive shall not be sold except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to sell the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that this rule shall not apply to any person selling any explosive which for his own private use he lawfully possesses, to any person who is not legally prohibited from possessing the same

13 Whoever sells an explosive in contravention of rule 12 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees

(b) Licensing of the manufacture, possession and sale of small quantities of gunpowder and certain explosives

14 Licenses to manufacture, possess and sell, or to possess and sell, or to possess, or to sell from stock kept in a magazine in respect of which a license has been granted under rule 23, an explosive of the 1st (gunpowder) class, or of the 1st division of 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 7th (firework) class, may be granted in a Presidency Town and its suburbs by a Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate in accordance with the following provisions:—

- (1) The license shall not entitle the license holder to possess at the same time more than 200 lbs of gunpowder, 500 lbs of explosive contained in ammunition of the division of the 6th (ammunition) class, and 200 lbs of fireworks, or any such less quantity of any of these explosives as the licensing officer may think fit to specify in the license
- (2) The license shall specify the place in which alone the explosives referred to in it may be kept, and such place shall (except in the case of a license to sell from stock kept in a magazine in respect of which a license has been issued under Rule 2A) be approved by the licensing officer

15 Save as hereinafter provided, the following fees shall be paid for every license granted under the last foregoing rule, namely —

- (1) a fee of twenty rupees for every license to manufacture, possess and sell the maximum quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity,
- (2) a fee of ten rupees for every license to manufacture, possess and sell half the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity
- (3) a fee of five rupees for every license to manufacture, possess and sell a fourth of the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity,
- (4) a fee of ten rupees to possess and sell the maximum quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule, or any less quantity,
- (5) a fee of five rupees to possess and sell half the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule or any less quantity,
- (6) a fee of two rupees eight annas to possess and sell a fourth of the quantity of explosive mentioned in the last foregoing rule or any less quantity, and
- (7) a fee of eight annas for every license to possess explosives

Provided that the holder of a license duly granted in Form VI B or in Form VII-B, under Rule 11 of the Rules made under the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), may, on production of such license before the District Magistrate, be granted a license under Rule 14 without payment of fees

16 Every license granted under Rule 14 shall be in Form A, B, or C, in the schedule hereto annexed, as the case may be, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein

17 Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under Rule 14 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees

(c) Licensing of the manufacture of explosives generally.

18 Licenses to manufacture explosives in cases not provided for by Rule 14 shall be granted by the Governor General in Council on payment of such fees in such form and subject to such conditions, as the Governor General in Council may in each case prescribe

Provided that the Governor General in Council shall, in the case of any such license, prescribe all the conditions which are hereinafter prescribed to licenses to possess an explosive of the same description and quantity as the manufacturing license is to cover

18A "The Resident may from time to time renew, on payment of the original fee and on the same or on altered conditions, any licenses for the manufacture of explosives granted by the Governor General in Council

Provided, first, that such renewal does not admit of the manufacture of any explosive other than that specified in the original license,

Provided, secondly, that every such renewal is first approved by an Inspector of Explosives, and Provided, thirdly, that every such renewal is for a period not exceeding one year "

19 Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license is granted under Rule 18 or renewed under Rule 18A shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees

(d) Licensing of the possession of small quantities of other explosives

20 Licenses for the possession, at such places as shall be approved by the licensing officer, of explosives other than those specified in Rule 14 may, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, and if the quantity to be possessed at the same time does not exceed 60 lbs, be granted by the District Magistrate

21 Every license granted under Rule 20 shall be in Form D in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein. A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every such license.

22 Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under Rule 20 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(e) Licensing of the possession of explosives generally

23 Licenses for the possession of explosives in cases not provided for by Rules 14 and 20 may, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, be granted by the Resident in accordance with the following procedure—

(1) The applicant shall submit to the District Magistrate an application on Form G and shall comply with the conditions embodied therein.

(2) Upon receipt of the said application—

(a) The District Magistrate shall thereupon cause notice to be published of the application, and fix a date on which any persons shall be heard objecting to the establishment of a magazine on the proposed site who have not less than seven clear days before the day of hearing sent to the said District Magistrate, and to the applicant, notice of their intention to appear and object with their name, address and calling, and a short statement of the grounds of their objection.

(b) Where the site of the proposed magazine is situate within, or within one mile of the limits of the jurisdiction of any municipality, the applicant shall serve on such authority notice of the application, and of the date of hearing by the District Magistrate.

(c) The said notices shall be published and served at the cost of the applicant by the District Magistrate not less than one month before the date of hearing.

(d) The District Magistrate shall fix the date of hearing as soon as practicable after application is made to him and the time so fixed shall be as soon as practicable after the expiration of the said month from the publication and service of the notices by the applicant.

(e) On consideration of the application, and on making such enquiry as may be deemed necessary, the District Magistrate may dissent altogether from the establishment of such new magazine on the proposed site, or assent thereto, either absolutely, or on any conditions requiring additional restrictions or precautions.

(f) "On the completion of the enquiry, the District Magistrate shall forward the application and draft license with his recommendation to the Resident. The Resident shall then refer the aforesaid documents for approval to the Chief Inspector of Explosives, who will forward to the applicant a form H showing the distances which should, in his opinion, be kept clear round the magazine. The form shall then be returned with the third column duly filled in by the applicant to the Chief Inspector of Explosives, who will submit it to the Resident with his recommendation, and, if he recommends that a license be granted, a draft license accompanied by a schedule A showing the distances which, after considering any representation made by the applicant in returning the form to him, he thinks should be kept clear round the magazine. The Resident may thereupon grant the license as applied for, or with such modifications or restrictions as may be deemed proper or may refuse such application. The table of distances which will ordinarily be followed is attached to these rules."

(g) If the Resident grant a license, he shall forward the same to the District Magistrate who, when satisfied that the magazine is sufficiently completed according to license to justify the use thereof, shall confirm the license, but until so confirmed the license shall not come into force.

24 A fee of Rs. 20 shall be paid for every license granted under Rule 23.

25 Every license granted under Rule 23 shall be in form E in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein.

25A Every license granted under Rule 23 for the possession of blasting gelatine or any of its kindred gelatinous nitro-compounds, shall be subject to the condition that such explosives shall not be kept in any magazine after the expiration of three years from the date of their importation into British India, except with the special sanction of an Inspector of Explosives, and that in every such case, a written certificate, to be kept by the licenseholder at the magazine, shall be obtained from an Inspector of Explosives at each inspection, showing for what further period of storage permission has been granted.

26 Whoever commits a breach of any conditions subject to which a license under Rule 23 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

27. Licenses for the possession of explosives of the 5th (fulminate) class shall be granted by the Governor General in Council on payment of such fees and in such form, and subject to such conditions, as he may in each case prescribe.

28 Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license is granted under Rule 27 shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to one thousand rupees

(f) Licensing of the sale of explosives generally

29 Licenses for the sale of explosives in cases not provided for by rule 14 may be granted by the District Magistrate, to any person licensed to possess the same

30 A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every license granted under rule 29

31 Every license granted under rule 29 shall be in Form F in the schedule hereto annexed and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed

32 Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 29 is granted, shall be punishable with fine, which may extend to five hundred rupees,

(g) Supplementary

33 The officers herein undermentioned are authorized, subject to the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, 1878 (XI of 1878), and of any rules thereunder, in cases to which that Act applies, within the areas respectively specified below —

(a) to enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage or vessel in which an explosive is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold or transported under a license granted under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) or in which they have reason to believe that an explosive has been or is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold or transported in contravention of that Act or of the rules under that Act,

(b) to search for explosives therein,

(c) to take samples of any explosives found therein on payment of the value thereof; and

(d) to seize, detain, remove and, if necessary, destroy or otherwise render harmless any explosive found therein in respect of which they have reason to believe that the provisions of the said Act or of the Rules under that Act have been contravened

Provided as follows —

(1) Whenever the Chief Inspector or the Inspector of Explosives or the Superintendent or an Inspector of Police or any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate seizes, detains or removes any such explosives, he shall report the fact to the District Magistrate

(2) Neither the Chief Inspector nor the Inspector of Explosives nor the Superintendent or an Inspector of Police, nor any Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate shall destroy or otherwise render harmless any such explosive without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate, unless the matter appears to him urgent and fraught with serious public danger, and in such cases he shall take and keep a sample of the explosive and shall, if required, give a portion of the sample to the person owning the explosive or having the same under his control at the time of seizure, and shall report the circumstances to the District Magistrate

34 A person licensed to possess an explosive shall not be required to take out a license for the manufacture of the explosive by reason that in connection with his magazine or licensed premises he fills for sale or otherwise any cartridge for small arms with the said explosive

Provided that he observes the following regulations, namely —

(1) There shall not be in the room in which such filling is being carried on more than five pounds of gunpowder, or an amount to be prescribed by the Resident in this behalf of any other explosive, except it is made up into safety cartridges,

(2) Any work unconnected with the making of the cartridges shall not be carried on in the room while such filling is being carried on,

7 The explosive possessed by the licensee shall be kept in a substantially constructed unflammable building, approved by such officer as the Resident may prescribe or in a fire-proof safe, separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place by the distances laid down in condition No 4, and made and closed so as to prevent unauthorized persons having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without

Provided that a quantity not exceeding 50 lbs of gunpowder, or in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept 2 lbs of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or an equivalent quantity of an explosive of the 7th (firework) class, may be kept inside a dwelling house, or in any building other than, as last aforesaid, in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive :

Provided also that no explosive containing its own means of ignition [other than explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class] shall be kept in a fire-proof safe

8 All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any room or part of a building, fire-proof safe, or receptacle containing the same, and no one entering such room or part of any building or such safe or receptacle shall have any iron or steel in their possession, or attached to or on their boots or shoes

9 Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of manufacturing or keeping the explosive, nor the fire proof safe or receptacle, shall have any exposed iron or steel (except machinery necessary for the manufacture) in the interior thereof

10 All explosives exceeding 5 lbs in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, and all other explosives exceeding 1 lb in amount, shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping, and if publicly exposed for sale or sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark

11 Each description of explosive which may be kept under this license, shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other. Explosives of the same class, however, may be kept together and gunpowder may be kept with safety fuses

* These conditions are to be added only when the authority granting this license directs, by an order written thereon, that this license shall have the effect of a like license granted under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878)

CONDITIONS

1 This license is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), and the rules thereunder

2 The license-holder shall keep records and accounts of all explosives in stock and of all sales in such form as the Resident may from time to time direct

3 The license-holder shall exhibit his stock and his books and records of sales to any Magistrate or to any Police Officer not below the rank of Inspector when such officer may call upon him so to do

4 All sales of explosive under this license must be effected upon the premises shown on the face of the license

5 An explosive shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of 13 years

6 The explosive shall be kept in a substantially constructed unflammable building approved by such officer as the Resident may prescribe, or in a fireproof safe, separated from any dwelling-house, highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place by the prescribed distances,* and made and closed so as to prevent unauthorized persons having access thereto and to secure it from danger from without

Provided that 50 lbs of gunpowder, or in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept 2 lbs of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or an equivalent quantity of explosive of the 7th (firework) class, may be kept inside a dwelling house or in any building other than as last aforesaid, in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive

Provided also that no explosive containing its own means of ignition [other than explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class] shall be kept in a fireproof safe

7 All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any room or part of a building, fireproof safe, or receptacle containing the same, and no one entering such room or part of any building or such safe or receptacle shall have any iron or steel in their possession, or attached to or on their boots or shoes

8 Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of keeping the explosive nor the fireproof safe or receptacle referred to above, shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof. Provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept

9 All explosives exceeding 5 lbs in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class and all other explosives exceeding 1 lb in amount shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping, and when publicly exposed for sale or sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosives shall have affixed the name of the explosives in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark

10 Each description of explosive which may be kept under this license, shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other. Explosives of the same class, however, may be kept together, and gunpowder may be kept with safety fuzes

11 † The license holder shall affix to his shop or place of business a signboard as required by rule 11 of the rules framed under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878), and shall post up in his shop a copy of section 26 of that Act

12 † The license-holder shall at the time of purchase endorse upon the license of every purchaser holding a license under Form VIII or IX of the forms prescribed under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878), the following particulars —

(a) the name and address of the person who takes delivery of the articles sold,

(b) the nature and amount of the articles sold,

(c) the date of sale,

and shall append his signature to the endorsement

* In the case of gunpowder, 100 yards

In the case of explosives of the 1st Division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 7th (firework) class 50 yards

† These conditions are to be added only when the authority granting this license directs, by an order written thereon that this license shall have the effect of a like license granted under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878)

CONDITIONS

1 This license is given subject to the provisions of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), and the rules thereunder

2 The explosive shall be kept in a substantially constructed unflammable building approved by such officer as the Resident may prescribe, or in a fireproof safe, separated from any dwelling house, highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place by the prescribed distances,* and made and closed so as to prevent unauthorized persons having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without

Provided that 50 lbs of gunpowder, or in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept 2 lbs of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6 or an equivalent quantity of explosive of the 7th (fire work) class may be kept inside a dwelling house or in any building other than as last aforesaid in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive.

Provided also that no explosive containing its own means of ignition [other than explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class] shall be kept in a fireproof safe

3 All articles or substances of any explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any room or part of a building, fireproof safe, or receptacle containing the same, and no one entering such room or part of any building or such safe or receptacle shall have any iron or steel in their possession, or attached to or on their boots or shoes

4 Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of keeping the explosive nor the fireproof safe or receptacle referred to above shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof. Provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept

5 All explosives exceeding 5 lbs in the amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, and all other explosives exceeding 1 lb in amount shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosives from escaping

6 Each description of explosive which may be kept under this license shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other. Explosives of the same class, however, may be kept together, and gunpowder may be kept with safety fuzes

7 The license-holder shall at the time of purchase have the following particulars endorsed upon his license by the vendor from whom he purchases and under the vendor's signature —

- The name and address of the person who takes delivery of the article purchased,
- The nature and amount of the articles purchased,
- The date of purchase

* In the case of gunpowder, 100 yards

In the case of the explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 7th (firework) class, 50 yards.

CONDITIONS

1 This license is given subject to the provisions of Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) and the rules thereunder

2 There shall not be at the same time in the magazine an amount of explosive exceeding the amount specified in the license

3 The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of the explosive or explosives specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools or implements for work connected with, the keeping of such explosive or explosives

4 The interior of the magazine and the benches, shelves and fittings therein shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel, or similar substances in such manner as to come into contact with the explosive, and such interior, benches, shelves and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean, and in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom

Provided that so much of this condition as relates to precautions against the exposure of any iron or steel and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel, or similar substances shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept

5 The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning conductor which shall be tested at least once during the currency of a license

6 Before repairs are done to or in any part of a room or magazine, it shall, as far as is practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosive or mixed ingredients thereof, and the thorough washing out of such room or part, and after such cleaning, these conditions shall cease to apply to such room or part of the magazine until explosive is again taken into it, provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a magazine in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept

7 Except after such cleaning, all tools and implements used in, or any repairs to any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood, copper, or brass, or some soft metal or material or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material provided that this condition shall not be obligatory in a magazine in which no explosive other than an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept

8 Due provision shall be made by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, suitable shoes, searching and otherwise, or by some such means for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches, or any substance or article likely to cause explosion or fire, or any iron, steel or grit, but this rule shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion

Provided that so much of this condition as applies to the exclusion of grit, iron, or steel shall not be obligatory in a building in which no explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class is kept

9 No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine

10 No person under the age of 16 years shall be employed in or enter the magazine except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown up person

11 Two or more descriptions of explosive which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine, may be possessed in the same magazine, if they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space, as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other, subject to the following qualifications —

(a) The various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound), and 4 (chlorate mixture) safety fuze belonging to the first division of class 6 (ammunition) and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space

(b) The various explosives of the 1st division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(c) Such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as contain any exposed iron or steel may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space

(d) The various explosives of the 3rd division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space

(e) The various explosives of class 7 (firework) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space

Save as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosives shall not be kept in the same magazine

12 The licensee and every person employed in or about the magazine shall take all due precaution for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion in the same, and for preventing unauthorized persons having access to the magazine or to the explosives therein, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the work in such magazine.

THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF ASSAM—PUBLIC WORKS

Shillong, the 19th December, 1902

No. 35 —Whereas it appears to the Chief Commissioner of Assam that land is required to be taken up by Government at the expense of Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, for a tram road from Ranir Bazar to Alinagar, Assam-Bengal Railway station (2½ miles × 18 feet) in villages Madhabpur and Kumrákapán, pargana Bhanugach, sub-division South Sylhet, district Sylhet, it is hereby declared that, for the above purpose, a piece of land, measuring, more or less, 5 acres of standard measurement, is required within the aforesaid villages of Madhabpur and Kumrákapán

The plan of the land may be seen at the office of the Sub-Divisional Officer, South Sylhet.

This declaration is made, under the provisions of section 6 of Act, I of 1894, to all whom it may concern

Copy of agreement executed on the 4th September 1902, by the Alinagar Tea Company, Limited

This agreement is executed under section 41 of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, on the fourth September, one thousand nine hundred and two, by the Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, whose principal place of business is at London, and who are tea planters by profession

Whereas we the said Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, carry on the business of tea planters in the part of the South Sylhet sub division which is known as the Dhalai Valley And whereas it is necessary that the land described in the schedule hereto annexed should be acquired under Chapter VII of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, for the construction of a road useful to the public and for facilitating the communication between the Alinagar Railway station and the tea gardens in the said valley And whereas it is necessary that we the said Company should enter into an agreement with the Secretary of State for India in Council as required by section 41 of the said Act

Now it is hereby agreed and declared that we the said Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, agree and bind ourselves, our legal representatives, successors and assigns to the effect that we will pay to the said Secretary of State for India in Council all the costs that will be incurred in the acquisition of the said land, take a transfer of the land in question on the payment of the said costs, construct a road thereon within three years from the date on which possession is given to the Company, and maintain the same and keep it in proper repair and in proper condition for ordinary traffic We do further agree and bind ourselves, our legal representatives, successors and assigns that the road to be constructed shall be open to the public for ordinary traffic (i.e., foot, horse or cart) but not for elephants, and the public will accordingly enjoy the said right thereon and no other

Provided always that our failure to execute the work within the time limited by this agreement shall place the land to be acquired entirely at the disposal of Government which may execute the said work if it think proper or at its discretion retransfer the same to its original owners on the refund of the price or otherwise, and neither we nor our legal representatives, successors and assigns shall be entitled to prefer any objection thereto, and if preferred the same shall be null and void And provided also that our failure to keep the road in proper repair or our interference with the enjoyment of the right accorded to the public under this agreement, will deprive us, our legal representatives, successors and assigns of all control over the road and vest the same in Government

A McMUKIN,
Attorney for Alinagar Tea Co., Ltd

SCHEDULE

A strip of land (more or less) 2½ miles in length and 18 feet in width covering an area of (more or less) 23,760 square yards, stretching from Ranir Bazar, pargana Bhanugach to Alinagar station, Assam-Bengal Railway, district Sylhet, sub-division Maulvi Bazar, villages of Madhabpur and Kumrákapán
